Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

Four More Convicts Escape From the Prison.

SLID DOWN ROPE FROM ROOF

Were Working on New Cell Block—Guard Given a Tip, but Only Caught Glimpse of Fleeing Men—Twelve Have Escaped Within Past Month.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 29.—Four more convicts got tired of life at Jackson prison and left about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, and up to midnight have not been located. Following are the names of the men: Thomas McGlynn, Detroit, sent to the prison for from four to five years for larceny from a store in the day time, a recent arrival; James Wilson, Calhoun county, seven years for burglary, term to expire Dec. 1, 1906; Edward McPherson, Ionia county, ten years for burglary, having served six years of his sentence; John Cabo, Emmet county, ten years for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon, term to expire in July, 1908. All four of the men were in the third grade, made up of the worst prisoners in the institution.

Slid Down Rope.

The men were working together with thirteen others on the new cell block. The whole gang was engaged in riveting the steel ceiling with pneumatic hammers when McGlynn and his three companions took advantage of the din and gathered up their tools and a rope and walked off the staging into the attic over the old cell block, known as the "west end." Once in the attic they proceeded to cut through the roof boards and knock off the slate with a sledge, which they used as an anchor for the rope with which they lowered themselves to the ground in the Michigan Central right of way.

A man walking up the railroad track saw the convicts descending the rope and notified a guard stationed at the front of the prison. The guard, however, had been stationed there to guard an open window upon which new bars are being placed and could not leave his post to go after the fleeing ones. He fired a couple of shots at them, but did not stop them. As soon as possible a posse was organized and started after the convicts, who disappeared to the northward.

A Bad Record.

This case is similar to the one in which four convicts got away on the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 16, in that the men had no guards, but were allowed to work for the contractors the same as ordinary workmen. This makes twelve escapes within the past few months, beginning with that of the Richland bank robbers. Of the twelve only five have been recaptured

Brother Was Salsbury's Pal.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Oct. 31.—Lant K. Salsbury, star witness in the trial of ex-Mayor Perry for complicity in the water deals, admitted that his brother, Walter Salsbury, was the man who helped him in his deals with the Bartons of Chicago. He has heretofore refused to tell who was his accomplice at that time. He also declared that Perry knew at the time all about the deal.

Burned While They Were Away.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 31.—Bert Fox and family, living in Ann Arbor township, were visiting friends in this city the other night, remaining here until quite late. When they reached home they found nothing but a pile of smouldering embers where the house had been. Nothing was saved except a few pieces of furniture which were carried out by the neighbors.

Patients Must Move.

Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 31.—Notice was served on the patients at the Phelps sanatorium late Saturday night that they must vacate their rooms at the institution by Tuesday night, in case C. W. Post purchased the property Tuesday morning, as is probable

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

AWFUL MINE HORROR

Many Miners Killed in Catastrophe in Colorado Hole.

FROM THIRTY TO SIXTY DEAD

Mine Is Burning and Rescuers Can Do but Little—Dead Men Will Likely Be Consumed—Nearly All Were Slavs.

Trinidad, Col., Oct. 29.—From thirty to sixty men have lost their lives in a terrific explosion which occurred at mine No. 3 of the Rocky Mountain Fuel & Iron Co., at Tercio, forty miles west of Trinidad, Friday afternoon. The exact number of dead may never be known, as the mine is burning, and in all likelihood the bodies will be consumed. A large number of mine officials left here as soon as word of the accident was received. Company doctors were picked up all along the line, as well as all other available physicians. F. J. Foreman, a government stock inspector, was at Tercio when the explosion occurred. He returned here last night and gave the following account of the affair:

"I was standing not more than 300 yards from the mouth of the tunnel when the explosion occurred. The explosion was preceded by a low rumbling sound, resembling an earthquake, which made the earth tremble, and startled the whole camp.

"I looked toward the mine, and out of the mouth of the tunnel and two air shafts came a great volume of smoke and dust, which continued for nearly a minute.

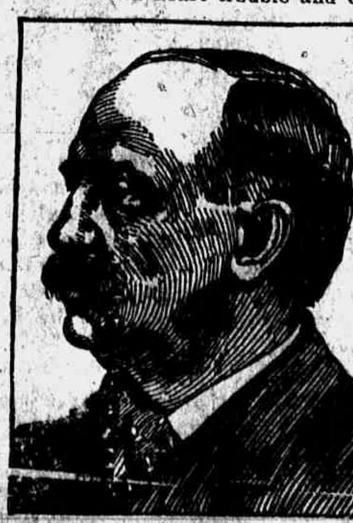
"The explosion, which resembled a volcanic eruption, caused the wildest excitement; men, women and children rushed to the mouth of the tunnel, and women whose husbands were in the mine had to be brought away by miners to prevent their being killed by deadly fumes coming from the mouth of the tunnel."

The mine in which the accident occurred employs eighty men, and it is believed that at least sixty were in the mine at the time. News of the explosion brought assistance from the adjacent camps and hundreds of men were trying to enter the mine. Deadly fumes overcame the rescuers frequently, but their places immediately were taken by others ready to risk their lives. It was not thought possible that anyone in the mine could escape death.

It was impossible to secure names of the dead and injured. Nearly all the miners employed are Slavs.

Ex-Gov. Nash Dead.

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Former Gov. George K. Nash dropped dead Friday in the bathroom at the home of his stepdaughter, Mrs. Worthington E. Babcock. Gov. Nash had been in ill-health for over a year, having been stricken with heart trouble and other complications while governor of Ohio. After Gov. Herrick assumed the duties of the office Gov. Nash became worse, and at one time the doctors resorted to the most heroic remedies to keep him alive. To the surprise of his physicians, the former governor gradually rallied and was able to walk down to his office and attend to business. Mr. Nash arose late and went to the bathroom, when he was heard to fall. Life was extinct when the family reached the room.



Ex-Governor Nash.

Being asked the name of the world's greatest composer, a smart university young man said "Chloroform."

BOMB IN HOTEL

Where Candidate Ferris and Party Were Stopping.

Cadillac, Mich., Oct. 29.—The greatest excitement prevails in this city over an attempt to blow up with dynamite the McKinnon hotel here while Candidate Ferris and his party were guests of the house.

The janitor of the hotel, Will Allen, was just about to empty the contents of the waste paper basket into the furnace when he discovered a queer-looking article with the refuse, and took it upstairs to the office.

The object was examined by Frank Mason, a traveling man from Ionia, who found it to be a dynamite bomb of peculiar construction. It was about four inches long and one inch in diameter, containing gun cotton and enough dynamite to level the hotel. It was furnished at the end with a cap to explode it.

That it was the desire of the party placing the bomb in the basket to make sure of the success of his scheme is shown from the fact that the day before a bomb was placed in the basket, but did not happen to be thrown into the furnace as intended, but was otherwise disposed of, making it necessary for the second bomb to be placed in the basket. The furnace is just below the office, where Ferris and his party were sitting at the time, and had the scheme carried the whole party would have been killed and the hotel been in ruins.

Some believe that the bomb was intended to destroy the building out of a spirit of revenge against the owner, while others are firm in the belief that some crank placed it there for the purpose of killing Mr. Ferris.

THE SOO MOURNS.

Cornelius Shields Drops Dead at His Home.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Oct. 29.—Suddenly and without warning Cornelius Shields, general manager of the Lake Superior corporation, dropped dead at his home in the Canadian Soo Friday. The cause of death was heart trouble. For the past few days he had been indisposed, the result of a light attack of tonsilitis, but no serious results were expected. The people of both Soos are greatly shocked by the news, which spread rapidly.

About six months before the old Consolidated Lake Superior Co. collapsed, Shields was elected president. This was about the time Speyer & Co. loaned the corporation $6,000,000. He made every effort to place the big organization on its feet, but the money market collapsed and the concern went into the hands of a receiver When reorganization was effected Shields was made general manager, in recognition of his past services and ability.

Under his direction the big industries have been reopened one after another, with the brightest prospects of continuance.

Francis H. Clergue, the only resident director of the company, is out of the city, and no announcement has been made here as to who will succeed to the office.

Farmer Hanged Himself.

Clayton, Mich., Oct. 31.—William Hood, a retired farmer, aged 65 years, was found hanging to a rafter in his barn in this village by his daughter, Mrs. William Southard of Rome, who was at home caring for her sick mother. Mrs. Southard called assistance immediately, but although his body was still warm it was found that he was dead. It is supposed that despondency over his own poor health and the illness of his wife caused him to commit the deed.

One of Swiss Bell-Ringers.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 31.—Mrs. Ann Maria Berger, aged 86 years, is dead here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leigh Lynch. Mrs. Berger was a member of the original Berger family of Swiss bell-ringers, which toured the country from the early '60s until the early '80s. This troupe introduced to the public many persons who have since become noted, among them being Sol Smith Russell, who married Mrs. Berger's daughter Louise.

Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of Jas. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for 4 years and then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds skin eruptions and piles at C. A. Wright's drug store. 25c.

LIGHTS BLINDED HIM.

Engineer Ran His Train Into Another and Three Persons Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 31.—Three persons were killed and twelve injured in a rear-end collision between section No. 2 and section No. 1 of train No. 3, Missouri Pacific world's fair special, at Tipton, Mo., Sunday.

Train No. 3, on account of the heavy world's fair travel, was made up in two sections, the first leaving St. Louis for Kansas City Saturday night at 10:30 p. m. The second section left a few minutes later, and when it reached Tipton section No. 1 was taking on passengers.

According to Engineer Ramsey of section No. 2, a headlight in the yards blinded him and he was unable to see section No. 1. He also says that his orders were "clear ahead." The second section was running about thirty miles an hour when the collision occurred. The end sleeper of section No. 1 was entirely demolished and the second sleeper was overturned.

The dead: Mrs. Bright Walker Lewisburg, Pa.; Mr. J. W. Bagby, address unknown; Mrs. Margaret Burke, Kansas City.

Among the injured were W. J. Black, general passenger agent of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, collar-bone broken, and Mrs. W. J. Black, ankle broken and head badly bruised.

The blame, according to Supt. W. J. McKee, who at once went to the scene of the wreck, rests with the engineer and conductor of the second section. They were running twenty-five miles an hour when, the superintendent said, they should have had their train under control.

ALEXIEFF RETURNING.

Many Predict His Political Career Is at an End.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The military situation has not yet developed anything of great importance, though a fight at the Buddhist Temple Hill on Oct. 27 appears to have been decidedly a heavy engagement. It probably indicates that final moves on both sides are now occurring, preparatory to another long and serious battle.

Viceroy Alexieff is now on the way to St. Petersburg. The nature of his reception here is the food for much speculation. Some of his friends still cling to the idea that he will be made chancellor of the empire, with his residence in the winter palace, where it is said a suit of apartments has already been prepared for him. Many declare, on the other hand, that his political career is practically over and that his reception at St. Petersburg, while officially cordial, will mark the end of his political ascendancy.

Italian Laborers Suffocated.

Hudson, Mass., Oct. 31.—Three Italian laborers were suffocated beneath fifteen feet of earth at the Maple street crossing of the Boston & Maine Railroad Co. here. The men, with a number of others, were excavating a trench preliminary to tunnelling under the railroad tracks, when the earth caved in, burying four workmen. One of the four men was rescued, but the bodies of the three killed were not recovered until half an hour later.

Three Others Still at Large.

Jackson, Mich., Oct. 31.—The three companions of Thomas McGlynn, the escaped convict who was captured Saturday night at Leslie, have not yet been located. Deputy Warden Foote and a large posse are scouring the country around Leslie, and it is thought will soon have the men back inside the prison.

Colombia Having Trouble.

Panama, Oct. 31.—Advices from Cauca report that there is great discontent there and throughout Colombia. Apparently President Reyes, with his political enemies in the majority in both houses of congress, cannot control the situation. Paper currency is being issued in unlimited amount.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken 2 bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

CHAPTER XX.

"At this point in her narrative Mistress Callista's voice fell and the flame, which had thrown a partial light on her countenance, died down until I could but faintly discern the secretly inquiring look with which she watched me as she went on to say:

"'Reuben and I'—Reuben was her brother—'were posted in the dark corner under the stairs when my father met the general at the door. We had expected to hear high words or some explosion of bitter feeling between them, and hardly knew whether to be glad or sorry when our father welcomed his guest with the same elaborate bow we once saw him make to the president in the grounds of the White House. Nor could we understand what followed. We were summoned in to supper. Our mother was there, a great event in those days, and toasts were drunk, and our father proposed one to the general's health. This Reuben thought was an open signal of peace and turned upon me his great round eyes in surprise, but I, who was old enough to notice that this toast was not responded to and that the general did not even touch his lips to the glass he had lifted in compliment to our mother, who had lifted hers, felt that there was something terrifying rather than reassuring in this attempt at good fellowship. Though unable to reason over it at the time, I have often done so since, and my father's attitude and look as he faced this strange guest has dwelt so persistently in my memory that scarcely a year passes without the scene coming up in my dreams with its accompanying emotions of fear and perplexity. For—perhaps you know the story—that hour was the general's last. He died before leaving the house—died in that same dark library concerning which you have asked so many questions.

"'I remember the circumstances well—how well!—down to each and every detail. Our mother had gone back to her room, and the general and my father, who did not linger over their wine—why should they when the general would not drink?—had withdrawn to the library at the suggestion of the general, whose last words are yet lingering in my ears.

"'The time has come for our little talk,' said he. 'Your reception augurs'—

"'You do not look well,' my father here broke in in what seemed an unnaturally loud voice. 'Come and sit down'—

"'Here the door closed.

"'We had hung about this door, curious children that we were, in hopes of catching a glimpse of the queer new settle which had been put into place that day. But we scampered away at this and were playing in and out of the halls when the library door again opened and my father came out.

"'"Where's Sambo?" he cried. "Tell him to carry a glass of wine to the general. I do not like his looks. I am going upstairs for some medicine." This he whispered in choked tones as he set foot on the stairs. Why I remember it I do not know, for Reuben, who was standing where he could look into the library when our father came out and saw the settle and the general sitting at one end of it, was chattering about it in my ear at the very moment our father was giving his orders.

"'Reuben is a man now, and I have asked him more than once since then how the general looked at that critical instant. It is important to me, very, very important, and to him, too, now that he has come to know a man's passions and temptations. But he will never tell me, never relieve my mind, and I can only hope that there were real signs of illness on the general's brow, for then I could feel that all had been right and that his death was the natural result of the great distress he felt at opposing my father in the one desire of his heart. That glimpse which Reuben had of him before he fell has always struck me with strange pathos. A little child looking in upon a man who for all his apparent health will in another moment be in eternity—I do not wonder he does not like to talk of it, and yet—

"'It was Sambo who came upon the general first. Our father had not yet descended. When he did it was with loud cries and piteous ejaculations. Word had gone upstairs and surprised him in the room with my mother. I recollect wondering in all childish simplicity why he wrung his hands so over the death of a man he so hated and feared. Nor was it till years had passed and our mother had been laid in the grave and the house had settled into a gloom too heavy and somber for Reuben to endure that I recognized in my father the signs of a settled remorse. These I endeavored to account for by the fact that he had been saved from what he looked upon as political death by the sudden but opportune decease of his best friend. This caused a shock to his feelings which had unnerved him for life.

"'Don't you think this the true explanation of his invariably moody brow and the great distaste he always showed for this same library? Though he would live in no other house, he would not enter that room nor look at the gloomy settle from which the general had fallen to his death. The place was virtually tabooed, and, though as the necessity arose it was opened from time to time for great festivities, the shadow it had acquired never left it, and my father hated its very door until he died. Is it not natural that his daughter should share this feeling?'

"It was, and I said so, but I would say no more, though she cast me little appealing looks which acquired an eerie significance from the pressure of her small fingers on my arm and the wailing sound of the wind which at that moment blew down in one gust, scattering the embers and filling the house with banshee calls. I simply kissed her and advised her to go back with me to England and forget this old house and all its miserable memories. For that was the sum of the comfort at my poor command. When after another restless night I crept down in the early morning to peer into the dim and unused room whose story I had at last learned, I cannot say but that I half expected to behold the meager ghost of the unfortunate general rise from the cushions of the prodigious bench which still kept its mysterious watch over the deserted hearthstone."

So much for the passages culled from the book itself. The newspaper excerpts, to which I next turned, bore a much later date and read as follows:

"A strange coincidence marks the death of Albert Moore in his brother's house yesterday. He was discovered lying with his head on the identical spot where General Lloyd fell forty years before. It is said that this sudden demise of a man hitherto regarded as a model of physical strength and endurance was preceded by a violent altercation with his elder brother. If this is so, the excitement incident upon such a break in their usually pleasant relations may account for his sudden death. Edward Moore, who unfortunately was out of the room when his brother succumbed—some say that he was in his grandfather's room above—was greatly unnerved by this unexpected end to what was probably merely a temporary quarrel, and now lies in a critical condition.

"The relations between him and the deceased Albert had always been of the most amicable character until they unfortunately fell in love with the same woman."

Attached to this was another slip, apparently from a later paper.

"The quarrel between the two brothers Moore, just prior to the younger's death, turns out to have been of a more serious nature than was first supposed. It has since leaked out that an actual duel was fought at that time between these two on the floor of the old library and that in this duel the elder one was wounded. Some even go so far as to affirm that the lady's hand was to be the reward of him who drew the first blood. It is no longer denied that the room was in great disorder when the servants first rushed in at the sound he made in falling. Everything movable had been pushed back against the wall and an open space cleared, in the center of which could be seen one drop of blood. What is certain is that Mr. Moore is held to the house by something even more serious than his deep grief, and that the young lady, who was the object of this fatal dispute has left the city."

Pasted under this was the following short announcement:

"Married, on the 21st of January, at the American consulate in Rome, Italy, Edward Moore of Washington, D. C., United States of America, to Antoinette Sloan, daughter of Joseph Dewitt Sloan, also of that city."

With this notice my interest in the book ceased, and I prepared to step down from the chair on which I had remained standing during the reading of the above passages.

As I did so I spied a slip of paper lying on the floor at my feet. As it had not been there ten minutes before there could be no doubt that it had slipped from the book whose leaves I had been turning over so rapidly. Hastening to recover it, I found it to be a sheet of ordinary note paper partly inscribed with words in a neat and distinctive handwriting. This was a great find, for the paper was fresh and the handwriting one which could be readily identified. What I saw written there was still more remarkable. It had the look of some of the memoranda I had myself drawn up during the most perplexing moments of this strange case. I transcribe it just as it read:

"We have here two separate accounts of how death comes to those who breathe their last on the ancestral hearthstone of the Moore house library.

"Certain facts are emphasized in both:

"Each victim was alone when he fell.

"Each death was preceded by a scene of altercation or violent controversy between the victim and the alleged master of these premises.

"In each case the master of the house reaped some benefit, real or fancied, from the other's death."

A curious set of paragraphs. Some one besides myself was searching for the very explanation I was at that moment intent upon. I should have considered it the work of our detectives if the additional lines I now came upon could have been written by any one but a Moore. But no one of any other blood or associations could have indited the amazing words which followed. The only excuse I could find for them was the difficulty which some men feel in formulating their thoughts otherwise than with pen and paper, they were so evidently intended for the writer's eye and understanding only, as witness:

Fell Out of His Boat.

Lexington, Mich., Oct. 27.—Arthur Walker a young man of this village, while out on Lake Huron in a fishing boat, fell into the lake. He was aft doing some work and the other members of the crew were forward. As he fell he shouted and they threw out some boxes, but the boat was sailing very fast and he was unable to reach the boxes nor was the party in the boat able to get the vessel around where he was to pick him up before he went down. The deceased's parents reside here. Walker was 30 years old.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Elton S. Botsford has been appointed postmaster at Dorr, Allegan county, Michigan, vice John S. Neuman, dead.

All the stress of the struggling of fierce elements within the hearts of the Klondike gold seekers, and without the crude road-house in which they sought shelter from the storm, is reflected in Rex E. Beach's, "The Thaw at Slisco's" in the November McClure's. It is a marvelously realistic tale, with its hardness softened by the triumph of mother love and manly pity. The writer gives us a wonderful character creation in Annie Black and the final picture of her meeting with her daughter when the joy of reunion rubbed away the bitterness of the past years, fairly clutches one and like those hardened miners "we let our throats hurt, for all the world like it was Christmas or we'd got mail from home."

'Taint no use to sit down and whine,

The increasing number of fatal railroad accidents in the United States, noted especially during the past year makes the discussion of the causes of such accidents by Secretary Mosely, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the Review of Reviews for November, particularly timely. Mr. Mosely points out grave faults in our American system of running trains. He knows how greater safety on the rail may be secured by perfectly practicable reforms in railroad management. All of Mr. Mosely's suggestions are the fruit of twenty years of study and they are of the greatest importance to all who have to do with the operation of our railroads.

LITERARY NOTES.

The installment of "Frenzied Finance" in the November number of Everybody's Magazine offers what is probably the best account of financial war ever printed. Mr. Lawson is now well into the main course of his narrative which leads by way of the Boston gas fights to amalgamated copper. Addicks has persuaded him to take charge of his contest with Henry Rogers and "Standard Oil" and for pure love of combat the Boston financier, with all his forces, has come to the rescue of the Delaware buccaneer. It is an exciting passage in which he tells of the attacks and retreat, toils and stratagems of this campaign and for interest and thrill it holds its own with the real fighting in "Three Musketeers."

The Metropolitan Magazine for November is a special election number and contains two articles on the Presidential candidates. "Judge Parker, An Appreciation," is from the pen of the Honorable W. Bourke Cockran and is a strong presentation from a statesman's viewpoint of the qualities of leadership displayed by the Democratic candidate. Alfred Henry Lewis in his article on "Roosevelt or Parker," weighs the claims of the two candidates as he sees them and draws a very positive conclusion. His estimates of the two men and of the conditions under which they have become the leaders of the opposing parties are stated with the picturesque force which usually characterizes Mr. Lewis' writings.

MRS. CARLTON'S WONDERFUL STORY

Maine woman's thrilling experience duplicated in Tecumseh.

There are scores of families in Tecumseh and near by towns who will read with interest the wonderful experience of Mrs. A. L. Carlton, one of the best known women in Rockland, Me. Her statements are confirmed by the physicians who treated her and by C. H. Pendleton, the druggist who sold her Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

Mrs Carlton says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for eight years, growing worse all the time. Three of the best doctors in Maine diagnosed my case as cancer of the stomach and declared I could not live two months. Utterly discouraged with their treatment, I began using Mi-o-na and commenced to gain at once. At this time, I was reduced to almost skin and bones, as I had lost nearly 100 pounds during my sickness, but when I began to take Mi-o-na, my flesh was built up and I gained 22½ lbs. the first month. When I discharged my physicians, I was suffering great pain and distress and vomiting from two to six times a day, but after the first weeks use of Mi-o-na, the pain ceased and the vomiting stopped entirely. I have taken only six packages of these wonderful tablets, but my health is about restored and I firmly believe Mi-o-na saved my life."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, which sells for 50 cents a box and offers it under personal guarantee that if it does not cure the worst form of stomach trouble and resulting disorders, the money will be refunded.

ELECTRIC ROAD.

A franchise for the

ADRIAN AND ANN ARBOR

Line will be before the Council at their next meeting.

Adrian and Ann Arbor electric railroad started a survey through here Monday noon from Maumee street, Adrian. Consulting Engineer Mason G. Brown of Detroit, will be in the village Wednesday to determine finally the route, which the company hope to secure in their franchise now before the council.

If the road is built there is every prospect that the power house will be located in Tecumseh. Sufficient water power cannot be secured along the line and the company will be forced to depend upon steam for power.

The Youth's Companion in 1905.

It is impossible even to summarize in a single paragraph the many and varied attractions which The Youth's Companion announces for the coming year.

A series of articles planned to interest especially the forty-five million Americans who look directly to the soil for their subsistence will treat of "New Fields for Young Farmers," the "Sanitation of the Farm," the "Future of American Cotton," "How Women Make Money on the Farm," etc.

Seven serial stories and 250 short stories by the most talented and popular American writers of fiction will form part of the contents of the new volume for 1905.

Full Illustrated Announcement describing the principal features of The Companion's new volume for 1905 will be sent with sample copies of the paper to any address free.

The new subscriber who sends $1.75 now for a year's subscription to The Companion receives free all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1904, also The Companion "Carnations" Calendar for 1905, lithographed in twelve colors and gold.

JOHN OSBORN

Stricken with

HEART DISEASE

At 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening. He passed away immediately.

John Osborn was sitting at the supper table when the summons came. It was sudden but no man could have been better prepared. Sunday, all of Chicago street, in fact the whole of Tecumseh was in sorrow. No man was better known than John Osborn. He has lived in the same house on Chicago street since I can remember. He was a staunch member of the Baptist church and if ever there was a good, concientious man he was one.

Till last spring he has been a traveller selling shoes for 28 years, most of the time for the same house and at that time he told me that after 28 years, he thought it time to stop. In these years he had made enough to keep him as long as he lived and if ever a man was ready to go he was.

Some time we all have to die but many will be little missed compared to this honest, concientious, good natured man who was cared for and respected by every one. His familiar figure and acts of thoughtfulness will be sadly longed for by all who knew him.

GEO. N. STACY.

OFFICERS SEARCH

Diligently all day Sunday for the man who entered

ED HARRISON'S

Store in Ridgeway Saturday night He was seen East of Town but suddenly disappeared.

Last Saturday night the store belonging to Ed Harrison in Ridgeway was broken into and several articles taken. This is the second time in two weeks that Mr. Harrison's store has been broken into. The fellow had thrown his whole weight against the doors and broken them. Sheriff Shepard of Adrian, was notified and he notified his deputies throughout the county.

Sunday morning Constable John Smith went down the railroad track a short distance to see if there had been any recent campers, when he encountered a fellow cooking breakfast. Smith noticed a bag a short distance away and was examining it, when the fellow saw him and started out across the field.

The bag, however, contained articles stolen from the Harrison store in Ridgeway. Smith followed the fellow but could not over take him. Other officers were hurried to the scene of action but not a trace of him could be found.

Mrs. Warren Stevens.

Francis Morehouse Stevens died at the home of her daughter, Bertha, in Port Huron on Saturday, Oct. 29, aged 67 years. She was married to Warren Stevens in 1860, who died in August 1872. Four children were born to them, James, of Adrian, Alfred, of New York, Harry, of Detroit, and Bertha, of Port Huron, all of whom survive her. Mrs. Stevens made her home here in Tecumseh until 1892, when she went to Port Huron to live with her daughter.

Her remains were brought here today at noon and the burial at Brookside followed immediately. Rev. Sedweek offering prayer at the grave. Mrs. Chas. Stevens of Detroit, and all the children, excepting Alfred attended the burial. The funeral was held yesterday at Port Huron.

A Kansas woman wanted a set of false teeth and wrote to a Topeka dentist thus: "My mouth is three inches acrost; five-eights thru the jowl. Some hummocky on the aige, shaped like a hoss shoe, toe forard. If you want me to be more particular, I'll have to come up there.—Ex.

So many prisoners are escaping just now from not only the county jails but the state prison as well, some people are beginning to wonder if Nayin has fixed up a deal with the officials whereby they are to allow the convicts to go upon a promise to vote for Warner as governor. —Union Record.

A man, who is very fond of honey, visited a neighboring city recently and at one of the hotels he was served some delicious honey. He enjoyed it so much that he told his wife about it when he returned home. On his next trip to the city she accompanied him. They visited the same hotel and when the noon meal was being served, he said to his wife that he hoped they had some more of that honey. It did not appear and the man therefor beckoning to the waiter said: "Say, Sambo, where is my honey?" He was almost paralyzed when that worty grinned and replied: "She doan work here no more, boss. She done got a job at the silk mill." The wife received a handsome new dress before she returned home, after making a solemn promise not to tell the story.—Ex.

If reports are true, the meanest man in Michigan, or a fellow who is entitled to a seat in the front row with the meanest ones, resides somewhere in the vicinity of Somerset Center. L. Chandler, residing near that village, had thirty head of fine steers for which he was offered four cents per pound, one day last week. Mr. Chandler did not care to sell the steers at present and refused the offer. On Saturday the whole herd was taken sick and within a few hours seventeen of them died. The last reports from the Chandler farm were to the effect that the remaining thirteen head of cattle would probably die. When the steers began to show signs of sickness Mr. Chandler immediately started an investigation to determine the cause and found that someone had gone into his pasture lot and distributed on the ground a considerable quantity of Paris green mixed with salt, which the cattle had eaten. The matter of determining who did the poisoning is now in the hands of the officers and if the guilty parties are located something will happen in Somerset that will jar the nerves of the man who has descended to so low a level as to allow himself to be guilty of a criminal act of this character.—Hudson Gazette.

SOCIAL.

Evening Parties and Dinners were many.

HALLOWEEN NIGHT

Was the Occasion of a Number of them.

SURPRISE FOR MR. AND MRS. ZIEHR.

Twenty-five of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Ziehr gave them a pleasant surprise last evening. The company first met with Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hunt and in the most hideous costumes imaginable, wended their way on the secluded streets and alleys to the Ziehr home. The feature of the evening were the hand painted features of the ladies. Progressive pedro was enjoyed, Mrs. Ziehr winning first place and Mrs. Chas. Deery was consoled. Pumpkin pie and cider refreshed these hungry ghosts and it was nearly midnight when the wierd procession found their way home.

SIX O'CLOCK DINNER.

Miss Myra Conselyea was hostess to a pleasant dinner party at 6 o'clock Friday last. Covers were laid for thirteen. Progressive flinch was enjoyed for an hour after dinner, Miss Winnifred Wilson winning the first prize. Those who enjoyed this pleasant evening were the Misses Gertrude Van Ness, May Lowry, Jennie Gillespie, Bessie Spayde, Anna, Winnifred and Helen Wilson, Sarah Platt, Edith Knowles of Adrian, May Culbertson of Ridgeway, and Mrs. Robert McCoy and Mrs. Roy Whiting.

MISSIONARY SOCIAL

The missionary society of the Presbyterian church held their rally social at the home of E. H. Halliday Friday evening Oct. 28. Rev. Jones read an interesting paper on "Method and Scope in Home Missons." A solo was rendered by Miss Mary Mills, a reading given by Mrs. Frank Rector and Mrs. J. J. Orr closed the programe with a solo. About 40 attended the meeting which was very instructive. Light refreshments were served after the program, and a pleasant social hour followed.

AN OYSTER SUPPER.

Last Friday night Miss Cora Iveson entertained a number of her friends at her home east of town. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed. An oyster supper was served to the following guests the Misses Ethel Doke, Ina Blessing, Minnie Miller, Sadie Lowry, Nina McClure and Messrs. Allen Pulver, Sheldon Southwick, Fred Fiske, Emil Fisher and Clarence Montgomery.

EVENING PARTY.

Miss Florence Bennett was hostess to a company of friends last evening at her home on Maumee street. Pedro and flinch were enjoyed by the guests and a two course supper was served Earl Haun, Ralph Piper of Clinton, and George Smith of Adrian, were the only out of town guests

JOLLY TWELVE

Mrs. O. G. Hunt very pleasantly entertained the Jolly Twelve with a progressive pedro party Friday afternoon. Prizes were awarded to Mrs Fred Kolkloesch and Mrs. E. C. Brown. At the conclusion of the game the guests were treated to dainty refreshments.

HALLOWEEN PARTY.

Miss Vera Tunnison was agreeably surprised by about twenty of her young friends last evening. Games and Halloween tricks were the features of the evening. Refreshments were served and a delightful time enjoyed by all present.

HALLOWEEN DANCE.

A dance was given by the young men in Witherell's hall last evening. About 20 couple tripped the light fantastic, to the graphaphone music furnished by F. E. Rude. This is the first dance that has been held in the Witherell hall.

DINNER PARTY.

Last evening Mrs. Milburn Keyser entertained at 6 o'clock dinner, the occasion being Mr. Keyser's and Mrs. Joseph Crosby's birthday. Covers were laid for 15 and the affair proved very enjoyable.

MRS. ZIEHR ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Geo. Ziehr will entertain the Jolly Twelve at progressive pedro next Friday afternoon.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

Small pox has broken out good and plenty this weeek in Milan. Thirty-two cases were reported there last Sunday. It is said that a Hun laborer came there some time ago ill, it was thought with chicken pox. As other cases developed a physician from Ane Arbor was called and he pronounced it small pox immediately. A health officer from Lansing came Monday and put the patients in quarantine. The Supt. of the schools is said to be critically ill with this dread disease. It is a great misfortune to any community to have this disease get such a goot-hold but with the modern facilities for handling it, there's not much to dread after all.—Later a phone message from Milan this morning regarding the small pox epsdemic there stated there were 75 or 80 cases in mild form and all under control. No deaths and no seriously ill. Only four well broken out patients.—Dundee Reporter.

Lippincott's for November is rich in papers of general interest. The one on Mr. Gladstone and Lord Acton, by Mr. Gladstone's niece, the Hon. Maud Lyttelton, is a first-hand comment on a remarkable friendship. It also carries significance in connection with the recent volume of letters from Lord Acton to Mrs. Drew, the daughter of "G. O M."

There are signs of preparation of winter in Hillsdale. In the high school a copy of the Venus de Milo stands on the piano. One morning last week the pupils were astonished to see it clad in a corset. It was the sensation of the season in school matters.—Hudson Post.

On Wednesday night Oct. 12th. as Richarb F. Stewert of Palmyra was eating supper he began coughing and strangling. His wife helped him to the kitchen when he began bleeding copionsly at the nose and mouth, and died within ten minutes before a physician could arrive. He was a pioneer of the town, and is survived by his wife and Mrs. Hodge, a married daughter living in Toledo.—Blissfield Advance.

Mrs. Champion, who had one of her eyes removed several weeks ago, by Dr. Bodine of Niles, took cold before recovering from the operation and her condition at this time is considered quite serious. She was taken to Niles last week by her daughter, Mrs. George Tripp, and is still in that city taking a course treatment.—Hudson Gazette.

Mrs. E. A. Parker, aged 72 years, died at her home Monday morning in Grass Lake. While crossing her yard a few days ago she was thrown to the ground by the too ardent demonstrations of a family dog of immense size. Her hip was fractured and she also received internal injuries from hich she died after 4 days of intense suffering. She has resided here the greater part of her life and was universally loved for her sweetness of character.—Manchester Enterprise.

The janitor at the court house of Allegan was up against a problem last week. One morning a plump partridge flew against one of the windows of the court house with such force as to break the window and kill itself. As the season has not yet opened it was unlawful to have partridge in one's possession yet the bird looked to tempting a morsel to throw away. The question is should he have eaten the bird or not?

Some mothers teach their babies to talk—and then expect them to learn to keep still.

FROM THE ASHES.

The visitor to Baltimore to-day scarcely realizes that less than a year ago the city was almost destroyed by a memorable fire. A similar comparison might be made by George W. Nally, one of the leading citizens of Baltimore, as to the change in his looks.

A short time ago, Mr. Nally, writing from his home address, 2213 Barclay St., says "I have been troubled for years with catarrh and had resorted to all remedies that could be thought. My wife was also afflicted with this terrible disease, but all the treatments we used were an absolute failure until we tried Hyomei. It worked like a charm and has made a complete cure in both of our cases. There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomei. We breathed it, and its fragrance, so clean, pure and bracing, killed all the catarrhal germs in the head, throat, and lungs.

The experience of Mr. Nally and his wife certainly points a moral to all readers of the HERALD who are suffering from catarrah. It shows how they can be cured of this frightful disease, without dangerous stomach dosing.

C. A. Wright, the local agent for Hyomei, has so much faith in treatment that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. A complete outfit costs one dollar, the extra bottes are but fifty cents. Ask to see the strong guarantee under which Hyomei is sold.

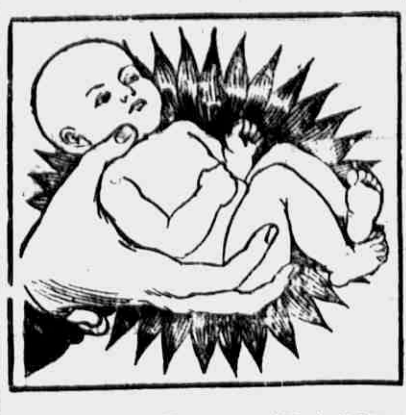
A woman's idea of a congenial husband is one who lets her have her own way in everything.



HERE'S A BABY

Its Mother is Well.

The baby is healthy because during the period of gestation its mother used the popular and purely vegetable liniment,

Mother's Friend

Mother's Friend is a soothing, softening, relaxing liniment, a muscle maker, invigorator and freshener. It puts new power into the back and hips of a coming mother.

It is applied externally only, there is no dosing and swallowing of nasty drugs, no inward treatment at all.

The state of the mother during gestation may influence the disposition and future of the child; that is one reason why mothers should watch their condition and avoid pain. Her health, that of the child and their lives, depend on keeping free from pain, worry and melancholy. Be of good cheer, strong of heart and peaceful mind. Mother's Friend can and will make you so. Bearing down pains, morning sickness, sore breast and insomnia are all relieved by this wonderful remedy.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As many a Tecumseh reader knows too well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
Urine is nature's calendar.
Urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills
Tecumseh people testify to this.

Fred Ferguson, tinsmith, residing in the western section of Tecumseh, says; "I had symptoms of kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were very irregular and at times too frequent and highly colored. Having seen so many cases of severe kidney trouble, I thought it wise to do something at once, so I got a box of Doan's kidney pills at C. A. Wright's drug store and took them. I began to improve from the very start and continued to do so. I emphatically declare them to be up to the representations made for them."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

We can rob disappointment of disappointment by finding in the disappointment some cause for thanksgiving.

No one would ever be bothered with constipation if everyone knew how naturally and quickly Burdock Blood Bitters regulate the stomach and bowels.

The oftener people lose their temper the more they seem to have.

Scald head is an eczema of the scalp—very severe sometimes, but it can be cured. Doan's Ointment, quick and permanent in its results. Any drug store, 50 cents.

It would be lovely if others estimated us as we estimate ourselves.

Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds; reliable, tried and tested, safe and sure. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

When He Killed His First Man.

The killing of a brother man, even in battle, is a painful thing to remember. A soldier of the war thus vividly described his first experience:

"My first man I saw but twenty seconds, but I shall remember him forever. I was standing by my gun when a Confederate infantry soldier rushed up. I whipped out my revolver and took him through the breast. He tossed up his arms, gave me the strangest look in the world and fell forward upon his face. He had blue eyes, brown curling hair, a dark mustache and a handsome face. I thought the instant I fired that I should have loved that man if I had known him. I tell you war is terrible business."—Youth's Companion.

INVESTIGATION BEGUN

North Sea Incident Being Probed at Vigo.

RUSSIAN SHIPS TO STAY THERE

Madrid, Oct. 31.—The Russian inquiry into the North sea affair opened at Vigo Sunday.

Vigo, Spain, Oct. 31.—It is believed the international investigation here of the North sea incident has begun. The British cruiser Lancaster, which was here for some time Saturday and departed in the evening after her commander had referred with Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky on board the Russian flagship Kniaz Souvaroff, returned Sunday and there was another conference between the British and Russian naval commanders on board the flagship of the latter. Later in the day Admiral Rojestvensky went on board the Lancaster to return the visit of the British commander. Subsequently the Lancaster sailed for Villagarcia, where it is supposed the British channel fleet has assembled. There are five British warships cruising off Vigo, evidently watching the Russian vessels here.

Spain Consulted Others.

The British foreign office has given out a statement to the effect that Russia has asked Spain's permission for the ships of Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron to remain in Vigo until the investigation of the North sea affair shall have concluded. Spain, according to the official statement, consulted with the representatives of the several powers, who gave their approval. The authorization, however, applies only to Russian vessels now at Vigo.

The British yacht Ventura is in this port and appears to be watching the movements of the Russian squadron.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 31.—The world will doubtless take particular satisfaction in according Emperor Nicholas, to whose initiative The Hague convention owed its existence, the honor and credit of having proposed an honorable solution of the North sea incident, which might have plunged Russia and Great Britain into war by an appeal to its rules. Nevertheless, the Associated Press learns on very high authority, that this diplomatic triumph belongs to M. Delcasse, the French foreign minister.

The great gravity of the situation, especially in Great Britain, where the inflamed state of public opinion might at any moment have driven the government to extreme measures, and the danger involved in delay were keenly appreciated in the French capital. France's stake is almost equal to that of the parties directly in interest, and the very peace of the republic was involved, as a rupture between Great Britain and Russia, eventuating in war by putting Great Britain and Japan in the position of making common cause against Russia, would inevitably result in an appeal to France to fulfill her obligations under the dual alliance.

M. Delcasse, therefore, at the very outset, went earnestly to work as a friend of both countries, to find an equitable basis of adjustment. The opportunity came when Admiral Rojestvensky's report raised a direct issue of fact. According to the Associated Press' informant, E. Delcasse at once suggested an inquiry to establish the facts through an international commission under The Hague convention, offering the suggestion simultaneously to both governments, through Ambassador Cambon to Foreign Minister Lansdowne, and through Secretary Boutieron in Ambassador Bompard's absence, to Count Lamsdorff. The idea found instant favor both here and in London, and Thursday night the Russian and British propositions, identical in effect, actually crossed each other on the way to the respective capitals.

King Christian Greatly Affected.

Copenhagen, Oct. 31.—The Associated Press learns that the North sea affair caused the deepest anxiety to King Christian of Denmark, who declared that should an Anglo-Russian war result it would be the cause of his death. The dowager empress of Russia promised her father, the king, to use her greatest efforts to prevent a conflict. It is stated that hundreds of dispatches were exchanged between the dowager empress and the queen of Great Britain during the week, and that the two sisters rendered great service in the cause of peace.

Jap Reserves Ordered Home.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 29.—G. Wakimoto, who is in charge of hundreds of Japanese employed as section men and in other capacities on the Union Pacific railroad has been notified by the Japanese consul that all members of the first and second army reserve are ordered to return home at once for active service. Mr. Wakimoto says that over fifty members of the two reserves are located in Colorado, over six hundred in Utah, and about five hundred on the railroads in Wyoming.

War Dance On Ocean Steamer.

New York, Oct. 29.—Col. William F. Cody has just returned to Ameica on the steamer Campania, accompanied by Chief Iron Tail and a band of Sioux indians. At an entertainment on the steamer Wednesday a feature of the program was a war dance in which fifty of the Indians took part.

Blew Out the Gas.

Owosso, Mich., Oct. 29.—Joseph Wowiski and Joe Zolinski, two Poles from Toledo, are at the point of death as a result of blowing out the gas. The men came to the city to work for the Owosso Sugar Co. They were assigned to a room in the Miller house, and about 6 o'clock in the morning the hotel porter heard one of them groaning and broke in the door. He found both men lying unconscious on the floor, with a gas jet in the room wide open. Zolinski will probably die.

KNOCK-OUT DROPS

Believed to Have Caused Death of Young Woman.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Oct. 29.—Myrtle Smith, aged 25, is dead, and Jennie Leaver is in a critical condition in this city, victims, it is thought, of knockout drops. Two well-known young men are connected with the case and the coroner's inquest may bring out sensational developments.

The girls, who were waitresses at the Hotel Higbee, it is alleged, had been drinking heavily with the men, whom they met at a dance. In one of the drug stores of this city both were in a state of intoxication when they became suddenly ill and their condition alarming. Dr. Ryno was summoned, but after several hours' work without avail in an effort to counteract the effect of the supposed drug, the patients were removed to the hotel, where the Smith girl died.

The coroner's inquest was adjourned until Monday, when several witnesses, including saloonkeepers, drug clerks and some prominent young people, will testify. An autopsy revealed the fact that the dead girl had died of stychnine poison. The home of the dead girl is in Three Rivers. Her parents have arrived in this city.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

A prominent physician writes:

"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil evercompounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

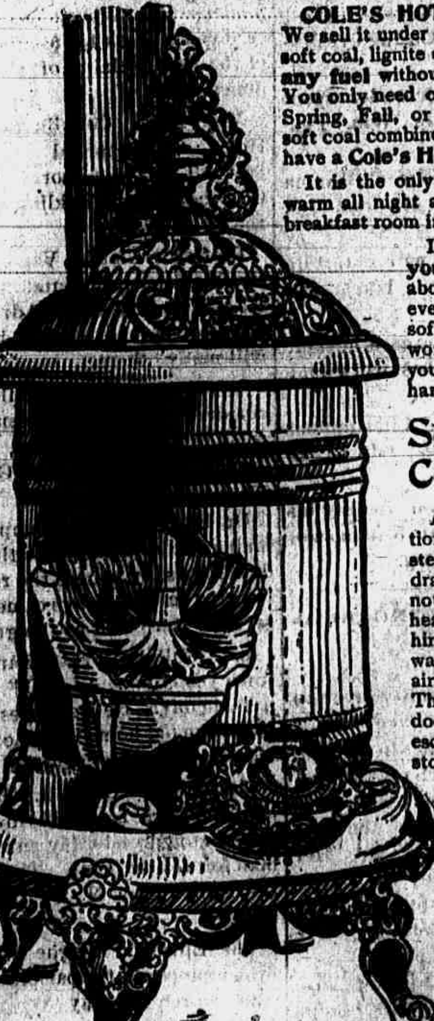
A Stove Bargain



COLE'S HOT BLAST is a great value. We sell it under a positive gaurantee. It burns soft coal, lignite coal, coke, hard coal, wood or any fuel without any change in the stove. You only need one stove for the entire year, Spring, Fall, or dead of Winter. Strikes or soft coal combines cease to be a terror if you have a Cole's Hot Blast.

It is the only stove that keeps the house warm all night and gives the family a warm breakfast room in the morning.

If you feel poor it saves half your fuel bill, while giving the above beautiful results. It will even make a ton of cheap slack soft coal, where available, do more work and hold fire better than your neighbor gets out of a ton of hard coal in his $50.00 stove.

Scientific Construction.

Air-tight and gas-tight construction throughout. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and can not open by action of the fiercest heat. The patented compound hinge on the lower draft can not warp and the draft door closes air-tight by its own weight. The patented smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, dust, or gas escaping when fuel is put in the stove. Perfect results, therefore, from any fuel. The heavy fire box protects the points where other stoves burn out first, and insures great durability.

Cole's Hot Blast

makes $5.00 worth of any fuel give more heat than $10.00 worth of fuel in any other stove.

INQUIRY FROM TEXAS

Thought to Have Come From Neil S. Phelps.

SENT TO HOTEL LANDLORD

Asked For Information Regarding Sale of Sanatorium—Identity Not Disclosed—Why Doesn't the Sheriff Offer a Reward?

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 3.—The Neil S. Phelps case now has a mystery within a mystery. Carl A. Hodges, landlord of the Halladay inn, has a letter from Texas inquiring details of the sale of the sanatorium, to be answered by telegraph, and the name of the man who sent the letter is withheld. Even W. B. Phillips, who is representing the family of Mr. Phelps, does not know the identity of the Texas correspondent.

The public is inclined to look upon the mysterious inquiry as an evidence that Phelps is alive, either in Texas or across the border in Mexico, and that the unknown correspondent is acting for Phelps—has possibly been induced to furnish capital for the repurchase of the sanatorium. The friends of Phelps brand the story as the mere curiosity of some man, perhaps a capitalist who has read of the sanatorium's sale and was anxious to get in on the bidding if the reports were satisfactory.

Sent a Reply.

The unknown correspondent wanted figures on the indebtedness and general financial standing of the sanatorium, and Mr. Hodges, after conferring with C. W. Post, present controller of the sanatorium, representing the bondholders, and with Sheriff Furner, has sent a reply. Meanwhile the identity of the man in Texas is being sought.

Mr. Phelps' associates say that Phelps knew only too well all facts concerning the sanatorium, and if he wanted to know who bought it he would write to some newspaper for a marked copy, under an assumed name. There is absolutely no clue as to Phelps' whereabouts, aside from this possible though improbable one.

One matter still bothers the public. Why does not the sheriff, who offers rewards for lost horses and for missing men of no local importance, offer a reward for Phelps? Isn't the second largest financier in the city worth $100 reward?

Sheriff Furner has offered a reward of $25 for Mrs. Henry Frown, a farmer's wife, who left mysteriously a month ago, and Mr. Brown has offered $25 But neither the officers, the city, the family nor the business associates of Phelps have offered a cent to the man who might find him, either dead or alive.

Russell Sues For Damages.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 3.—Duke Russell has commenced suit in this county against Warden Fuller of the Ionia prison for $10,000 damages for false imprisonment. Russell was sent to Ionia on the indeterminate sentence. It will be remembered that there was a great divergence of opinion as to the construction of this law, and the attorney-general advised the warden to hold the prisoner until the supreme court should construe the law. The supreme court showed that sixty or seventy prisoners were being held illegally, among them being Russell, who was kept thirty days longer than he should have been, and now asks about $300 per day for this time.

Assassin Fired Through Window

London, Ky., Nov 3.—While sitting at the supper table last night Milton Greene, who lives near East Bernstadt, was instantly killed by a rifle ball which was fired from the street and passing through a window of his home, pierced his heart. It is not known who the assassin was, and bloodhounds have been sent for. About five years ago Greene shot and seriously wounded Lew Philpot on the street at London and was afterwards shot and dangerously wounded by Philpot.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

NO CHARGE OF MURDER

Inquest Verdict Rendered In North Sea Anglo-Russian Affair.

RUSSIA WAS NOT REPRESENTED

Fishermen From Trawlers Testify That No Japanese Boats Were Among Them — Proceedings Occupied Three Hours.

Hull, Eng., Nov. 3.—"That George Henry Smith and William Leggett were, about 12:30 a. m. on Oct 22, while out fishing with trawls aboard aboard the British steam trawler Crane, with board of trade marks exhibited and regulation lights burning, killed by shots, fired without warning or provocation, from certain Russian war vessels at a distance of about one-quarter of a mile."

This is the text of the jury's verdict at the coroner's inquest into the death of the victims of the North sea tragedy. At the request of the British government, represented by the earl of Dysart, solicitor of the treasury this conservative award was rendered by the first court of inquiry preceding the sessions of the international tribunal. The government asked the jury not to find a verdict of wilful murder or manslaughter because "delicate negotiations are going on which should not be made more difficult; and they ought not to let anyone think they had prejudiced the case before having heard both sides."

A Rider Appended.

In consequence the jury simply set forth the facts proved by the evidence of physicians, experts on explosives and the trawlers themselves.

To the verdict the jury added the following rider: "On this occasion, probably the most momentous in the annals of the British empire, the jury would record their appreciation of the efforts made by the governments interested to arrive at a satisfactory conclusion of the matter, which, we feel, has no parallel in the history of the world."

St. George's hall, a large auditorium which had been specially fitted up for the investigation, was quite inadequate to accommodate the crowds that wished to listen to the evidence. The British government, the board of trade, the owners of the Gamecock fleet and the relatives of the deceased and wounded fishermen were represented by counsel; but the Russian government did not participate.

Proceedings Short.

The proceedings occupied only about three hours. The testimony consisted of medical evidence, by which it was proved that the death of Smith and Leggett was the result of shell and machine gun wounds; then an expert identified fragments of shells by private marks, which he said were undoubtedly Russian; and the stories of captains and mates of the trawlers.

To each of these witnesses was put the vital question regarding the presence of a foreign vessel or torpedo boat. Each with equal positiveness denied that at any time preceding or during the firing was any Japanese, British or any foreign vessel seen by them or the accompanying fishing fleet.

London, Nov. 3.—The negotiations between the British and Russian governments in regard to the international commission which is to investigate the North sea incident are progressing apparently to the satisfaction of both sides. The foreign office stated to the Associated Press last evening that nothing had yet been definitely settled regarding the personnel, date or place. The foreign office added that invitations will be sent to several powers to send representatives.

STILL AT LARGE.

Cody Bandits Are Headed For Owl Creek Mountains.

Cody, Wyo., Nov. 3.—The outlaws who held up the First National bank of Cody are still free and seemingly unwounded in spite of several brushes with pursuers, and now the fugitives, well mounted and well armed, are headed for the Owl Creek mountains.

William F. Cody, his English guests and Iron Tail, the Sioux warrior, will arrive here today and will at once take up the pursuit there being nine in the party. Relays of fast horses will enable Cody and his party to reach the Owl Creek range in time to participate in the fighting.

LONDON WAS EXCITED

Reports of Naval Activity at Gibraltar Created War Panic.

WAS NOTHING TO JUSTIFY IT

Began With Announcement That Russian Fleet Had Left Vigo—Populace Was Not Informed That Such Was the Understanding.

London, Nov. 2.—Negotiations between Great Britain and Russia looking to the settlement of the North Sea affair are progressing favorably and there is not the slightest danger of any friction arising between the two governments. The constitution of the international commission under the Hague convention is on the verge of settlement.

In spite of these pacific conditions Great Britain Tuesday experienced a war panic that can only be compared to the panic created on Sunday, October 23, when the news of the sinking of the trawlers in the North sea was received. Not for years have so many alarmist reports and flaming extras flooded London. The most extraordinary feature of this scare, which was serious enough while it lasted, is that there was not one single circumstance to justify it. It started early in the day when the newspapers announced the departure of the Russian Baltic squadron from Vigo. The public were not in possession of the information cabled by the Associated Press to the United States that only the officers concerned in the firing on the British trawlers would be detached, and jumped at the conclusion that Russia had broken faith by not detaining the vessels involved in the affair. On top of this came wild reports of tremendous activity at Gibraltar.

The news from Gibraltar became more and more alarmest and finally the foreign office issued a statement to the effect that it was mutually understood between the two nations that the remainder of the Russian fleet with Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky should leave Vigo, upon condition that four officers most concerned be dispatched to St. Petersburg to testify regarding the North sea affair. The statement also refuted all reports that a hitch had occurred in the negotiations between the two nations.

Although the statement contained nothing that had not been published in the United States some hours earlier in Associated Press dispatches from St. Petersburg and London, it served to inform the people here of the exact situation. The general public, however, went to bed last night firm in the conviction that it would wake up to hear that Admiral Rojestvensky was at the bottom of the sea.

HIT THEIR OWN SHIPS.

Another Story Regarding North Sea Tragedy.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 2.—The four officers detached from the Baltic squadron to testify regarding the North sea affair are expected to reach St. Petersburg in two days. It is hoped they will be able to throw a clear light on this mysterious incident.

The news of the departure of Vice Admiral Rojestvensky and his ships from Vigo has considerably relieved the tension here. The great mass of Russians are quite as suspicious of Great Britain's motive as Britons are of Russia's purposes, and there has been considerable apprehension here that Great Britain might use the trawler incident as a pretext for detaining the Baltic squadron.

Shot Preacher Dead.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 3.—At Dolomite, during a Negro wedding, a drunken guest raised a disturbance and when the negro minister remonstrated with him he shot the preacher dead.

Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of Jas. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for 4 years and then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds skin eruptions and piles at C. A. Wright's drug store, 25c.

RUSSIA MAY DO IT.

Recognize the Passports of American Jews.

Washington, Nov. 3.—The state department received a cablegram from the American embassy at St. Petersburg which warrants it in the assumption that the Russian government will soon agree to recognize passports of American Jews traveling in Russia.

Harsh and oppressive discrimination against American Hebrews who have visited Russia or who have sought to have furnished the basis for a vast amount of diplomatic correspondence between Russia and the United States during the past twenty years.

Up to the present time the United States has been unable to secure an alleviation of the rigorous measures to which American Hebrew citizens were subjected when they decided to visit the dominions of the czar.

A few weeks ago the president again directed the department of state to present the matter most earnestly to the Russian government, and in obedience to his direction forceful instructions were sent to the American ambassador at St. Petersburg to lay the matter immediately before Count Lamsdorff.

According to information which has just come Count Lamsdorf promises that the wishes of this government as set forth by the president will be promptly presented with favorable and satisfactory representations.

PERE MARQUETTE SOLD.

Erie System Buys the Railroad For $75,000,000.

Chicago, Nov. 3.—Officials of the Erie announce that the Pere Marquette system, which furnishes the direct line of communication from Cincinnati to Canada, had been absorbed by the Erie at a cost of $75,000,000 and would in the future be connected as a part of that system.

The deal was negotiated and financed by the J. P. Morgan interests. The purchase price of $75,000,000 is to be paid to the stockholders of the Pere Marquette in stock of the new consolidated company on the basis of one and one-quarter shares for every full share of old stock.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 3.—"I don't know a thing about it," said William Cotter, general manager of the Pere Marquette system when the above dispatch was read to him by a reporter last night. "I haven't even heard any rumors of the deal except those printed in the newspapers. No one outside of Cincinnati would have any information about the alleged transaction."

Fushimi Reaches Honolulu.

Honolulu, Nov. 3.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s steamer Manchuria has arrived here, having among her passengers Prince Fushimi of Japan, who is enroute to the United States The landing of the prince was the occasion of a big demonstration. Several thousand Japanese followed his carriage in a street procession, which included a number of veterans of the war between Japan and China. The day was observed as a general holiday by the Japanese residents of Honolulu.

Other Nations Protest.

San Domingo, Republic of Santo Domingo, Nov. 3.—The Spanish consul here, in behalf of the Spanish government and also of the government of Germany, has presented a formal protest to the Dominican government and the American minister against the execution of the arbitration finding in the claim of the Santo Domingo Improvement Co., of New York, asserting that the Spanish and German claims suffer by the finding.

Miss Gould Made Them Happy.

St. Louis, Nov 3.—At the end of her visit to the world's fair model playground Wednesday Miss Helen Gould of New York city gladdened the heart of every child present by giving them their choice of several varieties of presents provided at her expense.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. Address: F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Girls who are always harping on the rights of women are apt to get left in the matrimonial deal.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Filigree Ball

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN,

Copyright, 1903, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

"Let me recall the words my father was uttering when my brother rushed in upon us with that account of my misdeeds which changed all my prospects in life. It was my twenty-first birthday, and the old man had just informed me that as the eldest son I might expect the house in which we stood to be mine one day and with it a secret which has been handed down from father to son ever since the Moores rose to eminence in the person of Colonel Alpheus. Then he noted that I was now of age and immediately went on to say: 'This means that you must be told certain facts, without the knowledge of which you would be no true Moore. These facts you must hereafter relate to your son or whoever may be fortunate enough to inherit from you. It is the legacy which goes with this house and one which no inheritor as yet has refused either to receive or to transmit. Listen. You have often noted the gold filigree ball which I wear on my watch guard. This ball is the talisman of our house, of this house. If in the course of your life you find yourself in an extremity from which no issue seems possible—mind the strictness of the injunction—an extremity from which no issue seems possible—(I have never been in such a case; the gold filigree ball has never been opened by me)—you will take this trinket from its chain, press upon this portion of it so and use what you will find inside, in connection with'—

"Alas, it was at this point John Judson came rushing in, and those disclosures were made which lost me my father's regard and gave to the informer my rightful inheritance, together with the full secret of which I only got a part. But that part must help me now to the whole. I have seen the filigree ball many times. Veronica has it now. But its contents have never been shown me. If I knew what they were and why the master of this secret always left the library"—

Here the memorandum ceased with a long line straggling from the letter "y" as if the writer had been surprised at his task.

The effect upon me of these remarkable words was to heighten my interest and raise me into a state of renewed hope if not of active expectation.

Another mind than my own had been at work along the only groove which held out any promise of success, and this mind, having at its command certain family traditions, had let me into a most valuable secret. Another mind! Whose mind? That was a question easily answered. But one man could have written these words, the man who was thrust aside in early life in favor of his younger brother and who now by the sudden death of that brother's daughter had come again into his inheritance. Uncle David, and he only, was the puzzled inquirer whose self communings I had just read. This fact raised a new problem for me to work upon, and I could but ask when these lines were written—before or after Mr. Pfeiffer's death—and whether he had ever succeeded in solving the riddle he had suggested or whether it was still a baffling mystery to him. I was so moved by the suggestion conveyed in his final and half finished sentence that I soon lost sight of these lesser inquiries in the more important one connected with the filigree ball. For I had seen this filigree ball. I had even handled it. From the description given I was very certain that it had been one of the many trinkets I had observed lying on the dressing table when I made my first hasty examination of the room on the evening of Mrs. Jeffrey's death. Why had no premonition of its importance as a connecting link between these tragedies and their mysterious cause come to me at the time when it was within reach of my hand? It was too late now. It had been swept away with the other loose objects littering the place, and my opportunity for pursuing this very promising investigation was gone for the night.

Yet it was with a decided feeling of triumph that I finally locked the door of this old mansion behind me. Certainly I had taken a step forward since my entrance there, to which I had but to add another of equal importance to merit the attention of the superintendent himself.

CHAPTER XXI.

THE next morning I swallowed my pride and sought out Durbin. Greeting him in the offhand way least likely to develop his suspicion, I told him that I had a great idea in connection with the Jeffrey case and that the clew to it lay in a little gold ball which Mrs. Jeffrey sometimes wore and upon which she set great store. So far I spoke the truth. It had been given her by some one—not Mr. Jeffrey—and I believed, though I did not know, that it contained a miniature portrait which it might be to our advantage to see.

"You are on a fantastic trail," he sneered, and that was all.

That, from all its seeming inconsequence, it did hold some place in his mind was evident enough to those who knew him, but that it was within reach or obtainable by any ordinary means was not so plain. Indeed, I very soon became convinced that he, for one, had no idea where it was, or after the suggestive hint I had given him he would never have wasted a half hour on me. What was I to do then? Tell my story to the major and depend on him to push the matter to its proper conclusion? "Not yet," whispered pride. "Durbin thinks you a fool. Wait till you can show your whole hand before calling attention to your cards." But it was hard not to betray my excitement and to act the fool they considered me when the boys twitted me about this famous golden charm and asked what great result had followed my night in the Moore house. But, remembering that he who laughs last laughs best, and that the cause of mirth was not yet over between Durbin and myself, I was able to preserve an impassive exterior even when I came under the major's eye. I found myself amply repaid when one of the boys who had studiously avoided chaffing me dropped the following words in my ear:

"I don't know what your interest is in the small gold charm you were talking about, but you have done some good work in this case, and I don't mind telling you what I know about it. That little gold ball has caused the police much trouble. It is on the list of effects found in the room where the candle was seen burning; but when all these petty belongings of Mrs. Jeffrey were gathered up and carried back to her husband, this special one was not to be found among them. It was lost in transit, nor has it ever been seen since. And who do you think it was who called attention to this loss and demanded that the article be found? Not Mr. Jeffrey, who seems to lay little or no stress upon it, but the old man they call Uncle David. He, who to all appearance possessed no interest in his niece's personal property, was on hand the moment these things were carried into her husband's house, with the express intention, it seems, of inquiring for this gold ball, which he declared to be a family heirloom. As such it belonged to him as the present holder of the property, and to him only. Attention being thus called to it, it was found to be missing, and as no one but the police seemed to be to blame for its loss the matter was hushed up and would have been regarded as too insignificant for comment, the trinket being intrinsically worthless, if Mr. Moore had not continued to make such a fuss about it. This ball, he declared, was worth as much to a Moore as all the rest of his property—which was bosh, you know—and the folly of these assertions and the depth of the passions he displayed whenever the subject was mentioned have made some of us question if he is the innocent inheritor he has tried to make himself out. At all events, I know for a certainty that the district attorney holds his name in reserve, if the grand jury fails to bring in an indictment against Miss Tuttle."

Durbin

"The district attorney is wise," I remarked, and fell a-thinking.

Had this latent suspicion against Mr. Moore any solid foundation? Was he the guilty man? The memorandum I had come across in the book which had been lately pulled down from the library shelves showed that, notwithstanding his testimony to the contrary, he had been in that house close upon that fatal night if not on the very night itself. It also showed his extreme interest in the traditions of the family. But did it show anything more? Had he interrupted his writing to finish his query in blood, and had one of his motives for this crime been the acquisition of this filigree ball? If so, why had he left it on the table upstairs? A candle had been lit in that room. Could it have been by him in his search for this object? It would be a great relief to believe so. What was the reason, then, that my mind refused so emphatically to grasp this possibility and settle upon him as the murderer of Mrs. Jeffrey? I cannot tell. I hated the man, and I likewise deeply distrusted him. But I could not, even after this revelation of his duplicity, connect him in my thoughts with absolute crime without a shock to my intuitions. Happily my scruples were not shared by my colleagues. They had listed him. Here I felt my shoulder touched, and a newspaper was thrust into my hand by the man who had just addressed me.

THE FILIGREE BALL.

"Look down the lost and found column," said he. "The third advertisement you will see there came from the district attorney's office. The next one was inserted by Mr. Moore himself."

I followed his pointing finger and read two descriptions of the filigree ball. The disproportion in the rewards offered was apparent. That promised by Uncle David was calculated to rouse any man's cupidity and should have resulted in the bauble's immediate return.

"He got ahead of the police that time," I laughed. "When did these advertisements appear?"

"During the days you were absent from Washington."

"And how sure are you that he did not get this jewel back?"

"Oh, we are sure. His continued anxiety and still active interest prove this, even if our surveillance had been less perfect."

"And the police have been equally unsuccessful?"

"Equally."

"After every effort?"

"Every."

"Who was the man who collected and carried out those things from the southwest chamber?"

He smiled.

"You see him," said he.

"It was you?"

"Myself."

"And you are sure this small ball was among them?"

"No. I only know that I have seen it somewhere, but that it wasn't among the articles I delivered to Mr. Jeffrey."

"How did you carry them?"

"In a hand bag which I locked myself."

"Before leaving the southwest chamber?"

"Yes."

"Then it is still in that room?"

"Find it," was his laconic reply.

That night I went back to the Moore house and sought first on the open floor and then in every possible cranny for the missing trinket. But I failed to find it and was about to acknowledge myself defeated when my eye fell on the long brocaded curtains which I had drawn across the several windows to hide every gleam of light from the street. They were almost free from folds, but I shook them well, especially the one nearest the table, and naturally with no effect.

"Folly," I muttered, yet did not quite desist. For the great tassels still hung at the sides and— Well, you may call it an impossible find or say that if the bauble was there it should have been discovered in the first search for it. I will not say no. I can only tell you what happened. When I took one of those tassels in my hand I thought, as it twirled under my touch, that I saw something gleam in its faded old threads that did not belong there. Startled, and yet not thoroughly realizing that I had come upon the object of my search, I picked at this thing and found it to be a morsel of gold chain that had become entangled in it. When I had pulled it out it showed a small golden ball at one end, filigreed over and astonishingly heavy for its size and apparent delicacy.

The talisman of this old family was found. I had but to discover what it held concealed to understand what had baffled Mr. Moore and made the mystery he had endeavored to penetrate so insolvable. And what did I find inside? Something so different from what I expected, something so trivial and seemingly harmless, that it was not until I recalled the final words of Uncle David's memorandum that I realized its full import and the possibilities it suggested. In itself it was nothing but a minute magnifying glass; but when used in connection with—what? Ah, that was just what Uncle David failed to say, possibly to know. No; guessing would not answer. I must trust to the inspiration of the moment, which suggested with almost irresistible conviction:

The picture! That inane and seemingly worthless drawing over the fireplace in The Colonel's Own, whose presence in so rich a room has always been a mystery!

Fearless and Independent.

The Chicago Record-Herald is a conspicuous example of the success with which the public rewards fearless nonpartisanship in the columns of a great metropolitan daily paper. It is an independent newspaper in which men and measures are invariably viewed wholly from the standpoint of the public good and not from that of the interests of any particular political party. It is the very reverse of neutral—fearless and outspoken on all the great questions of the day but presenting its editorial opinion upon independent judgement and entirely regardless of political affiliations. Partisanship is barred as strictly from the news columns as from the editorial page. All political news is given without partisan coloring, thus enabling the reader to form correct conclusions for himself. In the ordinary partisan newspaper political news is unusually colored to such an extent as to make it difficult if not impossible for the reader to secure a sound basis for intelligent judgement.

Simple cure for Lockjaw.

My father (who has now passed away) was a physician, practicing for over fifty years, and cured many many cases of lockjaw. Even after the jaws were set they became relaxed, and the patients recovered.

He often told me that it was a great outrage to let the patients die of lockjaw, as they have done time after time in the hospitals of this city. Then he told me what to do—and which I have always done whenever I have accidentally cut my hand or foot with rusty iron, and have never had any serious results. He told me that this knowledge he received from an old French physician, years ago. He said to take a raw red beet, cut it in half and scrape or mash it into a pulp and apply it to the wound and also to the palm of the hands binding it on like a poultice. The juice of the red beet will cure lockjaw. It draws the poison out and prevents it from spreading.—Philadelphia Record.

MRS. CARLTON'S WONDERFUL STORY

Maine woman's thrilling experience duplicated in Tecumseh.

There are scores of families in Tecumseh and near by towns who will read with interest the wonderful experience of Mrs A. L. Carlton, one of the best known women in Rockland, Me. Her statements are confirmed by the physicians who treated her and by C. H. Pendleton, the druggist who sold her Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

Mrs Carlton says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for eight years, growing worse all the time. Three of the best doctors in Maine diagnosed my case as cancer of the stomach and declared I could not live two months. Utterly discouraged with their treatment, I began using Mi-o-na and commenced to gain at once. At this time, I was reduced to almost skin and bones, as I had lost nearly 100 pounds during my sickness, but when I began to take Mi-o-na, my flesh was built up and I gained 22½ lbs. the first month. When I discharged my physicians, I was suffering great pain and distress and vomiting from two to six times a day, but after the first weeks use of Mi-o-na, the pain ceased and the vomiting stopped entirely. I have taken only six packages of these wonderful tablets, but my health is about restored and I firmly believe Mi-o-na saved my life."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, which sells for 50 cents a box and offers it under personal guarantee that if it does not cure the worst form of stomach trouble and resulting disorders, the money will be refunded.

FOR CONGRESS
CHAS. E. TOWNSEND

Two years ago the HERALD, with what little strength it possessed, worked for the nomination of Henry Smith for congress and thinks that for the last two years Smith would have made for the second district of Michigan a better man than Townsend.

It takes two years for a man to know anything in congress and the most that the HERALD has against the republican party is that it concludes that in Michigan two terms is enough for one man to be in congress. If Smith had been returned by this time he would have been a power, not only for this district, but for the whole state of Michigan.

Now it would be suicide to elect another man to fill the place of Townsend. In the next two years he will be able to do something and another man be he republican or democrat would be useless. Chas. E. Townsend is a bright, clean man. For the first two years he did as well for the 2nd district as any man could. He must be returned and democrats and republicans alike should vote for him.

When another republican is nominated the HERALD will work for the democratic nominee if he is a good man but this time is selfish enough to desire that the second district should be represented in Congress for the next two years.

John H. Osborn.

John H. Osborn was born in Pembrook, Mass., Aug. 16, 1833, died in Tecumseh Oct. 29. 1904 at the age of 72 years, 2 months and 13 days. He came to Michigan with his parents in 1840 settling in Tecumseh. During all these years he has been a citizen of Tecumseh, excepting a year and a half that he was in the revenue service with station at Evansville, Ind.

On Dec. 19, 1852, he was united in marriage to Miss Anna E. Whitemore. Five children were born to them, two of whom are dead and three are living, Mrs. A. C. Bryan and W. O. Osborn, of Tecumseh, and Mrs. Mamie Osborn, of Seattle, Washington.

Mr. Osborn united with the Baptist church by baptism Aug. 4, 1849. The record shows that he was the oldest member of the church. He was a man of strong convictions, he believed what he believed and knew why he believed. He was a staunch Baptist and for many years he and his noble wife were pillars in the church and especially active in caring for the sick and needy. He died as he had lived, honored and respected by all. In politics he was a staunch prohibitionist, he could not see how a christian could be anything else.

Mr. Osborn leaves four brothers and three sisters. The funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from his late residence conducted by his pastor. Those from out of town attending the funeral were, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Osborn and Mrs Mrs Henry Rumsey, of Saginaw; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Osborn and Mrs. S. W. Hart, of Elkhart, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lampman, of Chicago; Mrs. Chas Estes, of Traverse City; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Crossman, of Jackson; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Bemis, of Temperance, Mich.

Mrs. Elizabeth Reynolds.

Mrs. Elizabeth Caroline Reynolds, wife of Mr. Chas. W. Reynolds, for many years a resident of the city of Detroit and whose early life was spent here, departed this life after a lingering illness Oct. 31, 1904, at her home. No. 274 Sheridan Ave., Detroit.

Miss Elizabeth C. Smalledge was born at Meadville, Pa., Sept. 28, 1842, and came to Tecumseh, Mich., in childhood with her parents. She was married to Chas. W. Reynolds at Monroe Dec. 20, 1866, shortly after he had been discharged from his 3½ years' service in the army of the Republic. Their home was for three years at Tecumseh, after which they spent a short time at Toledo and Cincinnati. They then moved to Detroit in Jan. 1871, and their home has since been in that city.

To them were given two children, Mrs. Cora Bernice Cooley, of Detroit, and Mr. Geo. Reynolds, of San Francisco, Cal. Mrs. Reynolds was one of eight children and is survived by Mrs. Samantha E. Berringer, of Los Angeles, Cal.; Wm. P. Smalledge, of this place; Frank E. Smalledge and Mrs. Gertrude E. Burnham, of Detroit.

Mrs. Reynolds made profession of faith in Jesus in early womanhood and united with the Free Will Baptist church, with which body she continued till about three years ago while at Corruna she identified herself with the Presbyterian church of that place, this being her mother's faith for a long life time. Mrs. Reynolds was also a member of the W. R. C., at Corruna and her card was taken to Detroit but failing health made it impossible for her to enter into active membership. As a christian she was a firm believer and her life was a rich demonstration of many of its graces. Her sympathy and helpfulness was ready at all times to minister to those who appealed to her. Indeed, we may say of her, she was a lovely christian character. A true woman, home loving, dear as a wife, precious as a mother, true as a friend. Her many friends join in the sorrow of the mourning family for the one they so dearly loved.

The funeral services were conducted at her home by her pastor assisted by her cousin, Rev. E. P. Smalledge of Grass Lake. Her remains were brought back by the family to the home of her early life and laid to rest in the family lot in Brookside cemetery Thursday, Nov. 3, 1904.

JOHN PRIMROSE

Died at the Home of his Mother in Tecumseh of NERVOUS PROSTRATION

This Morning at 1:30.

This morning the people were shocked and grieved to learn that John Primrose was dead at the home of his mother in Tecumseh.

He was working for a firm in New York City and last Sunday was taken suddenly ill. Telegraphed to Seaton Anderson to come there after him, he was unable to go, but sent for Perley Skinner, who was in New York, to bring him home and together they arrived Wednesday afternoon. For several years John had been on the road for a firm in Cleveland and just landed this position for the New York house, which was a very fine one at a large salary, when he broke down with nervous prostration, caused by overwork.

The shock to his mother, sisters and relatives here is a terrible one, John Primrose was born in Tecumseh and virtually spent his whole life here. He was a young man of much more than ordinary ability and for the last few years has been a great aid to his mother and sisters.

At a time like this it is hard to reconcile friends, relatives and acquaintances.

The funeral will be held at the house Sunday at 2:30. Masons are requested to meet in the lodge rooms at 2:00 o'clock.

Commendation for our Townsman.

Don H. C. Bowen, the democratic nominee for county clerk, is one of Tecumseh's bright young men and one who can lay claim to having made a success of every business venture he has undertaken. He has been elected to public office in Tecumseh and is held in the highest esteem by the people of that city and vicinity, where he has resided nearly all his life. He has a splendid education, is a good man in all things things and amply qualified to do justice to the duties devolving upon the county clerk. Should he be chosen to that office on election pay, he would serve Lenawee county with credit and at the same time give Tecumseh representation at the county seat, an honor that our neighboring town has not been allowed to enjoy for the past twenty-four years.—Hudson Gazette.

Had Jas. H. Elliott been nominated by the republicans for county clerk, as he should have been, Bowen would not have been a candidate and Elliott would have carried this town by 300 votes. Every voter should see that Bowen is supported loyally and do everything possible to give Tecumseh a representation at the county seat.

CLUB NOTES.

The Wit and Wisdom club will meet with Mrs. Joseph Waring Monday evening November 7. Program:

Celery Dealers.

The following clipped from the Pittsburg notes in the Chicago Packer, is of local interest. In an article concerning car service it says:

E. A. Dashier, representing the Prairie Side Celery Co., of Tecumseh, was in the city this week. He states that the Union Line cars are preferable for their celery shipments but it has been practically impossible to get these cars during the past two or three weeks.

One of the other visitors on the market was Boies C. Hart of Adrian, representing Crane & Bublic of that place. Adrian shippers have had the same difficulties as experienced at Tecumseh and other celery shipping points.

The senior member of the firm of Wilson Bros., Tecumseh, Mich., was in Pittsburg Wednesday of this week. This firm has operated largely in Florida and California celery during previous seasons.

FROM THE ASHES.

The visitor to Baltimore to-day scarcely realizes that less than a year ago the city was almost destroyed by a memorable fire. A similar comparison might be made by George W. Nally, one of the leading citizens of Baltimore, as to the change in his looks.

A short time ago, Mr. Nally, writing from his home address, 2213 Barclay St., says "I have been troubled for years with catarrh and had resorted to all remedies that could be thought. My wife was also afflicted with this terrible disease, but all the treatments we used were an absolute failure until we tried Hyomei. It worked like a charm and has made a complete cure in both of our cases. There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomei. We breathed it, and its fragrance, so clean, pure and bracing, killed all the catarrhal germs in the head, throat, and lungs.

The experience of Mr. Nally and his wife certainly points a moral to all readers of the HERALD who are suffering from catarrah. It shows how they can be cured of this frightful disease, without dangerous stomach dosing.

C. A. Wright, the local agent for Hyomei, has so much faith in treatment that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. A complete outfit costs one dollar, the extra bottes are but fifty cents. Ask to see the strong guarantee under which Hyomei is sold.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes:
"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As many a Tecumseh reader knows too well.

When the kidneys are sick,
Nature tells you all about it.
Urine is nature's calendar.
Urinary trouble tells of kidney ills.
Doan's Kidney Pills cure these ills
Tecumseh people testify to this.

Fred Ferguson, tinsmith, residing in the western section of Tecumseh, says; "I had symptoms of kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were very irregular and at times too frequent and highly colored. Having seen so many cases of severe kidney trouble, I thought it wise to do something at once, so I got a box of Doan's kidney pills at C. A. Wright's drug store and took them. I began to improve from the very start and continued to do so. I emphatically declare them to be up to the representations made for them."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county of Lenawee. ss. Probate court for the county of Lenawee.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 18th day of Oct. in the year one thousand, nine hundred and four.

Present, Harry L. Larwill, judge of probate. In the matter of the estate of JOHN R. HIALEY, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition of Frank J. Hialey, son of said deceased, praying that administration of said estate may be granted to Mary A. Hialey, or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 14th day of Nov. next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered, that a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

FOUR SUDDEN DEATHS.

An Unusual Day In the Happenings of Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—Death claimed four old citizens of Detroit yesterday, death in each case being sudden.

Neil Flattery, aged 81, was seized with heart failure at his home, 348 Jefferson avenue, and died in a few minutes. He was a pioneer furniture manufacturer and dealer and a well-known business man.

John L. Simpson, 513 Brush street, purchasing agent for the Michigan Malleable iron works, was seized with hemorrhage and died almost instantly. He was a prominent Knight Templar

Col. Herman F. Kallman, former member of the Detroit board of public works, died suddenly from heart failure at 8:15 p. m. at his home, 88 Watson street. He was a gallant soldier and was in the government employ for many years. The Belle Isle bridge was built under his direction.

Andrew Moeller, 245 Russell street, was the fourth victim. He died during the day. He was a retired business man, aged 82.

Will Was Held Up 14 Years.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 3.—The joint will of Martin Klink and his wife Anna is finally to be probated after having been held up for fourteen years. Martin Klink died in 1890 and the will was filed for probate, but it was necessary for all proceedings to rest until the death of Anna Klink, the second testator, which only recently occurred. By the terms of the will a life estate is given to James Klink a son, whose residence in 1890 was Grand Rapids. Two daughters are also made beneficiaries—Mary Viergever of this city and Jane Esveld of Edgerton.

BE KEPT SECRET.

Salsbury's Statement to Prosecutor Not to Be Disclosed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 2.—The principal feature of the Perry trial Tuesday was the effort of the defense to have the original statement of Salsbury to Prosecutor Ward on his return from prison produced in court.

The defense made a formal application for it and after the argument court adjourned for the noon recess. In the afternoon Judge Newnham ruled against the production of the statement on the ground that the names of people who have not heretofore been brought out in connection with the water scandals are used in the document, and that it should be kept secret for this reason.

The defense closed its cross-examination, but no important testimony was brought out. The defense scored at the morning session, when Salsbury admitted that his confederate in the Barton deal was his brother. In the Nichols case and in other cases he has stated that he didn't know the name of the confederate.

FATE AGAINST HIM.

Chicagoan Robbed and Then Fell Victim to Accident.

Durand, Mich., Nov. 2.—David McIntyre of Chicago, who was on his way from his home city to Saginaw, fell asleep in the Grand Trunk depot here in the morning while waiting for a train. When he awoke he found that somebody had gone through his clothes and left him penniless.

Unable to buy a ticket to Saginaw, he went abou the sawmills for work. While standing in one of the mills a wheel burst and a fragment struck him in the abdomen. It passed through his liver, lodging in his back, and it is not thought he has any chance for recovery.

All Hope Given Up.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 2.—It is quite generally conceded now that if Neil S. Phelps is ever found it will be by accident. Some man who knows him may run across the ex-financier in the seclusion of some remote spot, as in the case of the Charley Steele, of Parker's "Right of Way," or some one may find his body quite unexpectedly in the neighborhood of this city. But the idea of an organized search grows less in favor every day. It may be months before a clue is received.

Novel Bet Carried Out.

Durand, Mich., Nov. 2.—Two prominent Durand men, Ed Brown and Frank Hulburt, made a bet on the outcome of the Gans-Britt fight, by the terms of which the loser was to wheel the other about the streets of the town all Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by a band. Brown had the Britt end of the deal and so he procured a wheelbarrow and did the required stunt, while the band disbursed various airs intended to add to his discomfiture.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Paw Paw, Mich., Nov. 2.—While Elmer Powers of Waverly was cutting a bee tree the tree fell on him, killing him instantly.

Easy Pill

Easy to take and easy to act is that famous little pill DeWitt's Little Early Risers. This is due to the fact that they tonic the liver instead of purging it. They never gripe nor sicken; not even the most delicate lady, and yet they are so certain in results that no one who uses them is disappointed. They cure torpid liver, constipation, billiousness, jaundice, headache, malaria and ward off pneumonia and fevers.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhœa, and stomach aches.

Thedford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. BADER.

Ask your dealer for a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send 25c. to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn. and a package will be mailed to you.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil more or less for the last 15 years, and will say as a liniment or internal remedy or as a family remedy it is unexcelled. I might go on and tell you of many other cases which we have used it for, but can say that it is the best remedy that I ever knew and everyone speaks in the highest terms of it." E. E. Ostrander, Locomotive Engineer of M. C. R. R., Jackson, Mich.

Bad Kidneys Worse Than Bad Lungs.

A GUARANTEED AND CERTAIN CURE.

Kidney diseases have come to be regarded by the best authorities as the most dangerous and fatal that afflict the human race excepting the pestilence of cholera, yellow fever, etc. Bright's disease is, without doubt, the most certain of all in dealing death. It is insidious in its nature, stealing on unawares and frequently the sufferer is in a very dangerous state before he is conscious of being affected. At the very first indication or symptom of pain or weakness in the region of the kidneys, the patient should lose no time in employing a remedy to relieve him of this danger.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is $1.00 a bottle and it cures permanently and absolutely all forms of kidney and bladder troubles. It is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestion, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back, retention and incontinence of urine, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or its purchase price will be refunded. Is for sale by Armies In Far East May Winter as They Now Stand.

COLD WEATHER SETTING IN

New Appointments to Important Russian Commands Indicates Kuropatkin Will Not Likely Take Offensive —Military Attaches Leaving.

Gen. Kuroki's Headquarters, Nov. 5, via Fusan, Nov. 7.—The positions of the two armies are unchanged. The Russians continue infrequent and ineffectual bombardment, principally at night or in the early morning, with heavy guns, devoting their energies chiefly to the Japanese left, where the lines are nearer than elsewhere. The Japanese refrain from replying. There is a sharp exchange, indicating firing somewhere on the lines almost every night.

The cold weather of the past week has culminated in a sharp wind and flurries of snow. The ground is frozen and the soldiers build few fires for warmth, lest they draw the Russian shots. They have remarkably and ingeniously well-constructed shelters of cornstalks whenever they are unable to occupy Chinese houses. Fur overcoats are being used.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The army organ just publishes a long list of new commanders in the far east, including the appointments of Gens. Linevitch and Kaulburs, to the First and Third armies respectively. Gens. Kutnevich and Selivanoff will command the twenty-second and twenty-third divisions of the First corps, whose chief, Gen. Meyendorff, is resiging on account of ill-health. Gen. Slouchevsky, commander of the Tenth corps, has also resigned, and it is expected that he will be succeeded by Gen. Jzerpitsky.

The sweeping character of these changes may imply that there is no intention on Gen. Kuropatkin's part to assume the offensive during this year's campaign unless an exceedingly favorable opportunity offers. Indeed, it begins to look like a deadlock below Mukden for the winter unless Port Arthur falls or the Japanese abandon the idea of renewing the assault upon the fortress there and settle down to a regular seige, either of which will release enough troops to give the preponderance necessar to try to force the Russians out of Mukden. In fact, the latest dispatches from the front indicate that some such movement is preparing, though the best opinion at the war office holds to the view that there is not likely to be another big battle this year, one of the indications pointed out being the departure of many military attaches for the winter.

A SECOND PORT ARTHUR.

It Is Reported That Vladivostok Is Exceedingly Well Fortified.

Chefoo, Nov. 7.—As the result of months of preparation, Vladivostok is now strongly protected, according to Capt. Halvorsen of the Norwegian steamer Tungus, which has arrived here five days out from that port with 700 Chinese refugees, who were unable to live at Vladivostok any longer owing to the high prices of food and other necessaries due to the war.

Capt. Halvorsen says that the Vladivostok system of fortifications begins many miles outside the city proper and grows stronger as the city is approached.

Ships laden with food, cannon, ammunition and all sorts of military supplies frequently arrive at Vladivostok, according to Capt. Halvorsen, who says that five ships engaged in unloading their cargoes were in port when the Tungus sailed.

The captain is unable to estimate the strength of the garrison, but he says that everybody at Vladivostok seems to be either an officer or an ordinary soldier.

If the Japanese make an attempt to capture Vladivostok it is the belief of Capt. Halvorsen that they will find it to be a second Port Arthur.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE

Battle Creek Sustains Heavy Losses by Fire.

ESTIMATED LOSS IS $100,000

Noble Block and Annex Badly Scorched—One Man Had Narrow Escape — Tenants Were Heavy Losers.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 7.—Fire wrought from $75,000 to $100,000 damage in the heart of Battle Creek's business district Sunday and came near costing Sid A. Erwin of the state board of pharmacists and Attorney C. F. McKenzie their lives. The Noble block and its mate, the Annex, three story business and office buildings, at the intersection of Main street and Jefferson avenue, were the structures damaged. The fire started in the furnace room of the Noble block about 10:45 and went up an elevator shaft to the roof. The most damage was on the third floors of the two blocks. The flames, rushing up the elevator shaft, swept into the reception hall of the Annex ballroom. Reaching the dance hall, one of the largest in the city, the fire made rapid headway, soon removing the roof and an observatory that was above the ballroom. So swiftly did the flames spread that when Patrolman Hudson turned in an alarm from a box on the corner he had scarcely time to cross the street before it was completely choked with dense black smoke.

Principal Losers.

The principal store loss falls upon the City drug store, of which Sid A. Erwin is proprietor. Its stock was watersoaked, with a loss that $12,000 will not cover. His laboratory, on the second floor, was ruined. Farnham's clothing house had its stock soaked and the loss, though yet unestimated, will be heavy. Cady's jewelry store, the Little Williams restaurant, and Evans & Adams' barber shop each had a loss ranging from $500 to $1,000. The City bank, occupying the ground floor corner, has only recently been redecorated and finished in mahogany, onyx and brass. The water ruined these furnishings, but there was no damage by fire. The flames completely surrounded the lower portion of the bank vault, which withstood the heat without loss.

The law office of C. F. McKenzie and the French-Wicks lumber office were damaged to the extent of $1,000. Attorney C. F. McKenzie's escape was remarkable. He was at his desk on the third floor when he heard the alarm, and went to the window to look out. People in the street warned him to come out and he started into the hallway. It was filled with black smoke, and McKenzie walked blinded almost into the flames. To escape he had to rush past the flaming elevator shaft to the stairs, and when he had accomplished this he was overcome, while hair, mustache and eyebrows were singed to a crisp and his face was badly blistered.

Dr. A. T. Metcalf, who, as administrator of the Noble estate owns both blocks, thinks the most conservative estimate of the loss to be $50,000. His tenants, who insist that he does not appreciate their individual losses, place the estimate at $100,000. This is only partially covered by insurance.

Blew Up the Bank.

Reading, Mich., Nov. 7.—About 3 o'clock in the morning the villagers were aroused by a fire alarm, and on an investigation found that instead of a fire the alarm was to arouse the village to the fact that the vaults at the State bank had been robbed and blown up. Five masked men were seen by two or three citizens making their escape eastward from the city. The interior of the bank was badly demolished. Admission was gained to the first vault, where about $1,000 in silber was obtained.

Louise Seeks Reconciliation.

Florence, Italy, Nov. 5.—The former crown princess, Louise, the divorced wife of the present king of Saxony, has arrived here, desiring, it is said, to be nearer Rome in order to facilitate the negotiations with the Vatican, with the object of bringing about a reconciliation with the king. This is here considered to be more probable now, owing to the death of the late King George, who was implacable. Princess Louise is stopping at a private villa here.

TWICE TRIED HOLDUP

Bandits Attempted to Rob Pennsylvania Train.

MESSENGER WAS THOUGHTFUL

Drove Off Robber Who Attempted to Break Into Express Car and Stopped the Train—Thieves Finally Escaped.

Philadelphia, Nov. 7.—According to the crew of the Philadelphia and New York express train on the Pennsylvania railroad which left Washington at 6:50 last night, two unsuccessful attempts were made to hold up the train at Havre de Grace and Perryville, in Maryland, by two men, one of whom was a negro. The men escaped.

It is believed the men boarded the train at Baltimore. Just as the train approached the long bridge at Havre de Grace the express messenger, T. Herbert Carter, saw a white man prying at the front door of the express car with an iron bar. A moment after he discovered that this man thrust a revolver through the crevice which the bar had made. He ordered the messenger to let him in, but the messenger replied by firing his revolver and pulling the signal cord for the engineer to stop.

Ready to Attack Engineer.

When the train came to a standstill Conductor Sibley ran forward to the engine and there found a colored man standing on the coal in the tender with a revolver in hand. He ordered the man down. At first he refused, but after a short argument he left the tender. Going back to the express car, he was told by the messenger what had happened, but the white man had disappeared.

The train resumed its journey, and when it reached Perryville, on the farther side of the bridge, the two men again appeared, one on the tender and the other on the front platform of the express car, which was immediately behind the tender. The train was again promptly stopped, but before the two men could be captured they disappeared in the darkness.

At Wilmington, Del., the conductor reported the matter and telegrams were sent to Baltimore, Perryville, Havre de Grace and other points to intercept the men, if possible. The express car was carrying a large quantity of produce in crates and boxes, but under some burlap bags were three small iron safes in which there were valuables.

The conductor says the engineer and fireman of the locomotive saw the negro on the tender, but as they were not armed they could do nothing.

To Try Steel Ties.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—Lake Shore railroad officials have placed an order for 7,000 steel ties to be used as an experiment probably near the eastern terminus of the road at Buffalo. Part of the order will be given to the New York Central for use on that road, and if the results are satisfactory it is expected that a more general use of steel ties will be made along the entire system of the Vanderbilt roads.

Systematic Chicken Thieving.

Adrian, Mich., Nov. 7.—Fred Allen and Issac Mallose are in jail charged by Charles Price, a farmer of Riga township, with stealing sixteen of his chickens. The men were arrested in Toledo as they were marketing their fowls. They had a wagon and team, and it is believed they have been conducting a systematic business of chicken thieving in this county.

Burglars at Northville.

Northville, Mich., Nov. 7.—Three Northville stores were burglariously entered early in the morning. The Hueston drug store, Baldwin & Hetley meat market and Stark Bros.' shoe store all have the same kind of lock. Nothing was taken except the change in the cash drawers, and some whisky from the drug store.

Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of Jas. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for 4 years and then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds skin eruptions and piles at C. A. Wright's drug store, 25c.

STUDENT DEMONSTRATIONS.

Italian and German Men Put Countries In Uproar.

Innsbruck, Nov. 7.—The body of the artist, Prezzey, who was stabbed through the heart with a bayonet during the rioting here the night of Nov. 3, was buried Sunday afternoon in the Innsbruck cemetery in the presence of a great crowd and with an imposing ceremony. Perfect order was maintained. A strong force of gendarmes kept the route clear and large detachments of troops were held in reserve. Burgomaster Greil and Deputy Schalk delivered orations at the side of the grave.

After the funeral crowds promenaded the streets singing German patriotic songs, and 3,000 people assembled in Maria Teresa street, where the deputies, Berger and Stein, delivered inflammatory addresses. The police interposed and the two deputies fled to the station where they took train for Vienna to avoid arrest.

Disorders were renewed late in the evening. A mob paraded the streets whistling and cat-calling and throwing fireworks under the feet of the horses of the gendarmes, who were attempting to disperse them. Reinforcements for the gendarmes finally arrived, scattered the rioters and closed the road to the imperial palace to all traffic.

Milan, Nov. 7.—About 500 students Sunday gathered in the center of the city crying "Down with Austria" and called to the balcony of his hotel the Innsbruck correspondent of Il Corriere della Sera, who had just arrived from that place after having been severely maltreated by Germans. Subsequently four Germans who were sitting in a cafe began singing "The Watch on the Rhine." Requests that they cease were met with further insults and declarations that the Italians were cowards. A fight, in which sticks were used, then ensued and a number of persons were injured. The police, however, restored order.

Vienna, Nov. 7.—Prime Minister von Koerber Sunday afternoon had a stormy interview with Herr Erler, vice burgomaster of Innsbruck, and Herr Denschatte, leader of the People's party. The premier firmly declined to close the Italian faculty of the University of Innsbruck.

Recommends Death Penalty.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—Capital punishment for highway robbery is formally recommended in a grand jury report submitted in court here. The report says: "In view of the prevalence of a phase of crime known as 'hold-up,' its brutality and the frequent loss of life resulting therefrom, we would respectfully petition the next general assembly to frome severer laws bearing thereon, even to the extent of capital punishment for such offenders. Any man who with firearms commits a robbery in the street does so with murder in his heart and murder following it is an after-result."

Ex-Mayor a Murderer.

Charlottesville, N. C., Nov. 7.—Samuel McCue, for two terms mayor of Charlottesville and for many years a lawyer at the bar before which he was tried, has been found guilty of murder in the first degree on the charge of having killed his wife. This carries the death penalty.

Found Dead.

San Francisco, Nov. 7.—Major Edward Fitzgerald, U. S. A., retired who was formerly connected with the quartermaster's department, was found dead in his room Sunday. He was 73 years of age. He had been suffering from heart trouble.

Seven Years For Stealing.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 7.—Alfred G Vanderpool is scheduled to spend not less than the next seven years of his life in Jackson prison. The confessed fur thief appeared before Judge Murphy but stuck to his former statement that he had told all he knows about the robbery at Edwin S. George's warehouse. Vanderpool is 27 years of age, and the maximum time he may be forced to serve is ten years.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

The Filigree Ball

By ANNA KATHARINE GREEN,

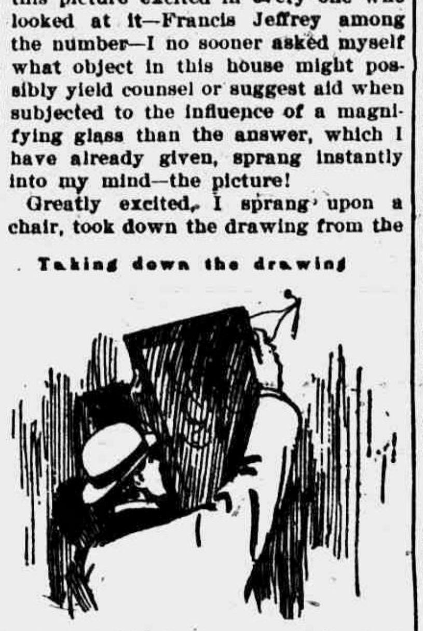
Copyright, 1903, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXI.

Why this object should have suggested itself to me and with such instant conviction I cannot readily say. Whether, from my position near the bed, the sight of this old drawing recalled the restless nights of all who had lain in face of its sickly smile, or whether some recollection of that secret law of the Moores which forbade the removal of any of their pictures from the time worn walls, or a remembrance of the curiosity which this picture excited in every one who looked at it—Francis Jeffrey among the number—I no sooner asked myself what object in this house might possibly yield counsel or suggest aid when subjected to the influence of a magnifying glass than the answer, which I have already given, sprang instantly into my mind—the picture!

Greatly excited, I sprang upon a chair, took down the drawing from the wall and laid it face up on the bed. Then I placed the glass over one of the large coils surrounding the insipid face, and was startled enough, in spite of all mental preparation, to perceive the crinkly lines which formed it resolve themselves into script and the script into words, some of which were perfectly legible.

Taking down the drawing



The drawing, simple as it looked, was a communication in writing to those who used a magnifying glass to read it. I could hardly contain my triumph, hardly find the self control necessary to a careful study of its undulating and often conflicting lines and to the slow picking out of the words therein contained.

But when I had done this and had copied the whole of the wandering scrawl on a page of my notebook the result was of value.

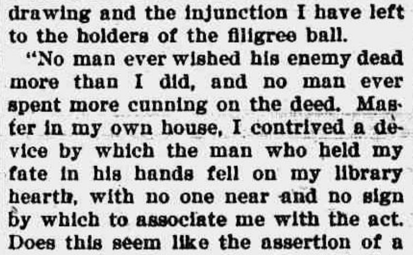
Read and judge for yourself:

"Coward that I am, I am willing to throw upon posterity the shadow of a crime whose consequences I dare not incur in life. Confession I must make. To die and leave no record of my deed is impossible, yet how tell my story so that only my own heirs may read and they when at the crisis of their fate? I believe I have found the way by this drawing and the injunction I have left to the holders of the filigree ball.

"No man ever wished his enemy dead more than I did, and no man ever spent more cunning on the deed. Master in my own house, I contrived a device by which the man who held my fate in his hands fell on my library hearth, with no one near and no sign by which to associate me with the act. Does this seem like the assertion of a madman? Go to the old chamber familiarly called 'The Colonel's Own.' Enter its closet, pull out its two drawers and in the opening thus made seek for the loophole at the back, through which, if you stoop low enough, you can catch a glimpse of the library hearth and its great settle. With these in view, slip your finger along the wall on your right, and when it touches an obstruction pass it if it is a handle—for that is only used to rewind the apparatus and must be turned from you until it can be turned no farther—but if it is a depression you encounter press and press hard on the knob concealed within it. But beware when any one you love is seated in that corner of the settle where the cushion invites rest lest it be your fate to mourn and wail as it is mine to curse the hour when I sought to clear my way by murder, for the doom of the man of blood is upon me.

"The hindrance is gone out of my life, but a horror has entered it beyond the conception of any soul that has not yielded itself to the unimaginable influences emanating from an accomplished crime. I cannot be content with having pressed that spring once. A mania is upon me which, after thirty years of useless resistance and superhuman struggle, still draws me from bed and sleep to rehearse in ghastly fashion that deed of my early manhood. I cannot resist it. To tear out the deadly mechanism, unhinge weight and drum and rid the house of every evidence of crime would but drive me to shriek my guilt aloud and act in open pantomime what I now go through in fearsome silence and secrecy. When the hour comes, as come it must, that I cannot rise and enter that fatal closet, I shall still enact the deed in dreams and shriek aloud in my sleep and wish myself dead and yet fear to die lest my hell be to go through all eternity slaying over and over my man in ever growing horror and repulsion.

The drawing under the magnifying glass



"Do you wish to share my fate? Try to effect through blood a release from the difficulties menacing you."

CHAPTER XXII.

I RESTORED the picture to its place and left the building. As I did so the first signs of dawn became visible in the east. I had expended three hours in picking out the meaning concealed in the wavy lines of the old picture.

I was early at headquarters that morning, but not so early as to find the superintendent alone. A group of men were already congregated about him in his small office, and when, on being admitted, I saw among them the district attorney, Durbin and another famous detective, I instinctively knew what matter was under discussion.

There was with them a fourth man, who stood apart. On him the general attention had been concentrated at my entrance and to him it now returned. He was an unpretentious person of kindly aspect. To any one accustomed to Washington residents, he bore the unmistakable signs of being one of the many departmental employees whose pay is inadequate to the necessities of his family. Of his personal peculiarities I noted two. He blinked when he talked and stuttered painfully when excited. Notwithstanding these defects he made a good impression and commanded confidence. This I soon saw was of importance, for the story he now entered upon was one calculated to make me forget my own errand and even to question my own convictions.

The first intimation I received of the curious nature of his communication was through the following questions, put to him by the major:

"You are sure this gentleman is identical with the one pointed out to you last night?

"Very sure, sir. I can swear to it."

"You recognize him positively?"

"Positively. I should have picked him out with the same assurance if I had seen him in some other city and in a crowd of as fine looking gentlemen as himself. His face made a great impression on me. You see, I had ample time to study it in the few minutes we stood so close together.

"So you have said. Will you be kind enough to repeat the circumstance? I should like the man who has just come in to hear your description of this scene. Give the action, please. It is all very interesting."

The stranger glanced inquisitively in my direction, and turned to obey the superintendent.

"I was returning to my home in Georgetown on the evening of May 11, the day of the great tragedy. My wife was ill, and I had been into town to see a physician, and should have gone directly home; but I was curious to see how high the flood was running—you remember it was over the banks that night. So I wandered out on the bridge, and came upon the gentleman about whom you have been questioning me. He was standing all alone leaning on the rail—thus."

Here the speaker drew up a chair, and, crossing his arms over its back, bent his head down over them. "I did not know him, but the way he eyed the water leaping and boiling in a yellow flood beneath was not the way of a curious man like myself, but of one who was meditating some desperate deed. He was handsome and well dressed, but he looked a miserable wretch and was in a state of such complete self absorption that he did not notice me, though I had stopped not five feet from his side. I expected to see him throw himself over, but instead of that he suddenly raised his head, and, gazing straight before him, not at the heavy current, but at some vision in his own mind, broke forth in these words, spoken as I had never heard words spoken before"—

Here the speaker's stuttering got the better of him and the district attorney had time to say:

"What were these words? Speak them slowly; we have all the time there is."

Instantly the man plucked up heart, and, eying us all impressively, was able to say:

"They were these: 'She must die! She must die!' No name, but just the one phrase twice repeated, 'She must die!' This startled me, and, hardly knowing whether to lay hands on him or to turn about and run, I was moving slowly away when he drew his arms from the rail—like this—and still staring into space added in the same hard and determined voice this one word more, 'Tonight,' and, wheeling about, passed me with one blank and wholly unconscious look and betook himself toward the city. As he went by, his lips opened for the third time. 'Which means,' he cried, between a groan and a shriek, 'a bullet for her and'— I wish I had heard the rest, but he was out of my hearing before his sentence was finished."

"What time was this?"

"As near half past 5 as possible. It was 6 when I reached home a few minutes later."

"Ah, he must have gone to the cemetery after this."

"I am quite sure of it."

"Why didn't you follow the man?" grumbled Durbin.

"It wasn't my business. He was a stranger and possibly mad. I didn't know what to do."

"What did you do?"

"Went home and kept quiet; my wife was very ill that night and I had my own cause for anxiety."

"You, however, read the papers next morning?"

"No, sir, nor for many days. My wife grew constantly worse and for a week I didn't leave her, not knowing but that every breath would be her last. I was dead to everything outside the sickroom, and when she grew better, which was very gradually, we had to take her away, so that I had no opportunity of speaking of this occurrence to any one till a week ago, when some remark published in connection with Mrs. Jeffrey's death recalled that encounter on the bridge. I told a neighbor that I believed the man I had seen there was Mr. Jeffrey, and we looked up the papers and ran over them till we came upon his picture. That settled it, and I could no longer—being free from home anxieties now—hold my tongue, and the police heard"—

"That will do, Mr. Gelston," broke in the major. "When we want you again we will let you know. Durbin, see Mr. Gelston out."

I was left alone with the major and the district attorney.

The major was the first to speak. Addressing the district attorney, he remarked: "This will strengthen your case very materially. We have proof now that Mrs. Jeffrey's death was actually determined upon. If Miss Tuttle had not shot her, he would, I wonder if it was a relief to him on reaching his door to find that the deed was done."

I could not suppress my surprise.

"Miss Tuttle!" I repeated. "Is it so unmistakably evident that Mr. Jeffrey did not get to the Moore house in time to do the shooting himself?"

The major gave me a quick look.

"I thought you considered Miss Tuttle the guilty one."

I felt that the time had come to show my colors.

"I have changed my mind," said I. "I can give you no good reason for this; something in the woman herself, I suppose. She does not look nor act like a criminal. While not desirous of raising myself in opposition to the judgment of those so greatly my superiors in all respects, I have had this feeling, and I am courageous enough to avow it. And yet, if Mr. Jeffrey could not have left the cemetery gates and reached the Moore house in time to fulfill all the conditions of this tragedy, the case does look black against the woman. She admits to having been there when the pistol was fired, unless"—

"Unless what? You have something new to tell us. That I have seen ever since you entered the room. What is it?"

I cast a glance at the door. Should I be able to finish my story before Durbin returned? I thought it possible, and, though still upset by this new evidence, which I could now see was not entirely in Miss Tuttle's favor, I spoke up with what spirit I might.

"I have just come from spending another night in the Moore house. All the efforts heretofore made to exhaust its secrets have been founded upon a theory that has brought us nowhere. I had another in mind, and I was anxious to test it before resting from all further attempt to solve this riddle. And it has not failed me."

Engineer and Fireman Killed.

Roanoke, Va., Nov. 7.—A Norfolk & Western freight train westbound from Roanoke ran into a derailing switch near Radford at an early hour in the day and was wrecked. The engine turned over on Engineer E. B. Lynch of Roanoke and Fireman H. L. Kipps of Blacksburg, killing both of them. The dead men leave families.

Arthur White of Cambridge, while picking apples fell from the ladder a distance of nearly 20 feet to the ground striking heavily—breaking the bones of one arm and dislocating it at the wrist, besides injuring him internally. The next time he goes up 20 feet on a ladder to pick apples he will do it by proxy and send a boy.—Adrian Press.

A Holly girl has lost her steady. When he called the other evening she was sitting in the dark in her room. A powder puff was on the dresser and she quickly touched up her cheeks before appearing downstairs. The young man didn't stay long, just why the girl could not imagine until going to her room and taking a look in the mirror. Powdered charcoal which she used for cleaning her teeth had been lying close to the freckle eradicator and she got them mixed.—Ex.

Wm. Hood hung himself in his barn in Clayton yesterday morning and as stated by our correspondent, it was supposed he was despondent over his wife's He left the house about 9 o'clock and some ten minutes later was found by his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Southard, who had been caring for her sick mother. Going to the barn she found the door locked from the inside but she forced an entrance and found her father hanging in the stairway. She summoned help and when the body was cut down, it was warm but lifeless. Mr. Hood was an old soldier and formerly a farmer in Rome township but about 4 years ago the family moved to Clayton. Of late he has been in poor health.—Hudson Post.

New Life and Health for Women.

Zoa Phora Makes Women Feel Young, Strong and Healthy and Gives Them the Glow and Bloom of Youth and Beauty.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Lady.

Zoa Phora certainly does do wonders for women. Every woman who has tried it says so and there are multiplied thousands of them. From all parts and corners of the land come their words of praise and joy and gratitude. Zoa Phora has brought more life and health to women, has relieved more pain and suffering and filled more homes with joy and happiness than all remedies and medicines and doctors combined. Their genuine letters of thanksgiving and rejoicing prove it and prove it conclusively.

Zoa Phora cures all forms of female diseases, misplacements, irregularities, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, piles, kidney, bladder and liver diseases and all the troubles that drag down the life of women and make their lives a burden and a misery. You will rejoice as others now rejoice in perfect health and happiness if you use Zoa Phora.

Mrs. Wm. B. Knapp, 531 E. 8th St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "I write this hoping that it will be the means of helping some suffering sister who has any weakness or trouble peculiar to women. Seventeen years ago last fall I was taken sick abed with weakness, and was in bed all winter. Just as soon as I would get up I would faint and fall. Three of the best doctors in our town could not help me; then my husband wrote to that dear old Dr. Pengelly and he sent medicine and advice. The first dose helped me, and in one month I was up doing my work after being sick in bed from the 21st of November until the next May. The medicine he sent me was Zoa Phora, and if it hadn't been for dear old Dr. Pengelly and Zoa Phora, I would not be here to write this."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

The Annihilation of Distance.

How much nearer to each other the nations of the world seem to be today and really are today than was the case a few decades ago! When weeks and months were required for communication between the United States and Europe the countries of the old world appeared to be a long way off. Now the circumference of old earth is belted with telegraph and cable lines in every possible direction. What happens today in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, South America and the great islands of the sea is made known to us tomorrow by great newspapers like the Chicago Record-Herald, whose foreign correspondents are located in every important city in the world outside of the United States. In addition to its own staff correspondents the Record-Herald enjoys the foreign news service of the New York Herald, famous for many years for the reliability of its foreign news; the New York World and also of that great co-operative newsgathering association, the Associated Press. No other daily newspaper in America possesses facilities so varied and extensive for covering the news of all nations.

Some time during Tuesday night of last week some unprincipled wretch administered poison to a valuable horse belonging to Geo. Willett, who resides on the farm of Thomas Ayers one mile south Ridgeville. It appears that Mr. Willet and family were away from home during a portion of the night in question and on going to the barn in the morning found the horse dead. A quantity of what appeared to be arsenic was in the manger and on opening the animal, a large amount was found in the stomach. No clue.—Jasper.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of DesMoines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's pain balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MRS. CARLTON'S WONDERFUL STORY.

Maine woman's thrilling experience duplicated in Tecumseh.

There are scores of families in Tecumseh and near by towns who will read with interest the wonderful experience of Mrs. E. L. Carlton, one of the best known women in Rockland, Me. Her statements are confirmed by the physicians who treated her and by C. H. Pendleton, the druggist who sold her Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

Mrs Carlton says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for eight years, growing worse all the time. Three of the best doctors in Maine diagnosed my case as cancer of the stomach and declared I could not live two months. Utterly discouraged with their treatment, I began using Mi-o-na and commenced to gain at once. At this time, I was reduced to almost skin and bones, as I had lost nearly 100 pounds during my sickness, but when I began to take Mi-o-na, my flesh was built up and I gained [illegible] lbs. the first month. When I discharged my physicians, I was suffering great pain and distress and vomiting from two to six times a day, but after the first weeks use of Mi-o-na, the pain ceased and the vomiting stopped entirely. I have taken only six packages of these wonderful tablets, but my health is about restored and I firmly believe Mi-o-na saved my life."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, which sells for 50 cents a box and gives it under personal guarantee that if it does not cure the worst form of stomach trouble and resulting disorders, the money will be refunded.

We desire to correct the statement made in the Friday's HERALD concerning the benefit for John Werner. The collection was taken among the business men of the town and not by the Masons alone although a number of the Masons helped.

A New Firm.

Robert McCoy and Donald Reid have bought the bakery stock of Wm. Willoughby and have taken possession, the firm name to be McCoy & Reid. Mr. Reid came here from Toronto, Canada, about a year ago and has been employed by Mr. Willoughby, as baker, Mr. Reid being quite proficient in this work. Mr. McCoy has resided here in Tecumseh his entire life and has been in the employ of Williamson & Co. and the Lenawee Produce Co. Both young men are very popular and as business men are sure to succeed.

Mr. Reid will take entire charge of the baking department as before and Mr. McCoy will wait on trade. The HERALD joins with their many friends in wishing them success.

Mr. Willoughby expects to move his family back to Ithaca, Mich., in a few weeks.

FOOT BALL.

Tecumseh Buttinskys win a hard fought game from Blissfield.

Last Friday a husky bunch of foot ball players came in here from Blissfield with the intention of defeating the home team but were sorely disappointed as the home team won by a score of 5 to 0. Twenty and fifteen minute halves were played.

Tecumseh lined up as follows:

L. E. Boyd L. T. Stetson
L. G. Keyser Centre Rowland
R. G. Hannah and Marsh
R. T. Garlinghouse R. E. Abersold
Quarter, Drake, L. H. Williamson
Full, Hessen, R. H. Hannah.

The team goes to Blissfield to play a return game today.

STAR COURSE

Given by the ladies of the

FEDERATED CLUBS

At the Bradley Opera House during the winter.

The ladies of Tecumseh expect to put before the public this winter the finest lecture and musical course that has been heard in the old town for several years. The first number is the Indian Band, which occurs on Thanksgiving night. These Indians are thirty in number and their repretoire runs from rag time to Wagner. Mr. Wheeler, the red skin director, always aims to please the varying tastes of the people who have asked him for selections. His concerts are sweet, tuneful, harmonious, classical and raggy and quite different from the programes arranged by other great band masters. Come and hear the Indian Band on Thanksgiving night.

On the 8th of December, Dr. McDowell, one of the greatest travellers, gives an illustrated lecture on Samoa,—the tropical paradise of the southern Pacific. One never tires seeing his wonderful pictures and hearing his fascinating talk.

February first the Four Stars, celebrated throughout two continents, with Mabelle Carolyne Church, the world renowned reciter. They will give you a delightful evening. February twenty-second Lorado Taft will be here bringing with him his studio. He sculptures while he talks. This is one of the finest entertainments of the course. Dr. Driver, one of the most forceful lectures on the American platform will close the list of attractions on March twenty-seventh.

The season tickets for this course are one dollar and fifty cents. Reserved seats ten cents extra for each attraction. Tickets can be procured at John Orr's drug store, at Anderson & Rosacrans' and at Seaton Anderson's dry goods stores. The reserved seat sale will commence at John Orr's Tuesday, Nov. fifteenth. Single tickets for Indian Band seventy-five cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

John Hicks Primrose.

John Hicks Primrose was born in Tecumseh August 20, 1868, and died at his mother's home in the same place, Nov. 4, 1904. His school days were spent in his native town. At the age of fourteen he began clerking in a dry goods house, and for many years his sole ambition has been that he might be in the employ of Lord & Taylor of New York City. His ambition was gratified as he has been in the employ of that firm for over a year.

He leaves a mother, two sisters and the one whom he had chosen to be his life companion and many relatives and friends, who loved him dearly. The finer sensibilities of this man few knew, but they were as fine as could be found in any man.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Allie Johnson has reentered school.

The English IV boys are now favored with front seats.

German II pupils had to report the other morning whether they ate their eggs hard or soft, boiled, scrambled or poached for breakfast.

The properties of chlorine are now engrossing the attention of the chemistry pupils. Some of them are more familiar with its odor than is agreeable.

A quotation from the immortal Shakespeare is repuired each morning from the English literature pupils. They would be thankful to anyone for finding them some especially short ones.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Nov. 5, 1904.

The most sensational event of the campaign is the open letter of President Roosevelt, made public today, denying the charges of candidate Parker, that chairman Cortelyou, while secretary of commerce and labor, learned any of the secrets of the trusts, that he has used any knowledge gained in his official capacity to extort money from the trusts, or that he, the president, appointed Cortelyou chairman with any such end in view. "I speak now lest the silence of self-respect be misunderstood," declares the president and he continues, "Mr. Parker's charges are in effect that the president of the United States and Mr. Cortelyou....have been in a conspiracy to blackmail corporations....Mr Parker knows best whether this is true of the contributions to his campaign fund which have come through his trusted friends and advisers who represent the great corporate interests that stand behind him. But there is not one particle of truth in the statement as regards anything that has gone on in the management of the republican campaign. Mr. Parker's accusations against Mr. Cortelyou and me are monstrous. If true they would brand both of us forever with infamy; and inasmuch as they are false heavy must be the condemnation of the man making them." In conclusion the president says: "The statements made by Mr. Parker are unqualifiedly and atrociously false. As Mr. Cortelyou has said to me more than once during this campaign, if elected I shall go into the presidency unhampered by any pledge, promise, or understanding of any kind, sort or description, save my promise, made openly to the American people, that so far as in my power lies I shall see to it that every man has a square no less and no more.

The estimates of four of the great government departments of the amount necessary for the conduct of their respective business for the coming year have now been made public and all verify the prediction made in these letters some weeks ago, that the campaign would have a salutatory effect, in that democratic criticism of alleged republican extravagance would tend to economy. The latest estimate made public is that of the War department, which calls for an expenditure of $200,000 less than the amount expended last year. The Interior department shows a saving, notwithstanding the great expense incurred for irrigating the arid lands of the West, all of which will in time, be returned to the treasury and is, therefore, more of an investment than an expense. The postoffice shows a decrease in every direction save that of rural free delivery which has proved so popular that the outlay can hardly be decreased, and with the country as prosperous as it now is, no reason is seen for curtailing the service although it might have to be curtailed with a recurrence of hard times. The estimates of the department of agriculture show neither increase nor decrease and the work of the department has proved so beneficial to the farmers that it is believed to be unwise to decrease the appropriations.

When congress convenes the administration will be able to lay before the senate arbitration treaties with France, Italy, Switzerland and Germany. Of these four, the convention with Germany is most important for the reason that Germany is devoting great effort to extend her trade in the same directions as the United States and is, probably, of all the European nations, the most impatient of the restrictions imposed by the Monroe Doctrine. In the estimation of diplomats a clash with Germany, while by no means probable, is the least unlikely of any difficulty that might occur between the United States and any of the great powers. The arbitration treaty, once ratified, will practically compel Germany to submit to the Hague any difficulty which may arise and is therefore the most important insurance against war effected in many years.

Through President Roosevelt and Baron Speck von Sternberg, the German Ambassador to the United States, an additional and highly important policy insuring the United States against war is about to be executed. During the stay of Dr. Von Holleben, the former German Ambassador in Washington, the relations between this country were not of the pleasantest and President Roosevelt found himself confronted with a difficult task when he undertook to eradicate the friction. Hardly had he assumed office when Germany and Great Britain blockaded Venezuelan ports and theratened the integrity of the Monroe Doctrine. President Roosevelt immediately warned the representatives of both nations that no seizure of territory would be permitted and our relations with Germany were not improved by the warning. Serious trouble in that instance, however, was averted by the President's proposal that the claims against Great Britain should be adjudicated by the Hague and, Great Britain cheerfully acquiessing, Germany was virtually compelled to do the same.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

Susan B. Anthony, on her return from Europe, talked in an engaging way about the things she had seen over there. Of a certain slum she said: "The children in this slum are dirty, very dirty. I hardly know how to make clear to you superlative degree of dirtiness that marks them. I was told, for one thing, that a mother, in this slum, often goes out on the street and washes half a dozen children's faces before she is able to find her own child."—Ex

ROUND ABOUT US.

Wm. Copeland, Sr., of Ann Arbor, who fired a shotgun into a crowd of boys Halloween, committed suicide on Wednesday by the laudanum route. One of the boys was quite badly hurt and he was threatened with a damage suit, which so preyed on his mind that he ended his life as above stated. He was a contractor and is survived by a widow and two grown children.—Clinton Local.

As the 8:05 Lake Shore was passing through the southern part of town Saturday night, a stone was thrown by some miscreant, crashing through the window, striking a lady on the side of her face with such force as to cut the flesh, the broken glass striking the lady seated back of her in the eye. A birch rod would be a good prescription without doubt for the wrong doer, if used liberally.—Adrian Telegram.

While at Portage Lake this week Frank Arens of Ypsilanti was successful in luring from the waters a fine specimen of a war-mouth bass, a fish very rarely found so far north, its native home being south of the Ohio river. Prof. Norman Woods, the U. of M. taxidermist, who was at the lake, said this was the second specimen he had known that had been captured there. Mr. Arens gave the specimen to Mr. Woods, who will mount it and add it to the U. of M. museum collection.

Mrs. Eugene Bennett met with quite a serious accident Wednesday morning about nine o'clock. Accompanied by her daughter, Nettie, she started from home for Onsted with a load of poultry on a light one-horse wagon and when a couple of miles or so from home the horse, apparently without cause, began to run and overturned the wagon. The occupants were thrown out, Mrs. Bennett striking on her head with sufficient force to cause a concussion of the brain, her body and limbs being also considerably bruised. She was taken to Mrs. Clara Lee's near by and Dr. Case summoned, who dressed her injuries after which she was taken home. The horse ran about a mile further down the road and was caught near Warren Pitcher's farm. The harness was badly broken and the wagon received a few minor breaks.—Onsted News.

FROM THE ASHES.

The visitor to Baltimore to-day scarcely realizes that less than a year ago the city was almost destroyed by a memorable fire. A similar comparison might be made by George W. Nally, one of the leading citizens of Baltimore, as to the change in his looks.

A short time ago, Mr. Nally, writing from his home address, 2213 Barclay St., says "I have been troubled for years with catarrh and had resorted to all remedies that could be thought. My wife was also afflicted with this terrible disease, but all the treatments we used were an absolute failure until we tried Hyomei. It worked like a charm and has made a complete cure in both of our cases. There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomei. We breathed it, and its fragrance, so clean, pure and bracing, killed all the catarrhal germs in the head, throat, and lungs.

The experience of Mr. Nally and his wife certainly points a moral to all readers of the HERALD who are suffering from catarrah. It shows how they can be cured of this frightful disease, without dangerous stomach dosing.

C. A. Wright, the local agent for Hyomei, has so much faith in treatment that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. A complete outfit costs one dollar, the extra bottes are but fifty cents. Ask to see the strong guarantee under which Hyomei is sold.

Mother's Friend

Mother's Friend is a soothing, softening, relaxing liniment, a muscle maker, invigorator and freshener. It puts new power into the back and hips of a coming mother.

It is applied externally only, there is no dosing and swallowing of nasty drugs, no inward treatment at all.

The state of the mother during gestation may influence the disposition and future of the child; that is one reason why mothers should watch their condition and avoid pain. Her health, that of the child and their lives, depend on keeping free from pain, worry and melancholy. Be of good cheer, strong of heart and peaceful mind. Mother's Friend can and will make you so. Bearing down pains, morning sickness, sore breast and insomnia are all relieved by this wonderful remedy.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Tecumseh readers must come to that conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Tecumseh but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills: S. Erskine, proprietor of the wellkown barber shop says: "For 10 years off and on I had a dull pain in my back, imperfect action of the kidneys and often I could hardly stoop or get up again. I think it was caused by standing so much at my work, I was in bad shape. I used a great many menicines but without receiving much benefit until Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. I must confess that I was agreeably surprised for after using one box I was much relieved. After the use of two boxes my back is stronger and better than it has been for a long time. They are the best medicine I have ever used and I have such faith in them. I believe I will be conferring a kindness on those suffering from kidney trouble in making known their merits."

Didn't Fool the Officers.

Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 7.—Oscar Anderson has been taken to Escanaba to answer for attempting to murder a man at Escanaba. Anderson alighted from the train when it stopped at a switch some distance below this city but the officers had suspected this ruse and were on hand.

Will Avoid Cleveland.

Cleveland, Nov. 7.—As the result of continued interruption to his speech at Central armory Saturday, Senator Joseph B. Foraker is quoted as saying that he would never come to Cleveland again upon a political assignment. Senator Foraker and Congressman Burton were billed as the speakers at a closing political meeting in this city. When Senator Foraker was introduced the audience of several thousand people began a noisy demonstration that was continued for twenty minutes, during which time Senator Foraker tried to continue his remarks but finally sat down, after which the audience became quiet and listened to Congressman Burton for more than an hour.

Evangelists Stir Up Liverpool.

Liverpool, Nov. 7.—The American evangelists, Torry and Alexander, opened a three months' revival here Sunday in a building that had been especially erected for the purpose, with a seating capacity of 12,000 and which is called Tournament hall. Twenty thousand people came to the opening meeting. The choir numbers 3,500 and there are 800 trained workers. The whole city is stirred and Mr. Torry believes that Great Britain is on the eve of a great religious awakening.

Barn and Hogs Destroyed.

Emmet, Mich., Nov. 7.—A large barn belonging to James Campbell, a farmer living four miles west of here, was burned the other morning. Mr. Campbell lost a quantity of farm feed, besides ten hogs and all his farm machinery. The cause of the fire is attributed to a cigar dropped by some one who attended a dance at his home.

FOR MICHIGAN

Baptist Board of State Missions Appoint Missionaries.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—The Board of Baptist State Missions, which met for the first time since the new appointments were made in Port Huron at the convention week before last, held an important session in the parlors of the Woodward Avenue Baptist church yesterday afternoon. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $3,990.67. A forecast for the ensuing year was also presented and the work was planned on the basis of receipts that would amount to approximately $1,800. The appropriations for the ensuing year amount to $111.07.

The following state missionaries were appointed for one year: Revs. W. H. Mark, Bad Axe; G. A. Payne, Brown City; M. A. Thomas, Durand; J. C. Rooney, Escanaba (American); C. H. Ekblad, Escanaba (Swedish); John T. Young, Hickory Island and Unionville; W. N. Fletcher, Ishpeming; E. K. Myers, Kingsley; C. W. Fletcher, Standish and Sterling; S. M. Crامblet, Muskegon Heights; Gustaf A. Johnson, Menominee (Swedish); E. D. Way, Union City; Jacob Henn Lyons and Collins; George H. Ritchie, Gardendale, North street, and Howard mission, Port Huron; A. M. Tangen, Edmore; Brent Harding, Lake Odessa and Sebewa; Ludwig Djupstrom, Iron River (Swedish); H. Newman, Ishpeming (Swedish); Eric A. Aspalend, Marquette (Swedish); W. S. White, Hesperia; Carl A. Daahen, Norway; J. R. Baldwin, Calumet; H. V. Gould, Eastport; John Mathews, St. Clair; T. J. Howland, Chesaning, and Allan Hoben, Guild hall, Ann Arbor.

The following associational missionaries were also appointed by the board: Revs. L. J. Anderson, Ludington, for the Danes and Norwegians; M. S. Reed, Alden, Grand Traverse district; H. H. Andrews, Deckerville, Huron association; J. P. Forsell, Tustin Swedish Southern conference; D. Q. Barry, Gladwin, Saginaw valley; and D. A. Shannon, Stanwood.

The board is planning an evangelistic campaign and hopes to appoint more evangelists in the near future.

IN JEALOUS RAGE

Widower Shot a Girl and Then Killed Himself.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 5.—In a fit of rage because the girl refused to marry him, William Mutart shot and dangerously wounded Martha Zube at her home in Portsmouth township, and then ran out into a field and put a bullet into his own temple, dying almost instantly.

The tragedy occurred on a farm about two miles out of Munger. Mutart, who was a widower with two children, was employed on Albert Zube's farm as a laborer, and becoming enamored of the daughter had been urging her for some time to marry him, but she refused. He purchased the revolver about two weeks ago and is believed to have contemplated the crime for some time.

The girl was hit twice by bullets, one being only a flesh wound in the arm, and the other bullet entering her back and producing a dangerous wound.

Judge Gave Him the Limit.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 5.—Herbert Van Zandt received the limit of the law for receiving stolen property in Judge Phelan's court Friday and was sentenced to serve four years and eleven months in Jackson prison. In imposing sentence Judge Phelan said that the prisoner's criminal record justified the court in dealing out so stiff a sentence. Van Zandt has served nine years of his life behind various prison walls, and in addition to the crime of which he has just been convicted is believed by the police to have been responsible for several house robberies in Detroit, the perpetrator of which has not yet been found.

Sentence Day at Traverse.

Traverse City, Mich., Nov. 5.—George Smith, former salesman for the Boston store, was Friday given ninety days in the Detroit house of correction. He carried on a systematic stealing of clothing from the store for a number of weeks before he was discovered. Frank Zulinski was given six months at Ionia for stealing a wheel. Forrest Hartwell, aged 11, and Andrew Artlip, aged 10, who broke into three business houses recently, were sent to the Lansing industrial school until 17 years old.

Believe Phelps Is Alive.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 5.—It is now stated by county officers that the reason no reward has been offered for Neil S. Phelps, the missing financier, is that they believe he is alive. They offer no reasons for this belief, but cling to it with faith. Perhaps they have some inside information. However, W. B. Phillips, who heads the movement for locating Phelps, insists that the situation is unchanged.

Big Hunting Party.

Negaunee, Mich., Nov. 7.—A special car containing forty-eight lower Michigan hunters and enough ammunition to supply a regiment, was transferred at Little Lake Junction the other day from the Northwestern to the Munising railroad. The men are members of the Flint River Gun club, a Genesee county organization, and are to spend three weeks deer hunting in the upper peninsula.

An Open Letter to the Public

FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Nerve Fag.

If You Waste Your Nerve Energy, After Awhile You Will Suffer For It.

You can waste nerve force by excess, over-work, worry, anxiety, etc.

You can weaken yourself by not eating proper food or securing sufficient rest to renew the nerve energy you use up.

The proper treatment, in addition to good phosphatic food, such as whole meal bread, prepared cereals, etc., is Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

This is as truly a brain and nerve food as any food you could eat, and besides, furnishes strength and tone of its own, which goes to the weakened nerve system, and sets it to rights.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is a refreshing, revitalizing tonic food-medicine for the brain and nerves. It reconstructs worn-out nerve tissue, and fills your languid brain with new life and vigor.

Dr. Miles' Nervine has made so many marvelous cures, of people so sick the doctors thought they were incurable, that it is today the standard medicine in many thousands of American homes.

The first bottle is guaranteed to help you, or druggist returns your money.

"The extreme heat, close confinement and intense mental strain incident to the banking business, has caused me to suffer with nervousness and insomnia. It gives me pleasure to say that I have used Dr. Miles' Nervine with very satisfactory results in the treatment of these afflictions. I am now on my fifth bottle, and eat and sleep well, and have almost forgotten that I possess nerves."—R. L. DALBY, Asst. Cashier, State Bank, Texarkana, Ark.

Negroes Warned to Leave.

Coal Creek, Col., Nov. 7.—The killing in cold blood of Marshal Bates by two negroes, Grant and Wesly Thompson, who he was trying to arrest for disturbing the peace, has caused the white residents to issue a warning to all negroes to leave the camp. Many negroes have already left town. If any insist on remaining it is feared bloodshed will result. The whites charge the negroes with numerous crimes committed since the latter were imported a year ago to take the places of striking coal miners.

Free Wine

We want to send you FREE costing you absolutely nothing, a trial bottle of "Drake's Palmetto Wine." Drop us a postal and it comes a-humming. You know that way back in bible times people took wine "for the stomach's sake." But the modern grape wine is not good either for stomach, brain or pocket. "Drake's Palmetto Wine" is vastly different. It comes gushing from the palm fruit of our own sunny South. It is a superb appetizer, tonic and nerve bracer. It cleans and purifies the blood and thus feeds brain and brawn. It builds up athletes and nourishes thinkers.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is also a natural medicine. It is a wonderful specific for constipation, flatulency and all dyspeptic troubles. It positively heals catarrh of nose, throat, stomach or bowels. It regulates perfectly the liver, kidneys and bladder. For women it is a true God-send. A tablespoon dose daily cures all those troubles. The wine has a rich, appetizing smack and plucks you up instantly.

We Prove all This by Sending You a Free Trial Bottle on Request.

DRAKE FORMULA COMPANY, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

READERS TAKE NOTICE—"Drake's Palmetto Wine" is 75 cents at drug stores for a large bottle—usual dollar size—but a trial bottle is sent to you free and prepaid if you write for it.

ROOSEVELT AND FAIRBANKS.

ROOSEVELT

Chosen by the People to Be President For Next Four Years.

DOUBTFUL STATES LIKELY HIS

predicted by a safe majority.

The great battle of ballots that has been pending for many weeks was fought out under clear skies in nearly every state in the Union, and the result doubtless expresses the will of a greater number of voters than have ever before cast their ballots in the United States in one day.

Early in the evening it became evident that the Roosevelt administration had been endorsed and that Judge Parker had gone gallantly to defeat.

Chosen by the people to serve as President and Vice-President of the United States for the next four years.

This was first bulletined by the Brooklyn Eagle, Judge Parker's chief organ, and soon after confirmed by the telegram of National Committeeman Belmont to National Chairman Taggart, conceding to Roosevelt every doubtful state. The last hope of the anxious democratic workers vanished when a copy of Judge Parker's telegram of congratulation to the president was bulletined.

The Electoral Vote.

From returns at hand at this time the electoral vote stands as follows:

Roosevelt.		Parker.
California	10	Alabama	11

New York, Nov. 9.—At 12 o'clock Delancy Nicoll, vice-chairman of the democratic national committee, made the following statement: "The president has unquestionably carried all the doubtful states and is elected."

Parker Congratulates Roosevelt.

Esopus, N. Y., Nov. 9.—At 8:30 o'clock Judge Parker sent this telegram to the president:

"The President, Washington, D. C.

"The people by their votes have emphatically approved your administration, and I congratulate you.

"ALTON B. PARKER."

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt's reply to Judge Parker's telegram was as follows:

"Alton B. Parker, Rosemount, N. Y.:

"I thank you for your congratulations. THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

Cortelyou's Telegram.

New York, Nov. 9.—Chairman Cortelyou of the republican national committee sent this telegram to the president last night:

"To the President, White House, Washington: The country has given an overwhelming vote of confidence in you and your administration. My associates of the republican national committee join me in heartiest congratulations G. B. CORTELYOU."

New York by Over 200,000.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt shortly after 9 o'clock last night received the following telegram from Senator Fairbanks:

"Indications are that you have carried Indiana by largely increased plurality. Returns are meager."

Chairman William Barnes, Jr., of the republican state executive committee of New York wired:

"Your majority in the state will exceed 250,000. Higgins will have about 100,000."

WILL NOT RUN AGAIN.

Deeply Sensible of the Honor Conferred on Him.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt, after the election returns clearly indicated the result, issued the following statement:

"I am deeply sensible of the honor done me by the American people in thus expressing their confidence in what I have done and have tried to do. I appreciate to the full the solemn responsibility this confidence imposes upon me, and I shall do all that in my power lies not to forfeit it. On the 4th of March next I shall have served three and a half years, and this three and a half years constitutes my first term. The wise custom which limits the president to two terms regards the substance and not the form, under no circumstances will I be a candidate for or accept another nomination."

ALL RE-ELECTED.

Michigan's Eleven Rep. Congressmen Will Retain Their Seats.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—Return indicate the sure re-election of every one of Michigan's eleven republican congressmen. The congressmen have all run well up to the presidential candidate, and even in the second, where Major Kirk, the democrat candidate, was expected to make a winning run, Townsend seemed to be making good with a good majority. In many cases the congressmen have run ahead of the regular state ticket, outside of Warner.

J. W. Fordney in the eighth seemed to be about 8,000 to the good. Loud in the tenth will have 10,000, according to all appearances. In the twelfth Young snowed Black completely under.

It is practically certain that Denby will defeat Lucking for congress in the first district. Denby had a tremendous organization of volunteers in every precinct in the city and they did valliant duty for him.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

DETROIT CITY ELECTION.

Maybury Defeated by Codd For the Mayoralty.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 9.—The scepter so long held by W. C. Maybury as mayor of Detroit was wrested from his grasp yesterday, and [illegible] chosen by the people as their municipal ruler.

The election of the republican candidate was conceded early in the evening, the only difference of opinion being in the estimates of his majority.

In 57 precincts the 2 o'clock count gave Codd 9,317 and Maybury 6,515, a difference in Codd's favor of 2,802. In these same precincts two years ago Carstens, the republican candidate for mayor, received a total vote of 10,274 and Maybury 9,901.

Although Codd had a lead of over 2,800 in these 57 precincts, it was estimated that Maybury would make slight gains in certain east side democratic precincts which would in the end bring Codd's majority to about 2,500.

Reports on all of the republican candidates with the exception of Hoffmann for sheriff and Renaud for city treasurer indicate a republican landslide. Renaud was running somewhat behind Thompson, but was making a great run at that, everything considered. Hoffmann was not keeping apace with his ticket, but his election was predicted b ya safe majority.

At the time when the republicans had figures to show a lead of nearly 2,800 for Codd by the 2 o'clock count, it was conceded at democratic headquarters that Codd was about 1,000 ahead.

A Republican Congress.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt is assured of the co-operation of a republican congress. The present republican majority in that body is thirty-four, and there need be no surprise if this figure is almost doubled, and it is reasonably certain to reach a majority of at least fifty. In practically all districts the republicans have held their own, while in some significant instances the democrats have lost.

WHAT COUNTIES DID

Eight of Them Showed Pluralities For Ferris.

THE REST WERE WARNER'S

Roosevelt's Majority Over Parker Nearly Double That of McKinley's Over Bryan In 1900—Ferris Explains His Defeat.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 10.—The tremendous vote cast on Tuesday throughout Michigan kept the inspectors busy up to the present moment, but figures received here from various sources are sufficiently complete to give pretty accurately the vote cast by the citizens of Michigan, and how it compares with previous elections. At a late hour last night there were still some counties whose count of votes had not been completed or returns made.

Roosevelt's majority in Michigan is nearly twice that of McKinley's over Bryan four years ago, when the martyred president went 105,000 over the Nebraska man.

Ferris made his best showing in Wayne county, which he carried by 6,157 votes. Warner's favorite county proved to be Van Buren, where he had a majority of 2,200. Barry, Ingham, Ionia, Jackson, Kent, Livingston and Washtenaw would have preferred Ferris for governor, each giving him liberal majorities.

Mr. Ferris is quoted as saying: "I have said all along that if the majority for the president went above 100,000 I was defeated. I attribute my defeat to Roosevelt's great popularity. I have no regrets. After all, it is a victory for decency."

Mr. Warner, when seen at the Russell house by a reporter, remarked: "I will enter on the duties of governor with the determination to give Michigan an administration that will convince my critics that they have misjudged me. Now that the election is over, let me say that I bear no malice toward any man."

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of Jas. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for 4 years and then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds skin eruptions and piles at C. A. Wright's drug store, 25c.

Took His Own Life.

Plainwell, Mich., Nov. 10.—John Havens, a prominent citizen and soldier shot himself in bed. He was though to have been temporarily insane. He leaves a widow and one son.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

The Japanese started early; but they did not avoid the Russ.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

CHAPTER XXII.

As I said this I laid open on the table before me the transcription of which I spoke. Instantly the two men bent over it. When they looked up again, their countenance showed not excitement only, but appreciation; and in the one minute of triumph which I then enjoyed all that had wounded or disturbed me in the past was forgotten.

The major now proposed that we should go at once to the old house. "A family secret like this does not crop up every day even in a city so full of surprises as Washington. We will hunt for the spring under the closet drawers and see what happens, eh? And on our way there"—here he turned to me—"I should like to hear the particulars concerning the little clew just mentioned. By the way, Mr. Jeffrey's interest in this old drawing is now explained. He knew its diabolical secret."

This was self evident, and my heart was heavy for Miss Tuttle, who seemed to be so deep in her brother-in-law's confidence.

It grew still heavier when Durbin, joining us, added his incredulity to the air of suspicion assumed by the others.

Our first move was to go in a body to the southwest chamber, take down the picture, examine it with a magnifying glass and satisfy ourselves that the words I had picked out of its mazy lines were really to be found there. This done and my veracity established, we next proceeded to the closet where, according to the instruction embodied in this picture, the secret spring was to be found by which some unknown and devilish machinery would be released in the library below.

To my great satisfaction the active part in this experiment was delegated to me. Durbin continued to be a mere looker on. Drawing out the two large drawers from their place at the end of this closet I set them aside. Then I hunted for and found the small loophole which we had been told afforded a glimpse of the library hearthstone, but seeing nothing through it, I called for a light to be placed in the room below.

I heard Durbin go down, then the major and, finally, the district attorney. Nothing could stay their curiosity now, not even the possibility of danger, which as yet was a lurking and mysterious one. But when a light shot up from below and the irregular opening before me became a loophole through which I could catch a very wide glimpse of the library beneath, I found that it was not necessary for me to warn them to keep away from the hearth, as they were all clustered very near the door—a precaution not altogether uncalled for at so hazardous a moment.

"Are you ready?" I called down.

"Ready!" rose in simultaneous response from below.

"Then look out!"

Reaching for the spring cleverly concealed in the wall at my right I vigorously pressed it.

The result was instantaneous. Silently, but with unerring certainty, something small, round and deadly fell plumb from the library ceiling to where the settle had formerly stood against the hearthstone. Finding nothing there but vacancy to expend itself upon, it swung about for a moment on what looked like a wire or a whipcord, then slowly came to rest within a foot or so from the floor.

A cry from the horrified officials below was what first brought me to myself. Withdrawing from my narrow quarters, I hastened down to them and added one more white face to the three I found congregated in the doorway. In the diabolical ingenuity we had seen displayed crime had reached its acme, and the cup of human depravity seemed full.

When we had regained in some measure our self possession we all advanced for a closer look at the murderous object dangling before us. We found it to be a heavy leaden weight painted on its lower end to match the bosses of stucco work which appeared at regular intervals in the ornamentation of the ceiling. When drawn up into place—that is, when occupying the hole from which it now hung suspended—the portion left to protrude would evidently bear so small a proportion to its real bulk as to justify any eye in believing it to be the mate, and the harmless mate, of all the others.

"It hangs just where the settle stood," observed Durbin significantly.

"And just at the point where the cushions invite rest, as the colonel so suggestively puts it in his strange puzzle of a confession," added the district attorney.

"Replace the old seat," ordered the major, "and let us make sure of this."

Ready hands at once grasped it and, with some effort, I own, drew it carefully back into position.

"You see!" quoth Durbin.

We did.

"Devilish!" came from the major's lips. Then with a glance at the ball, which, pushed aside by the seat, now hung over its edge a foot or so from the floor, he added briskly: "The ball has fallen to the full length of the cord. If it were drawn up a little"—

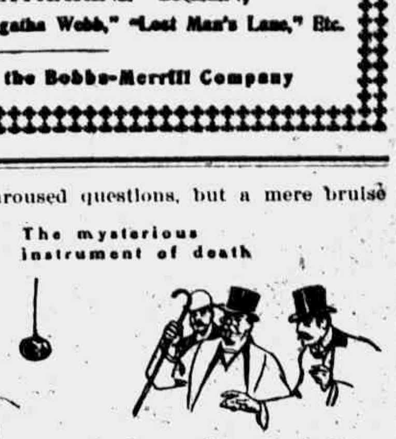
"Wait," I eagerly interposed. "Let me see what I can do with it."

And I dashed back upstairs and into the closet of "The Colonel's Own."

With a single peep down to see if they were still on the watch, I seized the handle, whose position I had made sure of when searching for the spring, and began to turn, when instantly, so quick was the response, the long cord stiffened, and I saw the ball rise into sight above the settle top.

"Stop!" called out the major. "Let go and press the spring again."

I hastened to obey, and, though the back of the settle hid the result from me, I judged from the look and attitude of those below that the old colonel's calculations had been made with great exactness and that the one comfortable seat on the rude and cumbersome bench had been so placed that this leaden weight in descending would at the chosen moment strike the head of him who sat there, inflicting death. That the weight should be made just heavy enough to produce a fatal concussion without damaging the skull was proof of the extreme care with which this subtle apparatus had been contrived. An open wound would have aroused questions, but a mere bruise might readily pass as a result of the victim's violent contact with the furnishings of the hearth toward which the shocked body would naturally topple. The fact that a modern jury had so regarded it shows how justified he was in this expectation.



The mysterious instrument of death

I was expending my wonder on this and on a new discovery which, with a very decided shock to myself, I had just made in the closet when the command came to turn the handle again and to keep on turning it till it would turn no farther.

I complied, but with a trembling hand, and, though I did not watch the result, the satisfaction I heard expressed below was significant of the celerity and precision with which the weight rose foot by foot to the ceiling and finally slunk snugly and without seeming jar into its lair.

When a few minutes later I rejoined those below I found them all, with eyes directed toward the cornice, searching for the hole through which I had just been looking. It was next to imperceptible, so naturally had it been made to fit in with the shadows of the scrollwork, and even after I had discovered it and pointed it out to them I found difficulty in making them believe that they really looked upon an opening. But, when once convinced of this, the district attorney's remark was significant.

"I am glad that my name is not Moore."

The superintendent made no reply. His eye had caught mine, and he had become very thoughtful.

"One of the two candelabra belonging to the parlor mantel was found lying on that closet floor," he observed. "Somebody has entered there lately, as lately as the day when Mr. Pfeiffer was seated here."

"Pardon me," I impetuously cried. "Mr. Pfeiffer's death is quite explained." And, drawing forward my hand, which up to this moment I had held tight shut behind my back, I slowly unclosed it before their astonished eyes.

A bit of lace lay in my palm, a delicate bit, such as is only worn by women in full dress.

"Where did you find that?" asked the major, with the first show of deep emotion I have ever observed in him.

My agitation was greater than his as I replied:

"In the rough boarding under those drawers. Some woman's arm and hand has preceded mine in stealthy search after that fatal spring. A woman who wore lace, valuable lace."

There was but one woman connected with this affair who rightly answered these conditions. The bride, Veronica Moore!

CHAPTER XXIII.

VERONICA MOORE'S real connection with Mr. Pfeiffer's death—a death which in some inscrutable way had in so short a time led to her own—was an overwhelming surprise to every one of us.

The superintendent, as was natural, recovered first.

"This throws quite a new light upon the matter," said he. "Now we can understand why Mr. Jeffrey uttered that extraordinary avowal overheard on the bridge: 'She must die!' She had come to him with blood on her hands."

Addressing the major, the district attorney asked when he expected to hear from Denver, adding that it had now become of the first importance to ascertain the exact relations existing between the persons under suspicion and the latest victim of this deadly mechanism.

He had hardly ceased speaking when an officer appeared with a telegram in his hand. This the major eagerly took, and, noting that it was in cipher, read it by means of the code he carried in his pocket. Translated, it ran thus:

"Result of open inquiry in Denver:

"Three brothers Pfeiffer, all well thought of, but plain in their ways and eccentric. One doing business in Denver; died June, '97. One perished in Klondike, October, same year; and one, by name Wallace, died suddenly three months since in Washington.

"Nothing further gained by secret inquiry in this place."

"Result of open inquiry in Owosso:

"A man named Pfeiffer kept a store in Owosso during the time V. M. attended school there. He was one of three brothers, home Denver, name Wallace. Simultaneously with V. M.'s leaving school P. broke up business and at instigation of his brother William, who accompanied him, went to the Klondike. No especial relation between lady and this same P. ever noted. V. M. once heard to laugh at his awkward ways."

"Result of secret inquiry in Owosso:

"V. M. very intimate with schoolmate who has since died. Often rode together; once gone a long time. This was just before V. M. left school for good. Date same as that on which a marriage occurred in a town twenty miles distant. Bride, Antoinette Moore; groom, W. Pfeiffer of Denver; witness, young girl with red hair. Schoolmate had red hair. Had V. M. a middle initial, and was that initial A.?"

We all looked at each other. This last question was one none of us could answer.

"Go for Mr. Jeffrey at once," ordered the major, "and let another one of you bring Miss Tuttle. No word to either of what has occurred and no hint of their possible meeting here."

It fell to me to fetch Miss Tuttle. I was glad of this, as it gave me a few minutes by myself in which to compose my mind and adjust my thoughts to the new conditions opened up by the amazing facts which had just come to light. But beyond the fact that Mrs. Jeffrey had been answerable for the death which had occurred in the library at the time of her marriage—that, in the words of the district attorney, she had come to her husband with blood on her hands—my thoughts would not go. Confusion followed the least attempt to settle the vital question of how far Miss Tuttle and Mr. Jeffrey had been involved in the earlier crime and what the coming interview with these two would add to our present knowledge. In my anxiety to have this question answered I hastened my steps and was soon at the door of Miss Tuttle's present dwelling place.

I doubt if she noticed my agitation. She was too much swayed by her own. Advancing upon me in all the unconscious pride of her great beauty, she tremulously remarked:

"You have a message for me. Is it from headquarters, or has the district attorney still more questions to ask?"

"I have a much more trying errand than that," I hastened to say, with some idea of preparing her for an experience that could not fail to be one of exceptional trial. "For reasons which will be explained to you by those in greater authority than myself you are wanted at the house where—where"— I could not help stammering under the light of her melancholy eyes—"where I saw you once before," I lamely concluded.

CLUB NOTES.

Monday club program for Nov. 14:

Mrs. Albert Waring, leader.

Four Independent Laws, The Presidential Succession, The Presidential Election, The Inter State Commerce Act, Chinese Immigration Law—Mrs. Eugene Harris.

Eugene Field—Mrs. Cleo Hall.

Marion Crawford—Mrs. Reed.

Progress of the Art of Sculpture in America—Mrs. Weller.

The regular meeting of the Research circle was held Tuesday, Nov. 8th, Mrs. Smeltzer being leader. Mrs. Elliott's paper on Spanish Colonies was written and read by Helen Wilson, Mrs. Elliott being unable to do the work. Mrs. Hudson then read a very interesting paper on the "Battle of Manilla, Its Result." This was followed by a lengtny discussion of the battle and of Admiral Dewey.

Mrs. Freeman then read from a magazine purchased in the Filipino building at the St. Louis fair, an interesting acount of the Battle of Manila. The magazine was printed in Manila in English and the article gave a very different idea of the battle than that entertained by Americans. Mrs. Birdsall then read two beautiful poems after which the secretary called the roll to which the members responded each mentioning a hero of the war of 1898 with a brief account of his bravery. The meeting was then adjourned.

The program for the next meeting will be:

Porto Rico and its Past—Mrs. Hall.

Social and Political Porto Rico—Mrs. Miller.

Table Talk: Poison in Common Things.

Roll Call—Laws affecting women.

Mrs. Belcher, Leader.

Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Mary Simpson—'Everything disagreed with me and baby until I used Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Now baby sleeps and grows like a weed." 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. JOHN J. ORR.

Resolutions.

At the regular meeting of the Beers Post Auxilary of Tecumseh, the following preamble and resolutions were adopted in the death of one of our beloved members.

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father, who doeth all things wisely, to remove from our society our loved sister, Mrs. Louisa Mills, and whereas, we the sorrowing members desire to express our deep sorrow at her demise and recognize her loyalty, fidelity and helpfulness to our band.

Therefore, be it resolved, while we bow in humble submission to the dispensation of an All Wise providence, we also mourn the loss of our departed sister whose memory we will ever cherish.

Resolved, That we shall never cease to appreciate her service and emulate her virtues.

Resolved, That we, as the Auxilary to the Beers Post, hereby tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband, daughter and sons. We recommend that these resolutions be published, that they also be spread upon the records of our society and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

MRS. O. P. REMINGTON.
MRS. H. E. DANIELS.
MRS. J. BOUK.

'Taint no use to sit down and whine,
When no fish get tangled in your line;
Bate your hook with a bumble bee,
And keep on taking Rocky Mountain Tea.

New Life and Health for Women.

Zoa Phora Makes Women Feel Young, Strong and Healthy and Gives Them the Glow and Bloom of Youth and Beauty.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Lady.

Zoa Phora certainly does do wonders for women. Every woman who has tried it says so and there are multiplied thousands of them. From all parts and corners of the land come their words of praise and joy and gratitude. Zoa Phora has brought more life and health to women, has relieved more pain and suffering and filled more homes with joy and happiness than all remedies and medicines and doctors combined. Their genuine letters of thanksgiving and rejoicing prove it and prove it conclusively.

Zoa Phora cures all forms of female diseases, displacements, irregularities, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, piles, kidney, bladder and liver diseases and all the troubles that drag down the life of women and make their lives a burden and a misery. You will rejoice as others now rejoice in perfect health and happiness if you use Zoa Phora.

Mrs. Wm. B. Knapp, 831 E. 8th St., Traverse City, Mich., says: "I write this hoping that it will be the means of helping some suffering sister who has any weakness or trouble peculiar to women. Seventeen years ago last fall I was taken sick abed with weakness, and was in bed all winter. Just as soon as I would get up I would faint and fall. Three of the best doctors in our town could not help me; then my husband wrote to that dear old Dr. Pengelly and he sent medicine and advice. The first dose helped me, and in one month I was up doing my work after being sick in bed from the 21st of November until the next May. The medicine he sent me was Zoa Phora, and if it hadn't been for dear old Dr. Pengelly and Zoa Phora, I would not be here to write this."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

LEROY & HOWARD MATTHEWS.
A. C. AYLESWORTH, Auc.

Some time during Tuesday night of last week some unprincipled wretch administered poison to a valuable horse belonging to Geo. Willett, who resides on the farm of Thomas Ayers one mile south Ridgeville. It appears that Mr. Willet and family were away from home during a portion of the night in question and on going to the barn in the morning found the horse dead. A quantity of what appeared to be arsenic was in the manger and on opening the animal, a large amount was found in the stomach. No clue.—Jasper.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of DesMoines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's pain balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

Mothers praise it.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by C. A. Wright.

A good complexion.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers," so writes S. P. Moore of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for biliousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MRS. CARLTON'S WONDERFUL STORY

Maine woman's thrilling experience duplicated in Tecumseh.

There are scores of families in Tecumseh and near by towns who will read with interest the wonderful experience of Mrs. A. L. Carlton, one of the best known women in Rockland, Me. Her statements are confirmed by the physicians who treated her and by C. H. Pendleton, the druggist who sold he Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia.

Mrs. Carlton says: "I suffered with stomach trouble for eight years, growing worse all the time. Three of the best doctors in Maine diagnosed my case as cancer of the stomach and declared I could not live two months. Utterly discouraged with their treatment, I began using Mi-o-na and continued to gain at once. At this time, I was reduced to almost skin and bones, as I had lost nearly 100 pounds during my sickness, but when I began to take Mi-o-na, my flesh was built up and I gained 23½ lbs. the first month. When I discharged my physicians, I was suffering great pain and distress and vomiting from two to six times a day, but after the first weeks use of Mi-o-na, the pain ceased and the vomiting stopped entirely. I have taken only six packages of these wonderful tablets, but my health is about restored and I firmly believe Mi-o-na saved my life."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, which sells for 50 cents a box and one — it under personal guarantee that if it does not cure the worst form of stomach trouble and resulting disorders, his money will be refunded.

Lunches served at Bice's.

The band boys have postponed their dance on account of the Sam T. Jack show which will be at the New Bradley Wednesday, Nov. 16.

Don't fail to see Sam T. Jack's own burlesque company at the New Bradley Wednesday, Nov. 16. The company has been here before and proved to be one of the best and cleanest shows ever here.

"Eben Holden," which will be played at the New Bradley Nov. 18th has met with great success as a play and has been termed the most beautiful rural play ever written.

Hawkins, the infallible, made a mistake in his sporting edition of the Tecumseh News, in regard to the foot ball game. Floyd Heesen is not captain of the team or even a member, and plays only by request.

Mrs. Silvers of Auburn, Ind., who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Henry Lockwood, went to Detroit this morning to visit her son, Ray Silvers. Mrs. Silvers was accompanied by her grandson, Earl Lockwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jones entertained the No Name pedro club last evening. Six tables were played progressively, Mrs. Chas. Smith winning first prize and John Murphy, the consolation. Refreshments were served.

Quite a number from here contemplate attending the Michigan & Chicago foot ball game at Ann Arbor Saturday. Among them are E. N. Satterthwaite, Will Hicks, P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, Raynor Brewer, Herbert Temple, Walter Lowry and Arthur Pocklington.

Mrs. Wm. Doke, who has been very sick at her home in Brownville, died last night at seven o'clock, erysipelas of the face being the cause. The funeral will be held at the house at two o'clock Saturday afternoon. Rev. C. C. Kemp will officiate.

Harlo Petrie and Miss Kate Haughn of Clinton, went to Windsor, Canada, last week Friday and were quietly married. Mr. Petrie is employed in the Clinton woolen mills at present but until a few months ago he was employed here at the car shops.

"Eben Holden."

"Eben Holden," which will be seen at the New Bradley, Friday, Nov. 18, '04, is a dramatization of Irving Bacheller's charming novel. Henry Harton, the Stellar actor, is the youngest old man on the American stage. It is supported by a company of capable artists and the touching pastoral story is enacted in a manner which appeals to the hearts of the people.

Sam T. Jack's Own Burlesque Co.

Sam T. Jack's Own Burlesque Company are billed to appear at the New Bradley opera house. The show is said to be the "real thing." It contains a number of first rate vaudeville acts and one burlesque entitled "A Rialto Rounder," in which is introduced, besides the principals, a large and cleverly drilled chorus who are marvels of beauty, with bewitching gay bodies and delightful mannerisms just the kind of girls that theatre going people enjoy. The costumes, and there are dozens of them, are the joint work of Will Barnes and Charles Winthrop. The scenery is superb and is from the studio of Mons. Menrice. The story of "A Rialto Rounder" describes the woes of a Cuban Adventuress who descends upon an "Innocent Married Man" and persuades him to elope with her. All the speeches in the play are terse, snappy and possess the fire and sparkle of old wine. Wednesday evening, Nov. 16.

Mrs. C. C. Tefft

Was born in Marshall, N. Y., March 17, 1827, and died at her home in Tecumseh Tuesday, Nov. 8, of old age, after an illness of more than 20 years, having lived in Tecumseh 23 years.

"Aunt Alvira" has been a great sufferer but always patient and cheerful. Since the death of her husband last May she has not cared to live longer only wishing for the time to come when she might be allowed to join him.

She was buried this afternoon, at two o'clock. She leaves two children, Mrs. Miller, of Washington D. C., and Dr. F. O. Tefft, of this village, beside a number of relatives to mourn her loss.

Oyster Supper at the M. E. Church.

The young people of the M. E. church gave an oyster supper in the church parlors last Tuesday evening, which proved to be a very successful affair, clearing about $12. During the supper hour the guests enjoyed graphaphone music.

During the evening following supper, a musical program was given, consisting of solos, vocal and instrumental and music by the band. The returns of election were received at the church as fast as they were received in town.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

STAR COURSE

Given by the ladies of the

FEDERATED CLUBS

The ladies of Tecumseh expect to put before the public this winter the finest lecture and musical course that has been heard in the old town for several years. The first number is the Indian Band, which occurs on Thanksgiving night. These Indians are thirty in number and their repertoire runs from rag time to Wagner. Mr. Wheeler, the red skin director, always aims to please the varying tastes of the people who have asked him for selections. His concerts are sweet, tuneful, harmonious, classical and raggy and quite different from the programes arranged by other great band masters. Come and hear the Indian Band on Thanksgiving night.

On the 8th of December, Dr McDowell, one of the greatest travellers, gives an illustrated lecture on Samoa,—the tropical paradise of the southern Pacific. One never tires seeing his wonderful pictures and hearing his fascinating talk. Upon the evening of January fourth Musin and a fine company of artists, who have just returned from a European tour, will come to us.

February first the Four Stars, celebrated throughout two continents, with Mabelle Carolyne Church, the world renowned reciter. They will give you a delightful evening. February twenty-second Lorado Taft will be here bringing with him his studio. He sculptures while he talks. This is one of the finest entertainments of the course. Dr. Driver, one of the most forceful lectures on the American platform will close the list of attractions on March twenty-seventh.

The season tickets for this course are one dollar and fifty cents. Reserved seats ten cents extra for each attraction. Tickets can be procured at John Orr's drug store, at Anderson & Rosacrans' and at Seaton Anderson's dry goods stores. The reserved seat sale will commence at John Orr's Tuesday, Nov. fifteenth. Single tickets for Indian Band seventy-five cents. No extra charge for reserved seats.

THE CHURCHES.

Christian Endeavor topic for Tuesday, Nov. 13, will be, "Our Partnership and Fellowship," 1 Cor. 12:28-31;13:1-12.

The subject for prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church on Wednesday, Nov. 16, "Providence of God in a nation's history," Deut. 4:32-40.

Rev. W. F. Jones goes to Ann Arbor next Monday to confer about beginning religious work among the 800 Presbyterian students in the University.

Christian Endeavor Workers Conference will be held in Adrian next Tuesday evening. The president and secretary of the C. E. society of Tecumseh, are invited.

Epworth League will meet at the usual hour Sunday evening, Nov. 13, with Mrs. James Davis as leader. Topic, "Our Partnership and Fellowship," 1 Cor. 12:28-31; 13:1-13.

A Christian Endeavor business meeting was held at the Presbyterian church after the regular weekly prayer meeting. After the business, a social time was enjoyed with popcorn and fudge for refreshments.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning the pastor will celebrate his 7th anniversary in the church by preaching on the theme, "Message of the Church." In the evening the second of the series will be given. Subject is, "What Jesus teaches about Himself." All are invited.

Regular services at the Methodist church next Sunday. In the morning the pastor will preach on the subject, "The Happy Singing Christian." In the evening Rev. H. C. Colvin of Clinton, will preach and the pastor will conduct a short after service.

Services every night next week at the M. E. church to which the public is cordially invited.

FOOT BALL.

Tecumseh was Game. Buttinskys forced Blissfield to work hard to win.

The Tecumseh Buttinskys went to Blissfield yesterday to play the second of a series of games. The home team compelled Blissfield to work hard to win the game. The first half was fast and exciting, each team working hard and when Referee Holt called time neither side had scored. After 10 minutes intermission, the Buttinskys kicked off to Blissfield, who scrimmaged hard for 20 minutes and finally made their first touchdown, Plunkett kicked goal. Score Blissfield 6, Buttinskys 0.

In the five minutes left to play Blissfield secured her second touchdown after being forced to punt, where the ball was downed behind the goal by one of their men. Final score, Blissfield 11, Tecumseh 0. As each team has now won a game, the rubber will probably be played off in Tecumseh on Thanksgiving day and it will be a hot game.

FROM THE ASHES.

The visitor to Baltimore to-day scarcely realizes that less than a year ago the city was almost destroyed by a memorable fire. A similar comparison might be made by George W. Nally, one of the leading citizens of Baltimore, as to the change in his looks.

A short time ago, Mr. Nally, writing from his home address, 2218 Barclay St., says "I have been troubled for years with catarrh and had resorted to all remedies that could be thought. My wife was also afflicted with this terrible disease, but all the treatments we used were an absolute failure until we tried Hyomei. It worked like a charm and has made a complete cure in both of our cases. There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomei. We breathed it, and its fragrance, so clean, pure and bracing, killed all the catarrhal germs in the head, throat, and lungs.

The experience of Mr. Nally and his wife certainly points a moral to all readers of the HERALD who are suffering from catarrah. It shows how they can be cured of this frightful disease, without dangerous stomach dosing.

C. A. Wright, the local agent for Hyomei, has so much faith in treatment that he gives his personal guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. A complete outfit costs one dollar, the extra bottes are but fifty cents. Ask to see the strong guarantee under which Hyomei is sold.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,— the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

For sale by O. A. Wright.

When a man admits that he is never too old to learn you may be sure that he is getting pretty old.

IT MUST BE TRUE.

Tecumseh readers must come to that conclusion.

It is not the telling of a single case in Tecumseh but scores of citizens testify. Endorsement by people you know bears the stamp of truth. The following is one of the public statements made in this locality about Doan's Kidney Pills:

S. Erskine, proprietor of the wellkown barber shop says: "For 10 years off and on I had a dull pain in my back, imperfect action of the kidneys and often I could hardly stoop or get up again. I think it was caused by standing so much at my work, I was in bad shape. I used a great many menicines but without receiving much benefit until Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store. I must confess that I was agreeably surprised for after using one box I was much relieved. After the use of two boxes my back is stronger and better than it has been for a long time. They are the best medicine I have ever used and I have such faith in them. I believe I will be conferring a kindness on those suffering from kidney trouble in making known their merits."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

If we took as great pains to say kind things as we do to think unkind ones, life would be one long metaphorical May.

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Bitten by Mad Cattle.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 8.—Jay Foster and Edward Jones of Rives Junction, a village about ten miles north of this city, are at Ann Arbor receiving the Pasteur treatment, as a result of becoming inoculated with hydrophobia while caring for some cattle suffering with rabies in the absence of the veterinary. Hydrophobia broke out in a herd of cattle owned by these men last Saturday, and four cows and two dogs have been shot. It is supposed that the dogs were suffering with the malady and bit the cattle.

Physicians Puzzled.

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 8.—Thomas Collins, an employe at the Wolverine cement factory, fell from a wagon last week, striking his head against a stone. At first no serious results were anticipated. He was taken to Emergency hospital. Since then it has been found that he can be aroused for only a few minutes and then immediately falls asleep. The case is a puzzle for the physicians attending him.

FOR FIFTY MILLIONS.

Greenough Suit Against Standard Oil Company Is Re-Entered.

Boston, Nov. 8.—The suit for $50,000,000 brought by Elizabeth T. Greenough of New York against Henry H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co., which was dismissed by agreement of the parties on Sept. 24 last, has been reentered in the supreme court. The new suit is entered under the name Cadwallader E. Raymond vs. Henry H. Rogers et. al., the damages being set at $50,000,000 as before. The parties at interest are the same as in the previous suit, the claim being assigned to C. M. Raymond, a friend of Mrs. Greenough. Alfred Hemmenway of Boston accepted service on behalf of Mr. Rogers.

Mrs. Greenough is administratrix of the estate of her husband, Benjamin F. Greenough, an inventor, and seeks to recover royalties on the use of a secret process for treating petroleum to make it non-explosive.

Will Release Him For $250,000.

Pittsburg, Nov. 8.—Members of the Thaw family here were shocked to learn from authority which did not admit of doubt, that Evelyn Nesbit, to whom Harry K. Thaw is reported to have been married at the dead of night in Paris lately, will consent to a separation and severance from the Thaws in case she is taken care of to the amount of $250,000. She will agree to desert the easy Harry and make it easy for him to sue on the grounds of desertion if she is taken care of.

Ann Arbor Has 17,000.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 8.—The census, which was authorized some weeks ago by the city, is almost finished and Glen V. Mills, the directory publisher who was appointed to do the work, reports that the population of Ann Arbor will be 17,000 or over. The figures given by the state enumerators are 14,599.

Ann Arbor's Curfew Revived.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 8.—A curfew ordinance has been on the city's law books for several years, but like many other ordinances has been allowed to drop into a state of innocuous desuetude. Last night it was resurrected by the common council and endowed with a new lease of life, and all children under 15 years of age must be off the streets by 9 o'clock or be reminded by the police that it is time to go home.

TAKE WINE OF CARDUI AT HOME

Are you a sufferer?
Has your doctor been unsuccessful?
Wouldn't you prefer to treat yourself—AT HOME?

Nearly 1,500,000 women have bought Wine of Cardui from their druggists and have cured themselves at home, of such troubles as periodical, bearing down and ovarian pains, leucorrhoea, barrenness, nervousness, dizziness, nausea and despondency, caused by female weakness. These are not easy cases. Wine of Cardui cures when the doctor can't.

Wine of Cardui does not irritate the organs. There is no pain in the treatment. It is a soothing tonic of healing herbs, free from strong and drastic drugs. It is successful because it cures in a natural way.

Wine of Cardui can be bought from your druggist at $1.00 a bottle and you can begin this treatment today. Will you try it?

Free Wine

We want to send you FREE costing you absolutely nothing, a trial bottle of "Drake's Palmetto Wine." Drop us a postal and it comes a-humming. You know that 'way back in bible times people took wine "for the stomach's sake." But the modern grape wine is not good either for stomach, brain or pocket. "Drake's Palmetto Wine" is vastly different. It comes gushing from the palm fruit of our own sunny South. It is a superb appetizer, tonic and nerve bracer. It cleans and purifies the blood and thus feeds brain and brawn. It builds up athletes and nourishes thinkers.

Drake's Palmetto Wine

Is also a natural medicine. It is a wonderful specific for constipation, flatulency and all dyspeptic troubles. It positively heals catarrh of nose, throat, stomach or bowels. It regulates perfectly the liver, kidneys and bladder. For women it is a true God-send. A tablespoon dose daily cures all those troubles. The wine has a rich, appetizing smack and plucks you up instantly.

We Prove all This by Sending You a Free Trial Bottle on Request.

DRAKE FORMULA COMPANY, Drake Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

READERS TAKE NOTICE—"Drake's Palmetto Wine" is 75 cents at drug stores for a large bottle—usual dollar size—but a trial bottle is sent to you free and prepaid if you write for it.

Magic Cure for Sprains and Bruises.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil cures permanently and thoroughly spinal diseases, diarrhea, stomach and bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, backache, contracted cords and muscles, stiffened joints, sprains, bruises, cuts and wounds, burns and scalds, soreness of all kinds, frost bites, chilblains, swellings and spinal affections. A bottle handy in the home is a household blessing. It costs only 50 cents a bottle.

Hon. H. R. Edwards, ex-postmaster of Jackson, Mich., says: "It pleases me to recommend a remedy of so great merit as Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil. One bottle cured one of my family of a spinal trouble, from which she has suffered for over seven years. I have used it for over thirteen years for bowel trouble and outward application, and always with great success. I never knew it to fail. I consider it a most wonderful remedy and always keep it in the house."

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil Co.

Gentlemen: I was sick for over three months with malaria, part of the time flat on my back, and being treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but did not seem to improve, in fact, I was getting worse until a friend called my attention to your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic. I secured a bottle and began taking it, in two days I felt decidedly better, and in five days I was able to return to my work. I have taken a little over two of your one dollar bottles and am now as good as new. I cannot recommend your blood purifier too highly. Yours truly, W. B. Robins, Supt., Jackson Cushion Spring Co., 217 S. Bowen St., Jackson, Mich.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

ALASKA BROUGHT NEAR

System of Telegraphs a Unique Engineering Undertaking.

COUNTRY NOW WELL COVERED

Gen. Greely Sends Out Interesting Report—Lines Kept Up by Men Stationed Along Route and Supplied With Dog Teams.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Gen. A. W. Greely, chief signal officer of the United States army, in his annual report gives an interesting account of the work performed by his corps in establishing an all-American telegraphic system in Alaska, saying the undertaking is unique in the annals of telegraphic engineering.

The cables used in the Alaskan system would reach from Newfoundland to Ireland and the land lines from Washington to Texas, there being 9,079 miles of cables, 1,439 miles of land lines and 107 miles of wireless lines.

Gen. Greely says the United States has brought southeastern Alaska, the Yukon valley and the Behring Straits region into telegraphic commmication with the rest of the civilized world. He also says a selected force of men has been so trained that today the signal corps of the army is competent to operate in war emergency a submarine cable of any length.

"Repairs in Alaska are maintained," the report continues, "by parties stationed at log cabins about forty miles apart, one signal corps repair man with two assistants from the line of the army and a dog team being at each cabin. The men meet the terrible condition of hardship and privation uncomplainingly and with a fortitude characteristic of the American soldier.

The signal corps of the army, he says, is now regularly operating the longest wireless section of any commercial telegraph system of the world. The annual business of the Seattle-Sitka cable is estimated at $25,000 and during the year there has been spent $56,935 for the Alaskan telegrame handled by the signal corps.

Speaking of the Philippines he says the sixteen most important islands of the archipelago are now connected by cable, which lines, he adds, are recognized as indespensible.

WIRES ALL DOWN.

Eastern Cities Seriously Affected by Sunday's Storm.

New York, Nov. 14.—New York was entirely cut off from the south and west last night by a fierce hurricane, accompanied by rain and snow, which is sweeping the Atlantic coast.

Starting from Florida Saturday night, the wind and rain has come up the coast at almost syclonic speed. Early Sunday morning it was central off Cape Hatteras, although its ever-gathering force was felt far to the northward. Rain began falling in New York at 5 a. m. and early in the morning changed to a wet snow.

Wire service out of New York is tied up more effectually than at any other time since the blizzard of '88. The Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies have no direct communication with cities further south than Baltimore, and all western points are cut off.

Philadelphia, Nov. 14.—The southern storm, which began here about 5 a. m. Sunday, seriously interfered with telegraph and telephone communication in this vicinity. The telegraph companies report wires down in nearly all directions excepting in New York and Baltimore.

Washington, Nov. 14.—As the result of a snowstorm which set in here shortly before 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Washington last night for several hours was completely cut off from telegraphic and telephonic communication with the outside world. Later a wire was obtained west, but none east, north or south. The snowfall was the first of the season, several inches covering the ground.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

GUEST OF THE NATION

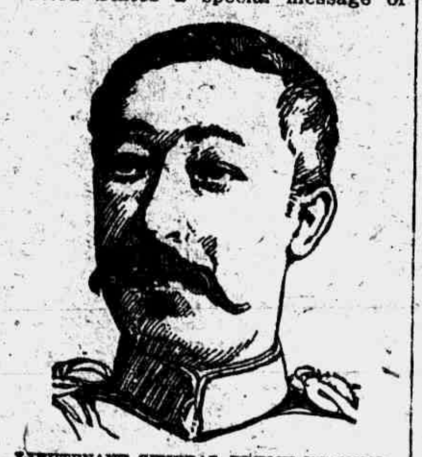
HE STOPS OFF IN CHICAGO

Visits This Country With Double Purpose—Assistant Secretary Pierce Arranges Many Functions and Trips For His Entertainment.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—Prince Fushimi, member of the Japanese royal household and special representative of the Mikado, accompanied by three of his countrymen and a retinue of servants, arrived in Chicago Sunday over the Chicago & Northwestern railway on his way to Washington to call on President Roosevelt and to visit the capitol and government offices. On arrival in Chicago the party was taken in charge by the Japanese consul, who looked after the entertainment of the visitors until last night at 6 o'clock, when they left for the east over the Pennsylvania road.

Washington, Nov. 14.—His imperial highness, Prince Sadanaru Fushimi, who is on his way to Washington from Japan, visits this country by order of the emperor with a double purpose. First to deliver to the president of the United States a special message of good will from the emperor of Japan, and second, to visit the world's fair at St. Louis, where Japan has a large exhibit.



LIEUTENANT GENERAL PRINCE FUSHIMI.

While in Washington the president has designated Mr. Peirce, third assistant secretary of state, as his personal representative to attend upon the prince and arrange for his entertainment. Mr. Peirce will be assisted by Col. Symons, and already several functions have been planned, including a dinner at the White House, a visit to the capitol and congressional library, a lunch by the secretary of state, a reception by the prince to the gentlemen of the diplomatic corps at the Arlington hotel, a trip to Mount Vernon and a dinner by the Japanese legation.

From Washington the prince will go to the world's fair, where preparations for his reception are being made by the fair authorities and the Japanese commissioners. He will assume his official character only in Washington and St. Louis, and thereafter will travel in cognito to New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago. He may also visit other large cities, but as he will sail from San Francisco on the Mongolia on Dec. 28, his stay in this country is necessarily much restricted.

The prince is essentially a soldier and has followed that profession from early boyhood and distinguished himself in the China-Japan war of 1894 and in the early stages of the present war with Russia.

Counterfeit Coin Afloat.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 14.—Considerable counterfeit coin has been circulating throughout the Saginaw valley, and Secret Service Agent Gallagher of Chicago has been here working to discover the case. Albert Gehringer, a farmer, is now under arrest charged with passing spurious coin, and other arrests are expected. Only a light bond of $200 was required of Gehringer and he furnished it for appearance before a United States commissioner.

Boy Shot by Unknown Person.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 14.—Walter Folger, a 15-year-old lad, was shot and almost instantly killed by some unknown person while walking on the track of the Lansing Suburban Co., a short distance north of the city. The bullet was from a 22-caliber rifle and struck young Folger in the temple. He fell to the ground, exclaiming: "I've been shot," and died in the arms of his companions a few minutes later.

ROBBERS AT IT AGAIN

Detroit People Being Held Up by the Wholesale.

STORES AND SALOONS ENTERED

Five Different Hold-Ups During Three Nights—Described as Tall and Short Men—No Arrests Have as Yet Been Made.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—A reign of terror, similar to the one tho city experienced some months ago by hold-up men, seems to be again the city's fate. Three hold-ups were committed Saturday night and one Sunday night, and appear from the description to have been perpetrated by the same two men who were responsible for those of Friday night.

In the first instance the men entered the shoe store of Emil Knorr at 479 Baker street, and at the point of a revolver secured $14 and a watch. The second hold-up occurred over an hour later, and although not far from the first the robbery was attempted by but one man. While Mrs. Margaret Chambers was passing along Beecher street she was accosted by a man in front of a residence near Baker street, who was frightened away before securing her purse.

At 10:30 two men entered the saloon conducted at 77 St. Antoine street by Aaron Eisenstark, and without producing weapons rifled the cash drawer, which contained but 25 cents.

The men who have committed all of the hold-ups are described in every instance as being a tall man and a shorter one. The taller wears a long black coat and a derby hat, while the shorter has scars on his face, wears a soft hat or a cap and a short light or gray coat.

The highwaymen were at work last right, paying another visit to Baker street. This time it was Alonzo Hock's saloon, at 382 Baker street, where the proprietor was relieved of $42 at the muzzles of two guns. From the descriptions given by the saloonkeeper, the men were apparently the same as have been playing the hold-up game for the past two or three nights.

To Investigate Coroners' Affairs.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—In connection with the investigation of the Wayne county coroner's office, started some days ago, an examination of the records of inquests held by the coroners discloses an astonishing condition of affairs to exist in connection with what are known as "state" cases. So startling are the facts that Deputy Attorney-General Chase has been instructed by Gov. Bliss to make a thorough probing of the alleged collection of illegal fees from the state by Coroner Hoffmann and Coroner Toepel. So far as can be found, there have been no "fake" inquests held, but advantage has been taken to make state cases out of as many deaths as possible in order to collect additional fees.

Gaylord Electric Plant Burns.

Gaylord, Mich., Nov. 14.—The electric plant here has been gutted by fire as a result of a defective wiring, and the town will be without lights for some time. Almost every house in town has been lighted by electricity and lamps and candles are now at a premium.

Monroe Man Hurt In Wreck.

St. Louis, Nov. 14.—A north bound Wabash passenger train was partially wrecked Sunday in the outskirts of North St. Louis on a sharp curve of the belt line tracks of the Merchants Terminal Railway association, near th west approach of the Merchant's bridge over the Mississippi, injuring fourteen persons. The accident was caused by the wheels of the tender leaving the rails on the curve. Among those injured were E. J. Birdsley of Silver Creek, N. Y., bruised; John Aeschetman of Monroe, Mich., hand broken, and Mrs. Alma Price of Washington, D. C., sprains.

CHARTER IS REVOKED

GOMPERS GIVES OUT THE ORDER

City Federation Refused to Revoke Charter of Two Local Unions—Delegates Assembling In San Francisco For National Convention.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Formal notice that the charter of the Chicago Federation of Labor had been revoked and that the organization was expelled from the American Federation of Labor was given today to Secretary E. N. Nockels by telegraph. The telegram was signed by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor and was dated [illegible], where the members of the executive council of the American Federation made a stop on their way to the San Francisco convention. The telegram received by Secretary Nockels reads as follows:

"Your central body failed to comply with executive council's directions as decided by Boston convention and contained in my letter of Sept. 28. Time limit No. 1 having expired, your charter stands revoked. Executive council has further decided charter will be restored upon compliance of your central body with decision."

To comply with instructions of executive council the Chicago Federation will be compelled to expel from membership the local unions of steamfitters and Franklin Union No. 4 of pressfeeders. The pressmen claim jurisdiction over the pressfeeders and the plumbers over the steamfitters. It was at the instance of these two organizations that the Chicago Federation of Labor was expelled from membership in the national body.

Officers of the local federation say they have no intention of expelling either of the two unions

San Francisco, Nov. 12.—The advance guard of delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention arrived here Friday. They are identified with the painting and carpenters crafts. Sunday a special train, having on board 500 or more, including President Gompers and the executive council, will arrive. The question which will probably consume more time and oratory than any other will be trade jurisdictional disputes.

HAY NOT TO RESIGN.

President Would Say Nothing Regarding Other Reported Changes.

Washington, Nov. 12.—President Roosevelt made the announcement Friday that Mr. John Hay would continue as secretary of state during the four years beginning March 4 next.

"You may state positively," were his words, "that Mr. Hay will continue as secretary of state up to the 4th of March, 1909."

The president was asked regarding other possible cabinet changes, but indicated that there was nothing to be said at present. His announcement regarding Secretary Hay was made to a number of newspaper representatives in his office late in the afternoon. Mr. Hay's succession to the state department portfolio fixes the most important place in the new cabinet and is the first and only step so far taken in that direction.

Prominent Lawyer Hanged Himself.

Marietta, O., Nov. 14.—The body of Thomas Ewart, a prominent lawyer of this county and well-known in Masonic circles throughout Ohio, was found hanging from the baluster of the stairs in the reception hall of his fine home here Sunday when the family returned from church. Ewart was 58 years old and a graduate of Marietta college. Poor health is supposed to have been the cause of the act of self-destruction.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Not a sick day since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was intirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. Bass of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at C. A. Wright's.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken 2 bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

CHAPTER XXIII.

"The house in Waverley avenue?" she objected wildly, with the first signs of positive terror I had ever beheld in her.

I nodded, dropping my eyes. What call had I to penetrate the conscience of this woman?

"Are they there—all there?" she presently asked again. "The police and—and Mr. Jeffrey?"

"Madam," I respectfully protested, "my duty is limited to conducting you to the place named. A carriage is waiting. May I beg that you will prepare yourself to go at once to Waverley avenue?"

For answer she subjected me to a long and earnest look which I found it impossible to evade. Then she hastened from the room, but with very unsteady steps.

When she returned ready for her ride this change in her spirits was less observable, and by the time we had reached the house in Waverley avenue she had so far regained her old courage as to move and speak with the calmness of despair if not of mental serenity.

The major was awaiting us at the door and bowed gravely before her heavily veiled figure.

"Miss Tuttle," he asked, without any preamble, the moment she was well inside the house, "may I inquire of you here, and before I show you what will excuse us for subjecting you to the distress of entering these doors, whether your sister, Mrs. Jeffrey, had any other name or was ever known by any other name than that of Veronica?"

"She was christened Antoinette as well as Veronica, but the person in whose memory the former name was given her was no honor to the family, and she very soon dropped it and was only known as Veronica. Oh, what have I done?" she cried, awed and frightened by the silence which followed the utterance of these simple words.

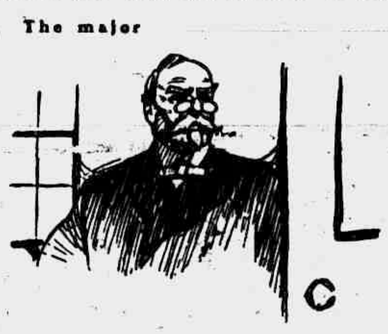
Before any of us were quite ready to speak, a tap at the door told us that Durbin had arrived with Mr. Jeffrey. Facing the small group clustered in the dismal hall fraught with such unutterable associations, he earnestly prayed: "Do not keep me in suspense. Why am I summoned here?"

"You are summoned to learn the murderous secret of these old walls, and who it was that last made use of it. Do you feel inclined to hear these details from my lips, or are you ready to state that you already know the means by which so many persons, in times past as well as in times present, have met death here? We do not require you to answer us."

"I know the means," he allowed, recognizing without doubt that the crisis of crises had come and that denial would be worse than useless.

"Then it only remains for us to acquaint you with the identity of the person who last pressed the fatal spring. But perhaps you know that too?"

The major



"I"— He paused; words were impossible to him, and in that pause his eyes flashed helplessly in the direction of Miss Tuttle.

But the major was quick on his feet and was already between him and that lady. This act forced from Mr. Jeffrey's lips the following broken sentence:

"I should—like—you—to—tell—me." Great gasps came with each heavily spoken word.

"Perhaps this morsel of lace will do it in a gentler manner than I could," responded the district attorney, opening his hand, in which lay the scrap of lace that an hour or so before I had plucked away from the boarding of that fatal closet.

Mr. Jeffrey eyed it and understood. His hands went up to his face, and he swayed to the point of falling. Miss Tuttle came quickly forward.

"Oh!" she moaned as her eyes fell on the little white shred. "The providence of God has found us out. We have suffered, labored and denied in vain."

"Yes," came in dreary echo from the man none of us had understood till now; "so great a crime could not be hid. God will have vengeance. What are we that we should hope to avert it by any act or at any cost?"

The major, with his eyes fixed piercingly on this miserable man, replied with one pregnant sentence:

"Then you forced your wife to suicide?"

"No," he began. But before another word could follow Miss Tuttle, resplendent in beauty and beaming with new life, broke in with the fervid cry:

"You wrong him and you wrong her by such a suggestion. It was not her husband, but her conscience, that forced her to this retributive act. What Mr. Jeffrey might have done had she proved obdurate and blind to the enormity of her own guilt I do not know, but that he is innocent of so influencing her is proved by the shock he suffered at finding she had taken her punishment into her own hands."

"Mr. Jeffrey will please answer the question," insisted the major, whereupon the latter, with great effort, but with the first appearance of real candor yet seen in him, said earnestly:

The Convincing Argument.

Young Lady Shopper—This piece of dress goods suits me, except that I do not think the figure in it is pretty. Subtle Salesman—Ah, but you surely will when it is made up and you have the dress on.

Something to Give Them.

"Mary," said the invalid to his wife, when the doctor pronounced it a case of scarlet fever, "if any of my creditors call, tell them that I am at last in a condition to give them something."

Their Hatred of England.

Ferdinand de Lesseps used to tell ow a Frenchman came to his aid when he was struggling against Palmerston's pposition to the Suez canal. The man, who was a total stranger, walked into is office one day and drew out of his ocket a wallet stuffed with bank notes. "Monsieur," said he, "I beg the privilege of being allowed to subscribe toward the railway of the island of Sweden." "But, monsieur," said Lesseps, "It is not a railroad; it's a canal. It's not an island, but an isthmus. It is not in Sweden, but at Suez." "I don't are what it is or where it is," said the apitalist, "so long as it worries England. Put me down, I say."

But Lesseps had little reason to make un of this episode if the picture his own son draws of him be true. Becoming incensed at some attack made on him in the British parliament and being inadequately provided with means o express his rage, his mind suddenly everted to his linen collar, which was of English make. He tore it from his neck, dashed it upon the floor and danced on it, all for hatred of the island it came from.

Routed by Puppets.

Toward the close of the reign of Elizabeth, when the Spaniards were requently hovering about the southwest coast of England, a party from heir ships landed in the neighborhood of where Falmouth stands today, with he intention of burning the borough of Penryn. It chanced, however, that that ame evening some strollers had set up in Penryn market place a representation by puppets of certain incidents in the life of Samson, including his victory over the Philistines.

At the point of Samson's onset upon hese with the jawbone of the ass the strollers beat drums and sounded trumpets indicative of an alarm, and the Spaniards, who were at that moment about to rush the town, believing it to be full of soldiers, bolted for their boats.

This probably occurred in 1595, when here was a Spanish squadron on the coast, which landed troops and burned Penzance.

Sport on the Kafue River.

A trader in ivory and rubber writes as follows of sport on the Kafue river, n Africa: "Every morning at daybreak we got up and scanned the plains with our glasses for game. Often our boys called us first to say that a herd of water buck or hartbeest was grazing in sight, especially if the camp was out of meat. The river was full of fish—barbel, bream, pike and tiger fish. The bream were by far the best eating, but he tiger fish and big barbel gave the best sport. Spoon bait, with strong pike tackle and a stiff bamboo rod, was all that was required, and, trolling behind a dugout paddled by natives, we could soon make a bag. The tiger fish fight gamely and, breaking water repeatedly, very often succeed in shaking the hook from their mouths. Barbel run up to eighty pounds weight, and a heavy one can tow a canoe along he surface at some speed."

A Penitent Rent Payer.

Michael Davitt in his "Fall of Feudalism In Ireland" gives the following as a sample of the letters that used to reach the Land league offices in the good old days: "Ballinrobe, Mayo, Jan. 3, 1881. To the Honorable Land Lague—Gintlemin, in a moment of wakeness I pade me rint. I did not no ther was a law aginst it or I wud not do it. the people pass by me dure as if the smal pox was in the hous, I heer ye do be givin pardons to min that do rong, and if ye will sind me a pardon to put in the windy for every one to rede it I will never komit the crime again. Misther Scrab Naly will give me a Karacthur if ye write to him at Bal."

Bridges In Korea.

Some idea of the delights of traveling in Korea is given by the following description by a traveler of the "bridges" in that country: A first class bridge in Korea is simply an assortment of planks nailed together. These are scarce. A second class bridge is a series of isolated stones, from one to another of which the visitor may jump. A third class bridge, much the commonest variety, is invisible, its position being indicated by a couple of posts, one on each side of the river. They mean that you may safely wade across, as the water will—probably—not go much above your chest!

Cannon of 1812.

Cannon were small, measured by modern standard, in 1812, but the Ohio world was quiet, and the pioneers had keen senses. There is much evidence that the guns of Perry's squadron were heard by settlers living at least thirty-five miles east of Cleveland, or nearly 100 miles in an air line from the scene of the famous fight which gave the control of the lakes above Niagara falls to the Americans and did much to save the northwest for the United States.

All Have Troubles.

"Everybody worries about money."

"Oh, I don't know. Some men are so rich"—

"That's just it. Poor men worry because they can't get money, and the rich man worries for fear that it will get away from him."—Philadelphia Ledger.

A Jealous Ape.

Sir Harry Johnston, the English explorer, once traveled on a ship with a pet ape. It was a great favorite with all the passengers until there came aboard at Madeira a lady with an infant. The latter received a good deal of attention and the ape in consequence became neglected and jealous. Sir Harry Johnston followed it on deck one day just in time to prevent a tragedy. The child had been left unguarded for a moment in its cradle. The ape had made for it, pulled it from the cradle and was in the act of throwing it overboard when the traveler pounced upon it. Says Sir Harry, "It would certainly have hurled it into the sea had not my arrival caused the guilty ape to drop the child on the deck and scramble away." The ape was relegated to a strong iron cage for the rest of that voyage.

Not Neglected.

"The art of letter writing is sadly neglected nowadays," said the man of literary taste.

"That remark," said his more practical friend, "shows that you haven't a son at college who is applying himself to showing you why his allowance ought to be increased."—Washington Star.

Nothing If Not Original.

ROUND ABOUT US.

Probably the largest hog ever seen in Onsted was brought in Saturday by Horace Mapes. The big fellow was of the Poland variety and weighed 920 pounds and at that wasn't fat. He was bought by F. E. Skinner and shipped to the eastern market.—Onsted News.

An inquisitive Normal student threw a piece of blazing paper into the hole bored at Ypsilanti from which natural gas had been issuing the past ten days to see if it would burn. He found out that it would when the flame shot up with a roar and burned his hair to a crisp and he is not so inquisitive now. He knows all about it.—Ypsilanti Herald.

Last Tuesday afternoon the dead body of Perry Walker was found laying in the wood shed by his little granddaughter. He went out after some fuel and when he did not return the little girl went in search of him and found him dead. She immediately summoned assistance and he was carried into the house. A post mortem held Wednesday showed death caused by heart trouble.—Blissfield Advance.

The Tecumseh high school had a debate last Friday on "Resolved that capital punishment should be abolished." We recall once, a debate there on the same question, in which Mrs. Eugene Camburn carried off the honors and won a victory by upholding the affirmative. The school kids should have got her paper for pointers.—Adrian Press.

Hillsdale Standard:—Mrs. Frank Fog of near Jonesville, is the possessor of a fine bunch of lambs, which no one seems to want enough to claim. More than two weeks ago when she got up in the morning she found 150 western lambs in her yard. She turned them into the pasture and advertised for their owner but so far no one has claimed them. It is thought that the lambs escaped from a car on the Lake Shore railroad.

Three arrests have been made in connection with the poisoning of Lud Chandler's cattle at his farm near Somerset Center. When the poisoning occurred, about three weeks ago, Hannah, Andrew and Horace Havens were suspected of being guilty of the crime, and a fine piece of detective work, it is said, developed sufficient evidence to warrant charging them with the offense and they were arrested and taken to Hillsdale, where they are now in jail awaiting examination.—Hudson Gazette.

A fair sized tarantula chased down a banana stalk in Henne & Co's grocery store Monday afternoon after William Phelan, who was cutting bananas. The bunch was brought into the store Saturday and was almost bare of its fruit, just a few bananas remaining at the end. In cutting these off, Mr. Phelan noticed something coming down the stalk like a streak. He snatched a fruit jar and canned a tarantula. Over 100 little ones were found clinging to it and the whole family were put in water, which were supposed to drown them. The little ones disappeared but the mother spider lived on and after being submerged three hours the water was poured off and is now living on air. Mr. Phelan is exhibiting it as a fine catch.—Ann Arbor Argus.

Bate your hook with a bumble bee,
And keep on taking Rocky Mountain Tea.

Hope and Health for All Women.

Zoa Phora Will Cure and Make You a Well Woman.

TRIAL BOTTLE FREE TO ALL.

Zoa Phora cures permanently and perfectly all diseases, weaknesses and irregularities of the sex, misplacements, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, leucorrhea, kidney, bladder and liver troubles, makes childbirth easy and regulates the change of life. For the critical period of transition from maidenhood to womanhood it is a matchless remedy. All women unite in praising it and all who have used it rejoice in perfect health.

MRS. PAUL BURNS, Parshallville, Mich.

Mrs. Paul Burns, Parshallville, Mich., writes: "I want all my friends to know the great good Zoa Phora has done for me. I suffered for months with nervous prostration, sick headache and kidney and bladder trouble. After holding consultation, four doctors said I could not live without an operation, and I was too weak to have one. Bunches formed in my bowels and I became so sore that I lost the use of my limbs. The doctor called the bunches tumors. He said that I also had a floating kidney, and would not be any better until I had it sewed in place. After using one bottle of Zoa Phora, I could stand on my feet, and after taking three bottles I could walk around the room, and after the fourth bottle I was able to walk out-of-doors."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by John Lathrop, while dancing at Red Men's hall last Thursday night bumped into the platform used by the musicians and as a result of the contact, is confined to his home on the south side with a water joint break in the leg. For several days he hupped around but the leg grew worse and the young man was confined to his home. A physician was called, who is doing all that medical skill can do but it is feared that the leg will have to be amputated.—Sylvania Sun.

It will be remembered that about three weeks ago Frank Koon, residing two miles northeast of the city, was stricken with lockjaw, and that for a number of days his condition was of a very serious nature. It will be good news to his host of friends here, and in this vicinity, to know that he has improved to such an extent that Dr. Spalding, the attending physician pronounces him practically out of danger. Mr. Koon has improved to such an extent that he is able to sit up a considerable portion of the time and can eat comfortably well again. The case has attracted much attention here, and Mr. Koon's friends are delighted at his prospects of thoroughly recovering from this particularly dangerous ailment.—Hudson Gazette.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of DesMoines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's pain balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." Mothers praise it.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is surprising how much emphasis a woman who wears a swich and has her face powered can put in the words "Men are deceivers ever."

A good complexion.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers," so writes S. P. Moore of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for biliousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

MONTH'S MEDICINE ON TRIAL

Generous offer to all with weak digestion or stomach troubles.

With every box of Mi-o-na sold C. A. Wright gives the following guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use, the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for Mi-o-na on return of empty box, if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two boxes, or a month's treatment. Price 50c per box.

(Signed).........

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of dyspepsia. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If Mi-o-na were not successful in 99 cases out of 100, an offer like this would be ruinous. This offer shows the faith C. A. Wright has in the health-giving powers of Mi-o-na and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month anyway. If it fails to help you, the cost is absolutely nothing, while if it does what is claimed for it, the expense is trifling.

C. C. Philbrick and wife of Grand Rapids, who visited at Geo. Harriott's last week, returned home yesterday morning.

Ed Lowry left for Toledo this morning. He will accompany Albert Lowry and Clarence Jackson to the St. Louis fair. They leave Toledo tomorrow night.

Mr. T. L. Brundage of Cleveland, O., connected with the company by this name, is expected in Tecumseh today or tomorrow to look over the ground with the idea of starting a creamery here. This company proposes to start in Tecumseh the best creamery in Michigan and they will, no doubt, receive much encouragement.

The Goot Er Elight society gave a fair and supper in the Comfort block last Friday night. Over 150 guests were served for supper. Tickets had been sold on a quilt and sofa pillow and guesses sold on the number of chocolates in a box. At 8 o'clock the winners were announced, J. M. Crane winning the quilt Frank Kennedy the sofa pillow and Roy Codling the box of chocolates. The ladies cleared quite a nice little sum.

The Episcopal Fair.

The ladies of St. Peter's Guild will hold their fair in the Arnold room, one door west of Hiens' bakery, Saturday, Nov. 19. Aside from fancy articles there will be aprons of all kinds for sale. A full line of home baking in which will be mince pie, plum puddings, fruit cakes and other Thanksgiving dainties.

A novel attraction will be The Ladies Home Journal booth from which subscriptions for the magazine will be taken, single copies sold and copies of the famous prize pictures of the Journal will be on sale. Save your subscriptions for the ladies.

Hot coffee, tea and sandwiches will be served. Sale open at 1 p. m.

"Eben Holden."

The story of "Eben Holden" a dramatization of which will be presented at the New Bradley next Friday night, Nov. 18, is too well known to need repetition here. The novel, which was written by Irving Bacheller, has been one of the largest sellers of the last two years, and the dramatic version has been fully as popular in book. The character of Eben Holden is one of the most striking ever presented on the American stage and its interpretation by Henry Horton has placed him in the ranks of such actors as Denman Thompson, Richard Golden and the late James A. Herne.

Messrs. Herrick & Eldredge have surrounded Mr. Horton with an excellent company composed of such well known people as Blanche Kendall, Samuel D. Merrill, Chas. D. Chapman, John J. Clark, Arthur B. Jennings, Theodora Shaler, Ruth Underwood and Adele Leonard.

This presentation of "Eben Holden" is along the lines that have distinguished the recent revival of the rural drama, "The Old Homestead" at the New York Theatre in Gotham, by Denman Thompson, which drew enormous houses. Judging by the reception which it has received "Eben Holden" bids fair to live as many years in popular favor as "The Old Homestead."

Sam T. Jack's own Burlesque Co.

A pretty and pleasing extravaganza will be put on at the New Bradley opera house tomorrow night under the title of Sam T. Jack's own burlesque company. The show, it is claimed, will prove a decided novelty in the vaudeville houses for many reasons, one being that the entertainment is in two acts with a charming story running all through. From the rise of the curtain on the first act of "A Rialto Rounder" until its fall, it is full of bright, catchy music, and most of the time the stage is filled with handsomely dressed ladies, who are not adverse to display their many charms. There is just enough plot concerning the adventures of a Cuban girl to hold together the many songs and dances, which make the real attractiveness of the piece and there is not a word in "A Rialto Rounder" that is not interesting. This is not its only merit, there are musical numbers that arouse enthusiasm and comedy that convulses with hearty laughter.

To know what is right and not to do it is as bad as to know what is wrong and to do it.

G. W. LARWILL

Monday, Nov. 14.

George Larwill, who for many years has been general foreman of the Adrian Times, died at his home in Adrian yesterday of paralysis of the brain. Anyone who has been in the printing business in Lenawee county knew George Larwill, for he has in a way, helped every printer in the county.

In 1874 he came over from Adrian, set up for S. C. Stacy the first power press in Tecumseh, in the Bidwell block over what is now Harris & Hiteshu's store. For two years John Werner, who now lives in Brownville, run this press by hand, it taking something like two hours to issue the paper. All the printers in the county will miss George Larwill. He was always accomodating, willing and able to help out in time of need.

SCHOOL NOTES.

General history classes are reviewing Greek history.

Some clever descriptions of members of the class were read in English II last Friday.

An excellent program was given by the high school pupils last Friday under the direction of Miss Peck and Miss Mingay, consisting of the following numbers:

Song—Ninth grade chorus.
Essay, "The Japanese Soldier"—Ivah Waldron.
Recitation—LeRoy Bramble.
Essay, "The Russian Soldier"—Vernor Crane.
Song—Boys' quartette.
Recitation—Beth Satterthwaite.
Duet—Stella Zimmerman, Eva Bice.
Debate: "Resolved, That Capital Punishment should be Abolished—Affirmative, Ruth Keeney '05, Maud Vanderpool '08, Dwight Clarkson '08. Negative, Maud Saul '05, Athol Brainard '07, Mildred Boyce '08.

The debate was unusually interesting, the arguments all logical and well given. Webb Kay, as chairman, appointed as judges, Rev. W. F. Jones, Dr. North and Dr. Frost, who decided in favor of the affirmative. The next program will be in charge of Mr. Winter and Mr. Riencke.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Nov. 12, 1904.

Election is over. The racket is ended. "Silence, like a poultice comes to heal the blows of sound." Probably no city in the country is less inclined to revolt against the verdict of the people last Tuesday; for, if not entirely and completely happy, we are at least moved to a smug and complacent acceptance of the situation. There will be no wholesale discharge of public officials and it will not be necessary for the twenty thousand clerks in Washington to change their politics within twenty-four hours, as they always do when "the opposition" of whatever breed, gets control of the government. Our merchants, theatre managers, bankers and brokers, have been almost unanimously republican ever since Tuesday night, for they are assured of four hears more of uninterrupted toll-taking.

"What caused the deplorable calamity?" This is the question which the foremost democrats of the capital are asking and trying to answer. One of the most sagacious of them puts it thus: "Roosevelt left no stone unturned. He was young and ambitions and appealed first to one body of voters, then another. He protested to the Russian government against the Kishineff massacre and got the Hebrew vote. He compelled the settlement of the coal strike and (in spite of the Miller case) got the organized labor vote. He invited Cardinal and archbishops to dinner and kept the friar lands for the priests and got the Catholic vote. He invited Booker Washington to luncheon and paid the salary of the Indianola post-mistress and got the negro vote. He pushed to success the suit against the Northern Securities Company and got the anti-trust vote. He refused to run amuck against corporations and got the trust vote. He pushed great irrigation projects in the Rocky Mountain region and got the western vote. He made a hurry-up annex of the Panama republic and got the first voters' vote. How's that for a full explanation?" It seems nearly complete, but one might add "and he has perfect and unwavering belief in the Roosevelt star."

To some democrats here it looks as if the democratic party would not elect another president during the first quarter of the twentieth century.

Who will be the candidates in 1908? Will the democratic ticket be headed by Col. Bryan, who seems to have been true to his party during its many vicissitudes; or by Judge Parker who has blazed the way to its latest defeat; or by Folk who has achieved victory against a republican avalanche that has covered Missouri with political desolation and even against the machine of his own party; or by William L. Douglas, the socialist shoemaker, who has carried Massachusetts in a bewildering contest when all the other northern states went solidly republican? Or may it possibly be Wright, who by that time, should have acquired much information as Captain-General of the Philippines? And whom will the republicans set up? Will it be Root, "the greatest secretary of war this country ever had;" or LaFollette, who gallops in with Spooner and Quarles chained to his chariot wheel; or Tafy, who has exhibited surprising physical stamina and mental alertness as a spell binder during this campaign? If the latter, he will be the first presidential candidate the country ever had who weighed 400 pounds.

The next notable event in this city will be the unveiling of a bronze statue of Fredrick the Great next Saturday. It will be presented by the German ambassador, Freiherr Speck von Sternburg, as personal representative of the Emperor William and the ceremony of unveiling will be performed by his wife. President Roosevelt will deliver the address of thanks and acceptance. The statue is of heroic size and bears a cane in one hand and a sword in the other. It is to occupy a granite pedestal at one corner of a quadrilateral in the grounds of the War college in the old Arsenal grounds on the Potomac at the foot of Seventh street. It is purposed to occupy the remaining three corners of some of the world's most illustrous warriors.

John Morley, the English author and statesman, is sojourning in the city and is at present a guest of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the White House where he will stay over Sunday. The president gave a dinner in his honor on Thursday and Friday nights, where a number of prominent people met him, including members of the Cabinet and the Supreme court. John Morley is not only a distinguished scholar and historian but he is the leader of the Liberals in the present British Parliment. At the President's dinner table there may have been a paucity of congenial topics of conversation, as the guest of honor has been for the last five years not merely an eloquent advocate of peaceful methods in the world but an outspoken and unflinching opponent of the methods pursued by Great Britain and America in South Africa and the Philippines.

Next week a memorable event will occur in this city. S. Coleridge Taylor, the distinguished musical composer of England, who has been brought across the ocean for the purpose, will preside here at the rendition of some of his best known and most recent compositions. "Hiawatha" will be rendered by a chorus of 200 voices accompanied by the Marine band of 52 pieces. Mr. Taylor is a negro. "Hiawatha" has been rendered by 20 of the leading choral societies of England, once by the Royal Society, with King Edward as patron and a chorus and orchestra of 1000. Convention hall here will seat 4000. Mr. Coleridge Taylor is entitled to no slight credit for having thus made his way to fame and the generous applause of Anglo-Saxons in the chorus will be a large number of eminent soloists.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

The woman of the hour is the one who promises to be ready in a second.

Graceful Women

The scent of the violet or rose is as precious as the lovely flowers whose breath they are, and while the lives of flowers are brief and we can only enjoy them for a day, the beautiful woman gives the pleasure of her fragrance to us as a permanent blessing. The soft fragrance of a beautiful woman suggests purity, health and elegance; she is the refinement of civilization; an index always of good taste and an unerring badge of gentility.

MAKES WORK EASIER.

Tecumseh people are pleased to learn how it is done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties
With a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney pills make work easier.
They cure every kidney ill.

Mrs. E. Fryer, who lives in the northwestern section of Tecumseh says: "I suffered from my kidneys off and on for about two years and during an attack the pain was worse along in the afternoon and I often felt like giving up, but I kept on working in misery, for stooping or straightening made my back feel as if it were breaking in two. If I took cold it always settled in my back and, in spite of all the remedies I used, I could not get relief. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at C. A. Wright's drug store, I took them and they did me more good than all the other medicines I ever used. I take pleasure in recommending them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Those who have a heart to do good never need complain for lack of opportunity.

"Little Colds" neglected—thousands of lives sacrificed every year. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures little colds—cures big colds too, down to the very verge of consumption.

It's funny how a girl's lips can smell of tobacco smoke when she has been in a room alone with a man.

What's the secret of happy, vigorous health? Simply keeping the bowels, the stomach, the liver and kidneys strong and active. Burdock Blood Bitters does it.

MESSAGES FROM SKY.

Wireless "Talk" From Balloon Worked Successfully.

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—As the result of a scientific experimental balloon ascension, made Friday from the aeronautic concourse on the world's fair grounds, the practicability and accuracy with which wireless messages could be received, both as to altitude and distance, were satisfactorily tested. More than twenty messages were transmitted from the world's fair wireless tower and received by the operator in the aerial craft. Paul Knabenshue of Toledo, accompanied by the operator, A. W. McQueen of Guthrie, Okla., and W. S. Foreman of St. Louis, made the ascension. After making a successful journey through the air, one hour and a half in duration, Aeronaut Knabenshue made a safe landing four miles southwest of the concourse. The balloon was carried back in a wagon to the aerodrome.

The ascent was made in the presence of several hundred spectators. The highest altitude reached was estimated at about two miles.

Little Fighting Has Taken Place.

Buenos Ayres, Nov. 12.—Notwithstanding reports of battles between Paraguayan government troops and revolutionists, the fact is that there has been only one skirmish, and that was an unimportant affair. The Paraguayan government has purchased arms here, which are now on the way to Asuncion

A policeman's testimony.

N. J. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried a half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians and received no benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest throat and lung medicine in the world."

ADOLPH WEBER ARRESTED.

Charged With Murder of His Parents, Sister and Brother.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 14.—Adolph Weber has been placed under arrest charged with the murder of his parents, sister and brother last Thursday night and with having set the family residence on fire afterward to conceal the crime.

Weber took his arrest coolly but was alert to what he considered to be his legal rights. The arrest took place immediately after he left the witness stand and after he reluctantly answered the questions pronounced to him by Coroner Shepard, the district attorney, and several jurymen at the inquest over the bodies.

Wanted on Bigamy Charge.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 14.—John F. Turner, who claims residence in Grand Rapids, Mich., and was arrested at Michigan City and sent to the county jail on a charge of larceny, is wanted at Quincy, Ill., for bigamy. Turner came to Michigan City from Grand Rapids. He cultivated the acquaintance of Miss Little, an estimable young woman, and married her. With the arrest of Turner on a larceny charge an investigation was made of his record, with the result of finding another wife at Quincy, Ill. The larceny charge will be dismissed and Turner prosecuted for bigamy.

Tug Sunk; Captain Drowned.

Cleveland, Nov. 14.—The large tug John Gregory was caught in a heavy windstorm near the mouth of the Cuyahoga river, in this city, last night and sunk. Capt. Dell Minney was drowned and three members of the crew were rescued by the life-saving crew. The tug was valued at $20,000.

Home For the Blind.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 14.—The Michigan Employment Institution for the Blind here will be dedicated on Dec. 22. The object of the institution is to afford satisfactory occupation for all blind persons of the state who feel the need of such assistance. The superintendent, J. Perrine Hamilton, wishes the names and addresses of all blind persons in the state.

Many Hunters; Few Deer.

Houghton, Mich., Nov. 14.—County Clerk Martin Voetsch has issued 400 deer licenses and the rush still continues. The total number issued last year was 442. At present it looks as if there will be an increase this year. Very little venison has been brought in as yet. A hunter who returned last night says deer are not as plentiful as reported.

Shredder Mangled His Arm.

Niles, Mich., Nov. 14.—While Pierce Cauffmann, a prominent pioneer farmer, was operating a corn shredder, his right arm caught in the machine and was so badly lacerated that the doctors have amputated it near the shoulder. Cauffmann's condition is serious.

Fell From Twenty-Foot Scaffold.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 14.—Joseph Morin, a laborer, fell a distance of twenty feet at Bay City as the result of the giving way of a scaffold at the new Holy Rosary academy. He was taken to Mercy hospital and his condition is critical.

Dropped Dead at Charlotte.

Charlotte, Mich., Nov. 14.—J. M. McCartney, aged 73 years, dropped dead at his home in this city Saturday night while on a stairway with a lighted lamp. The lamp was smashed and the house was set on fire, but the blaze was put out before any damage was done.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

A PENSION SYSTEM.

Michigan Central Employes Hope to Found One.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 14.—An effort is being made in this city to establish a general pension system for Michigan Central railway employes, and Sunday afternoon a mass meeting of all classes of railroad workers was held for the purpose of deciding upon what course to take in the formation of the new system. It was learned that the officials of the road are willing to meet the men half way and delegates will be chosen from all organized branches of the employes to meet with the officers and lay plans in the near future.

It is thought the system to be adopted will be for the men to pay a pro rata amount according to the wages they receive and the pensions will be graded along the same basis. It is understood that General Manager L'Hommedieu of Detroit wants the unorganized men to share in the general pension system and steps will be taken to let them have a representation in the meeting to consider plans. Muir Snow, superintendent of the central division, was present at the mass meeting and made an unofficial address to the men.

CLIMBED INTO BOILER.

Steam Turned on and He Was Fatally Scalded.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—Charles Kiphut, aged 60, 202 Morrell street, was fatally scalded while at work on a boiler at the American Car & Foundry Co. Sunday. He was taken to Grace hospital, where he died.

Kiphut, who was a water tender, went to the shop yesterday to clean the boilers preparatory to the work of Monday. He climbed in the boiler and was busily at work when in some manner the steam cocks were opened and the boiler flooded with steam. Before the unfortunate man could climb out he was terribly burned.

Prisoners Had Saws in Jail.

Pontiac, Mich., Nov. 14.—That another attempt at a jail delivery was planned by prisoners of the Oakland county jail was proven by the finding of a saw frame under the floor of the jail and the finding of several saws secreted in the shoes and clothing of Thomas Nesbitt, one of the prisoners. Nesbitt was arrested a short time ago on a charge of highway robbery.

Home For Crippled Children.

Saugatuck, Mich., Nov. 14.—Ground has been broken for another hotel on the lake front near this place. Dr. George W. Gray, superintendent of the "forward movement," has received an endowment from Chicago parties, who decline to have their names mentioned, for the purpose of erecting a summer home for dependent crippled children of Chicago.

Preparing For Festival.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 14.—Battle Creek is already making preparations for her second May festival. David Bispham will be one of the stars and other famous artists from various sections of the country will take part.

Fender Failed to Work.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 14.—A street car fender failed to save the life of John Howard, a cripple, aged 53, who was instantly killed at Fort and St. Antoine streets Saturday evening.

Did Not Know It Was Loaded.

Woodmere, Mich., Nov. 14.—Hugh B. Peel monkeyed with a gun—"didn't know it was loaded"—and before he got through a bullet pierced his brain and he died within a few moments.

Not Fatal.

No Matter What Doctors Say—We Know That Heart Trouble in Many Cases Can Be Cured.

There are seven main features of heart disease, viz.: (1) Weakness or Debility; (2) Rheumatism or Neuralgia; (3) Valvular Disorder; (4) Dilation; (5) Enlargement; (6) Fatty Degeneration; (7) Dropsy.

Documentary evidence will prove thousands of so-called "incurables" have been absolutely cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Patients often have no idea their disease is heart trouble, but ascribe it to Indigestion, Liver Complaint, etc.

Here are some of the symptoms: Shortness of breath after exercise. Smothering Spells. Pain in Chest, left Shoulder and arm. Discomfort in Lying on one side. Fainting Spells. Nervous Cough. Swelling of Feet and Ankles. Paleness of Face and Lips. Palpitation. Nightmare. Irregular Pulse.

"I have great faith in Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and speak of its merits whenever opportunity presents. I can now go up and down stairs with ease, where three weeks ago I could hardly walk one block." One year later.—"I am still in good health; the Heart Cure did so much for me, that I find it a far greater medicine than you claimed it to be."—S. D. YOUNG, D. D., 697 North Pine St., Natchez, Miss.

WILD AND WOOLLY TALE

Jackson Police Told One by Youth Named Brandery.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 12.—The police here have been told a rather wild and woolly tale by one Lawrence Brandery, a youth of 18, who was arrested the other night in company with William Hennessey, aged 20, of Kansas City.

Brandery declares that Hennessey compelled him, by murderous threats, to travel around the country with him, begging from farmers and others, and that the older man abused him terribly. Brandery says he met Hennessey near West Toledo.

The officers think Hennessey came here to get patterns for making counterfeit money, which he was to obtain from a Jackson man for whom the police are looking. It is said the plant for making the "queer" was to have been located in the woods near Cement City, south of Jackson.

Both youths were taken to Monroe by the sheriff of Monroe county, where Brandery will be accused of larceny and Hennessey of abusing his comrade.

UNION CLUB DINNER.

"Old Grads" Helped to Make It a Successful Affair.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 12.—One thousand students and alumni gathered in Waterman gymnasium last night for the first annual dinner of the Michigan union. The large number of "old grads" who are in town to attend the football game made it a jolly crowd, and everybody seemed to be having the time of his life.

President James B. Angell acted as chairman and introduced as toastmaster Frank F. Reed of Chicago. Responses were made by Congressman-elect Edwin Denby of Detroit, Regent Levi L. Barbour, Congressman C. T. Townsend, Hon. John E. McKeighan, Edward C. Hinman, Dean Victor C. Vaughan, Judge H. B. Lockwood, Prof. M. L. D'Ooge, Prof. R. M. Wenley, Dr. Flemming Carrow, Neil Snow, Hugo Sonnenschein, E. F. Parker, D. B. L. Brown and L. C. Hull. The U. of M. band and the glee and mandolin clubs rendered selections.

PRISON FOR LIFE.

Assaulter of Little Girl Gets Full Penalty of the Law.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—Judge Rohnert Friday afternoon sentenced Charles Steiger, convicted of assaulting little Gladys Boring, in Highland Park last September, to life imprisonment in Marquette prison. Steiger was the coolest man in the room when sentence was pronounced.

Steiger told the judge that he didn't believe anybody could be sent up for life on a trial lasting three-quarters of an hour.

The trial lasted two days.

He asked for Jackson in place of Marquette, but the judge wouldn't change.

Serious Charge Against Two Boys.

Bay City, Mich., Nov. 12.—Stanley Cuddy, aged 11, and Theodore Deelio, aged 9, have been arrested here charged with placing obstructions on the Michigan Central tracks at the approach to the bridge across Saginaw river with a view to throwing a train into the murky water. The boys claim they were gathering firewood and that their wheelbarrow capsized.

Flesh Burned to the Bone.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 12.—John Brecknell of Jeddo was seriously injured during a fire at the home of James Parker, 1613 Pine Grove avenue. His face is burned so badly that it is impossible for him to talk, and the flesh was burned from his right arm to the bone. The fire was caused by an explosion of a gasoline stove.

Bellboy Sent to Prison.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—Judge Phelan Friday sentenced George Gardiner, 18 years of age, to serve not less than twenty months nor more than twenty-two months in the Detroit house of correction for stealing $142 Aug. 7 from a guest in the Wayne hotel in this city, when Gardiner was a bellboy there.

Corn Husker Scores Again.

Coldwater, Mich., Nov. 12.—Arthur Benam, a young boy in Matteson township, is another victim of the corn husker. His hand was badly mangled, but the physicians hope to save a portion of it.

Foul Play Suspected.

Hastings, Mich., Nov. 12.—Henry Worthley, a farmer living about four miles from this city, was found hanging in the cellar with a large gash across his forehead. Other evidence tends to indicate foul play.

Child Was Fatally Burned.

Cadmus, Mich., Nov. 12.—The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Freese, living near here, is dead as the result of burns received when playing near a burning brush pile.

Blew Open a Safe.

Millbrook, Mich., Nov. 12.—Thieves broke into Kendall & Slade's general store here at night and blew open the safe, securing $80 cash and $100 in notes. No clue.

Just Revealed the Secret.

Ypsilanti, Mich., Nov. 12.—The marriage of Miss Clara Peabody of Ypsilanti and Harry Russell of Ann Arbor which occurred last May at Windsor Ont., is just announced.

Noted Editor Dead.

Leavenworth, Kan., Nov. 12.—Col D. R. Anthony, the noted editor of the Leavenworth Times and brother of Miss Susan B. Anthony, the woman suffragist, died at his home here this morning of heart disease, aged 80 years.

Fought With Outlaws.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 14.—One outlaw is dead and another is in jail mortally wounded as the result of a desperate battle between cattle thieves and officers near Deeth, Nev. Sheriff Clarke and his deputy, of Elko county, caught James McKelvey and Charles Winslow in the act of skinning a steer of the Graham brand. When called upon to surrender they dropped behind the carcass of the animal and began firing at the officers. The latter sought shelter and for twenty minutes a duel continued. Finally McKelvey sprang to his feet and fired. The shot was returned and McKelvey fell dead. A few minutes later Winslow surrendered and was found to be mortally wounded.

Cured to Stay Cured.

Mrs. S. T. Roberts, Clinton, La., sent a postal card request for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine to Drake Formula Company, Drake Block, Chicago, Ill., and received it promptly by return mail without expense to her. Mrs. Roberts writes that the trial bottle of this wonderful Palmetto Medicine proved quite sufficient to completely cure her. She says: "One trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me after months of intense suffering. My trouble was Inflammation of Bladder and serious condition of Urinary organs. Drake's Palmetto Wine gave me quick and entire relief and I have no trouble since using the one trial bottle."

Drake's Palmetto Wine cures every such case to stay cured. It is a true, unfailing specific for Liver, Kidney, Bladder and Prostate Troubles caused by Inflammation, Congestion or Catarrh. When there is Constipation, Drake's Palmetto Wine produces a gentle and natural action of the bowels and cures Constipation immediately, to stay cured. One small dose a day does all this splendid work and any reader of this paper may prove it by writing to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill., for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine. It is free, and cures. A letter or postal card is your only expense.

Great Danger in Bad Kidneys.

A POSITIVE, GUARANTEED CURE.

Kidney trouble is a danger signal not to be ignored. One of the worst features of kidney diseases is the fact that they creep on without warning; and the subject is on really dangerous ground before he knows that there is anything wrong. At the very first indication—any ache or pain in the region of the kidneys—the subject should not lose a moment in seeking a reliable and certain cure.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure cures permanently and absolutely inflammation of the kidneys, congestion, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back, retention and incontinence of urine, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

A Chicago business man says: "I was in a bad way with my kidneys. I had constant, severe pains, my urine was cloudy and filled with sediment and the doctors told me that I was threatened with Bright's disease. They succeeded in frightening me thoroughly; but their prescriptions did me no good. I was persuaded to try Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure. One bottle did me so much good that I stuck to it till I had taken three bottles which cured me perfectly. I have been well for three years and feel sure I would be in my grave now but for that great remedy."

Rear-End Collision on Pere Marquette the Result.

THREE PERSONS WERE KILLED

Accident Happened at Small Station East of Grand Rapids—Nine Other Persons Were More or Less Injured.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 17.—Pere Marquette train No. 6, leaving Grand Rapids at 5:20 o'clock last evening for Detroit, crashed into the rear of train No. 34, due to leave here twenty minutes earlier, while the latter was standing on the Y track at Elmdale, a small station twenty-two miles east of this city. Three persons were killed and nine or more injured, as follows:

Injured: Clarence I. Pickett, Boston, scalded and knee injured; T. L. Charles, Cuba, N. Y., head cut, burns, serious; R. C. Savage, 183 South Union street, Grand Rapids, burns and leg fractured; John L. Smith, 131 Washington street, Grand Rapids, cuts and burns, not serious; E. A. Lamchie, 115 South Sheridan street, Bay City, burns, not serious; Allen Lee, 1633 Marquette avenue, Chicago, slightly injured; Express Messenger Watkins of train No. 6, scalp wound; Baggageman Botsford of train No. 6, slight; telegraph operator named Deneen, address unknown, slightly injured.

All except the last three were in the parlor car of the Saginaw train. It is supposed that Deneen was making his way from one station to another along the road and was riding either in the express or baggage car.

How the Wreck Happened.

It appears that train No. 34, due to leave here for Saginaw at 5 o'clock, was a few minutes late owing to a wait for passengers from a connecting road, and was standing a couple of train lengths in on that part of the Y-track at Elmdale leading to Saginaw, and had stopped. It is supposed that the switch was not closed after the train passed onto its own track and when the Detroit train came along it ran into the open Y and crashed into the parlor car at the rear of No. 34. Train No. 6 was running at a slow rate of speed, having slowed down preparatory to stopping at the station.

As soon as the news of the wreck reached this city a wrecking train was sent to the scene. The dead and injured were brought here, where the more seriously injured were taken care of at local hospitals.

FOR POUNDING HER

Woman in Ionia Shot Assaulter, Intending to Kill Him.

Ionia, Mich., Nov. 17.—Jessie Delong of Denver, Col., is in jail here on a charge of assault with intent to commit the crime of murder in the Front street restaurant of Ethel Ward. She shot Harry Knapp and the ball is lodged in his back, though he is not seriously injured.

The pair were cooks at the restaurant, and the woman says the man pounded her when she refused him money and has pounded her at intervals for two years. She got tired of it and says, "When I shot him I intended to kill him."

Pilgrim Magazine Mortgaged.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 17.—The Pilgrim Magazine Co. of this city has filed a mortgage here, due in six months, to the Union Trust Co. of Detroit. The sum mentioned is $50,000 and covers materials plant and subscription list to the magazine, which has a wide national circulation. The mortgage is signed by H. W. Mergenthaler, president of the Pilgrim, and attested by Hiram M. Greene, treasurer.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

VICTIMS OF STORM

Belated Reports Come of Many Lives Lost in East.

SHIPS CAPSIZED AND WRECKED

Men Rescued From Half-Sunken Schooner After Having Been Lashed to Mast For Hours—Life-Saving Station Swept Away.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Capt. Charles Williams and three others left here Saturday on the schooner Missouri for their home in Hyde county. Stormbound at Indian Read, they anchored off the shore but after dinner Sunday the wind blew them from their anchorage and the boat was capsized and all on board were drowned. The names of the crew cannot be obtained.

Machias, Me., Nov. 17.—That three residents of Rogue Bluffs lost their lives in the storm Sunday night seemed certain today when an auxiliary fishing schooner was found sunken in six fathoms of water near Spruce island, five miles from Rogue Bluffs.

The boat was believed to be the auxiliary schooner Nncas, which left Eastport Sunday and in the gale of that night supposed to have struck on the ledges outside Spruce island and sunk with her crew, consisting of the owner, Capt. John Wallace, Walter Davis and an unknown man. Capt. Wallace had been expected home since Monday.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 17.—Advices from the Carolina coast say the New Inlet life-saving station was destroyed by Sunday's hurricane and that several of the crew stationed there were lost. It is said a tidal wave washed across the strip of land separating the ocean from the sound and carried the station building away. The news was brought to Elizabeth City by seamen.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—After having been lashed to a mast for more than twenty-four hours and with hope of being rescued all abandoned, Capt. Fisher and crew of seven men of the brig C. C. Sweaney were taken from their perilous position Tuesday afternoon by the steamer Hawaiian from Honolulu for this port.

The men suffered greatly from exposure to the weather, but are apparently no worse for their experience.

The brig left Charleston early last week for Philadelphia with a cargo of lumber, and encountered the southern hurricane Sunday off the Virginia coast. The brig withstood the terrific wind and sea for a short time only and then became waterlogged. The deck load and houses were swept away and the vessel finally broke in two. The crew then climbed the mainmast and lashed themselves in the mainsail to keep from being washed away. They remained in this position until Monday afternoon, by which time the sea had moderated enough to permit them to return to the deck of the half-sunken hulk. No vessel was sighted until Tuesday morning, when the Hawaiian responded to their distress signals and rescued all hands.

Other reports of Sunday's great storm are still coming in from the sea.

United After Twenty Years.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 17.—Two years ago Jesse Beck of this city was told by his foster mother, Mrs. Barbara Beck, that his real name is Jesse Wade. She told him that his parents had died twenty years before, leaving four children, who were adopted by different families. The other children she told him lived somewhere in the west. The young man has been searching ever since for his sisters and has been successful in locating one of them at Chippewa Falls, Wis. He and his sister are now united in a search for the two remaining members of the family, who have grown to womanhood, as Jesse, the youngest of the quartet, was 3 years old at the time of the death of his parents.

Put Poison In Cabbage.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 17.—John G. Stockley, of this city, has been arrested on complaint of Jacob Lunkkonen charged with placing poison in some cabbage heads which were intended for the table of the plaintiff and some friends. Stockley has been released under $1,000 bonds. Lunkkonen alleges that Stockley threatened to kill him and several people in Stanton township as a result of legal entanglements into which they all have been drawn regarding homesteads.

CORONERS UNDER FIRE

Record of Wayne County's Officials Being Probed by State.

THEY COLLECTED ILLEGAL FEES

That Is the Allegation—Coroner Hoffman Displayed Much Ignorance About Inquests and Requirement of Law When Questioned.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 16.—At 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon Deputy Atty.-Gen. Henry E. Chase and Deputy Auditor-General John F. Wilkinson began the investigation of the alleged illegal collection of fees from the state of Michigan for what were termed "state" cases by Coroner John T. Hoffman, sheriff-elect, and Coroner Otto T. Toepel, who was last week elected for another term of two years.

Not Bright Outlook.

Much developed during this first session, which did not carry with it a very bright outlook for a vindication upon the part of Coroner Hoffman. By his own testimony in response to questions put to him by Mr. Chase, and by his own official records, Coroner Hoffman acknowledged that he seldom if ever made any attempt to ascertain if the deceased had been a resident of Wayne county further than was indicated by the record of the inquest; that he did not know whether the records contained all the testimony taken at the inquests; that he did not know if postmortems were held in all cases in which a fee for the same was charged up, as he did not always attend the inquests, but left it to his clerk or for the physician to bring in a report; that he kept no record of money received or paid out.

Acknowledged a "Mistake."

Aside from the generally lax manner in which he acknowledged he conducted the business of his office, Coroner Hoffman excused himself for having made a state case in an instance where the deceased had in his life time been a resident of the county for at least four months by saying that he construed that law to mean that a person would have to reside in the county for "about" six months before residence could be claimed. When handed a statute book and asked to find that particular section upon which he placed that construction, the coroner could give no satisfactory answer.

Did the Coroner Fib?

In another instance he read from his records a statement to the effect that one Breslin had conducted a chemical analysis for him, for which he declared the party "must have got the $20." He could not remember if the man was an undertaker, a chemist or a physician. Breslin was in the employ of Undertaker Geist at that time. To a reporter last night Breslin declared that he never made a chemical analysis in his life; that he was no chemist and that he never received any money from Coroner Hoffman.

The investigation gives promise of being a most thorough one. The state officials brought with them vouchers for every case in question and started yesterday to take them up one at a time, with a view to going through the entire list. Although they will subpoena no witnesses, the officials explain that they will appreciate any evidence that is brought to them.

Used His Knife Freely.

Hillsdale, Mich., Nov. 16.—Henry Shoemaker got into an altercation with N. J. Metcalf over $2.50 that Shoemaker claimed Metcalf owed him for rent. Becoming angered, Shoemaker stabbed Metcalf in the breast and hips, inflicting severe wounds. Shoemaker's brother and Mrs. Shoemaker attempted to interfere but were also stabbed, the brother in the arm, severing the cords, and Mrs. Shoemaker in the hand. Shoemaker was arrested and is in jail, pending results of his victim's wounds.

SUNK A JAP BOAT

Heroic Deed of Russian Midshipman Just Made Public.

ROMANTIC STORY OF WOMAN

She Enlisted as a Man That She Might Be Near Her Husband—Russian Papers From Port Arthur Tell of Her Great Sacrifices.

Chefoo, Nov. 17.—The Port Arthur newspaper, Novikrai, of Nov. 11, copies of which were brought to Chefoo by the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, prints brief details of a daring exploit which resulted in the sinking of a four-funneled Japanese torpedo boat destroyer.

Japanese torpedo boats and one destroyer were engaged in removing mines, mostly their own, from Tache bay on Nov. 3. Midshipman Dimitrieff conceived the idea that he could torpedo the Japanese boats under cover of darkness, as the latter were very busy and enjoying a fancied security.

Under Cover of Darkness.

Securing a steam launch from the battleship Retvizan, one carrying a torpedo tube, and accompanied by half a dozen silent volunteers, Midshipman Dimitrieff in the dense darkness slipped out of the harbor and succeeded in evading the Japanese searchlights. Circling around the Japanese boats with the launch moving at top speed, the midshipman came within striking distance of the seaward side and launched his projectile. It sped through to the destroyer. There was a sudden explosion and the destroyer sank immediately.

The launch then sped towards the harbor, but was not pursued, the Japanese evidently having not observed the launch and thinking the destroyer had struck one of their own mines.

Midshipman Dimitrieff is the hero of the day at Port Arthur, according to the paper.

The Novikrai of Nov. 12 contains a romantic story of Haritena Korotkiewitch, who, although a woman, served valorously in many fights at Port Arthus until death closed her strange career.

The Novikrai gives many details of the adventures of the woman, which go to make the story one of undoubted authenticity.

Donned Male Attire.

The husband of Haritena Korotkiewitch was serving at Port Arthur. In endeavoring to join him she was stopped at Harbin and was not allowed to proceed further owing to her sex. She then donned masculine attire and succeeding in reaching Port Arthur shortly before the landing of the Japanese on the peninsula of Liaotung.

Finding her husband's regiment, she enlisted in it. She participated in numerous sorties and in the defense of the forts and, although her sex was soon discovered, her record for bravery, tirelessness and attention to the wounded, and the excellent moral influence she exerted over the soldiers, who never swore in her presence, won permission to remain in the ranks.

On Oct. 16 she visited the trenches when huge shells from the Japanese guns struck and destroyed the Russian position. Haritena Korotkiewitch and eight others were instantly killed. They were buried in one grave, with the Russian flag wrapped around Haritena's body.

The Novikrai concludes its story by saying: "Haritena Korotkiewitch had won the respect and admiration, not only of the soldiers, but of the higher officers and had shown all how to die nobly."

Holding His Own.

"Stingy, isn't he?"

"You've said it! Why, he holds fast to everything he gets his clutches on and even bolts down his dinner!"

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c. bottle of them. For sal by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa. U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Not a sick day since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was intirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. Bass of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at C. A. Wright's.

CHAPTER XXIII.

"I did nothing to influence her. I was in no condition to do so. I was benumbed—dead. When first she told me—it was in some words muttered in her sleep—I thought she was laboring under some fearful nightmare, but when she persisted and I questioned her and found the horror true I was like a man turned instantly into stone save for one intolerable throb within. I am still so. Everything passes by me like a dream. She was so young, seemingly so innocent and light hearted. I loved her! Gentlemen, you have thought me guilty of my wife's death, this young fairylike creature to whom I ascribed all the virtues, and I was willing, willing that you should think so, willing even to face the distrust and opprobrium of the whole world, and so was her sister, the noble woman whom you see before you, rather than that the full horror of her crime should be known and a name so dear be given up to execration. We thought we could keep the secret—we felt that we must keep the secret. We took an oath—in French—in the carriage, with the detectives opposite us. She kept it—God bless her! I kept it. But it was all useless—a tiny bit of lace is found hanging to a lifeless splinter, and all our efforts, all the hopes and agony of weeks, are gone for naught. The world will soon know of her awful deed—and I"—

He still loved her. That was apparent in every look, in every word he uttered. We marveled in awkward silence and were glad when the major said:

"The deed, as I take it, was an unpremeditated one on her part. Is that why her honor was dearer to you than your own, and why you could risk the reputation if not the life of the woman who you say sacrificed herself to it?"

"Yes, it was unpremeditated. She hardly realized her act. If you must know her heart through all this dreadful business we have her words to show you—words which she spent the last miserable day of her life in writing. The few lines which I showed the captain and which have been published to the world was an inclosure meant for the public eye. The real letter, telling the whole terrible truth, I kept for myself and for the sister who already knew her sin. Oh, we did everything we could!" And he again moaned. "But it was in vain; quite in vain."

There were no signs of subterfuge in him now, and we all, unless I except Durbin, began to yield him credence. Durbin never gives credence to anybody whose name he has once heard associated with crime.

"And this Pfeiffer was contracted to her? A man she had secretly married while a schoolgirl and who at this very critical instant had found his way to the house"—

"You shall read her letter. It was meant for me, for me only—but you shall see it. I cannot talk of him or of her crime. It is enough that I have been unable to think of anything else since first those dreadful words fell from her lips in sleep, thirty-six hours before she died." Then with the inconsistency of great anguish he suddenly broke forth into the details he shrank from and cried:

"She muttered, lying there, that she was no bigamist. That she had killed one husband before she married the other. Killed him in the old house and by the method her ancestors had taught her. And I, risen on my elbow, listened, with the sweat oozing from my forehead, but not believing her, oh, not believing her, any more than any one of you would believe such words uttered in a dream by the darling of your heart. But when, with a long drawn sigh, she murmured, 'Murderer!' and raised her fists—tiny fists, hands which I had kissed a thousand times—and shook them in the air, an awful terror seized me, and I sought to grasp them and hold them down, but was hindered by some nameless inner recoil under which I could not speak or gasp or move. Of course, it was some dream horror she was laboring under, a nightmare of unimaginable acts and thoughts, but it was one to hold me back; and when she lay quiet again and her face resumed its old sweetness in the moonlight, I found myself staring at her almost as if it were true—what she had said—that word—that awful word which no woman could use with regard to herself, even in dreams, unless—something, an echo from the discordant chord in our two weeks' married life, rose like the confirmation of a doubt in my shocked and rebellious breast.

From that hour till dawn nothing in that slowly brightening room seemed real, not her face lying buried in its youthful locks upon the pillow, not the objects well known and well prized by which we were surrounded—not myself—most of all, not myself, unless the icy dew oozing from the roots of my lifted hair was real, unless that shape, fearsome, vague, but persistent, which hovered in the shadows above us, drawing a line of eternal separation between me and my wife, was a thing which could be caught and strangled and— Oh, I rave! I chatter like a madman, but I did not rave that night. Nor did I rave when, in the bright, broad sunlight, her eyes slowly unclosed and she started to see me bending so near her, but not with my usual kiss or glad good morning. I could not question her then; I dared not. The smile which slowly rose to her lips was too piteous—it showed confidence. I waited till after breakfast. Then, while she was seated where she could not see my face, I whispered the question, 'Do you know that you have had a horrible dream?' She shrieked and turned. I saw her face and knew that what she had uttered in her sleep was true.

"I have no remembrance of what I said to her. She tried to tell me how she had been tempted and how she had not realized her own act till the moment I bent down to kiss her lips as her husband. But I did not stop to listen—I could not. I flew immediately to Miss Tuttle with the violent demand as to whether she knew that her sister was already a wife when she married me, and when she cried out, 'No!' and showed great dismay I broke forth with the dreadful tale and cowered in unmanly anguish at her feet and went mad and lost myself for a little while. Then I went back to my wretched wife and asked her how the awful deed had been done. She told me, and again I did not believe her and began to look upon it all as some wild dream of the distempered fancies of a disordered brain. This thought calmed me, and I spoke gently to her and even tried to take her hand. But she herself was raving now and clung about my knees murmuring words of such anguish and contrition that my worst fears returned and, only stopping to take the key of the Moore house from my bureau, I left the house and wandered madly—I know not where.

"I did not go back that day. I could not face her again till I knew how much of her confession was fancy and how much was fact. I roamed the streets, carrying that key from one end of the city to the other, and at night I used it to open the house which she had declared contained so dreadful a secret.

"I had bought candles on my way there but, forgetting to take them from the store, I had no light with which to penetrate the horrible place that even the moon refused to illumine. I realised this when once in, but would not go back. All I have told about using matches to light me to the southwest chamber is true, also my coming upon the old candelabrum there, with a candle in one of its sockets. This candle I lit, my sole reason for seeking this room being my desire to examine the antique sketch for the words which she had said could be found there.

"I had failed to bring a magnifying glass with me, but my eyes are phenomenally sharp. Knowing where to look, I was able to pick out enough words here and there in the lines composing the hair to feel quite sure that my wife had neither deceived me nor been deceived as to certain directions being embodied there in writing. Shaken in my last lingering hope, but not yet quite convinced that these words pointed to outrageous crime, I flew next to the closet and drew out the fatal drawer.

"You have been there and know what the place is, but no one but myself can ever realize what it was for me, still loving, still clinging to a wild inconsequent belief in my wife, to grope in that mouth of hell for the spring she had chattered about in her sleep, to find it, press it, and then to hear, down in the dark of the fearsome recess, the sound of something deadly strike against what I took to be the cushions of the old settle standing at the edge of the library hearthstone.

"I think I must have fainted, for when I found myself possessed of sufficient consciousness to withdraw from that hole of death the candle in the candelabrum was shorter by an inch than when I first thrust my head into the gap made by the removed drawers. In putting back the drawers I hit the candelabrum with my foot, upsetting it and throwing out the burning candle. As the flames began to lick the worm eaten boarding of the floor a momentary impulse seized me to rush away and leave the whole place to burn, but I did not. With a sudden frenzy I stamped out the flame and then, finding myself in darkness, groped my way downstairs and out. If I entered the library I do not remember it. Some lapses must be pardoned a man involved as I was."

"But the fact which you dismiss so lightly is an important one," insisted the major. "We must know positively whether you entered this room or not."

"I have no recollection of doing so."

"Then you cannot tell us whether the little table was standing there, with the candelabrum upon it or"—

"I can tell you nothing about it."

The major, after a long look at this suffering man, turned toward Miss Tuttle.

"You must have loved your sister very much," he sententiously remarked.

She flushed, and for the first time her eyes fell from their resting place on Mr. Jeffrey's face.

"I loved her reputation," was her quiet answer, "and"— The rest died in her throat.

But we all—such of us, I mean, who were possessed of the least sensibility or insight—knew how that sentence sounded as finished in her heart, "And I loved him who asked this sacrifice of me."

Yet was her conduct not quite clear. "And to save that reputation you tied the pistol to her wrist?" insinuated the major.

"No," was her vehement reply. "I never knew what I was tying to her. My testimony in that regard was absolutely true. She held the pistol concealed in the folds of her dress. I did not dream—I could not—that she was contemplating any such end to the atrocious crime to which she had confessed. Her manner was too light, too airy and too frivolous—a manner adopted, as I now see, to forestall all questions and hold back all expressions of feeling on my part. 'Tie these hanging ends of ribbon to my wrist,' were her words. 'Tie them tight; a knot under and a bow on top. I am going out. There, don't say anything. What you want to talk about will keep till tomorrow. For one night more I am going to make merry—to—to enjoy myself.' She was laughing. I thought her horribly callous and trembled with such an unspeakable repulsion that I had difficulty in making the knot. To speak at all would have been impossible. Neither did I dare to look in her face. I was touching the hand that—and she kept on laughing—such a hollow laugh covering up such an awful resolve! When she turned to give me that last injunction about the note this resolve glared still in her eyes."

"And you never suspected?"

"Not for an instant. I did not do justice either to her misery or to her conscience. I fear that I have never done her justice in any way. I thought her light, pleasure loving. I did not know that it was assumed to hide a terrible secret."

"Then you had no knowledge of the contract she had entered into while a schoolgirl?"

"Not in the least. Another woman and not myself had been her confidant, a woman who has since died. No intimation of her first unfortunate marriage had ever reached me till Mr. Jeffrey rushed in upon me that Tuesday morning with her dreadful confession on his lips."

The district attorney, who did not seem quite satisfied on a certain point passed over by the major, now took the opportunity of saying:

"You assure us that you had no idea that this once light hearted sister of yours meditated suicide when she left you?"

"And I repeat it, sir."

"Then why did you immediately go to Mr. Jeffrey's drawer, where you could have no business, unless it was to see if she had taken his pistol with her?"

Miss Tuttle's head fell, and a soft flush broke through the pallor of her cheek.

THE CENTURY'S ART FEATURES.

A number of agreeable suprises in the field of color work promised soon.

During the past months many pictures in color have appeared in the pages of The Century-notably: Maxfield Parrish's exquisite paintings for the articles on, "Italian Villas and their Gardens;" Miss Bett's charming pictures of the days of our fathers; the paintings by Frederick W. Stokes illustrating remarkable sky effects; Charles R. Knight's animal studies; Miss Violet Oakley's imaginative studies; Mr. Tobin's portrait of Pope Pius X; the reproductions of J. Wells Champney's pastels; Miss Ellen Bernard Thompson's studies of children; reproductions of paintings by George de Forrest Brush, William M. Chase, Laura C. Hills and others. It is the aim of The Century to confine its experiments in the field of color work to subjects which have uniqueness and an important reason for color treatment. Miss Betts will contribute several other groups among them the "Duet," "Christmas Callers," "St. Valentine's Day" and the "Serenaders." Mr. Parrish has made a beautiful illustration for a story "The Princess and the Boy;" and the coming year of The Century will contain a number of agreeable surprises in the field of color work.

The Century will continue to print beautiful and representative examples of work by American painters and sculptors. It will have also articles on men who are coming to the front in art abroad, including Mucha, Zuloaga and the German secessionists. An article on "Children's Costumes in the Nineteenth Century" will have exquisite illustrations by Maurice Boutet de Monvel. The late J. L. Gerome will be the subject of reminiscenes which will be accompanied by interesting illustrative material. A paper on the Art Influences of Philadelphia by Harrison S. Morris will soon appear.

For twenty years Timothy Cole, the acknowledged master of wood-engraving of the world, has been in Europe for The Century producing the masterpieces of art for the pages of the magazine. Here have appeared the greatest works of the masters of the Italian, Flemish, Dutch and English schools. Mr. Cole is now engaged in reproducing the work of the Spanish masters and superb examples of their art will appear from time to time. The artists whose work will appear in The Century during 1905 include all the notable illustrators of the present day.

For the critical period of transition from maidenhood to womanhood it is a matchless remedy. All women unite in praising it and all who have used it rejoice in perfect health.

MRS. PAUL BURNS, Parshallville, Mich.

Mrs. Paul Burns, Parshallville, Mich., writes: "I want all my friends to know the great good Zoa Phora has done for me. I suffered for months with nervous prostration, sick headache and kidney and bladder trouble. After holding consultation, four doctors said I could not live without an operation, and I was too weak to have one. Bunches formed in my bowels and I became so sore that I lost the use of my limbs. The doctor called the bunches tumors. He said that I also had a floating kidney, and would not be any better until I had it sewed in place. After using one bottle of Zoa Phora, I could stand on my feet, and after taking three bottles I could walk around the room, and after the fourth bottle I was able to walk out-of-doors."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

The state game warden arrested eight fisherman in Quanicasee for violating the law by fishing with nets in the river. The fisherman were taken to Caro and waived examination and were bound over for trial. The men claim that the place where their nets were set is a part Saginaw bay.—Reese Review.

Herb W. Edwards Injured.

Herb W. Edwards of DesMoines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's pain balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

The older a joke is the younger is the fellow who gets it off for something new.

Mothers praise it.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is surprising how much emphasis a woman who wears a swich and has her face powered can put in the words "Men are deceivers ever."

A good complexion.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers," so writes S. P. Moore of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for biliousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Proverbs

"When the butter won't come put a penny in the churn," is an old time dairy proverb. It often seems to work though no one has ever told why.

When mothers are worried because the children do not gain strength and flesh we say give them Scott's Emulsion.

It is like the penny in the milk because it works and because there is something astonishing about it.

Scott's Emulsion is simply a milk of pure cod liver oil with some hypophosphites especially prepared for delicate stomachs.

Children take to it naturally because they like the taste and the remedy takes just as naturally to the children because it is so perfectly adapted to their wants.

For all weak and pale and thin children Scott's Emulsion is the most satisfactory treatment.

We will send you the penny, i. e., a sample free.

MONTH'S MEDICINE ON TRIAL

Generous offer to all with weak digestion or stomach troubles.

With every box of Mi-o-na sold C. A. Wright gives the following guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use, the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for Mi-o-na on return of empty box, if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two boxes, or a month's treatment. Price, 50c per box.

(Signed) ....

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of dyspepsia. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If Mi-o-na were not successful in 19 cases out of 100, an offer like this would be ruinous. This offer shows the faith C. A. Wright has in the health-giving powers of Mi-o-na and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month anyway. If it fails to help you, the cost is absolutely nothing, while if it does what is claimed for it, the expense is trifling.

Howe's Moving Pictures.

If there is a moving picture exhibition which is always sure of a large audience when it visits Gloversville, that is Lyman H. Howe's and last night was no exception to this rule. A large audience in attendance at the Darling theatre was delighted with the exhibition and every picture received liberal applause. Perhaps the most extraordinary picture was the "Making of a Newspaper" as this film alone was over 1,000 feet in length. The exhibition was the best ever given in Gloversville and Lyman Howe will be assured of a hearty welcome upon his return to this city.—Gloversville Leader.

Hon. O. D. Fairbanks returns home to Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Fairbanks left via the Wabash for their home at Stroud, Oklahoma Territory, Tuesday morning. They have been the guests at the Rogers home, State street. Mr. Fairbanks has made a most remarkable recovery from what seemed to be a hopeless case.

Some time ago he was stricken down with locomotor ataixa. Several physicians attended him at different times and finally, as a last resort, when he had become so ill he could not turn in bed or feed himself and had lost absolutely all control of himself, Dr. W. H. Jones was called, who from the first relieved him. The cure seems really miraculous to all of his relatives and friends as he is now able to walk without a cane and has lost all of the staggering gait which he had and which is a condition found in these cases and he is absolutely free from all pain. He was under Dr. Jones' care about two months. The recovery is as much a surprise to some of his former physicians as it is to his relatives. Mr. Fairbanks was brought into Adrian on a cot in an ambulance and has left a well man. Several doctors suggested his not going for two or three weeks yet for fear he might overdo when he reached home.

SOCIAL

This Week the Society People of Tecumseh have enjoyed

CARD PARTIES

Settled Election Bets and had a Good Time generally.

AN ELECTION WAGER.

Miss Anna Williamson and Miss Chapman wagered with Raynor Brewer and Mrs. Fay Anderson a turkey dinner concerning the result of election. Whether the bet was about the general result or majorities no one can find out, but sufficient is to know that Mrs. Fay Anderson and Miss Luella served the dinner at Mrs. Anderson's Tuesday evening.

It was a six course affair of eight plates and none of this party will need the usual Thanksgiving dinner.

TRAIL CLUB.

A new card club has come into existance known as the "Trail" club, and were delightfully entertained by Miss Myra Conselyea at the home of her uncle, Delos Whitenack on Pottawatamee street, Tuesday evening. There are six couples in it and a pleasent time at trail playing is assured. Miss Anna Wilson won the first prize and Guernsey Collins the consolation. Dainty refreshments were served. Miss Sarah Platt will entertain the same club November 29.

NO NAME CLUB.

The "No Name" club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Comfort Chase Tuesday evening and were entertained in a most pleasing manner. Progressive pedro was the diversion of the evening, Louis Jones and George Ziehr winning the prizes, the former the first prize and the latter the consolation. After the prizes were awarded refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aldrich.

MERRY-GO-ROUND CLUB.

Thurman Andrew Wilson.

Thurman Andrew Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wilson, of this place, dropped dead at his home near Pentecost, ten miles west of Tecumseh, Wednesday morning at 7 a. m. He was on his way to work at the time. Mr. Wilson resided on Wilson Bros.' celery farm, and a very sad feature in connection was that his young wife, to whom he had been married only about a year and a half, had come to Tecumseh only the day before and had not returned home. The family is prostrated with grief.

Deceased was one of eight children born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and the first to die. His birth occurred at Tipton March 17, 1877. Nine years ago he removed with his parents to Tecumseh and until his marriage, April 12, 1903, continued to live here. His wife was Miss Ethel Foor of Ogden, and one daughter had been born to them, Clara Irene, ten months old. Miss Anna Wilson of the Tecumseh HERALD, is a sister of the deceased.

The funeral services were held at his late home today at 11 o'clock. Burial at Tecumseh. Rev. Jones officiated.

Mrs. Wm. Doke.

Mrs. Wm. Doke died at her home in Brownville Nov. 10, aged 60 years. Although being in poor health for years, her death came as a sudden shock to all, the cause being erysipelas and heart trouble. Beside her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Coller, and Miss Ina Nixon, who has always made her home with her, she is survived by three brothers, I. P. and Geo. Keyser, of this place, and James Kyser, of Placerville, California.

The funeral was held at her late home Saturday, Nov. 12.

CARD OF THANKS.

THE NEW LIBRARY.

The outside of which is now

NEARLY ALL DONE

Even to the grading.

Last Tuesday the grading of the lot was completed and now the outside of the new Carnegie library building is done and it is a very pretty building, indeed. Last month I was in Flint and they are building in that city a Carnegie building which will cost $25,000. It is about as far along as ours and at that time the one in Tecumseh was equal to it in appearance.

Contractor Smith tells the HERALD it will be some days before the inside work is all done but no pains nor time will be spared to do it well and properly, and when all is done Tecumseh will be proud of the library in every way for it will be alright all over. We do not have to strain our memory to think of this as the old "Baxter" corner and still farther to remember B. L. Baxter, that kindly old man, who lived on this corner so many years. Since I can remember I knew B. L. Baxter but not much about his earlier life.

The other day I was talking with a man who knew all about Mr. Baxter's life when he was down on the prairie in the neighborhood of Britton, between there and Petersburg, and he tells me that there never was a kinder, more unselfish man than Baxter, in fact it was on account of his liberal handedness that he did not die rich. He drained acres of that prairie land, in fact made many of the farms down there what they are today, with the idea of doing good so that some day he might get the benefit.

The more I hear of Mr. Baxter the more I think that if he could have his own way and all the money he wished to spend, that there is nothing in the world he would rather had occupy the lot of his old home than the Carnegie library. So we can think of the old adage, "All will come to him who waits," even if it comes after death.

If Mr. Baxter can look down on the new public library building it will be a happy moment to him to look at it now all finished and certainly there is no more beautiful building for the money it cost in Michigan.

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

MAKES WORK EASIER.

Tecumseh people are pleased to learn how it is done.

It's pretty hard to attend to duties
With a constantly aching back;
With annoying urinary disorders.
Doan's Kidney pills make work easier.
They cure every kidney ill.

Mrs. E. Fryer, who lives in the northwestern section of Tecumseh says: "I suffered from my kidneys off and on for about two years and during an attack the pain was worse along in the afternoon and I often felt like giving up, but I kept on working in misery, for stooping or straightening made my back feel as if it were breaking in two. If I took cold it always settled in my back and, in spite of all the remedies I used, I could not get relief. Procuring Doan's Kidney Pills at C. A. Wright's drug store, I took them and they did me more good than all the other medicines I ever used. I take pleasure in recommending them at every opportunity."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Those who have a heart to do good never need complain for lack of opportunity.

"Little Colds" neglected—thousands of lives sacrificed every year. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures little colds—cures big colds too, down to the very verge of consumption.

When a man admits that he is never too old to learn you may be sure that he is getting pretty old.

Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs and colds; reliable, tried and tested. safe and sure. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

BLACK-DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Thedford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the food consumed. It gives animals and fowls of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial.

PITTSBURG, KAS., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

Cured to Stay Cured.

Mrs. S. T. Roberts, Clinton, La., sent a postal card request for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine to Drake Formula Company, Drake Block, Chicago, Ill., and received it promptly by return mail without expense to her. Mrs. Roberts writes that the trial bottle of this wonderful Palmetto Medicine proved quite sufficient to completely cure her. She says: "One trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine has cured me after months of intense suffering. My trouble was inflammation of Bladder and serious condition of Urinary organs. Drake's Palmetto Wine gave me quick and entire relief and I have no trouble since using the one trial bottle." Drake's Palmetto Wine cures every such case to stay cured. It is a true, unfailing specific for Liver, Kidney, Bladder and Prostate Troubles caused by Inflammation, Congestion or Catarrh. When there is Constipation, Drake's Palmetto Wine produces a gentle and natural action of the bowels and cures Constipation immediately, to stay cured. One small dose a day does all this splendid work and any reader of this paper may prove it by writing to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill., for a trial bottle of Drake's Palmetto Wine. It is free, and cures. A letter or postal card is your only expense.

COMMITTED MURDER

Farmer Near Nashville Shot Neighbor During a Quarrel.

THEY WERE DIGGING A DITCH

John Bouts Shot Through Heart by George Tubbs—Tubbs Objected to Bouts Completing Drain Across His Property—Former Jailed.

Nashville, Mich., Nov. 21.—A shooting affray occurred in Kalamo township, eight miles southeast of here, Sunday morning and as a result John Bouts is dead and George W. Tubbs, a farmer of that township, is locked up in the county jail at Charlotte charged with his murder.

The trouble arose over the digging of a ditch and it is claimed that hard feeling has existed between the two men for some time. Work had been in progress on a ditch in the neighborhood where the two men lived and the job was nearly completed. Bouts with two other men went to finish the job Sunday so as to have it ready for the threatened storm Levy and Charles Tubbs, brothers, and George, a son of Levy, on whose farm the job was being completed, discovered the men at work and hastened to the scene and ordered them from the place.

Fired Twice.

The two older men went into the ditch armed with clubs to drive Bouts out. After a quarrel, Bouts went out of the ditch and was in the act of getting a team hitched to a scraper when it is alleged young Tubbs whipped out a revolver and fired at him. The shot went wide and just as Bouts turned around Tubbs fired again. His victim fell and the Tubbs trio started for the house.

Bouts got on his feet and when asked by one of the other men if he had been hit, he said he had and thought he was going to die, at the same time trying to climb into the wagon. He was assisted by his companions and reached the road only a short distance away when he dropped dead. The sheriff at Charlotte was notified and took young Tubbs to jail.

Shot Through Heart.

A coroner's jury was summoned and a postmortem examination of the body of Bouts showed that the ball had pierced the muscles of his right arm and had entered his body between the sixth and seventh ribs, passed through the liver and through the apex of the heart. The gun which was used Tubbs purchased at the hardware store of Glenn H. Young in this village and was of 32 caliber. He made the remark when he purchased the gun that there was a dog in the neighborhood he was going to use it on.

The Tubbses, who have lived in Kalamo a good many years, while quite well-to-do people, bear a reputation of being quarrelsome. George, who did the shooting, is about 25 years old and unmarried. Bouts was a married man and lived with his wife and two children a mile east of where the tragedy occurred. He was 45 years old and always had a good reputation and was well liked by his neighbors. The two elder Tubbses have not yet been arrested but probably will be.

The "Mystery" Explained.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 21.—The mystery of the buried baby, which caused such an excitement in this city yesterday has been solved. It was not buried on Quint Whitmore's lot, but on an adjoining lot owned by a man living over on the Post addition. The child was born dead, and the father, assisted by two friends, went over and buried it on his own lot as he supposed he had a right to do

Frederick's Statue Unveiled.

Washington, Nov. 21.—The statue of Frederick the Great, presented to the United States by Emperor William of Germany, was unveiled at Washington Saturday. President Roosevelt and others spoke.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill, 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

TRADE PICKING UP.

Reports From Basic Industries Is More Favorable.

New York, Nov. 19.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says:

Reports from the great basic industries are more favorable, and wholesale and jobbing trade in holiday and spring goods displays a more confident tone. Interior buyers appear more willing to stock up and are meeting with fair success, despite the fact that unseasonable weather, activity in fall farm work and some holding back by farmers retards retail trade and collections in the west and northwest.

Cold weather at the east and seasonable conditions at the south induce better reports as to final distribution from those sections. Trade generally is showing gains over corresponding periods a year ago, and the aggregate year's business in most lines will make better comparisons than at one time seemed possible.

Money displays remarkable ease, crop moving necessities are about satisfied and a return-flow from the country is apparently in sight.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending Nov. 17 number 130, against 184 last week, 234 in the like week in 1903; 201 in 1902, 223 in 1901, and 215 in 1900. In Canada failures for the week number 24, as against 25 last week and 16 in this week a year ago.

Wheat (including flour) exports for the week ending Nov. 17 aggregate 1,289,642 bu, against 2,974,277 this week last year. Corn exports for the week aggregate 139,978 bu, against 1,391,625 a year ago.

Omaha Priest Arrested.

Pender, Neb., Nov. 19.—Fr. Joseph Schell, a Catholic priest in Omaha, has been arrested and brought to this city and arraigned on the charge of forging the name of Mrs. Mary Little Walker to a certificate of deposit for $2,000 drawn on the Homer bank. He pleaded not guilty and the trial was set for next month. Father Schell left today for Washington, where he will seek to place before President Roosevelt the conditions which exist at the Winnebago Indian agency, which he alleges are deplorable. He says the Indians are in a starving condition as a result of their persecution by unscrupulous white merchants.

Relief For Starving Indians.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 19.—The reports of the destitution and starvation of Indians on the Five Camp reservations have resulted in the taking of steps in this city for the immediate relief of the sufferers. Food and clothing will be sent to meet their immediate needs. It is intended to raise a fund sufficient to make the Indians comfortable during the winter and to provide them with seed, which should be sown now in order to produce crops for next year.

Dangerous Patients Escaped.

Columbus, O., Nov. 19.—Ralph Doty and Isaac Reynolds, dangerous patients, escaped from the strong ward at the Columbus state hospital last night. The men sawed the iron bars in a window and reached the ground by means of a rope made from strips of a sheet. Doty stabbed an attendant and a carpenter at the institution in an attempt to escape several weeks ago. Both men are from Franklin county.

Murdered by Burgarians.

Salonica, Nov. 19.—During the night of Nov. 17, at the village of Zabandya, near Ghevgelt, a Bulgarian band murdered a priest named Stoyan, together with his two brothers. The murderers then set fire to the house, burning to death Stoyan's wife and child.

Turkey Buying Guns.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—A dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Constantinople says Turkey is ordering a hundred new batteries of artillery from German, French and English factories at the cost of $10,000,000. The Krupp company gets the largest contracts.

Adrian P. O. Bids Rejected.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The treasury department has decided to reject all bids for the construction of a public building at Adrian, Mich., which were opened Monday. All were in excess of the amount available for the work.

Kalamazoo Man Killed.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 21.—The boiler of Grand Trunk passenger engine No. 29 exploded Sunday at Haskell, scalding Fireman Edward Clouney of Kalamazoo, Mich., so badly that he died at a hospital in this city several hours later. Engineer Connorly escaped with slight injuries.

WILL CZAR CONSENT?

Earnest Men Petition For Representative Form of Government.

ZEMSTVOS HAS MET TWICE

Marks New Epoch In History of Russian Nation—Members Are Far From Hopeful, but Have For Once Spoken Their Minds.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 21.—The zemstvo representatives' meeting Sunday adopted the remainder of the memorial. The meeting probably will be continued several days. The memorial and minutes of the meeting will be sent to Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky for transmission to the emperor. What the result will be is a matter of speculation; but the men who have participated in this meeting are in most cases the most influential and able men in their respective provinces, and [illegible] everywhere with the greatest vigor.

Intense Interest.

The government's attitude is awaited with breathless interest. The mere fact that a meeting with such a program was permitted, although official auspices were denied it, is unprecedented; but the vigorous character of the memorial adopted and the resolution to push the agitation must compel the government to act. A parting of the ways is again at hand, and the autocracy, it would seem, must once more choose whether the people shall be allowed a voice in the government.

An Epoch In History.

Reactionaries, of course, are horrified at the mere suggestion of anything approaching a parliament or a constitution. All their power and influence already are in the scale; but no matter which way the balance swings, the decision is bound to mark an epoch in Russian history.

The actual participants in the meeting are far from hopeful; but they sincerely believe the salvation of the country depends on the solution they have to offer, and have the satisfaction of knowing that, as representatives of the most authoritative provincial institutions of the empire, they have once spoken out their views and have taken measures to have them spread before the world, as well as the government which is addressed.

First Meeting.

The first meeting of representatives of zemstvos was held Saturday afternoon at a private residence in this city.

A hundred earnest men, included among whom were some of the most prominent figures in Russia, therefore met and discussed a carefully prepared memorandum, practically embodying a recommendation for a national representative body to have a share in the government. This memorandum will be presented to Emperor Nicholas. Prince Sviatopolk-Mirsky, the minister of the interior, guaranteed the meeting protection from police interference, but secrecy was maintained as to the place of meeting and this effectually prevented demonstrations which had been announced would be made by students. The memorandum includes ten sections, of which seven were indorsed at this first meeting.

Stabbed For "Butting In."

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 21.—Anthony Martin was stabbed to death on the street here Sunday by Burnie Coon, son of Councilman John Coon. Martin and Samuel Rittenhouse asked a colored man for a match. Coon made the remark that no gentleman would ask a negro for a match. The men came to blows and Coon stabbed Martin to death. Coon surrendered to the police.

Injuries Proved Fatal.

Niles, Mich., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Charlotte Potter, aged 77 years, is dead from the effect of injuries sustained when she suffered from a fall six weeks ago. She leaves two daughters.

Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of Jas. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer unyielding to doctors and remedies for 4 years and then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for burns, scalds skin eruptions and piles at C. A. Wright's drug store, 25c.

MADE SIXTEEN ARRESTS.

Detroit Police Employing Every Means to Capture Daley's Murderer.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 19.—The colored desperado who on Thursday night at 11 o'clock shot and killed Patrolman John F. Daley in the inclosure at the rear of William Dietrich's paint store, 79 Michigan avenue, where the officer cornered two men who were attempting to enter the place, and who in the alley between Howard and Abbott streets, near Third street, shot and perhaps fatally wounded Herbert H. Pickell, 94 Cass street, a special officer in the employ of the Michigan Central railroad, is still at large.

The police are baffled. With almost one thousand men, including the police of the local force, and the special detectives of the various railroads, deputies and others on watch, the murderer, hunted like a miserable rat from one place to another, has disappeared as if by magic. Not even the most slender shred of a clue has been found that will show where the man is hiding, or how he escaped from the city that was guarded until long after daybreak by a veritable network of officers and police.

The officers have, however, landed upon numerous suspects and sixteen arrests have followed as a result of these deplorable crimes, but nearly all of them have been released, since no evidence that they committed the crimes could be fastened upon any of them.

MAD INFATUATION

Led to Double Tragedy In Suburbs of Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 19.—Investigation into the deaths of Mrs. William Miller, wife of the steward of the Detroit Wheelmen's club, and Henry Hillebrand, a young bartender of this city, who were found dead from gunshot wounds at Wyandotte Friday morning, does away with the rumor that they were murdered, and further strengthens the first opinion of the officers that Hillebrand shot the woman and then committed suicide.

The cause of the tragedy is believed to lie in the infatuation of the bartender for Mrs. Miller. According to a letter written by the dead woman to Hillebrand, her husband knew of their intimacy and she advised him to keep away from her. The bartender is thought to have begged her to go away with him Thursday night and when she refused he fired the fatal shots.

The two were found dead in a buggy on the Wyandotte road. All evidence points to a double tragedy save that the revolver with which the shooting was done cannot be found.

INVENTS FLYING MACHINE.

Aged Man at Kalkaska Has One Nearly Perfected.

Kalkaska, Mich., Nov. 19.—W. C. Freeman, the airship inventor, is working hard on his machine here. It is now completed with the exception of the burners for furnishing steam. Freeman bought two in Massachusetts, but was unable to operate them satisfactorily. Now the gray haired inventor is building a pair of burners after his own design and believes they will work successfully.

Freeman claims that some time next week everything will be in readiness for another indoor test.

Freeman, who is 85 years of age, is in poor health, and there are days when he is not able to leave his home. But he has wonderful vitality and may be found day and night at his little shop studying out some new plan for his wonderful machine.

Long Sentence For Thief.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 19.—Arthur Turner, who confessed he was one of the men who went into the shoe store of Emil Knorr, 479 Baker street, last Saturday night and stole $14 and a gold watch, was sentenced by Judge Murphy yesterday afternoon to the house of correction for twenty to twenty-five years and was taken to his new home at 4 o'clock. Nothing but the good record of the prisoner previous to the hold-up prevented the court from giving him life imprisonment.

Only makes a bad matter worse.!!

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sal by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and, when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by druggists, 75c.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa. U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Not a sick day since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was intirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. Bass of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at C. A. Wright's.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken 2 bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

CHAPTER XXIII.

"Because I was thinking of him; because I was terrified for him. He had left the house the morning before in a half maddened condition and had not come back to sleep or eat since. I did not know what a man so outraged in every sacred feeling of love and honor might be tempted to do. I thought of suicide. I remembered the old house and how he had said: 'I don't believe her. I don't believe she ever did so cold blooded an act or that any such dreadful machinery is in that house. I never shall believe it till I have seen and handled it myself. It is a nightmare, Cora. We are insane.' I thought of this, sirs, and when I went into her room to change the place of the little note in the book I went to his bureau drawer not to look for the pistol—I did not think of that then—but to see if the keys of the Moore house were still there. I knew that they were kept in this drawer, for I had been present in the room when they were brought in after the wedding. I had also been shortsighted enough to conclude that if they were gone it was he who had taken them. They were gone, and that was why I flew immediately from the house to the old place in Waverley avenue. I was concerned for Mr. Jeffrey. I feared to find him there, demented or dead."

"But you had no key."

"No; Mr. Jeffrey had taken one of them and my sister the other, but the lack of a key or even of a light, for the missing candles were not taken by me [we afterward found that these candles were never delivered at the house at all; that they had been placed in the wrong basket and left in a neighboring kitchen], could not keep me at home after I was once convinced that he had gone to this dreadful house. If I could not get in I could at least hammer at the door or rouse the neighbors. Something must be done. I did not think what; I merely flew."

"Did you know that the house had two keys?"

"Not then."

"But your sister did?"

"Probably."

"And finding the only key, as you supposed, gone, you flew to the Moore house?"

"Immediately."

"And now what else?"

"I found the door unlocked."

"That was done by Mrs. Jeffrey?"

"Yes, but I did not think of her then."

"And you went in?"

"Yes; it was all dark, but I felt my way till I came to the gilded pillars."

"Why did you go there?"

"Because I felt—I knew—if he were anywhere in that house he would be there!"

"And why did you stop?"

Her voice rose above its usual quiet pitch in shrill protest:

"You know! you know! I heard a pistol shot from within, then a fall. I don't remember anything else. They say I went wandering about town. Perhaps I did; it is all a blank to me—everything is a blank till the policeman said that my sister was dead and I learned for the first time that the shot I had heard in the Moore house was not the signal of his death, but hers. Had I been myself when at that library door," she added, after a moment of silence, "I would have rushed in at the sound of that shot and have received my sister's dying breath."

"Cora!" The cry was from Mr. Jeffrey, and seemed to be quite involuntary. "In the weeks during which we have been kept from speaking together I have turned all these events over in my mind till I longed for any respite, even that of the grave. But in all my thinking I never attributed this motive to your visit here. Will you forgive me?"

There was a new tone in his voice, a tone which no woman could hear without emotion.

"You had other things to think of," she said, and her lips trembled. Never have I seen on the human face a more beautiful expression than I saw on hers at that moment; nor do I think Mr. Jeffrey had either, for as he marked it his own regard softened almost to tenderness.

The major had no time for sentimentalities. Turning to Mr. Jeffrey, he said:

"One more question before we send for the letter which you say will give us full insight into your wife's crime. Do you remember what occurred on the bridge at Georgetown just before you came into town that night?"

He shook his head.

"Did you meet any one there?"

"I do not know."

"Can you remember your state of mind?"

"I was facing the future."

"And what did you see in the future?"

"Death. Death for her and death for me! A crime was on her soul, and she must die; and if she, then myself. I knew no other course. I could not summon the police, point out my bride of a fortnight and, with the declaration that she had been betrayed into killing a man, coldly deliver her up to justice. Neither could I live at her side knowing the guilty secret which parted us, or live anywhere in the world under this same consciousness. Therefore, I meant to kill myself before another sun rose. But she was more deeply stricken with a sense of her own guilt than I realized. When I returned home for the pistol which was to end our common misery I found that she had taken her punishment into her own hands. This strangely affected me, but when I found that, in doing this, she had remembered that I should have to face the world after she was gone and so left a few lines for me to show in explanation of her act, my revolt against her received a check which the reading of her letter only increased. But the lines she thus wrote and left were not true lines. All her heart was mine, and if it was a wicked heart she has atoned"—

He paused, quite overcome. Others among us were overcome, too, but only for a moment. The following remark from the district attorney soon recalled us to the practical aspects of the case:

"You have accounted for many facts not hitherto understood. But there is still a very important one which neither yourself nor Miss Tuttle has yet made plain. There was a candle on the scene of crime. It was out when this officer arrived here. There was also one found burning in the upstairs room, aside from the one you professedly used in your tour of inspection there. Whence came those candles? And did your wife blow out the one in the library herself previous to the shooting, or was it blown out afterward and by other lips?"

"These are questions which, as I have already said, I have no means of answering," repeated Mr. Jeffrey. "The courage which brought her here may have led her to supply herself with light, and, hard as it is to conceive, she may even have found nerve to blow out the light before she lifted the pistol to her breast."

The district attorney and the major looked unconvinced, and the latter, turning toward Miss Tuttle, asked if she had any remark to make on the subject.

But she could only repeat Mr. Jeffrey's statement.

"These are questions I cannot answer either. I have said that I stopped at the library door, which means that I saw nothing of what passed within."

Here the major asked where Mrs. Jeffrey's letter was to be found. It was Mr. Jeffrey who replied:

"Search in my room for a book with an outside cover of paper still on it. You will probably find it on my table. The inner cover is red. Bring that book here. Our secret is hidden in it."

Durbin disappeared on this errand.

CHAPTER XXIV.

I MADE my way to the front door, but returned almost immediately. Drawing the major aside, I whispered [illegible] led to a certain small article being passed over to me, after which I sauntered out on the stoop just in time to encounter the spruce but irate figure of Mr. Moore, who had crossed from the opposite side.

"Ah!" said I. "Good morning!" and made him my most deferential bow.

He glared, and Rudge glared from his place on the farther curb. Evidently the police were not in favor with the occupants of the cottage that morning.

"When is this to cease?" he curtly demanded. "When are these early morning trespasses upon an honest citizen's property coming to an end? I wake with a light heart, expecting that my house, which is certainly as much mine as is any man's in Washington, would be handed over this very day for my habitation, when what do I see? One police officer leaving the front door and another sunning himself in the vestibule. How many more of you are within I do not presume to ask. Some half dozen, no doubt, and not one of you smart enough to wind up this matter and have done with it."

"Ah! I don't know about that," I drawled, and looked very wise.

His curiosity was aroused.

"Anything new?" he snapped.

"Possibly," I returned, in a way to exasperate a saint.

He stepped on to the porch beside me. I was too abstracted to notice; I was engaged in eying Rudge.

"Do you know," said I, after an instant of what I meant should be one of uncomfortable suspense on his part, "that I have a greater respect than ever for that animal of yours since learning the very good reason he has for refusing to cross the street?"

"Ha! What's that?" he asked, with a quick look behind him at the watchful brute straining toward him with nose over the gutter.

"He sees farther than we can. His eyes penetrate walls and partitions," I remarked. Then, carelessly and with the calm drawing forth of a folded bit of paper which I held out toward him, I added, "By the way, here is something of yours."

His hand rose instinctively to take it; then dropped.

"I don't know what you mean," he remarked. "You have nothing of mine."

"No? Then John Judson Moore had another brother." And I thrust the paper back into my pocket.

He followed it with his eye. It was the memorandum I had found in the old book of memoirs plucked from the library shelf within, and he recognized it for his and saw that I did also. But he failed to show the white feather.

"You are good at ransacking," he observed. "Pity that it cannot be done to more purpose."

I smiled and made a fresh start. With my hand thrust into my pocket I remarked without even so much as a glance at him:

"I fear that you do some injustice to the police. We are not such bad fellows; neither do we waste as much time as you seem to think." And, drawing out my hand with the little filigree ball in it, I whirled the latter innocently round and round on my finger. As it flashed under his eye I cast a penetrating look.

He tried to carry the moment off successfully; I will give him so much credit. But it was asking too much of his curiosity, and there was no mistaking the eager glitter which lighted his glance as he saw within his reach this article which a moment before he had probably regarded as lost forever.

"For instance," I went on, watching him furtively, though quite sure from his very first look that he knew no more now of the secret of this little ball than he knew when he jotted down the memorandum I had just pocketed before his eyes, "a little thing, such a little thing as this," I repeated, giving the bauble another twist, "may lead to discoveries such as no common search would yield in years. I do not say that it has; but such a thing is possible, you know—who better?"

My nonchalance was too much for him. He surveyed me with covert dislike and dryly observed:

"Your opportunities have exceeded mine, even with my own effects. That petty trinket which you have presumed to flaunt in my face—and of whose value I am the worst judge in the world, since I have never had it in my hand—descended to me with the rest of Mrs. Jeffrey's property. Your conduct, therefore, strikes me in the light of an impertinence, especially as no one could be supposed to have more interest than myself in what has been for many years recognized as a family talisman."

"Ah," I remarked, "you own to the memorandum, then. It was made on the spot, but without the benefit of the talisman."

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

It is surprising how much emphasis a woman who wears a swich and has her face powered can put in the words "Men are deceivers ever."

Women Rejoice in Health and Beauty.

Zoa Phora Gives Perfect Health and Health Means Beauty for Women—They All Rejoice in its Wonderful Work.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Woman.

There is only one thing for a weak and suffering woman to do and that is to use Zoa Phora. It makes no difference how many remedies you have tried or how many doctors have treated you that failed, Zoa Phora cures these cases one and all. Thousands upon thousands of letters from suffering women throughout the land prove this, so that none can fail to be convinced. It is the greatest blessing of the age for suffering women. It cures all irregularities, misplacements, painful and suppressed periods, makes childbirth easy, cures liver, bladder and kidney troubles and regulates the change of life. It will bring joy and health and happiness to any suffering woman just as it has always done and never failed to do.

Miss Florabel Blessing, 219 W. Lincoln St., Kokomo, Ind., says: "I can truly say that Zoa Phora has completely cured me of my awful suffering; I am perfectly regular now and I don't suffer at all at that time. I do not have ovarian pain any more, and the leucorrhea has entirely disappeared. I feel better now than I have in four years, and I know that it was Zoa Phora that cured me, and it will cure others if it cured me, because I know that nobody can suffer any more than I did, for I suffered death over and over. I would not be without Zoa Phora, for it is indeed 'Woman's Friend.'

"I will say that whoever don't believe Zoa Phora is a good medicine for women to take, they don't know what they are talking about, and whoever don't believe this statement, let them please write to me and I will certainly tell them the same, if they will send addressed stamped envelope. I will answer any one who wants to write and find out if it is so.

"You can use my name in any way that will help you with your medicine, and I will be glad to have you do so."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

Generous offer to all with weak digestion or stomach troubles.

With every box of Mi-o-na sold C. A. Wright gives the following guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for Mi-o-na on return of empty box, if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two boxes, or a month's treatment. Price 50c per box.

(Signed)..................

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of dyspepsia. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If Mi-o-na were not successful in 91 cases out of 100, an offer like this would be ruinous. This offer shows the faith C. A. Wright has in the health-giving powers of Mi-o-na and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month anyway. If it fails to help you, the cost is absolutely nothing, while if it does what is claimed for it, the expense is trifling.

This is Howe's fourth visit to Tecumseh. Nothing is looked forward to more by both old and young than Howe's moving pictures, which are both entertaining and instructive. New Bradley Wednesday evening, Nov. 23.

The Hayden mills have completed their large dam and resumed operations Monday. This new dam is of late design and put in at a large expense it will probably be good for many years. There has been used in its construction over a carload of cement, 15,000 feet of lumber and 100 loads of gravel.

What the people want.

Conditions today in the art of entertaining, call for a man of an analytical cast of mind, who is keen to recognize the unwritten and unspoken wants of amusement patrons, and having recognized them knows precisely how to gratify them. Mr. Howe, who will present his latest collection of new moving pictures in the New Bradley opera house, Wednesday, Nov. 23, exemplifies this in the highest degree. This is an age of specialists and in the art and science of projecting moving pictures, Mr. Howe is a specialist par excellence. However, it is not alone, this that explains his great success but because he is broad enough in general experience to scan the horizon of the whole world and with a remarkable intuition invariably select and present subjects that at once attract and hold his great audiences in rapt attention from first to last. It is because he excels in selection as much as in presentation that he surpasses every similar exhibition in existence. His new collection is brimful of interest and entertainment for everybody and a large audience is assured.

Congressman C. E. Townsend started for Panama last Monday, with the committee on interstate and foreign commerce. The committee will be absent about three weeks, and on their return will formulate a bill for the government of the canal zone. Mrs. Townsend will accompany her husband on the journey to Panama.

SOCIAL

Affairs in Tecumseh. Open meeting of the MONDAY CLUB

At the home of Mrs. W. A. Ross. Other social functions this week.

The Monday club gave one of their social afternoons yesterday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Ross which was a departure from usual club programes and was called "Statistics in Philanthropy." Mrs. Howland called the meeting to order and announced the programe which began with Miss Mary Mills at the piano for the opening selection. Mrs. J. O. Eaton gave a paper on "Early Thanksgiving customs," which was a brief history of the Thanksgiving festival from its origin to the present time abounding in bright descriptions of quaint, early customs. The paper was followed by a violin solo by Miss Annabel Ross, an eight year old violinist accompanied by Miss Marguerite Ross at the piano.

Mrs. Garland Gillespie gave a paper on "Jewish charities in America" which was a concise sketch of Hebrew philanthropies, entertainingly told. This was followed by a delightfully rendered solo by Miss McKinney with Mrs. Hodges as accompanist. Mrs. T. C. Harris in a paper on "Work of the Red Cross" gave an interesting description of the work, with a sketch of the origin of the movement which was listened to with close attention. Mrs. W. D. Reed told of the "Charitable work of the Salvation Army" in a paper entertainingly read and carefully written which made the audience better acquainted with the charities of this organization. Miss Darling sang charmingly accompanied at the piano by Miss Flora Crolius.

Mrs. B. J. Garlinghouse gave a paper on "Hull House and College Settlements" which was a fine account of the movements and a lucid explanation of its system and workings from its founding by Toynbee, up to the work of Jane Adams in Chicago. The programe closed with singing of America by all. A feature of the afternoon was the table provided [illegible] of donations for the poor which was well filled with fruit, books, clothing and other suitable gifts which were brought by the ladies to emphasize the spirit of charity which was suggested by the program.

Small tables were spread throughout the spacious rooms and a turkey dinner served to the club ladies and their guests, for which ninety-five covers were laid. Mrs. S. W. Temple was chairman of the committee having the dinner in charge and was assisted by Mesdames Bordine, Hillman, R. B. Gillespie, Crane, Shull, Howard, E. D. Brown, Blanch Fisher, Geo. Harris, J. Eaton, T. C. Harris, Eugene Harris, Hardenburg, Weller, Maybee, A. Waring, Lizzie Smith, Hanley and Florence Temple. The waiters were dressed in Puritan caps and kerchiefs and the tables decorated with chrysanthemums and smilax.

The parlor and music room were hung with garlands of bitter sweet berries over the door ways, mantels and arches and the dining and sitting rooms were decorated with branches of oak leaves in autumn colors, carrying out the idea of the programs which were autumn leaves done in water colors on brown paper covers.

The Monday club has a record for pleasant entertaining which they feel that this Novemer afternoon, with its rustic decorations and New England supper has not lowered and they are indebted to the delightful weather, a charming hostess, an enterprising committee, some exceptionally good papers and some obliging sweet singers and musicians for its great success.

MRS. RULISON ENTERTAINS.

The members of the Aufs Weider Sehn went to Clinton Saturday afternoon, the hostess in that village being Mrs Robt. Rulison. Progressive pedro was played, Mrs. Will Mobbs receiving first prize and Mrs. John Heesen second. Mrs Rulison took her guests to the Congregational church for a chicken pie supper, after which the return trip was made.

Those who enjoyed this pleasant afternoon were Mesdames Henry Farnsworth, J. H. Emery, John Heesen, Bert Mize, Geo. Ziehr, Fred Teachout, Henry McClure, Will Mobbs, Frank Snedicor, and the Misses Viola Zeluff and Margaret Haire.

WIT AND WISDOM.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Temple entertained the Wit and Wisdom club at their home last evening. Miss Julia Lowry gave a piano solo, and Mrs. Ella Hodges and Rae McKenna rendered a duet, beside the regular program. The guests, 40 in number, enjoyed a guessing contest, after which refreshments were served.

A PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT.

The Junior League of the M. E church surprised their former superintendent, Miss Bangs, with a linen shower Saturday p. m. Miss Bangs was the recipient of many beautiful pieces of linen. Games of all sorts were indulged in and after refreshments were served a short program was rendered. Rev. and Mrs. Sedweek planned the affair.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

S. S. Babcock, state regent of the Royal Arcanum, was here from Detroit last evening. The lodge met in the Odd Fellows' hall and conferred the initiatory degree upon Homer Sisson and Will Phillips. The work was followed by a banquet and smoker and a short speech from Mr. Babcock. The order is now 300,000 strong in Michigan.

THE JOLLY TWELVE.

Mrs. Omar Everhart entertained the Jolly Twelve at her home last Friday afternoon at progressive pedro. Mrs. Fred Aldrich won first prize, Mrs. Frank Tunnison, the second. Mrs. Louis Schneider will entertain the club next Friday afternoon.

PROGRESSIVE PEDRO.

The Misses Anna and Alice Cutting entertained at progressive pedro last Friday night at their home south of town. Five tables were played, refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed by every one.

PLEASANT SURPRISE.

A party of 10 boys and girls gave Ralpy Tillsbury a pleasant surprise last Friday night. Games of all kinds were enjoyed during the evening. Refreshments were served.

HONORING JOHN ARBON.

Mrs. Ed Hand gave a party at her home in Brownville last Friday night in honor of her nephew, John Arbon, of Detroit. Light refreshments were served.

MASONIC LODGE.

The Masonic lodge will meet next Friday night. After the work a turkey dinner will be served, which will be followed by a smoker.

DETROIT GRAND OPERA FESTIVAL

Henry W. Savage's English Grand Opera Company with

110 SINGERS AND AN ORCHESTRA OF FORTY,

To be heard in Six Elaborate Productions during the week of November 28.

Music lovers in Detroit and surrounding cities will have another opportunity to hear the celebrated Savage English grand opera company in a repertory of elaborate grand opera productions at the Detroit opera house during the week of Nov. 28. This famous organization is now making a trans-continental tour and its engagements must be limited. The company has been considerably enlarged, having a number of new artists imported this season and now carries a full grand opera orchestra and the approaching opera festival will afford the chief musical event of the year in this part of the state.

With this array of English singing artists, orchestra of 40 musicians and chorus of nearly 70 voices, Mr. Savage has the largest and best English grand opera company in the world. It numbers nearly 150 people and has its own chartered train of 12 cars to carry the immense equipment of scenery, properties, costumes and electrical effects required.

To accomodate these superb productions in Detroit, Manager Whitney will be compelled to make numerous alterations in the stage and remove three row of seats from the orchestra to provide space for the musicians.

The opera festival will open with Puccini's beautiful "La Boheme" the operatic gem that took music lovers by storm when first produced in Detroit last spring and the dates and arrangement of performances will be as follows:

Monday evening, Nov. 28,—Puccini's "La Boheme,"

Tuesday evening, Nov. 29,—Bizet's "Carmen."

Wednesday matinee, Nov. 30,—only performance of Wagner's "Lohengrin."

Wednesday evening, Nov. 30,—only performance of Verdi's "Othello."

Thursday evening, Dec. 1,—a double bill, Macagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana" and Leoncavallo's "I Pagliacci."

Friday evening, Dec. 2,—Puccini's "La Boheme."

Saturday matinee, Dec. 3,—Bizet's "Carmen."

Saturday evening, Dec. 3,—Farewell performance of the double bill.

Among the leading singers to be heard are Joseph Sheehan, the famous high C tenor; Wm. Wegener, the Wagnerian tenor and Reginald Roberts, the Australian tenor, Gertrude Rennyson and Jean Lane Brooks, two superb dramatic sopranos, Marion Ivell, the great contralto whose Carmen has caused such wide comment and Rita Newman, the mezzo soprano who is to be heard in Mme. Schumann-Heink's famous role of Ortrud, Winnifred Goff, America's finest baritone and Arthur Dean, the English baritone direct from Covent Garden, Francis Boyle, the popular basso and Harrison Bennet, the stalwart basso-cantante.

Orchestra will be under the musical direction of the Wagnerian Conductor Elliott Schenck and the Chevalier N. B. Emanuel, who has had 30 years' experience in Europe.

During the opera week the scale of prices will range from $1.50 to 50 cents Sale of seats and boxes will open Thursday morning, Nov. 24. Out of town orders containing remittances and stamped envelope will be filled in the order of receipt.

"Hazel Kirke" presented in Adrian.

Nothing but words of praise can be said of the presentation of "Hazel Kirke" by the Croswell stock company at the opera house Tuesday night. This play has been witnessed a number of years ago with Effie Ellsler in the title role and Coulock in the character of Dunstan and it is always hard to see the play again without making comparisons but after the final curtain on Tuesday night's production one could but think that the presentation given by the Croswell stock company was very creditable and the organization as a whole was a very strong one.

Myron McRoberts proved to be a competent stage manager and the scenes in each act were appropriate and fitting.

Willett's orchestra rendered excellent selections between the acts, which were greatly enjoyed.

Harry P. Hines in the character of Dunstan Kirke, surprised his friends by the dramatic power of his acting. He possesses a good voice and pleasing stage presence and his elocution was almost faultless. He showed the true spirit of an artist and the characterization was both true to life and pleasing in detail. There is no reason why Mr. Hines cannot make a mark upon the stage as he has the qualifications of an artist.

Mr. Hines was only seconded by Miss Charlotte Rogers as Hazel Kirke, and through the action of the play, which required pathos and mirth, she was equal to the occasion and her presentation of the character was excellent.

Will Schwager in the flippant part of Pittacus Green, was delightful. He was natural and thoroughly at home and his comedy work was a bright bit in the production. Nothing but words of praise can be said of his work.

Louis Willett, as Arthur Carringford did justice to the part and should be congratulated on the way he performed the task allotted to him.

A MATTER OF HEALTH

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure

HAS NO SUBSTITUTE

Roy Symonds, as Aaron Rodney, was the dignified country gentleman and did what was required of him in an able manner.

Miss Leola Dawes took the part of Dolly Dutton and Emily Carringford. Notwithstand the different characters, she sustained the parts well.

Miss Agnes Dawes, as Mercy Kirke, did the character to the satisfaction of all.

John White seemed just the one for Barney O'Flynn and made all of the character possible.

Frank Vogel, as Mesula Muggins was also pleasing as was Miss Agnes Dawes, as Clara a maid; Fred Hoenes, as Joe, the miller and each did what was assigned them in a creditable way.

This play will be presented at the New Bradley opera house Saturday evening, Nov. 26, for the benefit of the Odd Fellows.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

Acel Curtis Smith.

Acel Curtis Smith was born in Shortsville, N. Y., May 18, 1839, coming to Michigan when about twenty-one years of age. Three years later he was married to Mary E. Dillon at Church's Corners, Hillsdale county. To them were born four children, they are Cora Brown, of Battle Creek; Anna Britton of Toledo; May Harrison, of Ridgeway, Edith Pierce, of Grand Rapids.

A few years later they moved to Macon, Lenawee county, living afterward at Britton and Ridgeway. Six years ago his wife died at their home in Ridgeway, a year later he was married to Katharine Cox, for many years a resident of Ridgeway, who survives him. He was apparently in his usual health and waiting on customers in the store of his son-in-law, Ed Harrison, when he was, without a moment's warning, stricken with apoplexy, living but fifteen minutes, although a physician was called and everything possible done to revive him.

The funeral was held at the house Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Thomas of Ridgeway officiating.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

The woman of the hour is the one who promises to be ready in a second.

ARE YOU A COMING MOTHER? ARE YOU EXPECTANT?

MOTHER'S FRIEND

makes childbirth easy by preparing the system for parturition and thus shortening labor. The painful ordeal is robbed of its terrors, and the danger lessened to both mother and child; the time of confinement is shortened, the mother rested, and child fully developed, strong and healthy.

Morning sickness, or nausea arising from pregnancy, is prevented by its use.

As pregnancy advances, the breasts enlarge, become swollen and hard. Long before the child is born, they are preparing for the secretion of milk. It is important that they receive early attention. Mother's Friend softens the skin and facilitates the secretion of Life Fluid. Undeveloped breasts, hard-caked shortly after delivery, are the result of non-treatment, and likely to culminate in Mammary Abscess, from which so many suffer excruciating pain and are left with these organs permanently impaired.

Softness, pliability and expansion are given to the muscles and sinews, thus bringing comfort and causing an easy issue of the child. Try it. Of druggists $1.00. Our book "Motherhood" free.

IN A BAD WAY.

Many a Tecumseh reader will feel grateful for this information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

W. C. Witherell, agent for buggies, harness and other machinery, place of business western section of Tecumseh, says: "I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills high enough for they have been a great friend to me. Some years ago I was an expert at sheep shearing and did a lot of that work. Everybody knows it is very hard on the back and it finally brought on a severe pain across my loins. Nothing did any good until I was advised to try these pills. I got a box and they gave immediate relief. When I finished the box the trouble was entirely removed and they are a remedy that I consistently recommend." Call at C. A. Wright's drug store and ask him what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Love letters are promissory notes which generally fall due at the most inconvenient time.

A policeman's testimony.

N. J. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried a half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians and received no benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest throat and lung medicine in the world."

Push and Pull are the heavenly twins that get a man located in Easy street.

When you have a bad cold.

You want a remedy that will not only give quick relief but effect a permanent cure.

You want a remedy that will relieve the lungs and keep expectoration easy.

You want a remedy that will counteract any tendency toward pneumonia.

IMPORTANT CASES.

Calhoun's Circuit Court Has Two on the Docket.

Marshall, Mich., Nov. 21.—Among the important cases on the docket of the Calhoun county circuit court, the November term of which convenes today, are those of Joseph E. Fisher, alias Beckman, and William A. Engle of Burlington township. The former is charged with swindling the late Mrs. Caroline L. Cameron out of $3,000 by means of a forged deed. He was captured in Yankton, S. D. His defense will be mistaken identity.

Engle is charged with manslaughter. He shot and killed Charles Barrington, a neighbor, on the night of Sept. 19. It appears that he mistook Barrington for a trespasser on his farm and shot him before he found out who it was. He will make an effort to get free on the ground of insanity. Both cases will be hotly contested, the best lawyers in the county being arrayed on each side.

BY HANGING.

Old Man at Jackson, While Insane, Committed Suicide.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 21.—Elijah Butcher, a well-known citizen, aged about 70 years, committed suicide here Sunday noon by hanging. He was temporarily insane from ill health.

Killed Her Husband.

Houghton, Mich., Nov 21.—John Brown, a Houghton barber, formerly of Milwaukee, was shot and almost instantly killed by his wife as the result of a quarrel at an early hour in the morning in the Brown home at Hancock. Mrs. Brown was arrested and locked up in the county jail on the charge of murder. The pair quarreled frequently and Mrs. Brown claims when her husband came home early in the morning he was ugly and struck her, precipitating the tragedy. She claims Brown threatened to kill her on several occasions.

Debating Team Chosen.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 21.—The winners of the Central Debating league contest, held Saturday night, are E. M. Halliday of Holly, first; I. W. Jayne, Fenton, second; C. D. Blanchard, Adrian, third. The winners will debate with the Northwestern university representatives at Ann Arbor on Jan. 12. The winner of that match will meet the winner of the Minnesota-Chicago match for the western championship.

Michigan Central's New Scheme.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 21.—A telegram received here from New York states that the Michigan Central Co. will convert its branch road running from this city south through Sturgis to Goshen, Ind., into an electric line. The General Electric Co. of Schenectady, N. Y., is getting out the estimates and designs for the electric locomotives to operate the line. No details of the plans or estimates are given out.

Col. Breckinridge Is Dead.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 21.—Col. William Campbell Preston Breckinridge is dead from a stroke of paralysis sustained Wednesday. The end came peacefully. He had been gradually sinking for twenty-four hours, and for that length of time the case had been known to be hopeless. The funeral will take place this afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, with burial in the Lexington cemetery.

THE DEATH OF HARRY KEMP.

Some day in that bright home above,
Around His blessed throne,
I'll sing with mama forever there
In my immortal home.
There life with joy is all complete,
It's glories are for me,
I'll sing that new sweet song
For my mama when she comes.

I'll walk the golden streets
In that bright world above,
Some day I'll see my mama's face,
Some day we'll clasp each other's hands,
She taught my lips to pray
And look to Him in every hour,
And there to join in that sweet song,
How happy we will be.

Suffering

Will Not Help Your Disease, but Will Weaken Your Nerves.

Folks who think it is better to bear pain than soothe it—are wrong.

Old-fashioned doctors used to say it was better, because they had nothing with which to ease pain but dangerous, heart-paralyzing drugs.

But now, that a safe remedy has been found, Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, it is wrong to suffer, for nothing can be gained but weakened nerves.

A safe rule to remember is: When in pain, take an Anti-Pain Pill.

This will soothe your quivering nerves.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain by restoring the natural secretions, in which they differ from opium and similar narcotic drugs, which relieve pain by checking the action of the glands.

They are sure and harmless, and are the latest medical treatment for the cure of Headache, Neuralgia, Backache, Rheumatism, Dizziness, Toothache, Stomachache, Menstrual (Monthly) Pains. Also nerve irritations like Sea-Sickness, Car-Sickness, Sleeplessness, Indigestion, etc.

Pleasant to take, quick in results.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for sick, nervous headache, and have received the best results. I heartily recommend their curative properties, for they are successful."—REV. RAY A. WATROS, D. D., Iowa City, Ia.

Fell and Broke His Neck.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Nov. 19.—Archie Stewart, aged 61 years, one of the best-known newspaper men in southwestern Michigan, was found dead at his home at Coloma with his neck broken from falling down stairs. Stewart had been in the newspaper business over forty years, for the past eight years doing editorial work on the Coloma Courier and reporting for state papers.

He Was Mortally Injured.

Lawton, Mich., Nov. 19.—Orville Hopkins, aged 76, was driving under the viaduct of the Michigan Central's new double track at this place when the dirt became dislodged above and fell upon his team, frightening the horses so that they backed upon the old track, over which an express train was just passing. The team was killed, the carriage demolished and Hopkins injured so that he will not live.

Fell Overboard.

Mason, Mich., Nov. 19.—A telegram has been received from Capt. C. E. Saire of the Andaste, stating that Elson S. Neely, first mate, fell overboard last night near Detour, two miles from shore, and that the body had not been recovered. Neely's home was in this city, where he leaves an invalid wife and one child.

Mail Carrier's Mishap.

Standish, Mich., Nov 21.—The horse of Marion F. Parker, carrier on R. F. D. route No. 1 of this place, became frightened at a passing freight train and ran away, demolishing the mail wagon and scattering the mail in every direction. Mr. Parker was thrown out, rendered unconscious and injured quite severely about the head and face.

New R. F. D. Routes.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Rural free delivery will be established Dec. 15 at Forest Hill and Sumner, Gratiot county, at the former place with one and at the latter two routes. Additional routes will be established in Gratiot county as follows: Ashley, Carson City, Elwell, Middleton, Pompeii and St. Louis, one route each; Breckenridge and Wheeler, two routes each, and Ithaca, three routes.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh, Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease ladened pain-ridden men and women.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil as a general household remedy for years. In my work as locomotive engineer, I have found it very valuable by putting a few drops in water before drinking. It is a sure preventive for all stomach pains and bad effects from impure water." John H. Weeks, 117 Chittock Avenue, Jackson, Mich. Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

Its Purity Means Health, Its Impurity, Disease and Death—How to Make Pure Blood and New Blood.

Blood is essentially the fluid of life. It permeates every portion of the body to the remotest tips of the members. Any poisonous or diseased particles that enter into the blood are scattered throughout the entire system and infect all its parts. They are transmitted to succeeding generations and cause disease and suffering indefinitely.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures absolutely and permanently scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms, and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a tonic, Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is unexcelled. It makes new, rich, healthy blood and relieves that lassitude and tired feeling, puts new life and vigor into the system, makes the old young and the weak strong. It strengthens the stomach, aids digestion and imparts force into all the functions of the body.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

STEAMER RAN AGROUND.

Big Ocean Liner Is Stranded Off Long Island.

New York, Nov. 21.—The Prince line steamship Sicilian Prince, from Genoa and Naples, lies aground on the Long Island shore, one mile west of the Long Beach life-saving station. The steamer stranded just before daylight Sunday morning and all efforts throughout the day to get the ship into deeper water have proved futile. Four tugs are standing by the vessel, and with hawsers made fast to bow and stern, by their united efforts are keeping her from being washed further on the beach. An attempt was made to float the Sicilian Prince at flood tide, about 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, but she still held fast. Should further attempt fail the 400 steerage and twelve cabin passengers will be taken off on tugs and brought to this city and the cargo will be lightered.

Cures Colds; Prevents Pneumonia

A Stove Bargain

COLE'S HOT BLAST is a great value. We sell it under a positive gaurantee. It burns soft coal, lignite coal, coke, hard coal, wood or any fuel without any change in the stove. You only need one stove for the entire year, Spring, Fall, or dead of Winter. Strikes or soft coal combines cease to be a terror if you have a Cole's Hot Blast.

It is the only stove that keeps the house warm all night and gives the family a warm breakfast room in the morning.

If you feel poor it saves half your fuel bill, while giving the above beautiful results. It will even make a ton of cheap slack soft coal, where available, do more work and hold fire better than your neighbor gets out of a ton of hard coal in his $50.00 stove.

Scientific Construction.

Air-tight and gas-tight construction throughout. A patented steel collar connects the elbow draft to the stove body and can not open by action of the fiercest heat. The patented compound hinge on the lower draft can not warp and the draft door closes air-tight by its own weight. The patented smoke-proof feed door prevents smoke, dust, or gas escaping when fuel is put in the stove. Perfect results, therefore from any fuel. The heavy fire box protects the points where other stoves burn out first, and insures great durability.

Cole's Hot Blast

makes $5.00 worth of any fuel give more heat than $10.00 worth of fuel in any other stove.

CORONER UNDER BOND

Investigation of Wayne County Official's Acts Results In Two Charges.

CONTEMPT AND FALSE PRETENSE

Alleged He Had Defrauded and Cheated State and Practiced Gross Frauds In Presenting Claims—Furnished Bail In Both Cases.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 22.—Coroner John T. Hoffmann, sheriff-elect, charged with false pretenses, was admitted to bail in the sum of $2,000, which was furnished last night by Hoffmann's mother and Mrs. Mary Murrer of Woodmere. The hearing was set for next Tuesday.

The warrant for the arrest of Coroner Hoffmann on the charge of false pretenses was issued at the instance of Prosecuting Attorney Hunt by Police Justice Sellers and placed in the hands of Detective Emory Brooks to serve. The prosecutor based his case upon the facts connected with the death of Mrs. Josephine Summers, who was found dead June 29, 1904. The case was worked up with the assistance of Detective Brooks, who swore out the warrant.

What the Warrant Says.

In brief, the warrant states that John T. Hoffmann was and acted as coroner for the county of Wayne. On Feb. 5, it alleges, the said John Hoffmann, with intent to cheat and defraud the state of Michigan of $56.34, did falsely represent to the auditor-general of Michigan, and also to the deputy auditor-general, that John T. Hoffmann was a lawful claimant and had a correct claim against the state for $56.34, which was filed for payment with the auditor-general, and that Hoffmann also filed with the auditor-general a voucher stating that the deceased, Mrs. Josephine Summers, was a stranger, not belonging to the state, and that the fees in the case were $56.34, which account was approved by Judge Joseph W. Donovan, one of the circuit judges of Wayne, on Feb. 3.

It is claimed that Mrs. Summers had lived in Detroit for several years, yet Hoffmann made it a state case and collected $56.34.

Contempt Charged.

Almost the first move that Judge J. W. Donovan made yesterday morning upon the opening of his court was to sign an attachment for Coroner John T. Hoffmann to answer a charge of contempt of court. The documents had all been prepared by the court's representative, Attorney Allan H. Frazer, and contained affidavits bearing upon cases in which it is alleged that Hoffmann wilfully misled and deceived the court, and that he had practiced gross frauds and dishonesty upon the court in presenting claims against the state of Michigan for allowance.

When Hoffmann was brought into court some time later he had his bondsmen ready and was ordered to appear again Wednesday morning to answer the interrogatories which the court's attorney will have prepared by that time.

It is not probable that Hoffmann's hearing in the contempt proceedings will occur until after his trial on the charge of false pretenses. The court feels that a conviction upon that charge will bring the very result he is after and feels inclined to give Prosecutor Hunt the first crack at Hoffmann.

Caught Making Spurious Coin.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—Secret service men of this city and New York early in the day captured William Bartlett, Harry Seitz, alias "the Mouse," and Charles Clifton, known as "Bunco Charlie," in the act of manufacturing counterfeit silver dollars. Bartlett recently rented the basement of a store, informing the proprietor that he was a dealer in second-hand furniture. The place was suspected and closely watched, the capture being made while the three men were hard at work making the spurious coin.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

FROM BURNING HOUSE

Neighbors Dragged Body of a Montmorency Farmer.

HIS THROAT HAD BEEN CUT

Believed He Met With Foul Play—Alleged He Recently Had Trouble With Wife—She Is Reported to Have Disappeared.

Alpena, Mich., Nov. 23.—The people in the vicinity of Atlanta, Montmorency county, have awakened to the fact that a deep mystery confronts them in the death of Thomas Thrush, a farmer living four miles from that place.

Neighbors passing the Thrush home about 7 o'clock in the evening found the building on fire, and those who first saw the flames rushed into the house, which was apparently deserted, and found stretched out upon the floor the dead body of Thrush, with his throat cut from ear to ear. Word was sent to Atlanta and Sheriff Powell and Dr. Forbes responded. Thrush had been dead but a short time when found.

Two theories are advanced as to the cause of the man's death. One is that he took his own life and the other, which more strongly prevails, is that he was murdered in cold blood. It is alleged that Thrush and his wife have been having trouble to some extent during the past summer, and they now have a divorce suit pending in court. Mrs. Thrush had been married before to a man named Knapp, who disappeared mysteriously and nothing has since been heard of his whereabouts.

It is alleged that Mrs. Thrush has disappeared since the body of her husband was found by the neighbors. The case will be thoroughly investigated by the authorities.

MANY CASES FOR PARDON.

Board Will Consider Thomas F. McGarry at December Meeting.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23.—A meeting of the board of pardons will be held at Ionia Dec. 1 and 2, at which time the following cases will be taken up and considered: Oswald Jensen, Manistee county, attempted criminal assault; Winfield E. Cone, Huron county, burglary; Earl Covey, Hillsdale county, indecent liberties; Frank Moore, Lenawee county, larceny; Howard Burchfield, Eaton county, manslaughter; Steve Colva, Kent county, assault with intent to do great bodily harm; Frank Johnson, Gratiot county, criminal assault; Joseph Marsluki, Saginaw county, larceny; Ira Wright, Muskegon county, illegal cohabitation; John Mitchell, Berrien county, criminal assault; Thomas F. McGarry, Allegan county, bribery; George Magnan, Chippewa county, grand larceny; Clyde Priestley, Isabella county, criminal assault; Harry Swayze, Isabella county, assault with intent to rob; Joseph J. Casemore, Schoolcraft county, attempted criminal assault; Mac Cody, Antrim county, forgery; Harry H. Brunke, Berrien county, manslaughter; Fred E. Owen, Clinton county, burglary; Charles J. Rupert, Kent county, burglary.

Caught by Revolving Shaft.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 23.—August Maske, a 17-year-old boy, was caught on a shaft at the local paper mill and whirled to his death. The boy had been sent under a shaft to remove some rubbish. In backing out his jacket caught on the shaft. The body was horribly mangled.

Shot Pure White Deer.

Marquette, Mich., Nov. 23.—A pure white deer was shot this week by Chris LaBonte while hunting in the woods near town. The animal was a small one, weighing but seventy pounds. Albino deer are very scarce, and it is not every season that one is brought down.

Victim of Dynamite Caps.

Alpena, Mich., Nov. 22.—By the accidental explosion of a dynamite cap, which exploded the others in a box, Eber Bates, a young married man employed as driller in the Alkali company quarries, north of the city, was frightfully injured. One arm was partly blown off, face and head badly cut, neck cut and one eye destroyed. His condition is critical. He has a wife and one child.

FOR THE FIRST TIME

President Introduces a Speaker to Washington Audience.

PRESENTED REV. CHAS. WAGNER

Roosevelt Much Interested In Author's Work In Teaching "The Simple Life"—Related an Actual Incident Occurring In Washington.

Washington, Nov. 23.—President Roosevelt introduced Rev. Charles Wagner, the author, to a large audience at the Lafayette Opera house Tuesday afternoon, where, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian association, he delivered a lecture on "The simple life."

The president, who is a great admirer of Mr. Wagner, was given a cordial reception. In introducing the latter, the president in said said: "Mr. McFarland, Mr. Wagner, Men and Women of Washington:

"This is the first, and will be the only time during my presidency, that I shall ever introduce a speaker to an audience; and I am more than glad to do it in this instance, because if there is one book which I should like to have read as a tract, and also, what is not invariably true of tracts, as an interesting tract, by all our people, it is 'The Simple Life,' written by Mr. Wagner. I like the book because it does not merely preach to the rich, and does not merely preach to the poor. Mr. Wagner has well brought out the great fundamental truth that the brutal arrogance of a rich man who looks down upon a poor man because he is poor, and the brutal envy and hatred felt by a poor man toward a rich man merely because he is rich, are at bottom twin manifestations of the same vice. They are simply different sides of the same shield."

The president then related to the audience an interesting incident where the doctrines of "the simple life" had been practiced by one individual right in Washington.

The affair related to a man named Downey, who operated a livery stable, but who was recently burned out. Previous to this catastrophe Mr. Downey had decided to enlarge his barns, and in order to do so found it necessary to build up close to the rear wall of a colored Baptist church adjoining his property on one side. This would naturally shut the light and air out of the church edifice, and the pastor and trustees approached the liveryman with the proposition that he sell to the church a strip of land six feet wide in the rear of their building. Though such a proposition necessitated the alteration of the plans, Mr. Downey consented to it, but at the final moment the church people decided that, without shouldering more of a debt, they would not be able to carry out the scheme. The result of it was Mr. Downey turned about and made the institution a present of the land.

Not long after Downey's livery stable was visited by the fatal fire. In the words of the president, he completed his story thus:

"It was Sunday morning, and the Baptist church was in session next door to him, and the clergyman stopped and said, 'Now, you women stay here and pray, and you men go straight out and help our benefactor, Mr. Downey,' and go out they did and got his horses all out, so that none of them were burned, although he suffered otherwise a total loss.

"Now, I call that a practical application of Mr. Wagner's teachings."

Boy Died In Bath Tub.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 22.—Clarence Plato Heft, aged 15 years, was found dead in a bath tub at his home soon after finishing a game of football. The boys with whom he played said he complained at the end of the game of pains in the region of his heart. It is thought Heft was attacked by heart failure and fell over into the tub and was drowned.

BLOW UP FOUNDARIES

Attempts Made In Cincinnati and Newport, Kentucky.

IRONMOLDERS ARE ON STRIKE

Situation In Southern Cities Is Threatening—Several Union Men Arrested on Serious Charges—Warrant Out For President Valentine.

Cincinnati, Nov. 23—Charged with various degrees of lawlessness in connection with the strike of union molders of Cincinnati, Covington and Newport, a half dozen men are under arrest today and others are under surveillance. Those in custody are William Patton, alias Friend, charged with murder; Eugene Trainor, charged with murder; Thomas Bracken, charged with murder; Fred Rahauser, Jr., charged with malicious destruction of property; Fred Rahauser, Sr., and John Heck, charged with aiding and abetting the destruction of property.

A warrant was issued Tuesday for Joseph F. Valentine, president of the Ironmolders Union of North America, but as he is out of the city the service could not be had on him. Valentine telegraphed from Cleveland that he would be here today. The headquarters of the ironmolders' union are in this city, and it is claimed President Valentine has been directing the strike that has been in progress for several months. During that time there have been disturbances at different foundaries and on the streets of the three cities. On Oct. 7 Samuel Weakley, a non-union molder, was killed, and Frank Brown, who accompanied Weakley, narrowly escaped from strikers who assaulted them.

During the past few days the situation became more threatening around the foundaries and attempts were made Monday night to blow up two of them with dynamite, one in this city and the other in Newport, Ky. No arrests have been made in Newport, although the situation is more threatening there than at any other locality.

McKINLEY MEMORIAL.

Plans Presented by Architect McGonigle Are Ratified.

New York, Nov. 23.—The national trustees of the McKinley Memorial association, who have in their charge the erection of the McKinley monument in Canton, O., met here Tuesday and viewed the design presented by the official architect, H. Van Buren McGonigle. The appointment of the architect was ratified by the committee, after which the plans were minutely inspected.

At the close of the meeting it was stated that the sum needed had not been raised and that changes which may be necessary will be made for financial rather than artistic reasons.

The drawings are said to show a massive structure, unlike either the Grant monument in New York or the Garfield monument in Cleveland. Its situation on the top of a hill renders a beautiful approach possible, and the opportunities offered gave the architect an idea which, it is said, would require more money than the trustees have in hand. They have now about $550,000 and need about $50,000 more to carry out the plans as they wish.

The design will not be disclosed to view until it has been completely and finally accepted.

Killed by Falling Slate.

Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 23.—Joseph Krause, a miner, aged 28, was struck by falling slate in the Verne mine, eighteen miles south of here. Both legs and his back were broken, his skull fractured and he died at St. Mary's hospital.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sal by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa. U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

W A. Herren of Finch, Ark; writes, "I wish to report that Foley's Kidney Cure has cured a terrible case of kidney and bladder trouble that two doctors had given up." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

A heavy load.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Not a sick day since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was intirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. Bass of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at C. A. Wright's.

A woman can have a good time thinking what a good time she would have if she were having it.

Foley's Honey and Tar always stops the cough and heals the lungs. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

He could hardly get up.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken 2 bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

In an argument, the way to get the other fellow mad is not to let him get you mad.

The little folks love Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Pleasant to take; perfectly harmless. Positive cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma.

CHAPTER XXIV

"I own to nothing!" he snapped. Then, realizing that denial in this regard was fatal, he added more genially: "What do you mean by memorandum? If you mean that recapitulation of old time mysteries and their accompanying features with which I once whiled away an idle hour, I own to it, of course. Why shouldn't I? It is only a proof of my curiosity in regard to this old mystery which every member of my family must feel. That curiosity has not been appeased. If it would not be indiscreet on your part, may I now ask if you have found out what that little golden ball of mine which you sport so freely before my eyes is to be used in connection with?"

"Read the papers," I said; "read tomorrow's papers, Mr. Moore, or, better still, tonight's. Perhaps they will inform you."

He was as angry as I had expected him to be; but, as this ire proved conclusively that his strongest emotion had been curiosity rather than fear, I felt assured of my ground and turned to re-enter the house. Mr. Moore did not accompany me.

The major was standing in the hall. The others had evidently retreated to the parlor.

"The man opposite knows what he knows," said I, "but this does not include the facts concerning the picture in the southwest chamber or the devilish mechanism."

"You are sure?"

"As positive as one of my inexperience can be. But, major, I am equally positive that he knows more than he should of Mrs. Jeffrey's death. I am even ready to state that in my belief he was in the house when it occurred."

"Has he acknowledged this?"

"Not at all."

"Then what are your reasons for this belief?"

"They are many."

"Will you state them?"

"Gladly, if you will pardon the presumption. Some of my conclusions cannot be new to you. The truth is that I have possibly seen more of this old man than my duty warranted, and I feel quite ready to declare that he knows more of what has taken place in this house than he is ready to avow. I am sure that he has often visited it in secret and knows about a certain broken window as well as we do. I am also sure that he was here on the night of Mrs. Jeffrey's suicide. He was too little surprised when I informed him of what had happened not to have had some secret inkling of it beforehand, even if we had not the testimony of the lighted candle and the book he so hurriedly replaced. Besides, he is not the man to drag himself out at night for so simple a cause as the one with which he endeavored to impose upon us. He knew what we should find in this house."

"Very good. If Mr. Jeffrey's present explanations are true, these deductions of yours are probably correct. But Mr. Moore's denial has been positive. I fear that it will turn out a mere question of veracity."

"Not necessarily," I returned. "I think I see a way of forcing this man to acknowledge that he was in or about this house on that fatal night."

"You do?"

"Yes, sir; I do not want to boast, and I should be glad if you did not oblige me to confide to you the means by which I hope to bring this out. Only give me leave to insert an advertisement in both evening and morning papers and in two days I will report failure or success."

The major eyed me with an interest that made my heart thrill. Then he quickly said: "You have earned the privilege. I will give you two days."

At this moment Durbin reappeared. He had the book in his pocket. Taking it out, he handed it to the major, with this remark:

"You won't find anything there. The gent's been fooling you."

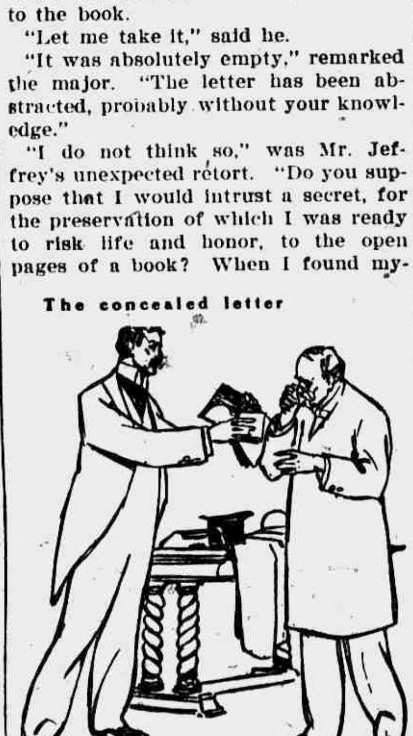
The major opened the book, shook it, looked under the cover, found nothing, and crossed hastily to the drawing room. We as hastily followed him. The district attorney was talking with Miss Tuttle; Mr. Jeffrey was nervously pacing the floor. The latter stopped as we all entered and his eyes flashed to the book.

"Let me take it," said he.

"It was absolutely empty," remarked the major. "The letter has been abstracted, probably without your knowledge."

"I do not think so," was Mr. Jeffrey's unexpected retort. "Do you suppose that I would intrust a secret, for the preservation of which I was ready to risk life and honor, to the open pages of a book? When I found myself threatened with all sorts of visits from the police and realized that at any moment my effects might be ransacked I sought a hiding place for this letter which no man without superhuman insight could discover. Look!"

The concealed letter



And, pulling off the outside wrapper, he inserted the point of his penknife under the edge of the paper lining the inside cover and ripped it off with a jerk.

"I pasted this here myself!" he cried and showed us where between this paper and the boards, in a place thinned out to hold it, there lay a number of folded sheets, which, with a deep sigh, he handed over for the major's inspection. As he did so he remarked:

"I had rather have died any natural death than have had my miserable wife's secret known. But since the crime has come to light this story of her sin and her repentance may serve in some slight degree to mitigate public opinion. She was sorely tempted, and she succumbed. The crime of her ancestors was in her blood."

He again walked off. The major unfolded the sheets.

CHAPTER XXV.

LATER I saw this letter. It opens abruptly:

"I killed him. I am all that I said I was, and you can never again give me a thought save in the way of cursing and to bewail the day I came into your life. But you cannot hate me more than I hate myself, my wicked self, who, seeing an obstacle in the way to happiness, stamped it out of existence and so forfeited all right to happiness forever.

"It was so easy! Had it been a hard thing to do—had it been necessary to lay hand on knife or lift a pistol—I might have realized the act and paused. But just a little spring which a child's hand could manage—who, feeling for it, could help pressing it, if only to see—

"I was always a reckless girl, mad for pleasure and without any thought of consequences. When school bored me I took all my books out of my desk, called upon my mates to do the same, and, stacking them up into a sort of rostrum in a field where we played, first delivered an oration from them in which reverence for my teachers had small part, then tore them into pieces and burned them in full sight of my admiring schoolfellows. I was dismissed, but not with disgrace. Teachers and scholars bewailed my departure, not because they liked me or because of any good they had found in me, but because my money had thrown luster on them and on the whole establishment. This was when I was twelve, and it was on account of this reckless escapade that I was sent west, and kept so long from home and all my flatterers. My guardian meant well by this, but in saving me from one pitfall he plunged me into another. I grew up without Cora and also without any idea of the requirements of my position or what I might anticipate from the world when the time came for me to enter it. I knew that I had money—so did those about me—but I had little or no idea of the amount nor what that money would do for me when I returned to Washington. So, in an evil day, and when I was just eighteen, I fell in love, or thought I did, with a man (oh, Francis, imagine it, now that I have seen you!) of sufficient attraction to satisfy one whose prospects were limited to a contracted existence in a small town, but no more fitted to content me after seeing Washington life than if he had been a common farm hand or the most ordinary of clerks in a country store. But I was young, ignorant and self willed, and thought because my cheek burned under his look that he was the man of men and suited to be my husband—that is, if I thought at all, which is not likely, for I was in a feverish whirl and just followed the impulse of the moment, which was to be with him whenever I could without attracting the teacher's attention. And this, alas, was only too often, for he was the brother of one of our storekeepers, a visitor in Owosso, and often in the store where we girls went.

"We would not have been married in the way we were if he had not wanted to go to the Klondike for the purpose of making money and making it quickly, so that his means might match mine.

"I do not know which of us two was most to blame for that marriage. He urged it because he was going so far away and wanted to be sure of me. I accepted it because it seemed to be romantic and because it pleased me to have my own way in spite of my hard old guardian and the teachers, who were always prying about, and the girls, who went silly over him—for he was really handsome in his way—and who thought (at least many of them did) that he cared for them when he cared only for me.

"I have hated black eyes for a year. He had black eyes.

"I forgot Cora, or, rather, I did not let any remembrance of her hinder me. She was a very shadowy person to me in those days. I had not seen her since we were both children, and as for her letters—they were almost a bore to me; she lived such a different life from mine and wrote of so many things I had no interest in. On my knees I ask her pardon now. I never understood her.

"It was all planned by him—I have no head for such things. Sadie helped him—Sadie was my friend—but Sadie had not much to say about it, for he seemed to know just how to arrange it all so that no one at the seminary should know or even suspect what had occurred till we got ready to tell them. He did not even take his brother into his confidence, for Wallace kept store and gossiped very much with his customers. Besides, he was very busy just then selling out, for he was going to the Klondike with William, and he had too much on his mind to be bothered, or so William said. All this I must tell you or you will never understand the temptation which assailed me when, having returned to Washington, I awoke to my own position and the kind of men whom I could now hope to meet. It was the wife—oh, the folly of it—but this was known to so few, and those were so far removed, and one even—my friend Sadie—being dead—why not ignore the miserable secret ceremony and cheat myself into believing myself free, and enjoy this world of pleasure and fashion as Cora was enjoying it and—trust? Trust what? Why the Klondike! That swallower-up of men. Why shouldn't it swallow one more? Oh, I know that it sounds hateful, but I was desperate; I had seen you.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

A Strong Word.

Dr. Blunt—We must wake her, because I want to ask her if she has obeyed my orders. The Patient's Husband—Er—ah—doctor, it might be as well to—ah—put that question in a somewhat different form.

A minister's wife, a doctor's wife and a traveling man's wife met one day recently and were talking about the forgetfulness of their husbands. The minister's wife thought her husband was the most forgetful man living, because he would go to church and forget his notes and no one could make out what he was trying to preach about. The doctor's wife thought her husband had a poorer memory still, for he would often start out to see a patient and forget his medicine case and travel nine or ten miles for nothing. "Well," said the traveling man's wife, "my husband beats that." He came home the other day and patted me on the cheek and said: "I believe I have seen you before, what is your name?"—Ex.

Taint no use to sit down and whine,
When no fish get tangled in your line;
Bate your hook with a bumble bee,
And keep on taking Rocky Mountain Tea.

DR. ANDREW B. SPINNEY
Formerly of Detroit.
Proprietor of
REED CITY SANITARIUM
THE OLD RELIABLE SPECIALIST

DO YOU WANT FREE CONSULTATION AND CORRECT OPINION OF YOUR CASE.

If you are poor your treatment is free. If you are discouraged and we can cure you, we will wait for our pay until you are well.

Come and see us; this is your last chance.

We live to do good, are honest with all. Forty-five years' experience free. This trip and today only.

The above is the picture of the only Dr. A. B. Spinney in this state. His history is as follows: Fifteen years in private practice, twelve of these in East Saginaw, Mich., with as large a practice as any physician then had. Two years professor in Detroit Homeopathic College and twenty-two years in Detroit. Had charge of Alma Sanitarium eighteen months; Ypsilanti one year, and for the past seven years has owned a sanitarium at Reed City. On December 13, 1902, his sanitarium was burned, loss fifteen thousand dollars; but in forty-eight hours he had bought another and is in good shape for business again. He will move to Belding, Mich., next spring, where he has a Sanitarium with sixty rooms nearly completed.

There is a firm in Detroit calling themselves Spinney & Co. Their history is this: Anson B. Spinney founded the same, but he has been dead some three years, as an extract from the Evening News of September 8th, 1900, will prove. The office has been run by his heirs, putting physicians in the same that they could hire until about a year ago when Kergan & Kennedy bought them out and have been running the business since. I am the only Dr. Spinney in the state. Have been here forty-five years, so do not make a mistake and consult or write the wrong firm if you wish to see me. I am at the Sanitarium every Sunday except one in a month. Will be at the place and date below as follows:

We are coming to your town on date and at place mentioned and are willing to give you our time and the benefit of our forty-four years' experience, free.

It matters not how long you have been sick, or what your ailment, our consultation and advice is free, and our opinions are always the result of careful examinations and a life long experience. The patient is always told the truth and upon just what he can rely. To all who are poor we give treatment absolutely free, only charging cost of medicine. Operations at hospital free, only charging exact cost of board while patient is recovering.

Any person suffering from PILES or any curable disease we will wait for our pay until cured, if you will secure us.

Have you been sick for years and are you discouraged? Come to us and we will cure you. Our prices are the lowest of any chronic disease specialists in the state. Charges at the sanitarium only actual cost. We treat all forms of chronic diseases, but special attention is given to the treatment of the following long standing diseases, viz.: Nasal Catarrh, Polypus, Mucous and Follicular Diseases of the Throat, Foreign Growths in the Larynx, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Bronchial Consumption, Spitting of Blood, Loss of Voice, Enlarged Tonsils, Incipient Consumption, Asthma, Diseases of the Heart, General Debility, Diseases Peculiar to Women, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Strictures, Constipation, Piles, Fissure, Fistula, Irritable and Indolent Ulcers, Hip Diseases, Scrofula, Blood and Skin Diseases, Surgical Diseases of all forms, the Eye, Ear, Face and Internal Organs, including Deformities, Club Feet, Cross-Eyes, Tumors, Hare Lips, etc.; also Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Diarrhea, and all forms of Liver, Stomach and Bowel Diseases.

Remarkable Cures Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failure. Parties treated by mail or express, but personal consultation is preferred.

Remember Date of visit. Come early as parlors are always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering: it has made life anew to thousands who have been pronounced beyond hope. Bring sample of your urine, for examination.

Women Rejoice in Health and Beauty.

Zoa Phora Gives Perfect Health and Health Means Beauty for Women—They All Rejoice in its Wonderful Work.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Woman.

There is only one thing for a weak and suffering woman to do and that is to use Zoa Phora. It makes no difference how many remedies you have tried or how many doctors have treated you that failed, Zoa Phora cures these cases one and all. Thousands upon thousands of letters from suffering women throughout the land prove this, so that none can fail to be convinced. It is the greatest blessing of the age for suffering women. It cures all irregularities, misplacements, painful and suppressed periods, makes childbirth easy, cures liver, bladder and kidney troubles and regulates the change of life. It will bring joy and health and happiness to any suffering woman just as it has always done and never failed to do.

Miss Florabel Blessing, 219 W. Lincoln St., Kokomo, Ind., says: "I can truly say that Zoa Phora has completely cured me of my awful suffering; I am perfectly regular now and I don't suffer at all at that time. I do not have ovarian pain any more, and the leucorrhea has entirely disappeared. I feel better now than I have in four years, and I know that it was Zoa Phora that cured me, and it will cure others if it cured me, because I know that nobody can suffer any more than I did, for I suffered death over and over. I would not be without Zoa Phora, for it is indeed 'Woman's Friend.'

"I will say that whoever don't believe Zoa Phora is a good medicine for women to take, they don't know what they are talking about, and whoever don't believe this statement, let them please write to me and I will certainly tell them the same, if they will send addressed stamped envelope. I will answer any one who wants to write and find out if it is so.

"You can use my name in any way that will help you with your medicine, and I will be glad to have you do so."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

CLUB NOTES.

The regular meeting of the Research Circle was held in the rooms Tuesday, Nov. 22. The president, Mrs. Crosby, called the meeting to order and also took charge of the program, the leader, Mrs. F N. Miller, being unable to do the work. Mrs. Alberts was elected a member of the club and the resignation of Miss Jennie Gillespie was read and accepted. The first paper was read by Mrs. Smeltzer and was very interesting and instructive, the subject being the "Geography of the Philippines, the islanders and their homes," which was much discussed. Mrs. Ora Finch then read a very interesting paper on the subject of "Busy city underground and its subways." In the table talk, a Thanksgiving dinner was discussed at length after which the roll was called, the members answering with Thanksgiving songs.

Dayton, Ohio, Mrs. Mary Simpson—"Everything disagreed with me and baby until I used Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Now baby sleeps and grows like a weed." 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. JOHN J. ORR.

It is surprising how much emphasis a woman who wears a swich and has her face powered can put in the words "Men are deceivers ever."

A good complexion.

"Sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks restored by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers," so writes S. P. Moore of Nacogdoches, Tex. A certain cure for billiousness, constipation, etc. Small pill—easy to take—easy to act. Sold by C. A. Wright.

And Wisdom sits in the market place and cries because she is wise.

When a man tells a woman a joke he usually has to follow it up with an explanation.

There is no cough medicine so popular as Foley's Honey and Tar. It contains no opiates or poisons and never fails to cure. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

A woman's idea of a congenial husband is one who lets her have her own way in everything.

Herb W. Edwards injured.

Herb W. Edwards of DesMoines, Iowa, got a fall on an icy walk last winter, spraining his wrist and bruising his knees. "The next day," he says, "they were so sore and stiff I was afraid I would have to stay in bed, but I rubbed them well with Chamberlain's pain balm and after a few applications all soreness had disappeared." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

The older a joke is the younger is the fellow who gets it off for something new.

Mothers praise it.

Mothers everywhere praise One Minute Cough Cure for the sufferings it has relieved and the lives of their little ones it has saved. A certain cure for coughs, croup and whooping cough. A. L. Spafford, Postmaster of Chester, Mich., says: "Our little girl was unconscious from strangulation during a sudden and terrible attack of croup. One Minute Cough Cure quickly relieved and cured her and I cannot praise it too highly." One Minute Cough Cure relieves coughs, makes breathing easy, cuts out phlegm, draws out inflammation and removes every cause of a cough and strain on lungs. Sold by C. A. Wright.

MONTH'S MEDICINE ON TRIAL

Generous offer to all with weak digestion or stomach troubles.

With every box of Mi-o-na sold C. A. Wright gives the following guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use, the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for Mi-o-na on return of empty box, if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two boxes, or a month's treatment. Price 50c per box.

(Signed)..................

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of dyspepsia. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If Mi-o-na were not successful in 99 cases out of 100, an offer like this would be ruinous. This offer shows the faith C. A. Wright has in the health-giving powers of Mi-o-na and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month anyway. If it fails to help you, the cost is absolutely nothing, while if it does what is claimed for it, the expense is trifling

The new firm took possesion this morning and the HERALD wishes them success.

Chase—Martin.

A quiet and informal wedding took place Wednesday evening at six o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Pocklington in Ridgeway, when their niece, Miss Edyth Mae Chase, became the wife of Mr. B. Frank Martin, Rev. J. H. Thomas performing the ceremony. Owing to the recent death of the groom's father only a very few guests were present, Mr. Chas. Martin of Brooklyn, Mich., the groom's brother, being the only one from out of town.

The bride was gowned in white india lawn and carried pink carnations.

Miss Chase has made her home with her uncle and aunt for the past ten years, hence is well known. Mr. Martin came here from Brooklyn in April and has charge of the D. T. & M. station. The HERALD joins in wishing them a happy future.

Brazee—Piper.

Wednesday evening at six o'clock at the home of the bride's parents in Brownville, Miss Iva Brazee became the wife of Ralph Piper of Clinton, Rev. Leslie Bower performing the ceremony. Only a few of the relatives beside the family were present. A supper was served.

Miss Brazee is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brazee and is a young lady highly respected by every one. The happy couple left yesterday morning for a short visit in Deerfield, after which they will be at home in Clinton.

Thanksgiving Party.

The Thanksgiving party at the Witherall hall last evening was attended by about fifty couples. The music was furnished by the Tipton orchestra and Haskell's Indian Band. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour and refreshments were served, the tables being pretty in smilax and white chrysanthemums. Those from out of town who attended were Harry Rosacrans of Toledo, Chas. and Will Shoen of Adrian, Will Conners of Jackson, Don Wright and Forrest Macham of Chicago.

Live Stock Sale.

Messrs. Clark & Halladay will offer for sale next week one hundred or more Spayed heifer calves from the celebrated S. M. S. Hereford ranch. These calves have nine crosses of hereford and short horn blood, making them practically pure bred stock of a uniform type, the most successful class to feed for "baby beef."

It is a well established fact that one third less grain will produce a pound of flesh when fed to a spayed heifer than when fed to any other kind of beef cattle. The owners hope that this rare offering may attract the interest of cattle feeders in this vicinity, it merits.

THE CHURCHES.

Service in St. Peter's church Nov. 27 at 4 p. m. Subject of sermon by the Rector, "Why I preach the Kingdom of God." Music by vested choir.

Baptist church Sunday morning, "God's Great Praising Day." Evening, "Mount Calvary, or Love of Sacrifice." B. Y. P. U. at six o'clock. Missionary conquest meeting. Leader, Erva Finch.

At the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning the pastor will preach on the subject "Michigan, my Michigan." In the evening the fourth sermon of the series will be given entitled, "What Jesus teaches about Man."

The subject for Christian Endeavor at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening, Nov. 27, is "How intemperance hinders missions," Rom. 14:13-21.

The prayer meeting topic for Wednesday Nov. 30 will be "Vessels unto honor," Tim. 2:19-26.

Sacramental service at the Methodist church Sunday morning. Love-feast at 9 o'clock, followed by reception of new members and the Sacrament of the Holy Communion.

Mrs. Fred Miller will lead the Epworth League meeting next Sunday evening, Nov. 27. Subject, "An Inspiring outlook in India," Matt. 9, 36-38:10, 1-7.

In the evening the revival services will be continued and the Pastor, by request, will preach on the subject of "Faith in the power of the Unseen." Special invitation to doubters for this service.

The pastor of the Methodist church addressed a number of letters to men in all the different callings and professions in our town, who are not members of any church, asking for reasons why they were not members and why men more generally did not attend the service of the church. A number of responces have been received, these questions and responces will be discussed in a series of evening talks. The first one of these talks will be given on the evening of Sunday, Dec. 4. A cordial invitation is extended to all non-church goers to hear these short addresses on living themes. Any question may be asked in writing, any time that is relevant to the subject and will receive gentlemanly consideration.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

Don't get impatient at their most unanswerable questions.

MRS. A. B. WISNER

Writes an Interesting Letter on two days at the ST. LOUIS FAIR.

An Interesting Feature was Queen Victoria's Jubilee Presents.

The World's Fair Grounds! The magnet that is drawing people from all countries. The Mecca of the world over whose almost sacred ground have passed the great from distant lands, earth's most distinguished statesmen, scholars, educators, scientists, diplomats, philanthropists, the masses, men of every calling and from every clime and each and all have found the great exposition eminently worth while.

Climb the long terraced steps leading up to Festival Hall. In the distance you see the blue tints of the Tyrolean Alps. Distance lends enchantment to the view in this case, you do not now notice that they are only plastes. This is a fairy land that you behold, a beautiful land of dreams; you almost wonder if it is yourself standing there. Below lies the Grand Basin, while on either side are the splendid palaces of electricity, varied industries, educational and social economy and manufactures, so rich in architectural construction; while the scene is enriched beyond description with sculpture, the gay gondolas and other water craft and the ever moving masses of people.

If you were to see nothing more on the fair grounds you would feel repaid by this scene for the effort it has cost you. Farewell Hall, one of the most beautiful buildings on the grounds, is only open to the public at recitals when you pay a fee of 25 cents to hear and see the largest organ in the world.

You can see on the pike the straw thatched, mud walled cottage of Robert Burns. The contrast between this hut and the gilt and tinsel of the pike is striking, a violet amidst poppies. You can see on the pike the imposing pile of Battle Abby. Alas! my plebeian mind! It appeared to me in the days of my childhood, a cast[illegible] abode of giants. Now it seems strangely dwarfed by our own massive architecture.

In the building devoted to Anthropology you can see the fine exhibit sent over by the Egyptian government. Here, too, may be found Mosaics and other fine pictures and relics from the Vatican. To the student of Anthropology all the exhibits are worth while.

You can see without extra charge Queen Victoria's Jubilee presents. As you look at the costly things you think truly the wealth of the Indies has not been exaggerated, for the greater number appear to have been presented by Indian potentates. The presents are placed in twenty-four glass cases. There is one richly decorated throne like chair, a screen fan shaped, made up of several hundred of the choicest ostrich feathers, also several smaller screens composed of the most gorgeous feathers, resembling peacock feathers.

Several cases contain saddlery of the richest material and make up and two whose contents are built up with elephant tusks, Indian idols and priceless things peculiar to India. Twenty cases contain costly vases, ornaments, cloth of gold and richly embroidered silks and velvets, but the greater number of presents are cylinders and caskets There are embossed silver cylinders and richly carved ivory and silver caskets and cylinders and caskets made of native woods richly bejeweled.

Many of these caskets are studded with diamonds and other precious stones. There are from sixteen to twenty glass cases and every cylinder and each and every casket contains a proclamation of congratulation to the Queen. Nor is this all. The walls of the room are hung with proclamations of congratulation. Truly, I thought even a Queen has troubles of her own. It was a royal act, this of the British government, to open to the view of the public these magnificent—toys, yet they have a value. As an expression of love, loyalty, devotion from these conquered peoples to one who, in spite of the trappings of royalty, was a truly sweet and womanly woman, they are beyond price.

I ask the courteous English guard at the door if an estimate of the worth of these Jubilee presents has ever been made? He answers no, the Queen would never allow them to be valued.

You are constantly running across all sorts of odd looking people. Turks with European coats and baggy shapeless trousers, but whatever other article of dress a Turk may adopt he will never be found without his fez. Here is a butterfly looking little chap, trigged out in all the colors of the rainbow. Nor do you remember that he is a Spanish gypsy until you have consulted your guide book, there is nothing about him that we would associate with the name gypsy.

You may see in the Government building a restoration of a giant Dinasaur, one of those strange creatures distantly related to our lizard, which roamed over the great west when that section was dotted with fresh water lakes. These animals were from fifty to eighty feet long with a frog like head only two feet long, absurdly out of proportion to the rest of their anatomy. These remarkable creatures were hatched from eggs.

And you may see oh! Ye gods! How many gods you may see, you encounter them at various and unexpected places. There are Chinese gods and Indian and Azteck gods and gods from many other lands, ivory gods, gods of wood and stone and other material. Well, never mind, we've got some gods of our own. The Tolem poles at the Alaskan building are just as delightfully hideous as any of the blue blooded pre-historic gods that have come across the sea.

As I leave the fair grounds where so many foreign nations have been so well represented, I think quite irrelevantly perhaps, about one perfect day in beautiful Belle Isle. Our party had happily fallen in with a Globe Trotter, a man who had circumnavigated the world three times and visited and lived in various parts of it. He had spent a winter in Cuba and was speaking of the advantages of that country and climate. "And is there," said I, "any country in the Orient you like better than Cuba?" "There is," said he, "no country in the whole world that I have seen that I like so well as southern Michigan for the four warm months."

SCHOOL NOTES.

German I has begun reading Gluck Auf.

This is test week and we shall have report cards again.

"A Funny Situation" was the subject of some very interesting essays in English II last Thursday.

The Geometry class have been in the habit of reasoning in circles and now have begun to reason in circles about circles.

On account of the Thanksgiving vacation the monthly tests began last week instead of this. The sooner over, the better.

We would be glad to have some professor of zoology tell us the name of the little animal which now adorns one of the labratory desks.

The English IV pupils have succeeded in raising each other in their own estimation, their last written work was to describe some member of the class.

The freshmen have held another class meeting and announce that they have a new yell. This does not mean, gentle reader, that the world is coming to an end, it is merely the freshies "blowing off steam."

The Sophomores held the second class meeting of the year in Miss Mingay's room last Thursday night. The class colors were changed from blue and white to red and white and several new class yells were considered.

Last Tuesday a foot ball game was played between our high school team and Clinton. Score, 6 and 6. Another game was fought at Hudson Saturday between Tecumseh and Hudson. Score 29 and 0 in favor of Hudson.

Mr. Lyster H. Dewey, botanist in charge of fibre plants in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has sent to the high school some excellent specimens of Mauritius fibre, New Zealand fibre, sisal and some cotton balls of the American Upland variety. Mr. Dewey is a member of the class of '85 of the Tecumseh high school.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

There is something awfully funny about the way all men are broad-shouldered nowadays.

IN A BAD WAY.

Many a Tecumseh reader will feel grateful for this information.

When your back gives out;
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way."
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

W. C. Witherell, agent for buggies, harness and other machinery, place of business western section of Tecumseh, says: "I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills high enough for they have been a great friend to me. Some years ago I was an expert at sheep shearing and did a lot of that work. Everybody knows it is very hard on the back and it finally brought on a severe pain across my loins. Nothing did any good until I was advised to try these pills. I got a box and they gave immediate relief. When I finished the box the trouble was entirely removed and they are a remedy that I consistently recommend." Call at C. A. Wright's drug store and ask him what his customers report.

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Love letters are promissory notes which generally fall due at the most inconvenient time.

"I owe my whole life to Burdock Blood Bitters. Scrofulous sores covered my body. I seemed beyond cure B. B. B. has made me a perfectly well woman." Mrs. Chas. Hutton, Berville, Mich.

When a man goes to his friend's wedding he alternately pities and laughs at him.

Itchiness of the skin, horrible plague. Most everybody afflicted in one way or another. Only one safe, never failing cure. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store, 50 cents.

ASKED TO RESIGN.

Gov. Bliss Calls on Wayne County's Coroners.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 23.—Gov. Bliss has addressed letters reading as follows to Coroners Hoffmann and Toepel of Wayne county:

"Sir—Taking into account the disclosures made during the investigation into the conduct of your office in connection with certain fees collected by you from the state of Michigan, it becomes my duty to demand, and I do demand, that you immediately resign the office of coroner of Wayne county. Your resignation will be for the welfare of the coroners' office in order that its future conduct may have the confidence of the people.

"Respectfully,
"A. T. BLISS, Governor."

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—When asked by a reporter as to what they should do regarding the request of Gov. Bliss that they resign, neither Mr. Hoffmann or Mr. Toepel would commit himself, each declaring he would have to first consult with his attorney.

SIGNS OF GRAFT.

Jackson Alderman Makes a Sensational Statement.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 23.—Alderman Bryers, in the council meeting last night, lifted the cover off a piece of business that seems lax, to say the least, as regards the city and county accounts of Jackson. Previous to 1897 Jackson city sold its own delinquent taxes. Since that time they have been returned to the county treasurer and sold as other taxes, either by the county or off the state land list at Lansing.

Alderman Bryers made the statement that some $13,000 worth of taxes had been turned over to the county and thence to the state of Michigan, for which the city has never received a cent. It is true that some of them are still on the state land list waiting for purchase by tax title men, and the statement that many of them have been sold and the money received, either at Lansing or at the Jackson county treasurer's office and not returned to the city, is said to have considerable foundation.

Alderman Bryers is urging an investigation.

FARM HAND ROBBER.

Nebraska Cashier Shot by Man Claiming to Be From Michigan.

Platte Center, Neb., Nov. 23.—William Holden, a farm hand, during the noon hour entered the Platte Valley bank, demanded the bank's cash, and on refusal of Cashier Barney Schroeder to surrender it, shot the latter in the breast, inflicting a serious but not fatal wound. He made his escape in a buggy without securing any money. Holden was pursued and later captured by Sheriff Carrig, after the robber had fired at his pursuers.

The prisoner was taken back to Platte Center and Sheriff Carrig had hard work to save him from mob violence. He was positively identified by Schroeder, even though he had changed his clothing and removed a glass eye that he was wearing when he did the shooting. Holden says his home is in Michigan. He is about 35 years old.

Hanged by Accident.

Newberry, Mich., Nov. 23.—Mat Lervelin, employed at the stone quarries fifteen miles south, was the victim of a peculiar accident resulting in his being hanged. Lervelin was working around a tackle and pulley that was attached to a donkey engine. Through a mistake in signals the engine was started up. The rope became twisted around Lervelin's neck and he was yanked to the top of the derrick before the engine could be stopped. His neck was broken, death being instantaneous.

Young Hunter's Awful Fate.

Hesperia, Mich., Nov. 23.—Ralph Rook, the young hunter who disappeared Friday night, was found by the searching party in a cornfield one mile from town, dead. Rook was shot in the right side of the face and all the clothing burned from his body. Appearances indicate that he made a desperate fight for life, and it is believed that he burned to death from accidental shooting.

Fined For Cruelty.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Nov. 23.—Wilbur B. Snow, formerly state dairy and food commissioner, paid a fine of $200 in the circuit court for cruelty to animals. It will be remembered that last fall Snow brought a drove of ponies from the west, and during the coldest weather of the winter kept them loose in a pasture, with no food except what they could pick. A number of them died, and the Kalamazoo County Humane society caused his arrest.

Incorporated In Michigan.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 22.—The South Bend & Southern Michigan Railway Co. has been incorporated in Michigan with a capital stock of $25,000. The capital will be used to build a line between Buchanan and Niles as soon as weather will permit.

SARAH A. FORREST.

Sarah A. Forrest was born in England Aug. 8, 1828 and died at her late home in Ridgeway Nov. 16, '04, aged 76 years, 3 months and 8 days. Her last illness, which was very severe, seemed to have been occasioned partially at least, by the death of her husband about 8 years ago and a year later of a beloved daughter. These bereavements bore heavily upon both mind and body. She retained her faculties until quite recently when a cloud seemed to have gathered about her mind that added seriously and sadly to the severity of her last illness, but she has passed over to the realms where there is no impaired vision or clouds to obscure the mind. She has heard the voice of the Master saying, "Come my weary one, and rest in the home not made with hands."

The deceased was married to Samuel Barlow April 23, 1850 and immediately came to America, arriving in Adrian on June 8, 1850. They lived for a time in Raisin and Tecumseh and finally settled in the township of Ridgeway first in the English settlement and later on the Freer farm which they had purchased. In 1888 they purchased the village property and resided here until death has taken them to their eternal home.

Four children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Barlow, a son who died in infancy, Mrs. Ellen Gripton, who died seven years ago, Mrs. Belle Bush of Brooklyn, N. Y., and James, who lives on a farm near the village. Mrs. Barlow was converted about 20 years ago and joined the Christian church. After moving to this place she joined the Ridgeway M. E. church during the pastorate of Rev. Lowry and continued her membership in the same until death.

She has gone to her reward. One by one the old pioneers are passing over, they who were a race of heroes. They have made this country what it is. We inherit the results of their toil and sacrifices. May their memory ever inspire us to acts of true devotion and a consecration to noble purposes. The funeral services were conducted from the late home by Rev. Thomas, Nov. 19.

Bright's Disease

Caused the death of Doctor Bright. Bright's Disease is simply slow congestion of the Kidneys. In the last stage the congestion becomes acute and the victim lives a few hours or a few days, but is past saving. This insidious kidney trouble is caused by sluggish, torpid, congested liver and slow, constipated bowels, whereby the kidneys are involved and ruined.

Drake's Palmetto Wine is a foe to congestion of Liver, Kidneys and tissues. It promptly relieves the congestion and carries it out of the Liver, Kidneys, tissues and blood. Drake's Palmetto Wine restores the mucous membranes to healthy condition, relieves the membranes throughout the body from inflammation and Catarrh and cures Catarrh, Constipation and Liver and Kidney disease to stay cured. It gives relief immediately, builds up vigor and health, prolongs life and makes it enjoyable. A trial bottle always gives relief and often cures. A trial bottle will be sent to every reader of this paper who will write to Drake Formula Company, Drake Building, Chicago, Ill. A postal card will bring this wonderful tonic Palmetto medicine to you absolutely free. It is a boon to disease ladened pain-ridden men and women.

I was all run down from nervousness and overwork and had to resign my position and take a rest. I found that I was not gaining my strength and health as fast as I could wish, and as your Wine of Cardui was recommended as such a good medicine for the ills of our sex, I bought a bottle and began using it. I was satisfied with the results from the use of the first bottle, and took three more and then found I was restored to good health and strength and able to take up my work with renewed vigor. I consider it a fine tonic and excellent for worn-out, nervous condition, and am pleased to endorse it.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil as a general household remedy for years. In my work as locomotive engineer, I have found it very valuable by putting a few drops in water before drinking. It is a sure preventive for all stomach pains and bad effects from impure water." John M. Weeks, 117 [illegible] Avenue, Jackson, Mich. Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

Its Purity Means Health, Its Impurity, Disease and Death—How to Make Pure Blood and New Blood.

Blood is essentially the fluid of life. It permeates every portion of the body to the remotest tips of the members. Any poisonous or diseased particles that enter into the blood are scattered throughout the entire system and infect all its parts. They are transmitted to succeeding generations and cause disease and suffering indefinitely.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures absolutely and permanently scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the glands and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms, and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a tonic, Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is unexcelled. It makes new, rich, healthy blood and relieves lassitude and tired feeling, puts new life and vigor into the system, makes the old young and the weak strong. It strengthens the stomach, aids digestion and imparts force into all the functions of the body.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is guaranteed to give satisfaction or the purchase price will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

APPEAL NOT IN VAIN

Great Czar May Grant Constitution to His Country.

HE CONFERS WITH ZEMSTVOISTS

His Action Creates Tremendous Sensation—Was Deeply Impressed By Zemstvo Memorial—Supporters of Old Regime Amazed.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 26.—The unexpected may happen after all. The meeting of the Zemstvoists "first Russian congress," as it is now called, may indeed work the inauguration of a new era for Russia. Emperor Nicholas, the initiator of the plan for universal disarmament, may turn back upon the reactionaries and crown his reign by granting to his subjects the constitution which his grandfather had already prepared when he fell by the hand of an assassin.

The basis of such a possibility is the significant fact that late Friday afternoon the emperor received in the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo, M. Shipoff, of Moscow; M. Petrunkeivitch, of Tever; M. Rodzianko, of Ekaterinoslav, and Count Heiden, four prominent members of the Zemstvo congress, and listened at length to their views. It develops that when Minister of the Interior Sviatopolk-Mirsky presented the Zemstvo memorial and resolutions on November 24, the emperor was so deeply impressed as well by the contents of the documents as by the character of the signers, that he immediately expressed the desire to personally receive a deputation of four.

By Imperial Command.

The Zemstvoists therefore went to Tsarkoe-Selo by imperial command. At their audience it is understood they explained fully their position and reiterated the views expressed by the memorial that the salvation of the empire from ruin by revolution lay in the adoption of the general ideas expressed in the memorial. The emperor was greatly impressed by what he heard, and asked many questions. While it is understood that he gave no indication of his purpose except the sympathy he displayed, the deputation, when they returned to St. Petersburg, were in high spirits. Naturally they declined to say anything for publication regarding the visit.

The news that the delegation had been given an audience by the emperor spread like wildfir through the city, and created a tremedous sensation, rejoicing among liberals and amazement among the uncompromising supporters of the old regime. Earlier in the day the report was current that an immediate effect of the Zemstvo meeting would likely be the realization of the plan for giving two elected Zemstvo representatives seats in the council of the empire.

Killed Herself With Rifle.

East Jordan, Mich., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Lillie Engles, who was separated from her husband, committed suicide Thanksgiving day near Mancelona at a lumber camp, where she, her mother and brother were employed, by shooting herself through the heart with a Winchester rifle. The tragedy is attributed to domestic trouble.

Hunter Bled to Death.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 26.—While August Mayworm and Frank Dannalla, Hurontown farmers, were hunting on the south range, Mayworm was accidentally killed by the discharge of Dannalla's gun. The shot struck him in the leg and he bled to death He was 26 years old.

Author Ibsen Is Ill.

London, Nov. 26.—Heinrich Ibsen, the author, according to a dispatch from Stockholm to the Chronicle, has had several attacks of heart trouble. His condition is dangerous, and there is little hope of his recovery, although he was somewhat better on Thursday.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They cut off maladies no matter how severe and irrespective of old age. Constipation, dyspepsia fever, jaundice all yield to this perfect pill. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

HAD ANOTHER GRAFT

Detroit Newspaper Alleges Coroner Was in Pay of Street Railway.

NO VERDICTS AGAINST THEM

Where Persons Had Met Death in Accidents or Collisions—Hoffmann Got Fee of $10 for Copy of Testimony.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 28.—According to one of Detroit's newspapers a further source of income to Coroner Hoffmann has been discovered in the Detroit United railway. The difference between this and some of the other sources lies in the fact that with the D. U. R. it made no difference whether the victim of the coroner's inquest was a subject for a state case or not, so long as it was one in which that company was interested.

According to a statement by an official of the D. U. R., Coroner Hoffmann has been receiving $10 payments from the company.

A reporter asked Louis J. Schneider about it. Mr. Schneider is a claim agent for D. U. R., whose business it is to hustle around and adjust any possible action or claim for damages when an accident happens by which a person is killed or injured by a street car.

"Has Coroner Hoffmann been on the payroll of the D. U. R.?" the reporter asked of Mr. Schneider.

"No, no, there's nothing to that," said Schneider.

"Did Hoffmann ever receive any money from the D. U. R.?"

"Well, he did in this way," Schneider answered. "When a case came up in his court in which the railway was interested it was usual for the company to buy a copy of the testimony for $10 in each case. He never received any other money that I know of.'

The prominent feature of all this, says the newspaper, stands out in the fact that the railroad company paid $10 for transcripts of testimony. The rate allowed by law to the coroner for copying, as a part of his official duty, the testimony taken at an inquest is 10 cents per folio. In the "state" cases, for collecting fees in which the two coroners are now having their troubles, the charge to the state was invariably at 10 cents per folio, a total of only 40 cents in each case. And yet the D. U. R. has, according to Claim Schneider, been paying Coroner Hoffmann $10 apiece for transcripts of this testimony.

Attorney Walter Ross, who was formerly claims agent for the Detroit United, said last night that it was customary for the railroad company to purchase transcripts of the testimony taken in inquests in which the company was concerned, but stated that he could not recall how much was paid.

This newspaper also claime that it is a noteworthy fact, under the existing circumstances, that in not one of 44 cases during the term which Hoffmann has served, in which the deceased persons met death where the D. U. R. was interested was the Detroit United railway, which company operated the cars, held responsible for a death. The record of the inquests in these cases discloses verdicts which say either that the deceased came to death through his or her own carelessness, or the verdict is an open one, leaving the responsibility a matter for further investigation, so far as the coroner is concerned.

Has Recovered His Mind.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 28.—Fred Forester, the fireman survivor of the tunnel disaster of October 9, has so far recovered that he can be up and around the hospital, but is not yet able to go out of doors. His condition is very much like that of Fireman Duncan, the survivor of a previous similar accident, his mind being an entire blank as to everything connected with the accident.

Many After Jobs.

Lansing, Mich., Nov. 28.—Auditor-General-elect J. B. Bradley, who was in Lansing last week, stated that he had received already about 1,500 applications for clerkships, whereas he has about 150 to give out. His visit here was occasioned for great activity on the part of the present empoyes of the department, nearly all of whom are desirous of retaining their positions.

FOR THE STATE FAIR

Michigan Building at St. Louis May Be Transferred.

IN DETROIT NEXT YEAR

State Fair Will Surely Be Held, Declares Sec. Butterfield—Work Will Be Commenced in Spring—Committee Looks Over Plans.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 26.—"There need be no speculation as to whether Detroit will have the state fair on the new grounds next year," declared Secretary I. H. Butterfield, of the state fair board, at a meeting of a committee at the Griswold house last evening, called for the purpose of going over plans for the laying out of the new North Woodward 95-acre site donated by the citizens of Detroit. "The city will certainly have the fair in 1905 if it has to be held in tents or temporary shelters.

"It is the intention to make the Woodward avenue site of the grounds a sort of general front, and the more imposing buildings will be erected on that side. The race track will be located on the east side and the stock sheds in the northern part.

"As soon as good weather can be depended upon in the spring a large gang of men will be put to work laying out the grounds, building walks, planting trees and generally whipping the site into shape for the fall show.

"We believe the railroad facilities will be ample for the handling of stock and exhibits, and that passenger traffic will be well looked after we have no doubt.

"Estimates are being secured on the cost of moving the Michigan building at the St. Louis fair to the new site out Woodward avenue. It will be placed on the most imposing spot on the grounds and will add greatly to the general beauty of the exposition.

"The preliminary work of securing plans for new buildings, laying out the grounds and looking after incidental features will require several months. We expect when spring arrives, however, to have everything in shape. That a good show will be given next fall the people of Detroit and Michigan may rest assured, for the board is working hard to insure its success."

Those present at the Griswold house meeting were Secretary I. H. Butterfield, of Pontiac; John A. Hoffman, of Kalamazoo; C. A. Young, of Paw Paw, and F. E. Skeels, of Detroit.

Bodies Still Unrecovered.

Port Huron, Mich. Nov. 26.—None of the bodies of the men drowned in St. Clair river early Thursday morning has been recovered. Coroner Logie, of Sarnia, says that as soon as they are found he will hold an inquest, as he deems the accident a very careless one. William Briggs, the night ferryman, has not been arrested for criminal negligence, as was expected, but if the coroner's inquest shows carelessness as a cause of the accident, that will follow.

Weds Squaw at Midnight.

Menominee, Mich., Nov. 26.—A sensation has been caused by the marriage, at 12 o'clock at night, in the office of a justice of the peace, of Thomas Powers, section foreman of Marinette, to a full-blood Menominee squaw. Powers is a white man of good ability and standing in the community. His wife has been dead for several years. He has two daughters teaching in the public schools of this city.

Narrowly Escaped Cremation.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 28.—The farm house of L. W. Hammett in Leroy township was burned at 3 o'clock in the morning, the family barely escaping with their lives. The bedding on the bed of one of the daughters was afire before she awoke. Loss, $1,500; insured.

Runaway Bicycle.

STREETS THRONGED

Many Out to See President Go to Church in St. Louis.

CHEERED HIM AT THE DOOR.

Great String of Vehicles Followed Him During Afternoon Drive—Saturday Was Spent in Making Tour of World's Fair Grounds.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—The special train carrying President Roosevelt and his party left the world's fair grounds at 12:01 this morning on its way to Washington.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—In sharp contrast with the strenuous experience of Saturday, when a hurricane effort was made to view the mammoth Louisiana Purchase exposition in nine hours, President Roosevelt's time Sunday was passed quietly and uneventfully. Rest and recuperation from the fatigue of Saturday constituted almost the sole idea of the president and Mrs. Roossevelt and their immediate party.

After a late family breakfast at the residence of Wm. H. Thompson, the treasurer of the exposition company, who entertained the president, Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb and Dr. P. M. Rixey, the president and party attended divine service at 11 o'clock in the Second Presbyterian church. It was known that the president would attend the morning service at this church, and long before the hour of his arrival the streets in that vicinity were banked with people almost from curb to curb.

Careful precautions were taken by the officers to insure the personal safety of the president. The president's carriage was surrounded by secret service officers.

As the president's carriage stopped at the church entrance hearty cheers were given for the president, which he acknowledged by tipping his hat.

The service was conducted and the sermon preached by the Rev. Dr. S. J. Niccolls, pastor of the church. No reference was made by the pastor in his sermon to the president, and only the usual supplication was offered in his final prayer for the safety and wise conduct of the president of the United States.

After luncheon the president and Mrs. Roosevelt received informally a few personal friends. At 4 o'clock the party went for an extended drive. As soon as the president was recognized in his carriage people followed him in vehicles of all sorts, principally automobiles. Many of the drivers of the automobiles endeavored to pass the president's carriage, but they were cut out in every instance by the secret service officers, who had a lively time in keeping them back. On his return trip the president was followed by a procession containing more than 200 vehicles.

Last night the president and Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Roosevelt, Secretary and Mrs. Loeb, Dr. Rixey and Mr. and Mrs. Thompson were entertained at dinner at 8 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Francis at their residence. After the dinner the president and party returned to the Thompson residence. At 10:15 the party left in carriages for the exposition grounds, where their special train has been awaiting their departure for Washington.

Saturday was devoted to a tour through the exposition by President Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt and members of the president's party. It was strictly a day of pleasure and not the slightest incident arose to mar the perfect enjoyment of the occasion.

The heralded announcement that the nations chief executive would visit the exposition drew tremendous throngs.

Only makes a bad matter worse.

Perhaps you have never thought of it but the fact must be apparent to every one that constipation is caused by a lack of water in the system and the use of drastic cathartics like the old fashioned pills only makes a bad matter worse. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets are much more mild and gentle in their effect and when the proper dose is taken their action is so natural that one can hardly realize it is the effect of a medicine. Try a 25c bottle of them. For sal by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Deafness cannot be cured.

By local application as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be restored forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

No poison in Chamberlain's cough remedy.

From Napier New Zealand, Herald: Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's cough remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, DesMoines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had; and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's cough remedy is especially recommended by its makers for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by all druggists in Tecumseh, Mich.

To lift that load off of the stomach take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It digests what you eat. Sour stomach, belching, gas on stomach and all disorders of the stomach that are curable, are instantly relieved and permanently cured by the use of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. S. P. Storrs, a druggist at 297 Main street, New Britain, Conn., says: "Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is giving such universal satisfaction and is so surely becoming the positive relief and subsequent cure for this distressing ailment, I feel that I am always sure to satisfy and gratify my customers by recommending it to them. I write this to show how well the remedy is spoken of here." Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was discovered after years of scientific experiments and will positively cure all stomach troubles. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Not a sick day since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was intirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles and general debility." This is what B. Bass of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at C. A. Wright's.

A woman can have a good time thinking what a good time she would have if she were having it.

Foley's Honey and Tar always stops the cough and heals the lungs. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

He could hardly get up.

P. H. Duffy of Ashley, Ill., writes, "This is to certify that I have taken 2 bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure and it has helped me more than any other medicine. I tried many advertised remedies but none of them gave me any relief. My druggist recommended Foley's Kidney Cure and it has cured me. Before its use I was in such a shape that I could hardly get up when once down."

In an argument, the way to get the other fellow mad is not to let him get you mad.

"I suffered for months from sore throat. Eclectric Oil cured me in twenty-four hours." M. S. Gist, Haweville, Ky.

CHAPTER XXV.

"I had one letter from him after he reached Alaska, but that was before I left Owosso. I never got another. And I never wrote to him. I rode and danced with you and went hither and yon, lavishing money and time and heart on the frivolities which came in my way, calling myself Veronica and striving by these means to crush out every remembrance of the days when I was known as Antoinette and Antoinette only. For the Klondike was far and its weather bitter, and men were dying there every day, and no letters came (I used to thank God for this), and I need not think—not yet—whither I was tending. One thing only made me recall my real position. That was when your eyes turned on mine—your true eyes, so bright with confidence and pride. I wanted to meet them full, and when I could not I suddenly knew why and suffered.

"I did not accept your attentions nor agree to marry you without a struggle. You know that. You can tell as no one else can how I held back and asked for time and still for time, thus grieving you and tearing my own breast, till a day came—you remember the day when you found me laughing like a mad woman in a circle of astonished friends? You drew me aside and said words which I hardly waited for you to finish, for at last I was free to love you, free to love and free to say so. The morning paper had brought news. A telegraphic dispatch from Seattle told how a man had struggled into Nome, frozen, bleeding and without accouterments or companion. It was with difficulty he had kept his feet and turned in at the first tent he came to. Indeed, he had only time to speak his name before he fell dead. This name was wh[illegible] this dispatch important to me. It was William Pfeiffer. For me there was but one William Pfeiffer in the Klondike—my husband—and he was dead! That was why you found me laughing. But not in mirth. I am not so bad as that. But because I could breathe again without feeling a clutch about my throat. I did not know till then how nearly I had been stifled.

"The week of our marriage came. I was mad with gayety and ecstatic with hope. Nothing had occurred to mar my prospects. But God had his eye upon me and in the midst of my happiness and the hurry of our final preparations his bolt fell. It struck me while I was at the—don't laugh; rather shudder—at the dressmaker's shop in Fourteenth street. I was leaning over a table, chattering like a magpie over the way I wanted a gown trimmed, when my eye fell on a scrap of newspaper in which something had come rolled to madame. It was torn at the edge, but on the bit lying under my eyes I saw my husband's name, William Pfeiffer, and that the paper was a Denver one. There was but one William Pfeiffer in Denver—and he was my husband. And I read—feeling nothing. Then I read again, and the world, my world, went from under my feet, for the man who had fallen dead in the camp at Nome was Wallace, William's brother, and not William himself. William had been left behind on the road by his more energetic brother, who had pushed on for succor through the worst storm and under the worst conditions possible even in that God forsaken region. With the lost one in mind, the one word that Wallace uttered in sight of rescue was William. It was Wallace who had fallen dead, and while William might have perished also, and doubtless had, I had no certainty of it. And my wedding day was set for Thursday.

"Why didn't I tell Cora? Why didn't I tell you? Pride held my tongue; besides, I had had time to think before I saw either of you, and to reason a bit and feel sure that if Wallace had been spent enough to fall dead on reaching the camp, William could never have survived on the open road; for Wallace was the stronger of the two and the most hardy every way. Free I certainly was. Some later paper would assure me of this. But for three nights I did not sleep.

"The caprice which had led me to choose the old Moore house to be married in led me to plan dressing there on my wedding morning. It was early when we started, Cora and I, for Waverley avenue, but not too early for the approaches to that dreadful house to be crowded with people, eager to see the daring bride. Why I should have shrunk so from that crowd I cannot say. I trembled at sight of their faces and at the sound of their voices, and if by chance a head was thrust forward farther than the rest I cowered back instinctively and nearly screamed. Did I dread to recognize a too familiar face? The paper I had seen bore a date six months back. A man could arrive here from Alaska in that time. Or was my conscience aroused at last and clamoring to be heard when it was too late? On the corner of N street the carriage suddenly stopped. A man had crossed in front of it. I caught one glimpse of this man and instantly the terrors of a lifetime were concentrated into one instant of agonizing fear. It was William Pfeiffer. I knew the look; I knew the gait. He was gone in a moment and the carriage rolled on. But I knew my doom as well that minute as I did an hour later. My husband was alive and he was here.

"'You were waiting at the curb when I arrived, and I remember how my heart stood still when you laid your hand on the carriage door and confronted me with that light on your face I had never seen disturbed since we first pledged ourselves to marry. In terror I seized the hand which seemed my one refuge in this hour of mortal trouble, and hastened into the house which for all its doleful history had never received within its doors a heart more burdened or rebellious. I pressed your hand with mine and smiled. Oh, God! If you could have seen what lay beneath that smile! For with my entrance beneath those fatal doors a thought had come. I remembered my heritage. I remembered how I had been told by my father when I was a very little girl—I presume when he first felt the hand of death upon him—that if ever I was in great trouble—very great trouble, he had said, where no deliverance seemed possible—I was to open a little golden ball, which he showed me, and take out what I should find inside and hold it close up before a picture which had hung from time immemorial in the southwest corner of this old house.

"He could not tell me what I should encounter there—this I remember his saying—but something that would assist me, something which had passed with good effect from father down to child for many generations. Only, if I would be blessed in my undertakings, I must not open the golden ball nor endeavor to find out its mystery unless my trouble threatened death or some great disaster. Such a trouble had indeed come to me, and, startling coincidence, I was at this moment in the very house where this picture hung, and, more startling fact yet, the golden ball needed to interpret its meaning was round my neck, for with such jealousy was this family trinket always guarded by its owner. Why, then, not test their combined effect? I certainly needed help from some quarter. Never would William allow me to be married to another while he lived. He would yet appear, and I should need this great assistance—great enough to be transmitted from father to son—as none of the Moores had needed it yet, though what it was I did not know and did not even try to guess.

"Yet when I got to the room I did not drag out the filigree ball at once nor even take more than one fearful sidelong look at the picture. In drawing off my glove I had seen his ring—the ring you had once asked about. It was such a cheap affair, the only one he could get in that obscure little town where we were married. I lied when you asked me if it was a family jewel, lied but did not take it off, perhaps because it clung so tightly, as if in remembrance of the vows it symbolized. But now the very sight of it gave me a fright. With his ring on my finger I could not defy him and swear his claim to be false—the dream of a man maddened by his experiences in the Klondike. It must come off. Then perhaps I should feel myself a free woman. But it would not come off. I struggled with it and tugged in vain; then I bethought me of using a nail file to sever it. This I did, grinding and grinding at it till the ring finally broke, and I could wrench it off and cast it away out of sight and, as I hoped, out of my memory also. I breathed easier when rid of this token, yet choked with terror whenever a step approached the door. I was clad in my bridal dress, but not in my bridal veil or ornaments, and naturally Cora and then my maid came to assist me. But I would not let them in. I was set upon testing the secret of the filigree ball.

"The contents of the ball turned out to be a small magnifying glass and the picture a maze of written words. I did not decipher it all; I did not decipher the half. I did not need to. A spirit of divination was given me in that awful hour which enabled me to grasp its full meaning from the few sentences I did pick out. And that meaning! It was horrible, inconceivable. Murder was taught, but murder from a distance, and by an act too simple to awake revulsion. A step into the empty closet yawning so near, an effort with a drawer, a—a— Do not ask me to recall it. I did not shudder when the moment came and I stood there. Then I was cold as marble. Yet I shall surely take my life before you see me again, and in that old house. If it is despair I feel, then despair will take me there. If it is repentance, then repentance will suffice to drive me to the one expiation possible to me—to perish where I caused an innocent man to perish and so relieve you of a wife who was never worthy of you and whom it would be your duty to denounce if she let another sun rise upon her guilt.

"A message was shouted through the door—the message for which my ears had been strained in dreadful anticipation for the last two hours. A man named Pfeiffer wanted to see me before I went down to be married—a man named Pfeiffer!

"I looked closely at the boy who delivered this message. He showed no excitement nor any feeling greater than impatience at being kept waiting a minute or so at the door. Then I glanced beyond him at the people chatting in the hall. No alarm there; nothing but a very natural surprise that the bride should keep so big a crowd waiting. I felt that this fixed the event. He who had sent me this quiet message was true to himself and to our old compact. He had not published below what would have set the house in an uproar in a moment. He had left his secret to be breathed into my ear alone. I could recall the moment he passed me his word and his firm look as he said, with his hand lifted to heaven: 'You have been good to me and given me your precious self while I was poor and a nobody. In return I swear to keep our marriage a secret till great success shows me to be worthy of you or till you with your own lips express forgiveness of my failure and grant me leave to speak. Nothing but death or your permission shall ever unseal my lips.' When I heard that he was dead I feared lest he might have spoken, but now that I had seen him alive I knew that in no other breast save his, my own and that of the unknown minister in an almost unknown town dwelt any knowledge of the fact which stood between me and the marriage which all these people had come here to see. My confidence in his rectitude determined me. Without conscious emotion, without fear even—the ending of suspense had ended all that—I told the boy to seat the gentleman in the library. Then—.

"To turn and turn a miserable crank after those moments of frenzied action and silence—that was the hard part—that was what tried my nerve and first robbed me of calmness. But I dared not leave that fearful thing dangling there; I had to wind. The machinery squeaked and its noise seemed to fill the house, but no one came nor did the door below open. Sometimes I have wished that it had. I should not then have been lured on, and you would not have become involved in my ruin.

We can do nothing well without joy and a good conscience, which is the ground of joy.—Dibbes.

LITERARY NOTES.

A hitherto unpublished poem by John Greenleaf Whittier will attract universal attention to the December Atlantic. The number opens appropriately with A Christmas Sermon by S. M. Crothert, a seasonable semi-humorous appeal for peace and goodwill and toleration to all men.

Samuel P. Orth follows with Our State Legislatures, a vigorous and searching analysis of the characters and powers of these bodies whose annual sessions begin so soon in all the capital of the country, and of the real dangers to be apprehended from them.

The December Century is a Christmas number indeed, having an appropriate cover in colors and no fewer than eighteen titles relating directly to the holiday or to its spirit. Hon. Andrew D. White's diplomatic reminiscences are continued, with anecdote and popularly directed comment on personages and events of his last public service, the Embassy at Berlin. It is not less interesting, if less sensational, than the Russian recollections in the November number.

The recent campaign is reflected in the novel by Alden March called "A Darling Traitor" in LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE'S Christmas number. Mr. March, though new as a novelist, has long been an editor of the Philadelphia Press.

The December issue of EVERYBODY'S MAGAZINE will certainly attract attention, not only because of the sensational interest of its instalment of Thomas W. Lawson's "Frenzied Fiance," but thro' the distinction and excellence of its general contents and the beauty of its illustrations. Some of the best fiction writers before the public are represented within its covers. There are stories and good ones too—by Booth Tarkington, O. Henry, Elizabeth Jordan, Lindsay Denison, Inez Haynes Gillmore, and Hall Caine.

The Christmas issue of the METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE contains illustrations in color by a number of the best known artists who draw for the magazines. Broughton Brandenburg now contributes one the most interesting numbers in this issue, entitled "The Profession of Deceit," in which he gave an interesting account of the cunning of Hindoo fakirs. "Christmas and Children," a pleasing bit of everyday philosophy, is from the pen of Edward S. Martin and is illustrated with many photographs of little ones.

The feature of the December Smart Set is undoubtedly the novelette, "Clavering and His Daughter," a story of Washington life, by a new author, Foxcroft Davis, whose meteoric entrance into the field of fiction is likely to be the sensation of the season. Totally unknown, this writer's first manuscript was not only accepted on sight by one of the most conservative publishing houses in America, but two new books were contracted for to form a series of three, all the national politics and society centering at Washington.

Winter fashions as set forth in The Designer for December are stylish and essentially practical, and are augmented by three pages of charming parties costumes which will prove acceptable at this season when dainty raiment is in active demand. "Points on Dressmaking," a valuable department of the magazine, gives explicit directions for making fur collarettes and muffs of new design, and its sister department, "Lessons in Millinery," tells how to make an exquisite evening hat.

In the December number of the Review of Reviews, Mr. Walter Wellman shows the importance of the part now being played by the United States in the general world movements for peace. Aside from the initiative taken by this government in calling a new conference at the Hague, important steps have been taken in the making of arbitration treaties with various governments which will go before the Senate at the approaching session of Congress.

FREE TRIAL BOTTLE TO ALL WOMEN.

Zoa Phora is [illegible] enough "The Woman's Friend." This is no idle, gratuitous statement. It is justified by facts. It is supported by letters of gratitude and joy and praise from every community in the land. Every mail brings these letters and tens of thousands of them are in our possession.

MRS. EFFIE BATES, Muncie, Ind.

Zoa Phora cures leucorrhea, suppressed and painful periods, flooding, misplacements, piles, all irregularities, liver, kidney and bladder troubles and regulates the change of life. It makes childbirth easy and takes away the dread of that fearful ordeal. It is the greatest blessing of the age for weak and suffering women and has made thousands happy who were dragging out their lives in misery and pain.

Mrs. Effie Bates, Muncie, Ind., R. F. D. No. 1, says: "When a girl I suffered death every month when I came around, even my hands seemed to swell, and I seemed almost blind at times and I was irregular. I would feel as though I would fall backwards and didn't feel safe by myself at my monthly periods. I used some few bottles of Zoa Phora and that brought me regular and so that I didn't suffer scarcely any and the queer feelings left me."

Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., for a free trial bottle and copy of their illustrated medical book, "Dr. Pengelly's Advice to Women." The doctor will gladly give free special advice when needed. Zoa Phora is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

A school teacher near here took an unruly pupil across her knee and paddled him until his pants fairly smoked. This is no joke. The boy had a hip pocket well filled with matches which ignited under the pressue of the paddle, and a small conflagration was only averted by pouring a dipper of water in his hip pockets.—Wyandotte Republican

Nina Totten, nine years old, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Totten, residing near Church's Corners, swallowed the bulb end of a glass thermometer last Thursday and came near choking to death as a result of the mishap. The bulb became lodged in the wind pipe and it was with the greatest difficulty that the child could breathe. Dr. Nelson was called and finding that nothing but a surgical operation would remove the obstruction, this course was decided upon, and Sunday forenoon, assisted by Dr. E. P. Felch of the sanitorium, the operation was performed, the bulb being removed by cutting into the windpipe. Dr. Nelson annouces that the child is getting along nicely, and that while the operation was of a most delicate character, it has proven to be a thoroughly successful one.—Hudson Gazette.

MONTH'S MEDICINE ON TRIAL

Generous offer to all with weak digestion or stomach troubles.

With every box of Mi-o-na sold C. A. Wright gives the following guarantee bond, assuring the purchaser that the money will be returned if after a month's use the remedy has not given satisfaction.

GUARANTEE BOND

I hereby agree to refund the money paid for Mi-o-na on return of empty box if the purchaser tells me that it has failed to cure dyspepsia or stomach troubles. This guarantee covers two boxes, or a month's treatment. Price 50c per box.

(Signed)..........

Anyone whose food does not digest as it ought, who has to take thought about when and what to eat, should take advantage of this generous offer of C. A. Wright.

Mi-o-na is almost invariably successful in curing stomach trouble of all kinds, from an acute attack of indigestion to a chronic case of dyspepsia. By its use new rich blood is made, the weight increased and health restored.

If Mi-o-na were not successful in 9[illegible] cases out of 100, an offer like this would be ruinous. This offer shows the faith C. A. Wright has in the health-giving powers of Mi-o-na and you should begin its use at once. Try it for a month any way. [illegible] the cost is [illegible] what is claimed for it [illegible]

Indian Band.

The concert by Haskell's Indian Band, the first number on the lecture course, given at the New Bradley last Thursday night was well attended. The seats were nearly all sold down stairs but many not attending the first one on account of the holiday. The music rendered by the band was exceptionally fine. Dennison Wheelock, the leader, was absent on account of the death of his son, but his place was ably filled by a brother, James Riley Wheelock.

Tickets and seats can now be secured at $1.75 for the remaining numbers on the course. Dr. McDowell of Chicago, will be here Dec. 8 with his moving pictures. He is an excellent speaker and will give an interesting talk on his travels, illustrating them at the same time. Dr. McDowell will undoubtedly give as good satisfaction as the Indian Band.

Bangs—Wood.

Thursday at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Bangs, of Tecumseh, in the presence of about forty of the relatives and intimate friends, occurred the marriage of Anna Emmitt Bangs to Rev Milo Norsworthy Wood.

Miss Bangs has been a resident of Tecumseh for the past year, making it the headquarters for her evangelistic work. She is a graduate of the Chicago training school for city, home and foreign missions and has been engaged for the past three years in gospel singing in the M. E. churches. She is well known in many of the central and western conferences. With her training and experience she is well fitted for the work of a minister's wife.

Rev. Wood is a graduate of Adrian college and has also spent two years in Kansas City University. He is now pastor of the Methodist Protestant church near Unionville, Mich.

Rev. J. W. Tray, president of the M. P. conference, assisted by Rev. Sedweek of the M. E. church, performed the ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wood left on the 4:02 train for their home near Unionville, where a beautifully furnished parsonage awaits them. Many handsome presents of silver, cut glass, linen and hand painted china were received. The out of town guests were Mr. John H. Bangs, of New York City, brother of bride; Mrs. Emmaret McKenzie, of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. McDougal Emmitt, of Lima, O.; Rev. J. W. Gray and wife, of Adrian; Miss Mabel Walters, of Willis, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Griswold, Mr. and Mrs. Will Griswold, of London, Mich.

You can get 25 stamped envelopes for 53c and there is not one but can afford to buy a bunch.

Disastrous Wrecks.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railway wreck and the same causes are making human wrecks of sufferers from throat and lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, even the worst cases can be cured and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Craig of Worcester, Mass., is one of many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by C. A. Wright druggist. Price 50c and $1, trial bottles free.

AROUND TOWN

Saturday I spent a half day

IN CLINTON

And took much Pleasure looking up and visiting with old Acquaintances.

Last Saturday I had some business with J. B. Marsteller in Clinton so went up on the 9:14 train and came home on the 3:03. My business with Marsteller was completed in ten minutes, so till 2:57 when the train was due to come back, I had to look over the town and resume acquaintances. Come to think the matter over I had only been to Clinton twice in 20 years and in that time the town is much changed.

The Marsteller granite works is doing a fine business. They have delivered eight good jobs in Tecumseh during the last summer beside a large number of orders for Manchester, Napoleon, Norvell, Jackson, Brooklyn and other places. There is no concern that turns out better work than Marsteller's shop. I well remember S. F. Marsteller, the father of J. B., who started the business and for years made the best work turned out in the county. The young man is even doing better than his father. He learned the trade thoroughly and now with natural business aptitude, with abundance of capital and energy is conducting a business that will in a few years prove a great industry to Clinton.

Geo. Freese, who conducts the old E. W. Freese & Co's. store, has just returned from California and other places in the west. He reports a delightful time, saw Dave Silvers in Cripple Creek and a lot of other old friends and enjoyed himself in every way, still he says there is no better place than Clinton and old Lenawee county for a steady diet.

I took dinner at the Clintonian and it is a fine little hotel in furnishings, arrangement and cleanliness. It is by far the best in the county and if the dinner served Saturday is a fair sample the meals are in keeping with the rooms. John Lockwood is now landlord, he came from Milan to Clinton about three months ago and already has a fine business. There is no wonder that people go through Tecumseh to stop over night at the Clintonian. There is nothing can help a town more than a good hotel.

A little ways north of the Clintonian can be seen the sign of Charles Sturm. He looks not a day older than 30 years ago and conducts, as always, one of the best harness making establishments in the county. John White still runs the tailor shop right next the office of the Clinton Local and is as good natured and pleasant as ever.

The Clinton Local has a very nicely fitted office, does the best of commercial work and prints one of the best papers in the county. About two years ago it started to print a semi-weekly instead of a weekly and from the very first it has been a winner. Last fall Rulison went from Tecumseh and formed with Blanchard, the Blanchard & Rulison Company and now they have a very strong concern which is progressing nicely. Last week they started the Britton Citizen which will no doubt succeed nicely.

Diagonally across from the Clintonian is the old hotel and it is well run by a grandson of Henry Lancaster, who for so many years run the hotel at Evans lake and afterward at Clinton. Geo. Lancaster also runs the livery stable. Last spring he bought of one of the Whelans in Franklin a two year old colt for $90, thinking to break him and put him in the livery. Come to break him he showed some speed and a couple of weeks ago he put him on the track and he paced an eighth at a speed of 2.06. Last week a horseman came up from Toledo and offered him a cold thousand for him, but George still keeps the two year old and no doubt will make a bundle of money out of him.

Clinton is Tecumseh's nearest and best neighbor and I will agree not to go ten years without going there again.

GEO. N. STACY.

Wyandotte's New 'Phone Manager.

H. J. Pattison of Albion, succeeds F. R. Wakefield.

The following was clipped from Saturday's Detroit Free Press, concerning an old Tecumseh boy:

H. J. Pattison, who has succeeded Fred R. Wakefield as district manager of the Michigan State Telephone Co., at Wyandotte comes from Albion, Mich., where he was chief inspector for a number of years. Mr. Pattison has spent eight years in the telephone business, starting with the Michigan company in 1894 as an operator in Tecumseh.

He was a member of Company C. 31st Michigan, during the Spanish war and spent some time in Cuba with his regiment. Although not now a member of the national guard, he is an enthusiastic on military training and is seeking to interest the state officers in the organization of a state signal corps to be used in connection with the militia.

While visiting in Albion Thanksgiving day, he and his wife were presented with a handsome set of table linen as a parting testimonial of regard from Degree of Honor lodge, No. 2, A. O. U. W. Mr. Pattison is captain of the uniformed rank of the order and is also a first sergeant in the uniformed rank of the Knights of Pythias.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Oh, why is the spirit of mortal so sad?
Oh, why is the chewing of gum so bad?

Fire drills were given last Tuesday and Wednesday to all the pupils in the union building.

We may naturally suppose that all have been enjoying their Thanksgiving recess since none had their lessons Monday morning.

Miss Mingay and Miss Peck spent Thanksgiving at the former's home in Chelsea. The whereabouts of Mr. Winter and Mr. Reincke is a mystery. (?)

Thanksgiving Dinner.

Last Friday night the Masons held their regular meeting in the Masonic hall. After the work a Thanksgiving dinner was served, about 180 covers being laid. J. M. Hiens furnished the supper.

Council Chamber, village of Tecumseh.

Called meeting held Nov. 28, 1904.

Present, the entire council except President Marsh.

Moved and supported that the liquor dealer's bond of Eugene D. Wyckoff with Charles F. Avery and Jacob Cheever as sureties be approved. Yeas, Aylesworth, Wright, C. D. Smith, Slater, G. U. Smith. Nays, none. Declared approved.

On motion the council adjourned.

HENRY W. MCCLURE,
Village Clerk.

John I. Werner.

John I. Werner died at his home in Brownville Saturday morning of bronchial pneumonia, after a long illness. Mr. Werner was born in Wuertenburg, Germany, Oct. 23, 1823. At the age of 24 years he arrived in New York and about five years after came to Michigan, settling near Jackson. Fifty years ago he came to Tecumseh and worked in the Anderson grist mill for a number of years.

June 15, 1871, he married Mrs. Delia Adams, who died August 6, 1903, since that time his stepdaughter, Mrs. Helen Snedicor, has kept house for him. He had been a member of the Presbyterian church 34 years. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at two o'clock and was conducted by the Masons of which order deceased was a member. He left one brother, George Werner, of Somerset and one sister, Mrs. Mary Jedle, of Jefferson, Mich.

CARD OF THANKS.

I desire to express my thanks to the friends and neighbors, who so kindly assisted me during the death and sickness of my father.

MRS. HELEN SNEDICOR.

Real Estate Transfers.

Frank L. H. Amour to Frank H. Bamlet, Tecumseh village. $4,800.

Niles Peterson to Minnie Schnerder et al., Adrian. $1,000.

Emmett E. Inglehart to Almond L. Bliss, Adrian. $1,800.

Matthew Boyd to Harrison C. Daniels et al., Tecumseh village. $1,600.

There is a remarkable portrait of John D. Rockefeller in the December in MCCLURE'S which will be of general interest. It shows Mr. Rockefeller was 65 years old on July 8th, but in this picture, hairless and haggard, he looks many years older.

DO NOT DOSE THE STOMACH

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

The woman of the hour is the one who promises to be ready in a second.

SECRETS

At the Price of Suffering.

Woman on her way to semi-invalidism caused by pregnancy suffers much pain. Ignorance prompts her to suffer alone in silence and remain in the dark as to the true cause—motherhood.

Mother's Friend takes the doctor's place and she has no cause for an interview. She is her own doctor, and her modesty is protected. Daily application to the breast and abdomen throughout pregnancy will enable her to undergo the period of gestation in a cheerful mood and rest undisturbed.

Mother's Friend

is a liniment for external use only. It would indeed be shameful if the sacrifice of modesty were necessary to the successful issue of healthy children. All women about to become mothers need send only to a drug store and for $1.00 secure the prize childbirth remedy. Healthy babies are the result of useing Mother's Friend. Our book "Motherhood" mailed free.

A HELPING HAND

Is gladly extended by a Tecumseh citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Tecumseh prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such source is the best evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Veteran C. Austin, who lives with his son in the northeast section of Tecumseh, says: "I am more than thankful that Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice for they did me a great deal of good, in fact they stopped a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for years, and also rendered the action of the kidney secretion normal which at times were too frequent and highly colored. I tried a number of so-called kidney cures but I did not receive any benefit, before I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and I knew people who had used them so I went to C. A. Wright's drug store and got them. To say I entertain a very favorable opinion of them as a kidney medicine is putting it in mild terms. They are all and more than represented to be."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute

A man may be so full that when a policeman taps him on the shoulder he will not run.

Ten thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles Yet there's a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.

"Cure the cough and save the life." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs and colds, down to the very verge of consumption.

Last Day of the Fair.

St. Louis, Nov. 28.—At a joint meeting Sunday of the executive committee and the committee on ceremonies of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, a preliminary program was arranged for the closing day of the world's fair, December 1, and it was officially decided to name the day in honor of the president of the exposition company, David R. Francis. One of the features of the day will be the admission of children of 16 years and under free of charge, whether accompanied by an adult or not. Also all inmates of orphan asylums will be admitted free, regardless of age.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes:

"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

ROUND ABOUT US.

A Russian immigrant of tender age was being registered in a down town Philadelphia school. The teacher questioned: "What is your name?" "Katinka," replied the child "And your father's name?" "I niver had one," came the quick response. "Then, tell me your mother's name," again said the teacher, kindly. "I never had no udder neither," answered Katinka, seriously; "I was born off my gran'mudder."—Ex.

While fishing from a boat near the dam Wednesday, our townsman, Chas. Hall, became so engaged that he drifted so near the very brink ere he was aware and there loitered on the ridge for some time. Not being desirous of sharing the habits and home of his finny friends and the drink being too damp for a stroll he notified his friends of his whereabouts by a series of vociferous yells. Lifeboats were launched and by the aid of a log chain, ropes etc., the force rescued the aforesaid fisherman and his boat was towed to shore in safety —Dundee Reporter.

The city editor has a lot of fun joking at the rural editor because the latter tells of large crops of pumpkins and the repairing of farmer's barns and the like but the aforesaid city editor imagines he is saving the nation when about this time he tells the readers of the metropolitan sheet the sort of spittoon Parker uses when he expectorates, the color of ribbon Mrs. Parker uses in her hair, the hour that Teddy gets up in the morning the indisposition of Mrs. Roosevelt at 4:28 p. m., and senator or congressman s: and so removes his glass eye upon retiring for the night. There is more silly slush in one issue of the great dailies than the whole country weekly contains in a whole year.—Ex.

In Hillsdal last Monday there was a cutting affair which luckily did not result in fatalities. The Shoemaker brothers had a tenement house in which Nathan Metcalf resided and from which he was about to move. The landlords claimed he was owing for rent, and tried to prevent his taking some potatoes which they had stored in the cellar. Then there was a row, in which one of the Shoemakers [illegible] and joined in the scuffle which the other two men were engaged in. The result was that Metcalf was stabbed in the side and thigh, one of the wounds nearly reaching the heart. Wm. Shoemaker's arm was cut in two places and Mrs. Metcalf's hands were badly cut. The officers were notified, and took care of the quarrelsome quartette.—Hudson Post

A Birmingham man has delivered milk at the depot there for 12 years and has not missed a trip or been once late for train. A man as methodical and as punctual as that would never deviate toward the pump on his way.—Northville Record.

Kalamazoo court calendar contains for the current term 17 divorce cases. Celery or something else tends to make domestic trouble in that city. Marriage ties have no binding force in a Kazooite. A doctor whose wife got a divorce lately and $3000 of his cash, ran off with a 19 year old girl from Goshen and married her at Kalamazoo. If there's a married man in the city who hasn't been sued for a divorce it's because his wife hasn't kept tab on him.—Press.

Than Newell met with an accident while on his way to attend a funeral, the tongue of the hearse dropping down, frightening the horses and throwing Mr. Newel out, smashing two wheels, breaking one glass and throwing the coffin out. Mr. Newel was picked up for dead, but is now slowly improving —Milan Leader.

Tuesday was the first day that the pitting and weighing station for the sugar beets was in operation here. The establishment of it was the result of the work of Messrs. Burns, Woodroe, and Tower, and that the farmers appreciated it is shown by the fact that 175 loads were taken care of. Similar stations have been established at Riga, Ogden Station and Jasper. The beets are in excellent condition, all reports to the contrary, notwithstanding.—Blissfield Advance.

A policeman's testimony.

N. J. Patterson, night policeman of Nashua, Ia., writes, "Last winter I had a bad cold on my lungs and tried a half a dozen advertised cough medicines and had treatment from two physicians and received no benefit. A friend recommended Foley's Honey and Tar and two thirds of a bottle cured me. I consider it the greatest throat and lung medicine in the world."

Asks For a Recount.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Nov. 28.—Joachim Matthews, candidate for sheriff on the Democratic ticket, has asked for a recount, as he considers himself aggrieved on account of frauds or mistakes in the canvass of the votes of some of the voting precincts of the county. These are the townships of Sterling, Armanda and Warren, the first and second precincts of the township of Washington and the first and second precincts of the township of Richmond. The nature of the alleged mistakes which Mr. Matthews sets forth in his petition are that ballots were erroneously counted for his opponent, George P. Eckstein, in each of the said voting precincts, and that ballots were thrown out or not counted for him when they should have been credited to him.

Thought He'd Disappear.

Durand, Mich., Nov. 28.—The truth of the matter of the Swartz Creek sensation has finally come out. Operator Fred Gundry was not drugged nor robbed nor put on a freight train bound for Ann Arbor. Instead, according to his own story, he had trouble with his family, caused by a flirtation with a young girl of this place, and decided to disappear, as the best way out of the difficulty. He started away, but when he got as far as Ann Arbor his nerve failed him, and he came back. What the Grand Trunk will do about retaining him in its employ is not yet known.

Severely Burned.

Adrian, Mich., Nov. 28.—Mrs. John I. Knapp, wife of the president of the Lenawee County Historical society, was severely burned early Sunday morning during a fire at the Colonial home, a large boarding house conducted by her husband. The blaze broke out first at 10:30 o'clock Saturday night and was thought to have been extinguished by the firemen.

When you have a bad cold.

WAR WILL NOT END

When Port Arthur Falls, Says Premier of Japan.

Tokio, Nov. 28.—Discussing the war and the domestic, financial and present conditions of Japan on the evening of the assembling of the diet with the correspondent of the Associated Press, Premier Katsura said:

"To insure peace in the Orient and to safeguard our national existence is the aim and purpose of our empire, and no sacrifice shall be too great for successfully effecting this purpose.

"Russia, beside violating her pledges in Manchuria, crowned her overbearing and aggressive policy by extending her arms to the Korean peninsula.

"We were highly solicitous to preserve peace, but had no alternative except that of war, which was forced upon us. We are alive to the seriousness of the situation and were prepared for exigencies. We are prepared to sacrifice our last man and our last cent for this war. Everything seems to hinge on the fall of Port Arthur, but I do not console myself with the thought that the capture of that ill-fated fortress will bring the war to a speedy termination. Its capture will give occasion for renewed plans for warfare by Russia, and I am watching keenly for such new developments.

"The domestic conditions of Japan are highly satisfactory. At this session of the diet the government will be compelled to present a budget calling for $388,000,000, and indications are that it will be passed without the slightest difficulty."

GENERAL ASSAULT MADE.

Japs Fail to Take Port Arthur Fort, But Fighting Continues.

Tokio, Nov. 28.—Imperial headquarters has just issued the following announcement:

"The work of our attack having been nearly completed against Sungshu mountain (Port Arthur), and the forts lying eastward therefrom, a general assault was made on the afternoon of November 26, but owing to the enemy's stubborn resistance our object has not yet been accomplished.

"The fighting still continues."

Mukden, Nov. 28.—A terrific storm was experienced here on Saturday, and residents expect a repetition of such weather, coincident with typhoons off the coast until March. The temperature now is below freezing. The inhabitants of leaky huts are in a pitiable condition.

The war has reached such a phase that the interest in small skirmishes is very slight. Everyone has been looking for a big battle, but though reinforcements continue to arrive, and both sides continue to entrench, a general engagement apparently is as far off as ever, and no one now discusses the subject.

Ex-Queen Seriously Hurt.

Biarritz, France, Nov. 28.—Former Queen Natalie of Servia was the victim of a serious carriage accident while driving near this place. The horses attached to her victoria bolted and the vehicle collided with a tree and was completely wrecked. Queen Natalie's face was severely cut and she was carried into a neighboring house with blood streaming from her wounds. Afterward she was taken to the Casino where a doctor attended her.

Drowned Going to Sunday School.

New Britain, Conn., Nov. 28.—While on their way to Sunday school Harold C. Parks, 12, his brother, Howard I. Parks, 8, and George Halverson, 10 years old, were drowned in Walnut Hill reservoir, which they attempted to cross on a thin coating of ice

Fatally Shot by Robbers.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 28.—Frank Holycross, a bartender, was fatally shot Sunday in a desperate fight with three hold-up men. The men were heard planning to stop a train, and while a traveling man ran to notify the police they entered the restaurant and the fight with Holycross followed. The bartender knocked down two of the men and the third shot him. A dozen shots were fired. The shooting attracted a crowd and the man who shot Holycross held the men at bay while his companions loaded their revolvers. The three desperadoes ran north and succeeded in escaping.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kemble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THEDFORD'S BLACK DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

A Sure Cure for Diarrhea, etc.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil cures permanently and thoroughly diarrhea, stomach and bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, backache, contracted cords and muscles, stiffened joints, sprains, bruises, cuts and wounds, burns and scalds, soreness of all kinds, frost bites, chilblains, swellings and spinal affections. A bottle handy in the home is a household blessing. It costs only 50 cents a bottle.

John Jewell, Water Works Department, Jackson, Mich., says: "I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil in my family for over 20 years. For stomach and bowel trouble I have found it a never failing remedy."

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

How to Cure These Dangerous and Fatal Maladies.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails, and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

"Your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is a most excellent remedy as I know from my personal experience with it. I have had serious kidney and bladder trouble with considerable pain. This was a repetition of trouble a year back. I tried one bottle, and the relief was so great I ordered two bottles of you by express and am glad to say that I am all right now and recommend this medicine fully to any one suffering with these ailments."

Truly yours, W. F. Black, Cleveland, O.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

SAYS SHE WILL SETTLE

Cleveland's "Theresa Humbert" Will Pay One Claim

SAYS THE CLAIMANT'S LAWYER

Brookline, Mass., Man May Get $190,000—Oberlin, O., People Much Worried, but Expect Aid From New York —Banker Beckwith Feels Bitter.

New York, Dec. 1.—"Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick will settle the claim against her by Herbert B. Newton of Brookline, Mass., for $190,000 upon a cash basis and in full."

This is the statement of George Ryall of the firm of Baggott & Ryall, counsel in New York for Mr. Newton.

"I have seen Mrs. Chadwick at her apartments at the Holland house," Mr. Ryall said, "and as a result of my talk with her I am able to say that the case will be settled in a few days satisfactorily to my client. The settlement will be upon a cash basis and our claim will be paid in full."

She Has Powerful Friends.

"Mrs. Chadwick has many powerful friends both in this city and in Cleveland who are interested in her case, and our case will be settled out of court amicably. Of course, I am interested only in the settlement of Mr. Newton's claims, and I know nothing about any other claims against her. The hearing against her set down for trial in Cleveland for today will be adjourned by request pending the arrangements now progressing here for settlement. I expect within the next twenty-four hours to have the terms of the settlement arranged so as to make a definite statement on the matter.

The Lady Is Indignant.

"Mrs. Chadwick is indignant at the published stories connecting her with another woman," continued Mr. Ryall, "and when the case has been settled she is very liable to bring suit against some people. She also denies the stories to the effect that several banks are involved in her case."

Mr. Ryall declined to discuss the alleged Carnegie endorsement of one of Mrs. Chadwick's notes, saying: "What is the use of talking of that now, as the case is to be settled."

Oberlin, O., Dec. 1.—All Oberlin is waiting. There is a decided feeling in the air that something will soon take place that will change the situation, either for better or worse, as far as the affairs of the Citizens' National bank are concerned.

It is generally known that President Beckwith has received two messages from New York, one of which at least bears the signature of Judge Albaugh. This dispatch states that Judge Albaugh is on his way to Oberlin from New York and that he has with him security enough to cover the loan which was made through the Oberlin bank to Mrs. Cassie Chadwick of Cleveland.

Loaned Her $300,000.

President Beckwith now openly refers to the loan in its entirety as a $300,000 loan. Mr. Beckwith intimated that not one of the directors, besides himself, despite the statements to the contrary which have been made, had seen security furnished.

There was a touch of bitterness in the reply that Mr. Beckwith gave when asked if he had any knowledge of the method Mrs. Chadwick would use in obtaining a sum large enough to cover the Oberlin loan.

"Perhaps she will get hold of some one greener than I and secure $600,000 from him," he said.

Despite the hope shown by the president of the bank that affairs will ultimately be satisfactorily adjusted, the directors gave little intimation that any such belief is shared by them.

Canton, O., Dec. 1.—Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, the Cleveland woman whose financial operations have caused such a flurry, attempted last spring to borrow $50,000 from a Canton bank, but failed to get any loan here, according to Canton bankers.

SHIPS A TOTAL LOSS

Three Lumber-Laden Boats Driven Ashore by Storm.

TWO OF THEM ARE WRECKED

Third One Will Be Saved—Crew Heroically Rescued by Life-Savers—Cargoes and Boats Owned by Detroit Parties.

Alpena, Mich., Nov. 30.—The steamer B. W. Blanchard and schooner John T. Johnson were totally wrecked on North Point Tuesday. The Blanchard was towing the Johnson and schooner Kelderhouse, and all three were driven ashore by the furious gale.

Tremendous seas soon broke up the Blanchard and Johnson, but the Kelderhouse is resting on a sandy bottom and so far has withstood the terrific pounding of the waves.

The crews of the three vessels were heroically rescued by the government life-savers and were brought to this port on the tug Ralph at noon.

All three vessels were bound from Cheboygan to Detroit with lumber cargoes, carrying a total of 2,000,000 feet between them.

The three lumber cargoes were consigned to C. W. Kotcher, John Beyster and the Sibley Lumber Co., Detroit. They were valued at $28,000 and were insured, principally, in Federal Lloyds of Chicago.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—Mr. Kotcher received the details of the disaster from the captain of the Blanchard, which he owns, by long distance telephone. He stated last night that both the Blanchard and Johnson are total losses and have been abandoned to the underwriters.

The Blanchard was recently equipped with a new boiler and she had a fine compound engine. Efforts will be made to save these from the wreckage, the steamer John H. Pauly of the Kotcher line having been ordered to the scene yesterday afternoon. Manager Havey also left for the wrecks last evening.

All of the vessels concerned in the accident are of the old wooden type, the Blanchard having been built at Cleveland in 1870. She was of 919 gross tons, 221 feet in length, 32 feet beam and 11 feet deep.

The schooner Johnson was built at Huron, O., thirty-one years ago. She measured 448 gross tons, was 171 feet in length, 31 feet beam and 11 feet deep.

The oldest of the fleet is the Kelderhouse, having been built at Bay City forty-seven years ago, and reports last night indicated that her bones won't rest on North Point this time. Her owner, A. H. Zachariss of Detroit said she was not damaged in the least. She is resting in twelve feet six inches of water and arrangements were being made to lighter her last night, after which the veteran will be floated.

Reports from Lake Huron show that other small freighters had a hard time of it in the storm.

JUDGE'S ALLEGED MISTAKE

May Result in Freedom of Jackson Prison Man.

Jackson, Mich., Nov. 30.—James Butler, a colored man at the Jackson prison, is about 50 years of age. Since he was 11 years old he has spent most of his time either in reformatories or behind prison bars. His last trip was from Lenawee county. Because the judge sentenced him under the habitual criminal act after he was convicted of the offense of larceny from a dwelling in the day time, Butler has now a case pending in the supreme court of the state which bids fair to result in giving him his freedom. He makes the point that he was convicted of a charge which has a maximum penalty of five years, whereas he was given a twenty-year sentence because he had been in prisons upon several occasions.

Fabulous Price For a Book.

New York, Dec. 1.—Two of the rarest books in the collection of Americana made by the late Bishop John Hurst have just been sold at auction. One was a copy of the Mohawk prayer book, printed in this city by William Bradford in 1715. It brought $1,300. The other was a copy of the second edition of Eliot's Indian bible, and it sold for $410. These two volumes are quite rare. They are printed in the Indian language and were purchased by an agent for an unknown collector.

GOT A BIG JUDGEMENT

AGAINST A BUFFALO MAN

Favors Stockholders of Malting Company Who Contended That Dividends Had Been Paid From Capital Instead of From Net Earnings.

New York, Nov. 30.—Supreme Court Justice Clarke has awarded judgment for $1,087,074.59 against Alexander M. Curtiss of Buffalo and in favor of Archibald A. Hutchinson and other stockholders of the American Malting Co. This judgment represented dividends, said to have been declared and paid illegally, and suit was brought against Curtiss, individually, as a director of the company under the stock corporation law, which makes every director of a corporation liable to the full amount of any dividend illegally declared.

Hutchinson charged, in his complaint, that the dividends had been paid out of the capital instead of natural profits, and the judge finds that this was true between July 15, 1898, and Oct. 13, 1899, except for one dividend declared in April, 1899. The judgment represents the total dividends declared and carries interest from dates of payment.

In the decision Justice Clark says: "It does not seem to me that in these days of great corporations, and of combinations into one of many corporations, it is asking too much of directors, fiduciary officers acting as they are, that they should obey the law of their corporation and not bring their companies to the verge of bankruptcy and ruin by the payment of quarterly dividends, in preferred [illegible] capital instead of net earnings."

"Young Corbett" Again Whipped.

San Francisco, Nov. 30.—In the greatest fight witnessed between little men in years, "Battling" Nelson of Chicago won from "Young Corbett" of Denver in ten rounds. From the tap of the gong until Corbett's seconds threw up the sponge Nelson was master of the situation at every stage of the game. His in-fighting was a revelation and the most brilliant witnessed in any ring. For the last three rounds of the fight Corbett was as helpless as a baby, but he wobbled around groggily and gamely until the repeated calls from around the house to stop the fight caused Harry Tuthill to enter the ring. he fight was over and the new man is in line to vanquish Champion Britt.

President Reaches Home.

Washington, Nov. 30.—President Roosevelt arrived here Tuesday at 7:02 a. m. from his visit to the St Louis exposition. The special was awaited by a throng of several hundred people in the Pennsylvania railroad station, and as the train drew into the station the crowd broke into cheers. It was thirty-five minutes later when the president, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt and his daughter, Miss Alice Roosevelt, alighted from their car. They were conducted immediately to their carriage which was in waiting, and driven rapidly to the White House.

Edison's Company In Trouble.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 30.—The International Graphophone Co. has instituted suit in the court of chancery asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Edison Phonograph works of Orange, N. J., and also asking that Thomas A. Edison, John F. Randolph, William E. Gilmore, the Edison Phonograph and the National Phonograph Co. make discovery of the assets and profits of the Edison Phonograph works, alleged in the bill to be wrongfully diverted to the National Phonograph Co. and to the Edison Manufacturing Co. Insolvency is not alleged.

FROM VACCINATION

Lockjaw Followed and Little Ann Arbor Boy Is Dead.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 30.—Loyal Derringer, the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Derringer, residing at 515 Spring street, is dead of lockjaw following vaccination. During the recent smallpox scare in this city a general order was issued by the health board that all school children should be vaccinated and the city physicians were detailed to do the work free of charge. Young Derringer was vaccinated by Dr. Herdman, but no blame is attached to the physician, as he told the mother of the lad that the wound must be looked after.

Mrs. Derringer, however, has been ill ever since her boy was vaccinated and was therefore unable to give him the care he needed. His arm became very sore and Dr. M. L. Belser was called in to examine the wound. It was cleansed and taken care of properly, but on Sunday the boy's jaws began to get stiff. By Monday morning he was unable to open them more than a quarter of an inch and by night they were locked tight. He suffered the most intense agony for the last twenty four hours of his life.

CAPTURED MANY PRIZES.

Michigan's Exhibit at the Fair Got Its Share of Honors.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—Frederick B. Smith, president of the Michigan world's fair commission, received a telegram last night that in horticulture Michigan had captured the grand prize for collective exhibit. In individual exhibits there came to Michigan seven gold medals, 102 silver medals and 100 bronze medals.

Michigan, according to President Smith, has now carried away its share of the honors at the exposition. Grand prizes were received for exhibits of mines and metallurgy, education and agriculture. President Smith states that with the closing of the exposition Dec. 1 Michigan exhibits will be taken up and returned to the state.

Bullet Did Freakish Thing.

Calumet, Mich., Nov. 30.—The peculiar freak of a bullet, discharged accidentally from a gun that Gus Peterson was cleaning, resulted in almost a fatality for his 12-year-old daughter Lanti. The girl was up stairs and the father down stairs. The bullet passed through the ceiling of the room in which the father sat cleaning the gun, entered the girl's foot, passed through it, grazing her knee, struck her elbow, shattering the bone of her arm and lodged in the upper part of her body. Her arm was amputated and it is thought she will recover.

Small Man; Big Appetite.

Belleville, Mich., Nov. 30.—This town can boast of a man who has performed the difficult feat of eating six pounds of bologna sausage in fifteen minutes. His name is Edward Bruce. He longs for other worlds to conquer. His latest boast is that he can clean up twenty-five pounds of beef in forty-eight hours and devour a half bushel of mashed potatoes at one sitting. Bruce is a small man, weighing less than 120 pounds. The local hotel contemplates refusing to feed him, except on the European plan.

Will Spend Million on Buildings.

Battle Creek, Mich., Nov. 30.—Grand Trunk engineers here commenced to survey the company's new purchase of 160 acres of Battle Creek's suburban land to determine the sites of the future buildings of the railroad. The company will expend $1,500,000 in new structures and nearly one thousand men will be employed in making coaches and locomotives. This means that nearly 1,000 families will move here in 1906 or earlier.

R. F. D. Carriers Want More Pay.

Sanilac Center, Mich., Nov. 30.—The Sanilac county rural free delivery carriers held an enthusiastic meeting here for the purpose of organizing. The foremost topic was a demand for an increase in their yearly salary. At present they receive $720. Out of this they claim it takes about $400 for horse feed and keeping up rigs, leaving a very small margin for a family to live on.

An emergency medicine.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries there is nothing so good as Chamberlains Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain but causes the parts to heal in about one third the time required by the usual treatment. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. Eor sale by all druggists in Tecumseh

We do not estimate a man by his clothing: but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar's worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

Report from the reform school.

J. G. Glinck, superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's honey and tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

CHAPTER XXV.

"I am afraid to die, but I am more afraid of failing in courage. I shall have the pistol tied to me; this will make it seem inevitable to use it. Oh, that the next twenty-four hours could be blotted out of time! Such horror cannot be. I was born for joy and gayety, yet no dismal depth of misery and fear has been spared me! But all on account of my own act. I do not accuse God; I do not accuse man; I only accuse myself and my thoughtless grasping after pleasure.

"I want Cora to read this as well as you. She must know me dead as she never knew me living. But I cannot tell her that I have left a confession behind me. She must come upon it unexpectedly, just as I mean you to do. Only thus can it reach either of you with any power. If I could but think of some excuse for sending her to the book where I propose to hide it! That would give her a chance of reading it before you do, and this would be best. She may know how to prepare or comfort you—I hope so. Cora is a noble woman, but the secret which kept my thoughts in such a whirl has held us apart.

"You did what I asked. You found a place for Raucher's waiter in the volunteer corps. Surprised as you were at the interest I expressed in him, you honored my first request and said nothing. Would you have shown the same anxious eagerness if you had known why I whispered those few words to him from the carriage door, why I could neither rest nor sleep till he and the other boy were safely out of town?

"I must leave a line for you to show to people if they wonder why I killed myself so soon after my seemingly happy marriage. You will find it in the same book with this letter. Some one will tell you to look in the book—I cannot write any more.

"I cannot help writing. It is all that connects me now with life and with you. But I have nothing more to say except forgive—forgive—

"Do you think that God looks at his wretched ones differently from what men do? That he will have tenderness for one so sorry—that he will even find place— But my mother is there my father! Oh, that makes it fearful to go—to meet—but it was my father who led me into this—only he did not know— There! I will think only of God.

"Goodby—goodby—good"—

That was all. It ended, as it began, without name and without date—the final heart throbs of a soul awakened to its own act when it was quite too late, a piteous memorial which daunted each one of us as we read it, and when finished drew us all together in the hall out of the sight and hearing of the two persons most intimately concerned in it.

Possibly because all had one thought—a thrilling one, which the major was the first to give utterance to:

"The man she killed was buried under the name of Wallace. How's that if he was her husband, William?"

An officer we had not before noted was standing near the front door. He came forward at this and placed a second telegram in the superintendent's hand. It was from the same source as the one previously received and appeared to settle this very question.

"I have just learned that the man married was not the one who kept store in Owosso, but his brother William, who afterward died in Klondike. It is Wallace whose death you are investigating."

"What snarl is here?" asked the major.

"I think I understand," I ventured to put in. "Her husband was the one left on the road by the brother who staggered into camp for aid. He was a weak man—the weaker of the two, she said—and probably died, while Wallace, after seemingly collapsing, recovered. This last she did not know, having failed to read the whole of the newspaper slip which told about it, and so when she saw some one with the Pfeiffer air and figure and was told later that a Mr. Pfeiffer was waiting to see her she took it for granted that it was her husband, believing positively that Wallace was dead. The latter, moreover, may have changed to look more like his brother in the time that had elapsed."

"A possible explanation which adds greatly to the tragic aspects of the situation. She was probably a widow when she touched the fatal spring. Who will tell the man inside there? It will be his crowning blow."

CHAPTER XXVI.

On the evening of the day which saw our first recognition of this crime as the work of Veronica Moore the following notice appeared in the Star and all the other local journals:

"Any person who positively remembers passing through Waverley avenue between N and M streets on the evening of May 11 at or near the hour of a quarter past 7 will confer a favor on the detective force of the District by communicating the same to F. at the police headquarters in C street."

I was "F.," and I was soon deep in business. But I was readily able to identify those who came from curiosity, and as the persons who had really fulfilled the conditions expressed in my advertisement were few an evening and morning's work sufficed to sift the whole matter down to the one man who could tell me just what I wanted to know. With this man I went to the major, and as a result we all met later in the day at Mr. Moore's door.

This gentleman looked startled enough when he saw the number and character of his visitors, but his grand air did not forsake him, and his welcome was both dignified and cordial. But I did not like the way his eye rested on me.

But the slight venom visible in it at that moment was nothing to what he afterward displayed when at a slight growl from Rudge, who stood in an attitude of offense in the doorway beyond, I drew the attention of all to the dog by saying sharply:

"There is our witness, sirs. There is the dog who will not cross the street even when his master calls him, but crouches on the edge of the curb and waits with eager eyes but immovable body till that master comes back. Isn't that so, Mr. Moore? Have I not heard you utter more than one complaint in this regard?"

"I cannot deny it," was the stiff reply, "but what"—

I did not wait for him to finish.

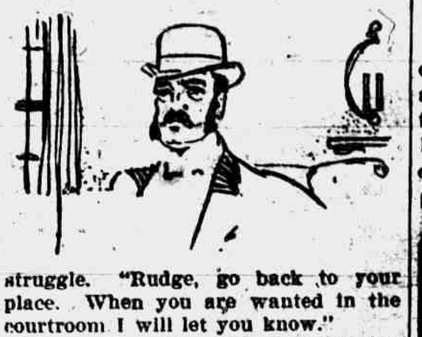
"Mr. Curreau," I asked, "is this the animal you passed between the hours of 7 and 8 on the evening of May 11, crouching in front of this house with his nose to the curbstone?"

"It is; I noted him particularly; he seemed to be watching the opposite house."

Instantly I turned upon Mr. Moore.

"Is Rudge the dog to do that," I asked, "if his master were not there? Twice have I myself seen him in the selfsame place and with the selfsame air of expectant attention, and both times you had crossed to the house which you acknowledge he will approach no nearer than the curb on this side of the street."

"You have me," was the short reply with which Mr. Moore gave up the struggle. "Rudge, go back to your place. When you are wanted in the courtroom I will let you know."



Mr. Curreau

The smile with which he said this was sarcastic enough, but it was sarcasm directed mainly against himself. We were not surprised when, after some sharp persuasion on the part of the major, he launched into the following recital of his secret relation to what he called the last tragedy ever likely to occur in the Moore family.

"I never thought it wrong to be curious about the old place; I never thought it wrong to be curious about its mysteries. I only considered it wrong, or at all events ill judged, to annoy Veronica in regard to them, or to trouble her in any way about the means by which I might effect an entrance into its walls. So I took the one that offered and said nothing.

"I have visited the old house many times during my sojourn in this little cottage. The last time was, as one of your number has so ably discovered, on the most memorable night in its history; the one in which Mrs. Jeffrey's remarkable death occurred there. The interest roused in me by the unexpected recurrence of the old fatality attending the library hearthstone reached its culmination when I perceived one night the glint of a candle burning in the southwest chamber. I did not know who was responsible for this light, but I strongly suspected it to be Mr. Jeffrey, for who else would dare to light a candle in this disused house without first seeing that all the shutters were fast?

"I did not dislike Mr. Jeffrey or question his right to do this. Nevertheless I was very angry. Though allied to a Moore, he was not one himself, and the difference in our privileges affected me strongly; consequently I watched till he came out and upon positively recognizing his figure vowed in my wrath and jealous indignation to visit the old house myself on the following night and make one final attempt to learn the secret which would again make me feel myself the equal of this man, if not his superior.

Uncle David gives up

"It was early when I went; indeed it was not quite dark, but, knowing the gloom of those old halls and the almost impenetrable nature of the darkness which settles over the library the moment the twilight sets in, I put in my pocket two or three candles, the candles, sirs, about which you have made such a coil. My errand was twofold—I wanted first to see what Mr. Jeffrey had been up to the night before and next to spend an hour over a certain book of old memoirs which in recalling the past might explain the present. You remember a door leading into the library from the rear room. It was by this door I entered, bringing with me from the kitchen the chair you afterward found there.

"I knew where the volume of memoirs I speak of was to be found—you do, too, I see—for it was my hand which had placed it in its present concealment. Quite determined to reread such portions of it as I had long before marked as pertinent to the very attempt I had in mind, I brought in the candelabrum from the parlor and drew out a table to hold it. But I waited a few moments before taking down the book itself. I wanted first to learn what Mr. Jeffrey had been doing upstairs the night before; so, leaving the light burning in the library, I proceeded to the southwest chamber, holding an unlit candle in my hand, the light feebly diffused through the halls from some upper windows being sufficient for me to see my way. But in the chamber itself all was dark.

"The wind had not yet risen and the shutter which a half hour later moved so restlessly on its creaking hinges hugged the window so tightly that I imagined Mr. Jeffrey had fastened it the night before. Looking for some receptacle in which to set the candle I now lit, I failed to find anything but an empty tumbler, so I made use of that. Then I glanced about me, but seeing nothing worth my attention—Mrs. Jeffrey's wedding fixings did not interest me, and everything else about the room looking natural except the overturned chair, which struck me as immaterial—I hurried downstairs again, leaving the candle burning behind me in case I should wish to return aloft after I had refreshed my mind with what had been written about this old room.

SIXTEEN DEAD HUNTERS

Casualty List of Wisconsin and Michigan Is Enormous.

Milwaukee, Dec. 1.—Sixteen deer hunters in Wisconsin and upper Michigan have met death, and seven others have been wounded during the deer hunting season, which ended last night. Even this frightful list of hunting casualties, due in almost every instance to carelessness, is exceeded by the list of dead and wounded due to accidents to hunters of partridges duck, rabbits and other small game engaged in this sport, twenty-six have met death since Sept. 1, and twelve have been wounded.

On Trial For Counterfeiting.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 30.—William Blanchar of Owosso is on trial in the United States court, charged with counterfeiting. Charles and Maggie Listeman, impleaded with him, were convicted in Bay City last month and are now in the house of correction. The government claims Blanchar's operations were carried on in the Listeman home, near Owosso, and induced the Listemans to aid him. Several boxes filled with broken bits of plaster of paris molds and a number of bogus coins were found on the premises.

Why She Was In It.

DR. ANDREW B. SPINNEY

Formerly of Detroit.

Proprietor of

REED CITY SANITARIUM

THE OLD RELIABLE SPECIALIST

DO YOU WANT FREE CONSULTATION AND CORRECT OPINION OF YOUR CASE.

If you are poor your treatment is free. If you are discouraged and we can cure you, we will wait for our pay until you are well.

Come and see us; this is your last chance.

We live to do good, are honest with all. Forty-five years' experience free. This trip and today only.

The above is the picture of the only Dr. A. B. Spinney in this state. His history is as follows: Fifteen years in private practice, twelve of these in East Saginaw, Mich., with as large a practice as any physician then had. Two years professor in Detroit Homeopathic College and twenty-two years in Detroit. Had charge of Alma Sanitarium eighteen months; Ypsilanti one year, and for the past seven years has owned a sanitarium at Reed City. On December 13, 1902, his sanitarium was burned, loss fifteen thousand dollars; but in forty-eight hours he had bought another and is in good shape for business again. He will move to Belding, Mich., next spring, where he has a Sanitarium with sixty rooms nearly completed.

There is a firm in Detroit calling themselves Spinney & Co. Their history is this: Anson B. Spinney founded the same, but he has been dead some three years, as an extract from the Evening News of September 8th, 1900, will prove. The office has been run by his heirs, putting physicians in the same that they could hire until about a year ago when Kergan & Kennedy bought them out and have been running the business since. I am the only Dr. Spinney in the state. Have been here forty-five years, so do not make a mistake and consult or write the wrong firm if you wish to see me. I am at the Sanitarium every Sunday except one in a month. Will be at the place I date below as follows:

We are coming to your town on date and at place mentioned and are willing to give you our time and the benefit of our forty-four years' experience free.

It matters not how long you have been sick, what your ailment, our consultation and advice is free, and our opinions are always the result of careful examinations and a life long experience. The patient is always told the truth and upon just what he can rely. To all who are poor we give treatment absolutely free, only charging cost of medicine. Operations at hospital free, only charging exact cost of board while patient is recovering.

Any person suffering from PILES or any curable disease we will wait for our pay until cured, if you will secure us.

Have you been sick for years and are you discouraged? Come to us and we will cure you. Our prices are the lowest of any chronic disease specialists in the state. Charges at the sanitarium only actual cost. We treat all forms of chronic diseases, but special attention is given to the treatment of the following long standing diseases, viz.: Nasal Catarrh, Polypus, Mucous and Follicular Diseases of the Throat, Foreign Growths in the Larynx, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Bronchial Consumption, Spitting of Blood, Loss of Voice, Enlarged Tonsils, Incipient Consumption, Asthma, Diseases of the Heart, General Debility, Diseases Peculiar to Women, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Strictures, Constipation, Piles, Fissure, Fistula, Irritable and Indolent Ulcers, Hip Diseases, Scrofula, Blood and Skin Diseases, Surgical Diseases of all forms, the Eye, Ear, Face and Internal Organs, including Deformities, Club Feet, Cross-Eyes, Tumors, Hare Lips, etc., also Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Diarrhea, and all forms of Liver, Stomach and Bowel Diseases.

Remarkable Cures Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failure. Parties treated by mail or express, but personal consultation is preferred.

Remember Date of visit. Come early as parlors are always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering; it has made life anew to thousands who have been pronounced beyond hope. Bring sample of your urine, for examination.

Tuesday, Dec. 6th

from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Fred Harry committed suicide in Riga, on Tuesday, by shooting himself through the head with a revolver. His home was in Toledo, he was living with a nephew on a farm. On the day of his death he was husking corn with the hired man. Just before noon he complained of suffering with rheumatism and went toward the house. When the hired man went home he failed to find him at the house, and searching, discovered his dead body in the granary, a revolver lying near at hand. He was 70 years of age and leaves a divorced wife.—Hudson Post.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy; aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The older a joke is the younger is the fellow who gets it off for something new.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

RUTS

The walking sick, what a crowd of them there are: Persons who are thin and weak but not sick enough to go to bed.

"Chronic cases" that's what the doctors call them, which in common English means—long sickness.

To stop the continued loss of flesh they need Scott's Emulsion. For the feeling of weakness they need Scott's Emulsion.

It makes new flesh and gives new life to the weak system.

Scott's Emulsion gets thin and weak persons out of the rut. It makes new, rich blood, strengthens the nerves and gives appetite for ordinary food.

Scott's Emulsion can be taken as long as sickness lasts and do good all the time.

There's new strength and flesh in every dose.

We will be glad to send you a few doses free.

Hudson Post: Tecumseh has a "No Name" club of men and women too, and no name can be given to things the members do; the ladies answer to no name, saluting say "Ah there," at home no name just fits the men because they're seldom there; and thus through life they all do roam, the old maids do not care—because they cannot change their names they're dying in despair.

Wednesday a number of the friends of J. F. Smith gave him a pleasant surprise at his home in Tipton, the occasion being his birthday. A dinner was served at noon with covers for Messrs. and Mesdames Webster Love, of Adrian, Alfred Lewis, of Macon, Oscar Alexander and Willis Smith of Tecumseh, Jas. Lane of Holloway, Martin Whelan and Clyde Smith of Tipton. Mr. Smith was handsomely remembered by his guests. A delightful day was spent by all.

Band and Orchestra Music.

Seldom if ever has this city had the opportunity offered it, to hear fine music that it failed to take advantage of that opportunity. In the instance of the visit of Frank Adams' Uncle Hez Co., here at the New Bradley, Wednesday, Dec. 7, there will be presented a double opportunity. Not only do we anticipate a clever comedy performance but a rare musical treat as well. Mr. Adams always carries a band and orchestra of picked men and their performances are everywhere spoken of in the highest of terms.

Don't fail to hear the noon concert on the day of the performance as well as the orchestra numbers at night.

Concert.

The Sunbeam quartette, assisted by the best local talent, will give a concert in the opera house Thursday evening, Dec. 15, under the auspices of the Epworth League of the M. E. church. A program of entirely new songs is prepared and a rich treat is in store for those who attend. Misses Mills, Freeman, Mingay and Caldwell will assist with special numbers.

The Sunbeam quartette is composed of the best male voices in Tecumseh and for several years have been making splendid music on various occasions in our community. We bespeak a hearty appreciation of their work by attending the concert at the opera house, Dec. 15.

Township Taxes.

I will be at the Tecumseh State Savings bank Tuesday, Dec. 6, and every Tuesday thereafter for thirty days to receive taxes. S. L. SHUTT, Collector.

I will be at the same place on the same dates to receive money for the Farmers' Mutual Insurance.

CLUB NOTES.

The Monday Club programe for Dec 5th will be:

The Belinngs Sea Controversy and the Venezuela Dispute—Miss Stacy.

Michigan Men and Women of Letters, Will Careleton, Stuart Edward White, Mary E. Crowley—Mrs. Slayton.

Gilbert Parker, Seats of the Mighty—Miss Garlinghouse.

The Wit and Wisdom club will meet with Miss Jennie Nyland Monday evening, Dec. 5. Miss Kyle, leader.

Program:
Roll call.
Quotations, Mosses from an old Manse.
Place of Hawthorne among authors—Frank Hammond.
Centennial of Hawthorne's birth—Mrs. Maddox.
Book Review, Scarlet Letter—Mrs. F. Rector.

The Research Circle met Tuesday, Nov. 29th, with Dr. Wilson as leader. As Miss Gooding was unable to prepare her paper, "Philippine Problems facing the American People," Dr. Wilson, Miss Sawyer and others read articles on the subject and an interesting discussion followed. Miss Mills then gave an oral description of the plot of "Tale of Two Cities," which was very delightful.

Mrs. Freeman then read the exchange scene in the prison from "Tale of Two Cities." The roll was then called, the members responding to the question, "Which is Dickens' greatest novel to you and why?" concluding one of the most interesting and pleasant meetings of the club year.

The next meeting of the club will be an open meeting held at the home of Mrs. Abner Wilson, the subject to be "A Day in St. Louis." The program will consist of a paper by Mrs. Huey, "Louisiana Purchase," to be followed by a discussion of the fair under the title, "Fair Visitors' Impressions," music. Roll call, currents.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

HERBERT E. STOUT

Died at his residence of
HEART DISEASE

Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

Wednesday morning about 9:30 o'clock H. E. Stout while at his home in Brownville was stricken with nausea and before he could reach the bed, died of heart disease. He had been ailing for about two years but it was thought in no serious condition and his death was a terrible shock to his friends and the entire community.

Forty years ago he commenced with H. Brewer & Co. to learn the machinist's trade and died at the age of 59 years one of the partners in that concern. For years he has had charge of the mechanical part of that business, being the first man there in the morning and last to quit at night and until this last summer had scarcely lost a month's time in the 40 years. Practically took no vacation and sick scarcely a day. At 59 "Hub" Stout is a young man yet has put in more days work than many a man, who dies at the age of 80.

He was born in the township of Franklin, came to Tecumseh with his parents when a boy, lived on the same lot in Brownville over half a century, and worked in the same shop over 40 years. "Hub" Stout was as trustworthy as Brewer's foundry. He has served as a member of the council a number of terms, was twice a member of the water board and always interested in the growth and prosperity of Tecumseh. He served in the war of the rebellion, was a member of Beers Post and a life-long republican in politics.

In 1875, he was married to Miss Franc Hopkins and the result of this union was two children. The mother and son, Charles, remain to mourn his loss. Herbert E. Stout was in every way a good man but above every other way was he kind, indulgent and gentle in his family. For years he took care of his aged mother and the comfort and happiness of his wife and son was the work of his life.

The funeral will be held at his residence tomorrow, Saturday, at 2 o'clock.

Case—Keyser.

The marriage of Nortine Isabella Case to Leon R. Keyser was quietly solemnized in the Episcopal church Wednesday at 11:30 in the presence of only the immediate family, Rev. C. C. Kemp performing the ceremony. Miss Louise Phelps played Lohengrin during the ceremony. The bride was gowned in a dress of cream gloria cloth. The couple were unattended. Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the bride's home.

Mr. Keyser is the son of W. B. Keyser and has lived but a few miles north of town his entire life. He is well and favorably known to Tecumseh people and he has secured for his life partner one of Tecumseh's most popular young ladies. In addition to her kindliness of disposition and charming personality, Mrs. Keyser has the gift of song, being the possessor of a beautiful voice.

Mr. and Mrs. Keyser will be at home to their friends in Tecumseh after January 1st.

The guests from out of town in attendance were Mrs. Jessamine Richman of Pittsburg, Bayard Case of Detroit, sister and brother of the bride, and Miss Leora Keyser of Jackson, sister of the groom.

The Dear People Skinned Again.

Richard Mead, Fred Aldrich and H. E. Hand were brought before Justice Helmer by the Jackson county game warden Tuesday on the charge of shooting birds out of season and on recommendation of the assistant prosecutor, who had known nothing of the case before, were discharged, there being absolutely no evidence to substantiate the charge. The expense to the tax payers of Jackson county will aggregate about $50 for the pleasure of having a fool warden snooping around after possible law breakers and lacking the judgement to know when he has a case or not, being baited on simply by the emolument which would be his in case of conviction and fine, while the dear people pay for his mistakes.

THE CHURCHES.

Next Wednesday evening's prayer meeting topic at the Methodist church will be "Preparing the way for the coming King."

The state officers have set Sunday, Dec. 11, for Michigan Endeavor day. They have arranged for a special program which will be carried out. A collection for state work will be taken.

Rev. Blanche Young of Manchester, will preach in the Universalist church Sunday morning and evening. In the morning "The New Birth." In the evening "The Unrequited Love of Christ."

There will be a union young peoples service at the Methodist church Sunday evening at six o'clock, led by Rev. Woolim, pastor of the Friend's church. Topic, "How to worship in spirit and truth," Ps. 100: 1-5; John 4: 19-24.

The subject for Sunday morning's sermon at the Methodist church will be "Building a Man." In the evening will be the first talk of the series on the questions raised by the gentlemen, who were kind enough to respond to the pastor's inquiries on why men do not attend the church in greater numbers.

Miss Edith Hughes of Utah, gave an interesting talk on "Mormonism and its Political aspect" at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday evening. Miss Floy Freeman sang "I am a Pilgrim," with which the meeting was closed. Miss Hughes left Wednesday morning for Detroit, where she will spend some time speaking in the different churches.

Deaf Child Drowned.

Flint, Mich., Dec. 1.—A little 5-year old pupil of the Michigan state school for the deaf was drowned in Swartz creek. His body was found by two older pupils, with his head partially submerged in the water, and it is supposed that he crawled out on the thin ice of the river to drink from the stream. He came to the institution two months ago and has a mother living at Dearborn, Wayne county.

Proceedings Against A. O. U. W.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec. 1.—Legal proceedings have been commenced in the circuit court here against the A. O. U. W. fraternity, in the filing of a bill against the grand lodge by W. H. Brown asking for an injunction to restrain the enforcement of the increased assessment rule adopted by that body. Originally the order held to the uniform age assessment plan.

Office-Seekers Throng His Office.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 1.—A number of politicians from about the state are in the city to pay their respects to Governor-elect Warner and consult with him regarding various matters, mostly along the line of appointments. No information is being given.

Fifteen Laundry Girls Hurt.

New Orleans, Nov. 30.—An explosion of a gasoline machine in the Swiss laundry at 1010 Gravier street caused a fire which quickly consumed the building and contents. Fifteen girls were more or less injured, being burned or hurt in jumping from the second story windows. None of the injured will die. The loss on the laundry and damage to adjoining buildings is estimated at $40,000.

Calve Has Appendicitis.

Vienna, Nov. 30.—Mme. Calve, the noted singer, who has been making an extended concert tour, disappointed a fashionable audience here last night. It was announced that she was taken suddenly ill and that the doctors have diagnosed her ailment as appendicitis. It is stated that an operation will be necessary.

Trapeze Performer Killed.

St. Louis, Nov. 30.—During a performance last night at Paris on the Pike, at world's fair, a rope broke during a trapeze exhibition, and A. Dibson, a performer, was thrown to the stage and instantly killed. The incident created great excitement, the audience rising and rushing for the exits. No one was hurt.

Burglars Got $75.

Carleton, Mich., Dec. 1.—Burglars entered the grist mill of E. Mahlbaum at night, wrecked the safe with dynamite and got away with $75.

Hyomei, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh.

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as far superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians and is prescribed by them generally.

Its base is the valuable eucalyptus oil, famous for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler, fills the air you breathe with germ-killing, disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the nose, throat and lungs.

The only way to cure catarrh and all other diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

This treatment has been so successful in curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money in case it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes:

"Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

A HELPING HAND

Is gladly extended by a Tecumseh citizen.

There are many enthusiastic citizens in Tecumseh prepared to tell their experience for the public good. Testimony from such source is the best evidence, and will prove a "helping hand" to scores of readers. Read the following statement:

Veteran C. Austin, who lives with his son in the northeast section of Tecumseh, says: "I am more than thankful that Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice for they did me a great deal of good, in fact they stopped a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for years, and also rendered the action of the kidney secretion normal which at times were too frequent and highly colored. I tried a number of so-called kidney cures but I did not receive any benefit, before I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills and I knew people who had used them so I went to C. A. Wright's drug store and got them. To say I entertain a very favorable opinion of them as a kidney medicine is putting it in mild terms. They are all and more than represented to be."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

A man may be so full that when a policeman taps him on the shoulder he will not run.

Ten thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles Yet there's a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.

No one ever made a square meal of apples or doughnuts, because they're the wrong shape.

"Cure the cough and save the life.' Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup cures coughs and colds, down to the very verge of consumption.

The man who has never been unfortunate cannot appreciate good fortune.

Mothers, be careful

of the health of your children. Look out for coughs, colds, croup and whooping croup. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by C. A. Wright.

DRUMMERS CUT SHORT.

Can No Longer Fool Railroad on Transportation of Baggage.

Marshall, Mich., Dec. 1.—Ever since the Jackson & Battle Creek Traction Co. began operating cars between Jackson and Battle Creek in June, 1903, the traveling salesmen who carry samples have been trying to beat the Michigan Central Railroad Co., and in several instances they have succeeded. The men would get their trunks checked on the steam road and then travel over the electric road.

The Michigan Central has finally tumbled to the scheme and now has issued a receipt which all travelers must sign upon getting their baggage checked. These receipts are sent in to the Northern Mileage Ticket Co., located at the Union station, Detroit, where they are compared with the tickets or mileage turned in by the conductors. The receipt specifies the form of ticket, and the number of ticket or mileage book, the coupon number, from what station to what station the baggage is checked, on what train it and its owner goes and the date and the number of pieces of baggage checked.

MARRIED OLD LOVER

Then Helped Fix Up Home of Man She Jilted.

Corunna, Mich., Dec. 1.—There is bitterness in the heart of Eric Wilkinson of this city. Wednesday was to have been his wedding day and he had a nice little home all furnished ready for its mistress, Ida Kern, a pretty employe in the robe factory was to have been the bride, but a few days ago she was secretly married to Fred Bugbee, an old lover who has taken her home with him to northern Minnesota.

For two days after her marriage Miss Kern continued to help Wilkinson arrange things in the new home he thought she was going to preside over. At last the secret came out and Wilkinson received a note from Miss Kern explaining that Bugbee had returned, that her love for him was revived and that she had married him. She hoped Eric would not take it too much to heart, and that he would soon find some one else who would not be so cruel.

Cleaning Out the Dives.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 1.—Results of Tuesday night's campaign against women frequenting barrooms were apparent at the early sessions of police court Wednesday. when Detective McCarthy appeared against three offenders. Two of them had been in police court before, and this time were speedily disposed of. The alternative of a fine was not allowed May Hosford, who was sent to the house of correction for thirty days. Annie Moran, 6 Champlain street, was fined $5. Kittie Kaiser demanded a jury trial and examination was set for Dec. 5, bail being fixed in the sum of $500. The police are still applying the disinfectant of the law to the plague spots in the down town district.

Lads Played a Bad Prank.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 1.—Earl Goodenow and Earl Travis, two well known members of the Mu Delta Sigma fraternity of the high school here have been expelled from school and from the local Y. M. C. A. as the result of a malicious prank played a few days ago. Some one scattered a poisonous substance in both the Y. M. C. A. and high school buildings, causing much discomfort to the instructors and pupils. The secret was ill-kept and the authorities of the institutions fastened the blame upon Goodenow and Travis and subsequently they were fired.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

GOLDEN NUGGETS FOR SALLOW PEOPLE

[illegible]

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

Thedford's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with Thedford's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the inroads of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of Thedford's Black-Draught.

A Sure Cure for Diarrhea, etc.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil cures permanently and thoroughly diarrhea, stomach and bowel troubles, rheumatism, neuralgia, lumbago, sciatica, backache, contracted cords and muscles, stiffened joints, sprains, bruises, cuts and wounds, burns and scalds, soreness of all kinds, frost bites, chilblains, swellings and spinal affections. A bottle handy in the home is a household blessing. It costs only 50 cents a bottle.

John Jewell, Water Works Department, Jackson, Mich., says: "I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil in my family for over 20 years. For stomach and bowel trouble I have found it a never failing remedy."

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Kidney Diseases Worst of All.

No one can afford to let a kidney disease continue unchecked a moment after he has discovered its presence. This is especially true of Bright's disease, the most dangerous and fatal of them all. The treacherous manner in which it attacks its victims enables it to become firmly established before its presence is discovered.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure never fails and is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestions, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, sharp cutting pains in the back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

"Your Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is a most excellent remedy as I know from my personal experience with it. I have had serious kidney and bladder trouble with considerable pain. This was a repetition of trouble a year back. I tried one bottle, and the relief was so great, I ordered two bottles of you by express, and am glad to say that I am all right now and recommend this medicine fully to any one troubled with these difficulties." Gratefully yours, [illegible], Cleveland, O.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by

AT BENTON HARBOR

State Horticultural Society to Hold Its Annual Convention.

IT WILL LAST THREE DAYS

Every Topic of Interest to Fruit Growers and Farmers Will Be Discussed—American Pomological Society Will Also Take Part.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 5.—Benton Harbor is proud of the honor of entertaining the State Horticultural society in its thirty-fourth annual session on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week, Dec. 6 to 8. Some of the best speakers of the state have been secured for this annual gathering and every topic of interest to fruit growers and general farmers will be discussed. Secretary Bassett in his announcement of this meeting says:

"Michigan's reputation as a fruit-growing state had its origin in the orchards planted around Benton Harbor, and so in holding its thirty-fourth annual session in Benton Harbor this year the society is but making a pleasant pilgrimage to the cradle of the industry. From this gathering it is expected that we may know each other better, learn new ideas and the latest methods, so as to improve our products and market them in better shape, receive helpful legislation, foster a love for fruits and fruit-growing among the people, and generally promote the horticultural interests of our great state."

Officers and Promoters.

The officers of the county association who are giving their time to this coming meeting are: President, Paul Thayer; vice-president, Robert A. Smythe; secretary, C. H. Hilton; treasurer, W. M. Pratt; executive committee, Mr. Goodell, Fred L. West and Milo Jennings. The state officers are all zealous workers for the improvement of the fruit-growing industry of Michigan and all have expressed their intention of being present. They are: President, C. F. Hale, Shelby; vice-president, C. E. Hadsell, Troy; secretary, C. E. Bassett, Fennville; treasurer, A. W. Slayton, Grand Rapids; librarian, O. C. Howe, Lansing. Mr. Bassett is also secretary of the National Horticultural society, organized at the world's fair at St. Louis five weeks ago, and he will address the state convention on matters that will be handled by this national association. Paramount of these issues is that of shipping advantages and how proper recognition can be secured from the roads when a combined effort of all the growers is made. It is believed that a national effort, when rightly directed, will open up markets in new fields never yet opened to the fruit growers.

The national organization will meet with the American Pomological society in its biennial conventions, and the results to the fruit grower and shipper will be of great value. Mr. Bassett has been connected with the state society many years and is stocked with information relative to the growing of fruits of all kinds. The convention will be held in the Bell opera house. The citizens have united with the county society in raising a purse to defray all the expenses of the annual meeting.

Debate Question Finally Submitted.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 5.—The question of the Michigan-Wisconsin debate has finally been submitted. It is as follows: "Resolved, That party candidates for state, county and village offices and for the state and national legislature should be nominated by direct vote of the people, constitutionality conceded." Owing to the question being two weeks late, the preliminary debates will not be finished until Dec. 20. The honor men who will take part in the debate, which occurs at Madison on March 24, 1905, are: Sonnenscein, Halliday, Ripple, Holderman and Kenney.

NOT BE A BUSY WEEK

Little Legislative Business Is Expected of Congress at First.

READ PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

And Grist of Pension Bills Also Be Presented—Deceased Senators to Be Honored—An Alabama Representative's Seat May Be Contested.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Little in the way of legislative business is expected the first week of the session of congress. Today will be devoted to calling the roll and swearing in new members who have been elected to fill vacancies. The usual committee will be appointed to inform the president the house is in session, and the resolution notifying the senate that a quorum of the house is ready for business will be passed.

Tuesday the president's message will be read in both house and senate, but it is not expected that any other business will be transacted. There are a number of minor matters of legislation which may be considered on Wednesday, and on Thursday, as no special order has been made for consideration of any general measure. It is possible that the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill may be reported Wednesday or Thursday. If on Wednesday, it perhaps will be considered in the house on Thursday.

Friday is pension day, and there will be more than a thousand private pension bills ready for the house to consider.

An intimation has been given that objection may be interposed against administering the oath of office to J. Thomas Heflin, who has been elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rep. Thompson from the fifth Alabama district, on account of certain language Heflin is alleged to have used regarding the president of the United States.

The first act of the senate after convening will be one of respect to the memory of two distinguished senators, whose deaths have occurred since the adjournment of congress. Senator Penrose, immediately after the senate is called to order, will announce Senator Quay's demise and then will give way to Senator Lodge to perform a like service in the case of Senator Hoar. Adjournment for the day will follow at once. For the remainder of the week exceedingly brief sessions are expected. On Thursday an adjournment will be taken until the following Monday.

POPE HONORS FARLEY.

Archbishop of New York Appointed Assistant to Pontifical Throne.

Rome, Dec. 5.—Archbishop Farley of New York was Sunday appointed by Pope Pius X. to the dignity of assistant to the pontifical throne, which permits the prelate to sit with the college of patriarchs and archbishops and to assist at functions presided over by the pope.

Delegations of the Catholic clergy of New York, Albany and Syracuse, which have come to Rome to attend the celebration of the jubilee of the immaculate conception, were received in audience by the pope. The delegation from New York city was headed by Auxiliary Bishop Cusack and Mgrs. Lavelle and Kearney and Mgr. J. S. M. Lynch represented the Albany and Syracuse delegations.

Peter's pence, amounting to $13,000, was presented to the pope by Bishop Cusack. The pope received the donation with thanks and spoke in terms of high praise of the institution of early mass in New York for printers and other night workers of that city. He also expressed his appreciation of the encouragement given by the vicar-general of the arch-diocese of New York to Catholic summer schools and for the assistance extended to parochial schools and to Italian immigrants.

After the audience a large delegation of New York clergymen was presented by Dr. Kennedy, rector of the American college at Rome.

Chaffee to Be Grand Marshal.

Washington, Dec. 3.—Gen. John Wilson, chairman of the inaugural committee, has appointed Lieut.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee chief of staff, U. S. A., to be grand marshal of the inaugural parade.

AN APPALLING REPORT

One Life Sacrificed For Every Sixty-Five Deer Killed

IN MICHIGAN AND WISCONSIN

Estimated Four Thousand Deer Were Slain—Considerable Less Than Last Year—Hunters Quite as Enthusiastic as Ever—Fatalities Number 66.

Houghton, Mich., Dec. 3.—It is estimated that for every sixty-five deer killed in the north woods this season just closed one hunter gave up his life. Never before have the Wisconsin and Michigan woods been so prolific in accidental killings. The lack of snow made the sport mediocre, and as near as can be figured 4,000 deer were slaughtered by the nimrods. This is one-third less than the total of last year's open season. Some hunters used dogs, although forbidden by the law. These pot hunters doubtless got more than the legal limit for their prey.

Eager as Ever.

But notwithstanding the terrible cost of hunting in human life, the hunters are as eager as ever, and if permitted doubtless would scour the north woods until every vestige of game was obliterated. That more than forty men and boys were killed and more than a score wounded desperately during the time that the law permitted pursuing and killing deer in Michigan and Wisconsin is not remarkable when it is learned that some of the misfits who carried guns into the woods fired at almost everything that they saw move, often hitting human beings who in turn were out hunting any old thing.

There were some hunting fatalities reported from other states, but the record for Michigan and Wisconsin so far overshadows them as to almost lose them from sight entirely. The entire list, so far as known, totals 66 from Sept. 7 to Nov. 29, inclusive.

WALKED OVER 1,000 MILES.

Jackson Y. M. C. A. Boys Tramped to Lexington, Kentucky.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 3.—After walking from Jackson, Mich., to Lexington, Fred Luther, 19 years of age, and Joseph W. Cheate, 17 years of age, have decided that they have had enough of walking and will return to their home by rail after walking over 1,000 miles of their journey, which had Arcadia, Fla., as its destination.

Both boys are members of the Overland Walking club and of the Y. M. C. A. of Jackson, Mich. They reached here from Cincinnati by way of Georgetown, having touched important cities in Ohio. They were equipped with all requisites of open air life. When they struck Main street yesterday they attracted a great deal of attention, and were followed by a crowd of curious boys and men. One carried a tent around his shoulders and the other carried the blankets used in their tenting. In the equipment of both were pans, kettles and other camp necessities, while one wore a hatchet stuck in his belt. They stopped at the Y. M. C. A.

They started from Jackson Oct. 13. The entire distance has been walked, the average per day being thirty miles. Choate has an uncle living at Arcadia, Fla., with whom he intended to spend some time.

To Beautify Kalamazoo.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 5.—The Kalamazoo board of trade has announced its intention of co-operating with the Civic Improvement league, an organization composed of leading women of the city, which has been very successful in the work of improving the appearance of the streets and alleys of the city. The board has appropriated the sum of $64.50 to interest the children of the schools in the beautifying of lawns by the growing of flowers. The money will be given in prizes for essays on civic improvement along these lines.

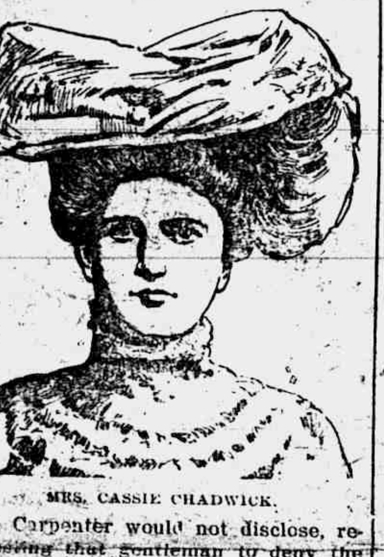
A frightened horse.

Running like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurances. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, cuts, sores, exzema and piles, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

FAITH IN HIS WIFE.

Mrs. Chadwick's Husband Brands Statements Against Her as False.

New York, Dec. 5.—Dr. Leroy Chadwick, the husband of Cassie L. Chadwick, whose financial troubles have been undergoing the threshing-out process for the past week, has come out with a brief statement from Europe. Sunday he cabled to Philip Carpenter, Mrs. Chadwick's counsel, from some place abroad, the name of which Mr. Carpenter would not disclose, requesting that gentleman to deny the published statements reflecting on Mrs. Chadwick's life and character.



MRS. CASSIE CHADWICK.

"The story is absolutely false," the cablegram reads. "I wish to have it understood that I stand by Mrs. Chadwick in every particular in her present troubles. I feel she has been greatly wronged by the publication; and I believe she is being persecuted by some of her creditors."

Mrs. Chadwick remained in her rooms in the Holland house all day Sunday. Dr. Moore, her physician, called in the morning and afterwards said that the patient was almost prostrated from the exciting events of the past week.

Cleveland, Dec. 5.—As the result of the extended conference between the United States district attorney, the bank examiners who have been looking into the affairs of the failed Citizens' National bank of Oberlin, and their counsel, which lasted until late Saturday night and all of Sunday, President C. T. Beckwith and Cashier Spear of that bank were placed under arrest late last night by United States Marshal Chandler of Cleveland at their homes in Oberlin. The arrests of Beckwith and Spear are the first that have been made in the Chadwick case. The Citizens' National bank, with which they are connected, is creditor to the extent of $240,000 from Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, whose financial affairs during the past week have been the cause of a great deal of publicity.

Audience Became Panic-Stricken.

New York, Dec. 5.—Panic seized an audience in the Gotham theater during a performance Sunday afternoon, when smoke from a bonfire outside blew into a window and a woman ran towards an exit shouting fire. Women and children made up the greater part of the audience. Many of them at once took up the cry and there was a rush for the street. Attaches of the theater tried in vain to quiet the excitement. Almost the entire audience left the theater, yet no one was injured.

Kruger's Body Lies In State.

Capetown, Dec. 5.—The body of the late former president of the Transvaal republic, Paul Kruger, is lying in state in the Huguenot Memorial building, where it is daily visited by great crowds.

New Church Dedicated.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 5.—Battle Creek's newest church, St. Paul's English Lutheran, was dedicated last night, Rev. C. G. Heckert, D. D., president of Wittenberg college, Springfield, O., preaching the dedicatory sermon before a large crowd. The church is on Illinois street, in the new Post addition, where many working families reside. Saturday night Rev. F. J. Howard was installed as pastor by Dr. Heckert, Rev. C. E. Rice of Elkhart, Ind., delivering the charge. Tonight all the clergymen in the city will unite in a closing service of the dedicatory exercises.

An emergency medicine.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries there is nothing so good as Chamberlains Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain but causes the parts to heal in about one third the time required by the usual treatment. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

FUR COATS.

We are exclusive agents in Tecumseh for the celebrated Hillsdale Fur Coats. The natural color Galloway Coat is the big seller—no coloring to kill the strength of fur, or dye coming off on face and hands. These are the best coats made for the money, $20.00. We sold 51 of these coats last year—more coats than any other two stores sold in Lenawee county. We also have the Gordon & Furgeson, of St. Paul; the Ellsworth & Thayer, of Milwaukee; the Bishop Cub Bear coat, of Wyandotte, which will sell for 15.00. Others will ask you $16 to 18.00. We also have the Ladies' Fur Coats to show you. These hang in our store now—about 40 coats—and early buyers can have the best selection.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARNIN.
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. Eor sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar's worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

Revolution imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

A woman can have a good time thinking what a good time she would have if she were having it.

Report from the reform school.

J. G. Gluck, superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's honey and tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

In an argument, the way to get the other fellow mad is not to let him get you mad.

"Neglected colds make fat graveyards." Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup helps men and women to a happy, vigorous old age.

CHAPTER XXVI.

"Not a sound disturbed the house as I seated myself to my reading in front of the library shelves. I was as much alone under that desolate roof as mortal could be with men anywhere within reach of him. I enjoyed the solitude and was making a very pretty theory for myself on a scrap of paper I tore from another old book when a noise suddenly rose in front, which, slight as it was, was quite unmistakable to ears trained to listening. Some one was unlocking the front door.

"Naturally I thought it to be Mr. Jeffrey returning for a second visit to his wife's house, and, knowing what I might expect if he surprised me on the premises, I restored the book hastily to its place and as hastily blew out the candle. Then, with every intention of flight, I backed toward the door by which I had entered. But some impulse stronger than that of escape made me stop just before I reached it. I could see nothing—the place was dark as Tophet—but I could listen. The person—Mr. Jeffrey or some other—was coming my way, and in perfect darkness. I could hear the faltering steps—the fingers dragging along the walls; then a rustle as of skirts, proving the intruder to be a woman—a fact which greatly surprised me—then a long drawn sigh or gasp.

"This last determined me. The situation was too intense for me to leave without first learning who the woman was who in terror and shrinking dared to drag her half resisting feet through these empty halls and into a place cursed with such unwholesome memories. I did not think of Veronica. No one looks for a butterfly in the depths of a dungeon. But I did think of Miss Tuttle—that woman of resolute will. Without attempting to imagine the reason for her presence, I stood my ground and harkened till the heavy mahogany door at the other end of the room began to swing in by jerks under the faint and tremulous push of a terrified hand. Then there came silence—a long silence—followed by a moan so agonized that I realized that whatever was the cause of this panting woman's presence here, it was due to no mere errand of curiosity. This whetted my purpose. Anything done in this house was in a way done to me; so I remained quiet and watched. But the sounds which now and then came from the remote corner upon which my attention was concentrated were very eloquent.

"I heard sighs and bitter groans, with now and then a murmured prayer, broken by a low wailing, in which I caught the name of Francis. And still, possibly on account of the utterance of this name, I thought the woman near me to be Miss Tuttle, and even went so far as to imagine the cause of her suffering if not the nature of her retribution. Words succeeded cries and I caught phrases expressive of fear and some sort of agonized hesitation. Once these broken ejaculations were interrupted by a dull sound. Something had dropped to the bare floor. We shall never know what it was, but I have no doubt that it was the pistol, and that the marks of dust to be found on the connecting ribbon were made by her own fingers in taking it again in her hand. (You will remember that these same fingers had but a few minutes previous groped their way along the walls.) For her voice soon took a different tone, and such unintelligible phrases as these could be heard issuing from her partly paralyzed lips:

"'I must! I can never meet his eye again alive. He would despise— Brave enough to—to—another's blood — coward—when—own. Oh, God, forgive!' Then another silence, during which I almost made up my mind to interfere, then a loud report and a flash so startling and unexpected that I recoiled, during which the room leaped into sudden view—she, too, Veronica, with baby face drawn and set like a woman's—then darkness again and a heavy fall which shook the floor, if not my hard old heart. The flash and that fall enlightened me. I had just witnessed the suicide of the last Moore saving myself, a suicide for which I was totally unprepared and one which I do not yet understand.

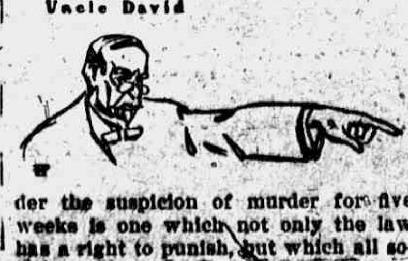
"I did not go over to her. She was as dead when she fell as she ever would be. In the flash which lit everything I had seen where her pistol was pointed. Why disturb her, then? Nor did I return upstairs. I had small interest now in anything but my own escape from a situation more or less compromising. Do you blame me for this? I was her heir, and I was where I had no legal right to be. Do you think that I was called upon to publish my shame and tell how I lingered there while my own niece shot herself before my eyes? That shot made me a millionaire. This certainly was excitement enough for one day. Besides, I did not leave her there neglected. I notified you later after I had got my breath and had found some excuse. That wasn't enough? Ah, I see that you are all models of courage and magnanimity. You would have laid yourselves open to every reproach rather than let a little necessary perjury pass your lips. But I am no model. I am simply an old man who has been too hardly dealt with for seventy long years to possess every virtue. I made a mistake—I see it now—trusted a dog when I shouldn't—but if Rudge had not seen ghosts—well, what now?"

We had, one and all, with an involuntary impulse turned our backs upon him.

"What are you doing?" he hotly demanded.

"Only what all Washington will do tomorrow and afterward the whole world," gravely returned the major. Then, as an ejaculation escaped the astonished millionaire, he impressively added: "A perjury which allows an innocent man and woman to remain under the suspicion of murder for five weeks is one which not only the law has a right to punish, but which all society will condemn. Henceforth you will find yourself under a ban, Mr. Moore." Time amply verified this prophecy. Mr. Moore is living in great style in the Moore house and drives horses which are conspicuous even in Washington, but no one accepts his invitations, and he is as much of a recluse in his present mansion as he ever was in the humble cottage in which his days of penury were spent.

The major denounces Uncle David



My story ends here. The matter never came before the grand jury. Suicide had been proved, and there the affair rested.

THE END.

FOR FEW THOUSAND.

Buildings Which Cost Millions at World's Fair Are Sold.

St. Louis, Dec. 5.—It is stated that a contract for the sale of the eleven big exhibit palaces, stock barns, festival hall, the colonnade of states, pavilions, aerodrome, bank, intramural railway, hospital, press building, police and fire stations, with other world's fair structures that cost $15,000,000, will be signed this week with a Chicago wrecking company for $386,500. Everything except the rolling stock of the intramural, which has been sold separately, and the state, foreign and Pike buildings, are included in the deal.

Three Burned to Death.

Denison, Tex., Dec. 5.—Three persons were burned to death in a fire that destroyed a rooming house here Sunday. The victims were John Uhnweller of Dallas, Tex.; Albert Harris of Bakersville, O. and Fred Anderson of Tennessee. Thirty-five guests escaped from the building by jumping from second-story windows.

Ten Successful Embalmers.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 5.—At the examination of applicants for embalmers' licenses by the state board of health Nov. 16, ten out of twenty-six applicants were successful. Those to whom embalmers' certificates were granted are: Eugene A. Moses, Kalamazoo; Burton F. Mills, Detroit; Milton E. Stewart, Hastings; Hiram F. Dawson, Central Lake; Stephen H. Green, Freeland; Cecil J. Barnum, Beaverton; Norris E. Stilson, Vassar; Jeremiah E. O'Neil, Hancock; Kate K. Worden, Marcellus, and Claude L. Chambers, Grand Rapids.

Injunction Against Hunters.

Monroe, Mich., Dec. 5.—Suit has been started in the circuit court by W. C. Sterling, as trustee for the Monroe Marsh Co., to prevent hunters entering upon their lands and killing muskrats. A temporary injunction was issued restraining the defendants from hunting in the marsh. The suit is the result of several arrests which have been made in the past few days for the killing of muskrats out of season. About one hundred of these animals have been confiscated and it is said will be used for the banquet soon to be given by the Monroe Yacht club.

Dobbs Wanted to Die.

Flint, Mich., Dec. 3.—Fred Dobbs, better known as Harry Dewey, a young fellow, gashed the wrist of his left arm last evening after a quarrel with his wife, who left him the day before Thanksgiving. The attempt at suicide was made in the doorway of the Hotel Kearsley. Prompt medical attention prevented serious consequences.

Another Coroner Held.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 3.—Coroner Toepel was Friday held by Justice Whelan to the recorder's court on the charge of obtaining money under false pretenses and ordered to appear for trial next Friday, Nov. 9. Bail in the sum of $2,000 was furnished by Fred Toepel, brother of the defendant, and Herman Eckner.

Nothing Serious.

The Heiress—And I've been introduced to quite a number of the European nobility. Her Friend—Thinking of marrying any of them? The Heiress—Oh, no. I don't intend to buy a title. I'm merely shopping.—Puck.

When you bury animosity do not set up a headstone over its grave.—Dickens.

TWO GIVEN LIFE SENTENCES.

Condon and Kirwin of Detroit Given the Limit.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—Prison for life is the sentence meted out to two Detroit prisoners — Jacob Dussold, alias John Condon, to Marquette for the murder of Bartender William Hermann in a Gratiot avenue saloon a couple of months ago, and Joseph Kirwin to the house of correction for robbery on the high seas on the steamer Western States. Judge Phelan of the recorder's court imposed the sentence upon Dussold and Judge Swan of the United States district court on Kirwin.

Kirwin was charged with breaking into the stateroom of Mrs. Adele M. B. Sweeting of Jackson, Mich., on the steamer Western States, Sept. 10 last. He choked and chloroformed her and robbed her of diamonds and $40 in cash.

BIG STORE DESTROYED.

Fire at Cadillac Caused Damage of $40,000.

Cadillac, Mich., Dec. 5.—Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the hardware store of Drury & Kelley, causing a loss of $40,000. The store, a brick structure two stories tall, was completely gutted, very little of the stock being saved.

It is thought the fire originated from spontaneous combustion among some oil barrels in the basement. It burned from 6:30 o'clock in the morning to 1 o'clock in the afternoon and was so hot that it was thought for a while the whole block would be burned. The insurance amounts to $26,000.

Girl Fatally Burned.

Hesperia, Mich., Dec. 5.—The home of Riley Clark, a farmer, has burned to the ground. His daughter Minnie fell down stairs with her clothes on fire. When the flames were extinguished her head was dangerously burned. There is little hope of her recovery. The mother was burned but not dangerously. The house and its contents were totally destroyed.

Students Will Have Special Train.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 5.—The Keystone club of the University of Michigan has inaugurated a brand new stunt. The club will charter a special train to take its members back home to Pennsylvania for the holidays. All members of the club and all students from Pennsylvania are eligible for a ride in the special, which leaves Ann Arbor for Pittsburg on Dec. 22.

Gagged and Robbed Her.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 5.—Two masked men, shortly before 6 o'clock in the evening, held up, then tied and gagged Mrs. Anna Zschredner, 1180 Canton avenue, and later cleaned out the house of all its valuables. Detectives were put on the trail of the robbers at once, but so far have been unsuccessful in making any arrests.

Land to Be Sold in Texas.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 5.—The state land commissioner will offer for sale next Wednesday, Dec. 7, a quantity of and in Bay and Oceana counties which has been bid in to the state for delinquent taxes. A few descriptions in Eaton county will also be offered.

Mrs. John I. Knapp was severely burned in Adrian last Sunday morning, during a fire at the Colonial Home, a large boarding house conducted by her husband. The blaze broke out the night before and was thought to have been extinguished by the firemen, but the next morning the house was again on fire. Mr. Knapp thinks this a continuation of his ill luck, as his pocket was picked at the late fair in that city.—Post.

Sheriff Shepherd arrived home this morning with Frank Beaubien and lodged him in the county jail. It will be remembered a few years ago, he was arrested in company with another man, charged with stealing brass from the railroad company. He was let out on $500 bail and later jumped his bail. Since that time he has kept clear of Adrian, but Sheriff Shepherd has been on the lookout since Beaubien's departure. He got a clue to his whereabouts this week and went after him with the above result. Beaubien will have to stand trial.—Adrian Times.

Boyd Fitzsimmons is in jail, charged with breaking into the residence of Morey S. Potter in Seneca, on the 6th of November and stealing a lot of wearing apparel. The next day two bloodhounds which are owned in Weston were put on the trail and went to the Fitzsimmons house but he was not arrested. The dogs have since been tested and are so accurate in following trails that the arrest of Fitzsimmons was ordered by the sheriff. The prisoner is an old offender and was convicted, while Sampson was prosecutor, of breaking into a grainary in Hudson township and sent to the house of correction.—Hudson Post.

Frequent bank burglaries all over the country have led the directors of the First National bank of this city to contract for the installation of an electric gong and signal alarm service. On leaving the bank at night every door and window in the bank will be connected with this gong and signal and any disturbance of either will sound an alarm that will arouse the whole city. It is in use in other cities and while somewhat expensive, gives absolute security.—Hillsdale Leader.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

Hillsdale doctors bless the shoe factory in that city, which makes business in their line. One man last week was laid up with a wounded hand, which was cut with a knife and the watchman was compelled to take a vacation because his face was badly burned when he opened the firebox under the boilers and the flames rushed out and scorched his eyes so badly that he was unable to see for several days.—Post

In his annual report James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, after showing that the products of the United States farms in one year are worth $4,900,000,000, states that the hens of the United States lay 1,666,000,000 dozens of eggs a year, enough in one month to pay the interest of the entire national debt for year. Mr. Wilson figures that the corn crop would be sufficient to pay off the debt.—Ex.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. "DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, eat all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

THE EDITOR'S WIFE

Letter from an Illinois newspaper man that is well worth reading.

As a usual thing editors save the good things for the columns of their own newspapers, but the following letter from S. H. Duncan, editor of the Sexton, Ill., Independent, shows that there is at least one editor who wants to help others. He writes as follows:

"To the Editor of the HERALD:

I wish you would print the following and thus help me to do a kindness to your readers. My wife has been a great sufferer with stomach troubles for the past four years and the last two years practically an invalid. Nothing seemed to help her until I procured a box of Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. This gave her so much relief that she continued using the remedy until now she enjoys her meals, is relieved from all pain in her stomach and has increased in flesh.

I hope you will publish this letter, for I think there is no remedy for stomach trouble equal to Mi-o-na and the more wide spread its use becomes, the more good will be done humanity.

S. H. DUNCAN,
Editor of Independent."

C. A. Wright has the local agency for Mi-o-na and his faith in its merits equals Editor Duncan's. He, in fact, offers to pay of Mi-o-na himself in any case where it does not give satisfaction. No stronger endorsement of the merits of the remedy can be given than this, that a local drug firm is willing to sell a medicine on his own guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure stomach troubles and increase flesh.

The Maccabee fair and supper which was advertised for Wednesday, Dec. 7, has been given up on account of the death of members from both the L. O. T. M. M. and the Knights. The time of the drawing for the piece on which tickets have been sold, will be announced later.

The social given by the C. E. society of the Friends church at the home of Newton Satterthwaite last evening was a decided success. The attendance manifested was exceedingly gratifying. A short literary program given by members and guests of the society was a feature of the evening. A guessing contest in which nearly all participated, added to the pleasure of the hour after which graphaphone music and refreshments were enjoyed as a pleasing and palatable goodnight. Although the society is small it is an important factor in the church and the individual members are alive to its needs and best interests.

The funeral of H. E. Stout was held from the house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment at Brookside, Rev. C. C. Kemp officiating. The floral pieces were many and beautiful. The Misses McKenna and McKinney, Will Dickinson and Levi Hayden rendered two beautiful selections. The casket was borne from the house by P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, J. D. Shull, Chas. Burridge, D. P. Guaranteed Attraction.

In securing Frank Adams in Uncle Hez, with his superb band and orchestra for Dec. 7, the managers are to be congratulated.

The following clipping from Mansfield, Ohio News will be of interest to theatre goers:

Frank Adams and his company in "Uncle Hez," a farce comedy, appeared at Memorial opera house last evening before a packed house. Mr. Adams played the part of an old country man very creditably, provoking much laughter. In acts 1 and 2, the play reminded one of Hanlon's Fantasma and Superba. There were many new hits in the show and the audience seemed well pleased with the performance. A return date is talked of by the local management.

Fifty Sewing Machines.

Only a few days since B. A. Rauch put in 50 sewing machines from the Illinois Sewing Co. Last week a man from the company was in Tecumseh. Friday and Saturday he inaugurated a special sale and at that time sold and delivered five machines and made partial arrangements for several more.

The machines from this company are the best in the country. They range in price from $12.98 up and every machine is a work of mechanical art and fully guaranteed. [illegible] Rauch will be very successful in this line which will be easy to handle with furniture.

Township Taxes.

I will be at the Tecumseh State Savings bank Tuesday, Dec. 6, and every Tuesday thereafter for thirty days to receive taxes. S. L. SHUTT, Collector.

I will be at the same place on the same dates to receive money for the Farmers' Mutual Insurance.

Cullen—Strickland.

Coldwater Courier, Wednesday: Mr. Jerome E. Strickland and Miss Ada G. Cullen were united in marriage last evening at Mr. Strickland's home on North Hudson street. Rev. H. P. Collin performed the ceremony in the presence of only two witnesses. Mr. Strickland and bride left on the 8:18 train for Adrian for a short visit with friends. It is understood that Mrs. Strickland will continue her millinery business for the present at least.

Mrs. Strickland was employed by Mrs. Freeman for some time in the millinery shop, and has many friends here who wish her much happiness.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The double windows have been put in for the winter.

Edwin Smith of Ridgeway, entered high school last week.

Last Friday being the first one in the month, brought report cards again.

Current events are an interesting feature of the General History classes.

English II classes are devoting most of their time to The last of the Mohicans, which they hope to finish before the holiday vacation.

The report cards this month showed a much higher per cent. in deportment for some of the pupils in Mr. Winter's room. These may encourage us to struggle for a perfect mark next month.

Some of the girls in English IV have clearly expressed their opinions of the attributes of their ideal young men, while discussing Godfrey Cass in Silas Marner. A word to the wise is sufficient.

English II may be the inspiration of some great poets of the future. The other morning Miss Mingay allowed the muse to hold sway during the class hour and the result was some very clever rhymes.

INSTANT DEATH

Shortly after the men started their work at the Car Shops Monday morning

RICHARD VANDUSER,

Shortly after seven o'clock Monday morning Richard VanDuser, a young man 22 years of age, met his death at the car shops, where he was employed. Soon after the engine had started he was obliged to climb up to the main shaft to adjust a belt around a pulley, when his right arm caught in the set screw and before the engine could be stopped, he had been wound several times around the shaft, which revolves 150 times in a minute. A half hour was taken to remove the body from the shaft as it was twisted in between the pulley and post that supported the shaft.

Dr. L. G. North was immediately summoned, who made a thorough examination. His death was instantaneous. The back bone was broken at the base of the neck, all the right ribs broken loose from the breast bone, compound dislocation of the right shoulder, compound fracture of the right arm and the right knee and left ankle were broken. The body was taken to Belding's undertaking rooms, where it was prepared for burial.

Coroner Stevens impanelled a jury which met at the car shops about nine o'clock yesterday morning. They adjourned until seven o'clock last night, when they met in Belding's undertaking parlors. By the evidence given the jury brought in the following verdict: Richard VanDuser came to his death at 6:50 Monday morning at the Detroit Southern car shops by his clothing catching in the shaft and his body being wound around that shaft until the steam could be shut off and the machinery stopped.

The jury consisted of Fred. Teachont, C. E. Williamson, William Gaston, F. D. Chilson, O. B. Finch and G. B. Garlinghouse.

Richard VanDuser was born in Tecumseh May 23, 1882, and was the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanDuser. He is survived by a mother, three sisters, Mrs. R. G. Royce of Jackson, Mrs. Ray Holcomb and Lida VanDuser, two brothers, Harry and Henry, his father having died fourteen years ago.

He has spent his entire life in Tecumseh, and was highly esteemed by every one, the entire community is saddened by his death. The family is prostrated with grief. Deceased was insured with the Maccabees and Royal Arcanum.

For nearly three years he had been an employee at Miller's meat market and for several weeks was employed by W. W. Whiting in the cigar shop, which position he had filled until two weeks ago yesterday. Monday morning started his third week at the car shops.

The funeral will be held at the Baptist church tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. The Royal Arcanum will have charge.

Mrs. Sadie Poole.

Mrs. Sadie Poole died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Robert McClelland, Saturday morning after an illness of four weeks of typhoid fever.

Sadie Gabriel was born at Edgerton, O., Sept. 14, 1863 and was 41 years of age at the time of her death. She was married Jan. 27, 1882 to Irving Poole at Edgerton. Three children were born to them, Leona, Mrs. Ethel McClelland, and Bessie, Leona dying in infancy. Mr. and Mrs. Poole came to Tecumseh from Bellevue, O., eight years ago and on Oct. 9, 1899, Mr. Poole met his death at Frankfort, Ind., while working on the Clover Leaf. Three brothers, three sisters and two daughters are left to mourn.

The funeral was held from the house yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the L. O. T. M. M. having charge. The remains were taken over the Lake Shore to Edgerton, O., and laid at rest beside her husband.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church and Rathbone lodge and was highly respected and loved by all who knew her. Since the death of her husband she had conducted a dressmaking establishment. Although her death had been hourly expected for the past week it was a great shock to the community. The family have the deepest sympathy from all in their affliction.

Fred Hubbard.

Fred Hubbard died Wednesday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hubbard, after a lingering illness of several months. Deceased was born Oct. 16, 1856, at Moscow, N. Y., and came to Tecumseh with his parents in '67, where he has since resided. Beside his parents and a host of sorrowing friends, he leaves to mourn three brothers, Arthur, Dell and Dan, and one sister, Mrs. Eva Lawson, of Memphis, Tenn.

He was loved and respected by all who knew him. The funeral was conducted from the house Friday afternoon by Rev. Sedweek of the M. E. church. Interment at Brookside.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during the sickness and death of our son.
MR. AND MRS. JOHN HUBBARD.

Edwin Miller.

The community was shocked this morning to learn of the sad death of Edwin Miller, at his home in Jackson, of intermittent fever. He was employed at J. J. Freeman's cigar shop, and had been in Jackson only a couple of weeks. The family and friends have the sincere sympathy of the entire community.

Blessed is the poor man. Pickpockets don't bother him, nobody tries to borrow from him and no one asks him to endorse a note; he is neither robbed nor harassed by litigation; burglars never invade his premises and he sleeps in peace, when he dies nobody questions his will or attempts to steal his body.—Enterprise.

KILLS CATARRH GERMS

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and benefit will be seen at once. Continue this treatment for a short time and your catarrh will have been cured by Hyomei.

There is no roundabout way in Hyomei's medicinal action; it does not try to cure a disease of the head by putting medicine in the stomach. It fills the air you breathe with balsamic healing, that soothes the irritated and smarting membrane, destroys the germs of catarrh that are present in the head and throat and is the only treatment that can be relied upon to cure.

When using Hyomei the air you breathe will be like that on the mountains high above the sea level, filled with volatile, antiseptic fragrance that heals and cures the irritated mucous membrane of the air passages.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

The woman of the hour is the one who promises to be ready in a second.

The Human Lottery

"Ah, if only I were beautiful how happy life would be."

Many a forlorn maid has said this as she looked into the mirror. It is the one possession in the lottery of human life which woman would not refuse.

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

for young girls on the threshold of womanhood is invaluable. When they become pale and languid, the eyes dull, aching head, feet and hands cold, appetite gone or abnormal, obstructed periods and painful menses, and their systems generally run down, they need a tonic, building up and their blood cleansed.

Bradfield's Female Regulator for women is particularly valuable and useful owing to its tonic properties and as a regulator of the menstrual flows. Painful, obstructed and suppressed menstruation is permanently relieved and all diseases peculiar to her genital organs are cured by it.

Regulator clears the complexion, brightens the eye, sharpens the appetite, removes muddy and blotched conditions of the skin and cures sick headache at once.

Of druggists at $1.00 per bottle.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

Liniment may relieve but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

Cure sick kidneys

Here is proof that this is so:

Mrs. J. H Welch, who resides in the southwestern section of Tecumseh, says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. My back troubled me for a long time with a constant dull aching pain across my loins and when stooping or exerting myself it became very sharp. If I took cold it always settled in my kidneys and in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly attend to my work. I used several simple remedies but they did not bring relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended so highly I concluded to test their merits and got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store, they took right hold of the cause and in a short time the pain was a thing of the past. I can now straighten after bending or stooping without any inconvenience and they are certainly a wonderful remedy."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

When I pike off all these patent medicine signs in the street cars I wonder if we're a nation with bum "innards."

Many Wolves In North.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 3.—Game Warden Vivian says that in the unsettled districts near Porte and Sidnaw, in the southern part of Houghton county the farmers are overrun with wolves which are becoming a positive menace to the few residents of the sections mentioned. Farmers in the overrun sections are turning their attention to hunting wolves rather than deer, both as a measure of protection and for the attractive bounty which is offered by the state and county for every wolf's head which is brought in. The state pays a bounty of $15 and the county $8. It is possible that various townships will offer a bounty of $2 per head, which would bring the total up to $25.

New Churches For Battle Creek.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 3.—Battle Creek's newest church, St. Paul's Evangelical (English Lutheran), will be dedicated Sunday, special services to be held today as well. The church is the first one erected on the new Post addition, the little city within a city built by C. W. Post, to be sold to working people on the installment plan. Another new church, the Free Methodist, built entirely of cement blocks, will be finished within a few days.

Sentenced For Life.

Jackson, Mich., Dec. 3.—The jury in the case of George Ryan, charged with the murder of Frank Shoemaker, in the early morning of Sept. 21, have brought in a verdict that George Ryan is guilty of murder in the first degree. Ryan was brought before Judge Parkinson for sentence. Ryan was calm and apparently unmoved. After a sharp lecture, Judge Parkinson sentenced him to state prison in this city to solitary confinement for and during his lifetime.

My Breath.

Shortness of Breath Is One of the Commonest Signs of Heart Disease.

Notwithstanding what many physicians say, heart disease can be cured.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure has permanently restored to health many thousands who had found no relief in the medicines (allopathic or homoeopathic) of regular practicing physicians.

It has proved itself unique in the history of medicine, by being so uniformly successful in curing those diseases.

Nearly always, one of the first signs of trouble is shortness of breath. Whether it comes as a result of walking or running up stairs, or of other exercises, if the heart is unable to meet this extra demand upon its pumping powers—there is something wrong with it.

The very best thing you can do, is to take Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. It will go to the foundation of the trouble, and make a permanent cure by strengthening and renewing the nerves.

"I know that Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is a great remedy. For a number of years I suffered from shortness of breath, smothering spells, and pains in my left side. For months at a time I would be unable to lie on my left side; and if I lay flat on my back would nearly smother. A friend advised using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, which I did with good results. I began to improve at once, and after taking several bottles of the Heart Cure the pains in my side and other symptoms vanished. I am now entirely well. All those dreadful smothering spells are a thing of the past."—F. P. DRAKE, Middletown, O.

If the first bottle does not help you, the druggist will refund your money.

A Marvel for Sprains, Bruises, etc.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil cures thoroughly, quickly and permanently leucorrhea or whites, neuralgia, rheumatism, lumbago, sciatica, backache, contracted cords and muscles, stiffened joints, sprains, bruises, cuts, and wounds, burns and scalds, soreness of all kinds, frost bites, chilblains, swellings and spinal affections. It is invaluable alike for external or internal use. You can rub it on or drink it. It is put up in 50 cent bottles and no family can afford to be without it in the house.

"I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil for a number of years. I cured myself of a severe case of rheumatism in my shoulders with it. I have been an engineer on the Michigan Central Railroad for 22 years. A great many of our boys carry Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil with them on their trips. It's great stuff in case of accidents, and I cannot recommend it too highly." W. T. S. Browne, 1202 Page Ave., Jackson, Mich.

Bad Blood Causes a Horrid Face.

Everybody Notices and Comments on it—How to Have Pure Blood.

Impure and corrupt blood coursing through the veins is an indication of disease of more or less offensive nature and always makes its presence manifest on the face, thereby giving rise to unfavorable comment and derogatory remarks among all with whom the subject comes in contact. It is not only dangerous but humiliating and no one who has any regard for his or her standing or position in society can afford to tolerate its presence.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures thoroughly and permanently all blood and skin diseases. It makes new, rich, pure blood and is guaranteed to cure scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is for sale at $1.00 a bottle and satisfaction is guaranteed or the purchase money will be refunded by

MAY BE LIBERATED.

McGarry's Chances With Pardon Board Seem Good.

Ionia, Mich., Dec. 3.—Thomas F. McGarry was brought from his duties in the prison Friday to the office of Warden Fuller, where his attorneys, his friends, his wife and the Michigan state pardon board were assembled. In the party were also Rush Culver of Marquette, Major Loomis of Ionia and William H. Boyns of Grand Rapids. Mrs. McGarry remained by her husband's side eagerly and attentively listening to all that was said.

McGarry's petition was read by Judge Allen B. Morse, who said that from all over Michigan the appeal in McGarry's behalf has been made. The efforts in his behalf is such that the pardon board is giving it critical attention. However, it was impossible to get any idea of the attitude the board might finally take, though, from the extremely careful consideration it is giving the case, it is only reasonable to suppose that McGarry's chances of being liberated are fairly good.

DIED IN CHICAGO.

Judge Webster of Ionia Passed Away Suddenly.

Ionia, Mich., Dec. 3.—Judge W. O. Webster of this city, re-elected for his second term on the Ionia probate bench at the last election, dropped dead in Chicago about 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. In company with his wife he was on his way home from a visit to the world's fair at St. Louis. The body will be brought home for burial. The news of his death struck Ionia like a bolt from a clear sky.

Judge Webster was born in New York state about 65 years ago and came to Michigan early in life. Practically all of his active life has been spent in Ionia. He was at one time associated with on. E. M. Marble, now of Washington, D. C., in the practice of law, the firm being known as Marble & Webster. A widow, one son and two daughters survive Judge Webster, the son, Montgomery, being a student in the law department of the University of Michigan.

EXPOSURE AND SHOCK

Caused Death of Navigator Nissen, Said Coroner's Jury.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Peter Nissen, whose dead body and the wreck of the canvas bag in which he rolled across Lake Michigan, were found near Stevensville, Mich., Thursday, died as a result of exposure and shock, according to the finding of a coroner's jury at Stevensville. The verdict was rendered on the written opinion of Dr. John S. Beers, who gave it as his belief that Nissen had reached the shore alive, but that he was terribly exhausted from lack of air and that when he began cutting his way out of his queer craft he died from neuroparalysis the moment he struck the cold air.

A note found in the pocket of the dead man indicated that his supply of fresh air had been cut off by the breaking of the air hose.

"In the chair. Cannot use hose," read the paper, which was marked "Note No. 1" and signed "N." No other note, it is said, was found.

AT "DEATH'S CROSSING"

Two More Men Ground to Pieces by Train.

St. Joseph, Mich., Dec. 3.—Dr. H. T. Bridgeman and Irvin Cregg of Bridgeman were killed at "Death's Crossing," west of Stevensville, at 2:30 Friday afternoon by Pere Marquette flyer No. 5, eastbound from Chicago.

The two men were driving in a closed buggy towards this city in a blinding snowstorm and when the rig was midway across the track the train, going nearly a mile a minute, killed the men and ground the rig and two horses in pieces

Within six years six people have been killed at "Death's Crossing."

Thousands of Deer Slain.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 3.—During November Game Warden Chapman and his deputies made seventy-three investigations and prosecuted fifty-three offenders fines amounting to $404 imposed. He estimates that not more than one-third as many deer were killed this season as last, the number killed last year being 22,000, while this year only 7,000 are claimed.

A Card.

We, the undersigned, do hereby agree to refund the money on a 50-cent bottle of Greene's Warranted Syrup of Tar if it fails to cure your cough or cold. We also guarantee a 25-cent bottle to prove satisfactory or money refunded.

Accidentally Shot His Child.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 5.—Lample Peterson, the 12-year-old girl who was shot accidentally by her father, died Sunday. The accident occurred peculiarly, the girl being upstairs sweeping when her father, Gus Peterson, discharged his gun the bullet penetrating the floor, passing through the girl's foot, knee and elbow and entering her body. Her arm was amputated but her life could not be saved. The father is frantic with grief.

Kazoo Lutherans Organize.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 5.—The first English Lutheran church in this city was organized here Sunday by the pastor, Rev. W. L. Tedrow, formerly of Ann Arbor. The ordination services were under the direction of Rev. S. J. McDowell of Springfield, O., and Rev. T. A. Herns of Three Rivers, president of the northern Indiana synod. The new church starts out with a membership of sixty.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Vinol is sold on a positive guarantee. Call and get a Vinol booklet.

THREE BOYS DROWNED

While Racing They Skated Into the Open Lake.

EDITOR GIVEN A BLACK EYE

Cedar Springs Newspaperman and Superintendent of Schools Fought on Street — Big Verdict Awarded Against M. C. R. R.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 8.—Ralph Adams, aged 16; Frank Bayless, aged 16, and Burdett Blett, aged 11, were drowned while skating on the Lake of the Woods near Decatur Wednesday afternoon. The bodies of Adams and Bayless were recovered.

The boys while racing skated into the open lake and drowned within sight of a score of companions.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 8.—The village of Cedar Springs, in this county, was shocked by a street fight, the principals being Albert F. Probst, superintendent of public schools and recent candidate for republican nomination for member of the state board of education, and L. McKnight Sellers, the veteran editor of the Cedar Springs Clipper and one of the best-known men of his line in the state.

Recently Probst has had trouble with the state board and the primary school fund for Cedar Springs was held up. The village was badly stirred up over the affair and the Clipper took occasion to roast Probst. Bad feeling has since existed between the two, and when Probst met Sellers on the street for the first time since the article appeared a crowd gathered around and after a few words the fight opened, the editor getting a black eye the first round.

Friends rushed in and separated the men with difficulty after the fight had gone on for some time. Both are highly respected. It is rumored that one arrest and possibly two will follow.

Lapeer, Mich., Dec. 8.—Amanda Loree and Mrs. Lulu Loree of Otter Lake, widows of Reuben and Fred Loree respectively, have commenced two damage suits for $10,000 each against Fred E. Thompson and his bondsmen, Mrs. Roxanna Peter and Alvin Peter. The defendants are charged with selling liquor to their husbands while they were intoxicated on the streets of Columbiaville. The Lorees, father and son, it will be remembered, were locked up in the village jail and during the night died from suffocation. It is stated that the Lorees set fire to the mattress upon which they were sleeping.

Owosso, Mich., Dec. 8.—Mrs. Michael O'Dea of Owosso has been given a verdict of $6,000 in the circuit court versus the Michigan Central railroad for injuries alleged to have been received at Henderson a year ago. Mrs. O'Dea was alighting from a passenger train which started too quickly, it is claimed, throwing her to the ground, with the result, she claims, that her spine and limbs were permanently affected. The railroad's attorneys announce that they will fight the case in the supreme court.

Fired From M. N. G.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 8.—By practically a unanimous vote, Company I, M. N. G., voted to dismiss Frank Tice and James Sumner for non-attendance and disobedience of orders. Charges were preferred by Capt. A. C. Pack. Tice and Sumner failed to attend the recent general inspection in defiance of personal orders from the captain and did not have an adequate excuse for their absence.

Clinton Burglar Paroled.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 8.—Gov. Bliss has paroled Fred E. Owen, sent from Clinton county to Ionia in October, 1903, for burglary for not less than six months and not more than fifteen years.

A costly mistake.

ARRESTED IN HER ROOM

Mrs. Chadwick Taken Into Custody by U. S. Officials

ON CHARGE OF CONSPIRACY

Aided and Abetted Bank Official to Embezzle $12,500 — She Created Scene When Placed Under Arrest—Jeweler One of Her Victims.

New York, Dec. 8.—The climax in the affairs of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick came last night when she was placed under arrest in her apartments at the Hotel Breslin, charged with aiding and abetting a bank officer in embezzling $12,500.

The arrest was made after a lengthy conference between U. S. Commissioner Shields, Assistant United States Attorney E. E. Baldwin, Secret Service Agent William J. Flynn and United States Marshal William Henkel. Commissioner Shields issued the warrant, which charges a violation of section 5,209 of the United States federal laws, relating to conspiracy.

There was a scene in the woman's room when the officials announced to Mrs. Chadwick that she was under arrest. The arrest was made by Chief Flynn. When the maid opened the door in answer to the summons by the officers Mr. Flynn asked for Mrs. Chadwick and was taken to her. He served the warrant upon her as she lay in bed and informed her that she was under arrest. Mrs. Chadwick wept bitterly and nearly fainted. The maid became hysterical, but when she saw that her mistress was likely to swoon she calmed herself and rendered such assistance as was necessary to Mrs. Chadwick. The son stood by with blanched face and said nothing.

The charge against Mrs. Chadwick is "aiding and abetting a bank officer in embezzling $12,500."

Given Hearing at Once.

United States Marshal Henkel announced after the arrest that in view of Mrs. Chadwick's condition she would be kept in the hotel under the surveillance of his deputies. Today she will be given a hearing before United States Commissioner Shields.

The deputy marshals and secret service men who were on guard in Mrs. Chadwick's room said that the name of Andrew Carnegie was mentioned several times by her attorney and friends during conversations and that the sound of the name each time caused Mrs. Chadwick to smile. The officers added that though nervous, Mrs. Chadwick does not appear as ill as has been reported.

The present arrangements are that Mrs. Chadwick will be taken to Commissioner Shields' office, and it is expected that an application will be made to a United States circuit court judge by the United States district attorney for a warrant of removal to Ohio.

It has been learned that Mrs. Chadwick obtained $110,000 worth of jewelry on credit from Thomas Kirkpatrick, a jeweler of this city, last winter and that the firm has made efforts for several months to get this jewelry or its money equivalent back. Mrs. Chadwick paid a part of the debt recently, it is said, and her obligation now amounts to about $35,000.

Robert Kirkpatrick, the credit man of the firm, verified the report that this money was still due from Mrs. Chadwick. He said the firm's lawyers had been to Cleveland and recovered some of the jewelry.

IT'S UP TO CARNEGIE.

Prosecutor Wires Him Direct Question Whether He Signed Notes.

Cleveland, O., Dec. 8.—County Prosecutor Keeler has sent the following telegram to Andrew Carnegie in New York.

"Did you ever sign your name to notes for $250,000, for $500,000 and for $500,000, all dated New York, Jan. 1, 1904? Did you ever sign any one of these notes? Will you be willing to come to Ohio, if necessary, to testify that you did not? Please wire reply as soon as possible, as grand jury action hinges on your attitude."

Up to midnight last night no reply to the message had been received by Mr. Keeler. The prosecutor said that Mr. Carnegie's reply will be presented to the grand jury.

CORPORATION ABUSES

Should Be Handled by National Government, Not the State.

SO SAYS PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

He Considers Question of Capital and Labor One of Most Importance—Recommends Continuation of Construction of Large Navy.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The president's message, submitted to congress Tuesday, congratulates the country on the nation's continued prosperity and cautions the lawmakers against extravagance which a large surplus always invites. Capital and labor and their relations, the president says, come second in importance only to the intimate questions of family life, and encouragement should be given to organized labor so long as it is conducted with a due and decent regard for the rights of others. He renews his recommendation for the passage of an employer's liability law for the District of Columbia, and further recommends that congress appoint a commission to make a comprehensive study of employer's liability with the view of extending the provisions of a great and constitutional law to all employments within the scope of federal power.

Medals of honor for life saving, he says, should be extended to cover cases of conspicuous bravery and self-sacrifice in private employments.

Railroad Casualties.

The ever-increasing casualty list upon railroads is treated as a matter of grave public concern, urgently calling for action by congress, and the proposal for the passage of a law requiring the adoption of the block-signal system is concurred in.

"There is no objection to employes of the government forming or belonging to unions," says the president, "but the government can neither discriminate for nor against non-union men in its employment. Moreover, it is a very grave impropriety for government employes to band themselves together for the purpose of extorting improperly high salaries from the government."

Letter carriers, he says, should be amply paid, but their claims should be fairly argued.

In a special message he promises to lay before congress the full report of the investigation of the bureau of labor into the Colorado mining strike.

A list of the labor laws of the various states, particularly those dealing with women and children, he advises should be compiled for congress by the department of commerce and labor for the purpose of securing uniform legislation.

Dealing With Corporations.

Under the head of corporations the president says:

"It is an absurdity to expect to eliminate the abuses in great corporations by state action. The national government alone can deal adequately with these great corporations."

The railroad rebate evil must be stopped, he says, and the most important legislative act now needed as regards the regulation of corporations is one to confer on the interstate commerce commission the power to revise rates and regulations, the revised rate to at once go into effect, and to stay in effect unless and until the court of review reverses it.

The forest-reserve policy of the administration is upheld because it preserves the water supply and the supply of timber for domestic purposes. The concentration of this work in the department of agriculture is again recommended.

Established salaries instead of fees are suggested for consular offices.

A national art gallery is recommended and the need of a national quarantine law emphasized.

Extravagance in printing government reports which are never read is rebuked.

A frightened horse.

Running like mad down the street dumping the occupants, or a hundred other accidents, are every day occurrences. It behooves everybody to have a reliable Salve handy there's none as good as Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Burns, cuts, sores, exzema and piles, disappear quickly under its soothing effect. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

Favors Immigration.

No distinction should be drawn between Americans because of birth or religion, the president says, nor between those whose ancestors stepped ashore into the wooded wilderness at Plymouth or at the mouth of the Hudson, the Delaware, or the James nearly three centuries ago. Each must stand on his worth as a man and each is entitled to be judged solely thereby. We cannot have too many immigrants of the right kind, he says, but the citizenship of the country should not be debased.

The president earnestly recommends that there be no halt in the upbuilding of the American navy.

Steady progress in the Philippines is noted and the hope expressed that in the end they will be able to stand, if not entirely alone, yet in some such relation to the United States as Cuba now stands.

"This end is not yet in sight," says the president, "and it may be indefinitely postponed if our people are foolish enough to turn the attention of the Filipinos away from the problems of achieving moral and material prosperity, of working for a stable, orderly and just government, and toward foolish and dangerous intrigues for a complete independence for which they are as yet totally unfit."

To Represent Great Britain.

London, Dec. 8.—The full personnel of the British representation on the international commission of inquiry into the North sea incident at Paris was officially announced last evening as follows: Vice Admiral Sir Lewis Beaumont, commissioner; Sir Edward Fry, member of the permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, legal adviser; Hugh O'Beirne of the British embassy at Paris, agent.

Deer License Got Her Hubby.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 8.—Because she was the only woman in the county to obtain a deer license last season, a certain young lady in Calumet obtained a husband. She had received considerable notoriety from the papers, which led to her courtship by another kind of dear. The fact was divulged when she approached the county clerk this season for another license and gave her new name.

Closing Up Saloons.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 8.—A spasm of righteousness has again struck the local police department and another crusade is under way against Sunday saloons. Last spring for six weeks Grand Rapids was a dry Sunday town for the first time in years, but the experiment was soon abandoned, the saloons being allowed to run seven days in the week, the police making the sole requirement that lights should be put out and places closed at nightfall. In the police court Tuesday warrants were issued for seven down-town liquor dealers, one of whom kept his place open on election day.

Two Big Subscriptions.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 8.—Associate Justice Grant of the supreme court, who is taking great interest in the project, states that the work of securing subscriptions for a memorial hall to be erected on the campus of the Michigan university is progressing very satisfactory. Subscriptions of $1,000 each have been received from Col. James G. Butler of St. Louis, Mo., and the widow of Charles B. Lamborn of the class of [illegible]

OFFICERS CHOSEN.

Horticulturists Elect S. E. Hocksell of Troy President.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 8.—The Michigan State Horticultural society Wednesday elected the following officers: President, S. E. Hadsell, Troy; secretary, A. W. Slayton, Grand Rapids; executive board, C. E. Hadsell, C. J. Munroe, South Haven; C. B. Cook, Owosso; R. A. Smythe, Benton Harbor; George E. Rowe, Grand Rapids; U. P. Hedrick, Agricultural college. This is the fifth year Mr. Bassett has been honored with the secretaryship.

The sessions yesterday were more largely attended than the day before, with increased interest. The morning session was devoted to reports of officers and a business meeting. The afternoon session was given over entirely to the different phases of peach growing.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and felt like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar's worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." FINE FRUIT DISPLAY

And Interesting Papers at State Horticultural Meeting.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 7.— The thirty fourth meeting of the Michigan Horticultural society convened Tuesday morning at the Bell opera house. The stage was filled with the finest display of fruit ever shown in Berrien county, part being furnished by the state experiment station.

Much of the morning was spent in arranging the display of fruit and but one subject was handled, that of "Melon Culture," by L. V. Ruth of this city. In the afternoon a large crowd attended. Papers were given on the following topics: "Vegetables with fruits," Thomas Gunson Agricultural college; "Hot houses and cold frames," Ely and Rawley, Fennville; "Growing and packing apples for market," Henry Seel, St. Joseph; "Codling moth," Prof. Pettit, Agricultural College; "Mulching orchards," W. J. Greed, horticulturist of the Ohio experiment station, Wooster, O.; "San Jose scale and how to treat it," L. R. Taft, state inspector. Last night's session was the most interesting of the entire day, the subjects discussed being very interesting to the large crowd of farmers and citizens present.

DOCTORS IN COURT.

Battle Creek Practitioners Arraigned on Serious Charges.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 7.—Arraignments in the sensational charges against several Battle Creek doctors began in the justice court here Tuesday. Four out of the seven first indicted on complaint of the Battle Creek Physicians' association appeared before Justice Batdorf, and Allen Raymond of the Davray institute and W. J. Fulghum, a "magnetic healer," pleaded not guilty.

Madame Melissa Harris, another "magnetic healer," and W. H. Griswold, proprietor of the Climax sanitarium, refused to plead and pleas of not guilty were entered for them. The other three indicted ones, J. W. Lucas, a veterinary surgeon; Lester Dixon of the Sanitarium City Electrical Co., and Henry Jennerson, will be arraigned when they are found. Deputy Sheriff Elliott was unable to locate them in the city. One of them has taken down his doctor's sign.

Warrants for twenty-five other practitioners will be held unsigned until the cases on hand are settled.

WILL ACQUIT PERRY.

That's the Prediction of Wiseacres at Grand Rapids.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 7.—The Perry case, which is drawing to a close here, still attracts immense crowds. Hundreds were Tuesday afternoon unable to gain admission to Judge Perkins' court.

Prosecuting Attorney Bowen closed his argument for the prosecution at noon, after an able review of the case, in which he talked four hours and 30 minutes. Attorney Ellis for the defense opened at 2 o'clock. The bulk of Ellis' argument was to the effect that Mayor Perry did not agree to use his influence in favor of the Lake Michigan water supply proposition, and that his whole official history showed that he was opposed to that plan.

The defense will have seven hours, when Mr. Ward, assistant prosecutor will speak. The case will go to the jury Thursday afternoon. In the meantime the city is in a high pitch of excitement, awaiting the outcome. A disagreement or an acquittal is what the wiseacres predict.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee ss. Probate court for the county of Lenawee.

THE CENTURY IN 1905.

It will be a Necessity in every Home where People think.

To read the plans of The Century for the year 1905 is, with most persons, to decide to own the magazine, for the list of artists and writers is more attractive than ever before. Three serials arouse special interest: "Sandy," by Mrs. Alice Hegan Rice, author of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" and "Lovey Mary"; a new novel from the fascinating pen of Mrs. Humphry Ward, and a novel, "Rose o' the River," by Kate Douglas Wiggin. There will be short stories, too, from the world's best and most popular writers of fiction: Rudyard Kipling, Anthony Hope, Jack London, Marion Crawford, Ruth McEnery Stuart, Owen Wister, Miriam Michelson, Irving Bacheller, Booth Tarkington, and scores of others.

Beginning in the December issue are Ambassador White's reminiscences of his mission to Germany from 1897 to 1902, one of the most notable series of memoirs recently published. During 1905 Charles F. Bush will write for The Century of the invention and present status of "The Arc-Light"; George Westinghouse, of "The Air-Brake"; Nikola Tesla, of "The Transmission of Power"; Frank J. Sprague, of "Electric Traction." Melville E. Stone, manager of that great organization, the Associated Press, will describe its origin and methods, its collection and distribution of news, its operation in Europe, and its service in wartime. There will be articles of general scientific interest and importance from Professor Henry Fairfield Osborn, Gilbert H. Grosvenor, Professor Russell H. Chittenden, Frank N. Chapman, and Helen Keller. American architecture will be treated at length, special papers covering "The New Naval Academy," "The New Custom-house in New York, "The New Congressional Buildings," "The Capital Extension," "The New National Museum, and "The New York Public Library." Another feature of the year will be a series of papers telling of historic homes in France, with illustrations by Jules Guerin and Andre Castaigne And it is promised that the East and its interests, that field to which all eyes are turning to-day, will be treated in a number of valuable and important articles. The art features of The Century have always been of notable beauty—1905 will advance the standard.

The value of The Century in any home cannot be estimated. It means accurate and intimated knowledge of all important investigation in science and of all reform movements and interests. It means hours of entertainment. It means friendship with the best writers of the day. It means culture.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Washington, Dec. 3, 1904.

The President will give a small cabinet dinner at the White House tonight. The first dinner in honor of the President and Mrs. Roosevelt after the New Year will be given by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay, who will inaugurate the new fashion of giving a dinner to the President without the necessity of inviting all of the cabinet. The report seems incredible, but probably has some foundation, that cabinet officers and their wives actually find each other a bore when they are compelled to dine together a dozen times during a single winter. Hence the new departure.

There are accumulating evidences that President Roosevelt will do exactly what he thinks right during the forthcoming administration. At the same time it is only fair to say that, even at this early moment, he feels an increased sense of responsibility. It is thought that he will not incline to be unduly rash, as he might if he were under restraint. "Beauclerc," exclaimed General Clarendon, "there is no managing him! Curb him ever so little and he's up on his hind legs directly. Give him his head and throw the bridle on his neck and he stands still. The strangest fellow for a rational creature." Roosevelt seems to be a type of obstinate conservatism, like Beauclerc. He means to please himself by being very careful what he does. Already he has given a valuable office to Senator Cockrell when a thousand republicans were clamoring for it. He has designated a grandson of Stonewall Jackson to be a cadet at West Point. He announces that he will visit the south. He will reconstruct his cabinet according to his own unaided judgement, probably appointing as one of its members Col. Bonaparte, known to republican leaders mostly as "a civil service crank." He now takes the inauguration in hand just as he did his own campaign and declines to let it be run by the local office seekers. For a month certain local office seekers have been demanding the management of the great function as a traditional right, but Wednesday the President, without consulting anybody, turned all their distinguished faces to the wall and appointed General John M. Wilson, a past master of military methods to be head of the inaugural committee and director of what Mr. Dooley calls, "the Feet Shampeter, or big to-do out of doors." It is needless to say that there are several illustrious republicans in this city who have withdrawn their distinguished admiration from the chief executive.

For a good many years Congress, as the guardian and conservator of this city, has been afflicted with bronzehosemania, under the influence of which our parks have been decorated and our army commemorated by a large detachment of metallic cavalry. There are more than 30 bronze statues on the city streets now of which nearly 20 are equestrian. Congress finds itself face to face with bills for six more, including Washington, Grant, Longfellow, McClellan, Jefferson, Robert Morris and Perry l'Enfannt. Of the various horses standing or prancing Gen. Thomas rides the most spirited one and Scoti the least spirited and most authentic. It was modeled from the mare which he really rode in Mexico. One of the most creditable statues is that of Logan but its historic value is marred by the anachronisms of its principal tablets, where statesmen, who have been dead some years assist in administering the oath of office to the senator. I stood by that memorial in Iowa Circle the other day and recalled a curious unpublished incident in his life. I was editorial manager of a Chicago Republican evening paper in 1869. I had seen Gen. Logan but was not acquainted with him. Nobody was mentioned for the senatorship soon to be vacant except the two Dicks, Yates and Oglesby. Our paper has not expressed a definite preference but has said good words for both. One day Gen. Logan called and was directed to my desk. "You are the editor?" he asked. I answered that I was exercising his functions.

"Charlie Farwell been in?" he added. I answered that he had not.

"He promised to meet me here, to introduce me but never mind."

I enquired what I could do for Gen. Logan. He laughed and said "I came to do something for you. I brought you a bit of news that I thought you might like to get."

"That's what we are here for" I said.

"It is an announcement and I hope it is in time for this afternoon." I assured him that it was.

"I am going to be the next Senator from this state," he went on, with the greatest nonchalence, "and I thought you would like to be the first Chicago paper to announce it." I was embarrassed by this excess of "news," for the atmosphere of Chicago was full of Yates and Oglesby. Observing my hesitation, he continued "O, yes; I know; you Chicago fellows think I'm not in it at all. But I am very much in it, and don't you forget it. I'm going to be the next Senator. Don't you be afraid. If you want to scoop these other papers, come right square out and tell the public so!" The audacity of the General in generously supplying such a piece of news quite amazed me. I told him we were not committed to anybody and I would consider the matter seriously and favorably. "It's a great chance! Don't you let it slip!" he flung back at me as he rose, said good day, and walked out.

We had frequently conferred with Congressman Farwell about state politics and I ran out to find him. He had gone to lunch, but I followed him sharply and cornered him as he was disposing of a slice of roast beef. He encouraged the idea; said that Logan had an army of friends down the state, and would enter the convention with a strong following. I hurried back to the office and wrote a short article formally nominating Logan for the Senate. That winter I went down to Springfield and watched the General's campaign and saw his attractive and ambitious wife share the canvass with him, preside over the festivities and pull reluctant members of the legislature in out of the cold.

Commissioners' Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county Lenawee, ss.

In the matter of the estate of JOHN R. HIALEY, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said county, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at law office of G. R. Gillespie in the township of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Michigan, on the 3d day of January 1905, and on the 23rd of May, 1905, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 22nd day of November, 1904, are allowed by said probate court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated November 22nd, 1904.

JOSEPH WARING,
RUDOLPH A. HESSEN,
Commissioners.

It is better to be pretty than pious—if you have designs on the preacher.

A kidney or bladder trouble can always be cured by using Foley's kidney cure in time. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

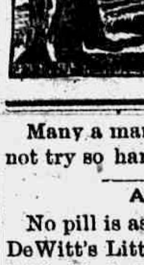
Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The older a joke is the younger is the fellow who gets it off for something new.

Beware of counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.



WEEDS

Consumption is a human weed flourishing best in weak lungs. Like other weeds it's easily destroyed while young; when old, sometimes impossible.

Strengthen the lungs as you would weak land and the weeds will disappear.

The best lung fertilizer is Scott's Emulsion. Salt pork is good too, but it is very hard to digest.

The time to treat consumption is when you begin trying to hide it from yourself. Others see it, you won't.

Don't wait until you can't deceive yourself any longer. Begin with the first thought to take Scott's Emulsion. If it isn't really consumption so much the better; you will soon forget it and be better for the treatment. If it is consumption you can't expect to be cured at once, but if you will begin in time and will be rigidly regular in your treatment you will win.

Scott's Emulsion, fresh air, rest all you can, eat all you can, that's the treatment and that's the best treatment.

We will send you a little of the Emulsion free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

SCOTT & BOWNE,

Many a man would be rich if he did not try so hard to appear to be.

A pleasant pill.

No pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

M. F. STEIN

THE FAMOUS OPTICIAN of Detroit,

The eye, when properly cared for affords the keenest delight because of the pleasures we are able to enjoy through its medium When not cared for and its warnings are unheeded, it becomes an intrument of torture. Headaches, eye pains, burning, itching, sensation, strained vision, nervous troubles and many bodily ills are the results accruing from over worked eyes, eyes that need help. My examination reveals all hidden troubles, and it is my province to fit the right glasses to any and all defects of vision SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY

THE EDITOR'S WIFE

Letter from an Illinois newspaper man that is well worth reading.

As a usual thing editors save the good things for the columns of their own newspapers, but the following letter from S. H. Duncan, editor of the Seaton, Ill. Independent, shows that there is at least one editor who wants to help others. He writes as follows:

"To the Editor of the Herald:

I wish you would print the following and thus help me to do a kindness to your readers. My wife has been a great sufferer with stomach troubles for the past four years and the last two years practically an invalid. Nothing seemed to help her until I procured a box of Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. This gave her so much relief that she continued using the remedy until now she enjoys her meals, is relieved from all pain in her stomach and has increased in flesh.

I hope you will publish this letter, for I think there is no remedy for stomach trouble equal to Mi-o-na and the more wide spread its use becomes, the more good will be done humanity.

S. H. Duncan,
Editor of Independent."

C. A. Wright has the local agency for Mi-o-na and his faith in its merits equals Editor Duncan's. He, in fact, offers to pay of Mi-o-na himself in any case where it does not give satisfaction. No stronger endorsement of the merits of the remedy can be given than this, that a local drug firm is willing to sell a medicine on his own guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure stomach troubles and increase flesh.

The Emery House.

The Herald was told by Ben Garlinghouse yesterday that the Emery house was for sale. Not only this but that it would be sold at a price that would make it a paying piece of property for any one who desired to keep a hotel. The location of this house is the best and two good hotels have always been good pieces of property in Tecumseh. This will be a good chance for the right man to start in a fine business.

Something Fine in Light.

The "Best" gasoline lamps that are sold in Tecumseh are the best and no mistake. Mr. W. L. Coller having the agency for this lamp has sold a good number here and are giving good satisfaction as well as a good light at a small sum of 1 cent a night. You can see these lamps at Witherell & Sons' new carriage store.

MANY INVALIDS

Clamoring for Admission to Sanitarium.

BEST OF PHYSICIANS

Could not cure them. They are not admitted.

Adrian, Dec. 3.—Special to Free Press: Many invalids who journeyed to Adrian the past month returned home, chagrined and disappointed because the surgeon at the sanitarium refused to treat them.

Since the remarkable cures of locomotor ataxia by bloodless surgery methods which were reported through the press some time ago, many sufferers from that disease have applied for treatment. An average of two out of five upon examination, were told they could not be cured.

One gentleman, refusing to be classed as incurable, is said to have offered one thousand dollars for the treatment, but the surgeon would not accept the case. Several homes near the sanitarium, have thrown open their doors to accomodate the congestion of people, who are "clamoring after the last straw," many of whom will find a cure and many who will not. The cures, will, of course, be discussed, but will such cases as are not cured, be reported?

Note: The following case is an example of the skillful operations which are performed at the sanitarium from time to time. Many of our people go to the sanitarium for treatment and some of them have been almost as miraculously healed as the gentleman whose case report follows. We publish this report from the Free Press some time ago but it will bear repitition.

HON. O. D. FAIRBANKS WAS ILL WITH ATAXIA,

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 19.—Hon. O. D. Fairbanks, who was at the point of death, suffering with locomotor ataxia, has been miraculously healed by a Michigan surgeon, who specializes in bloodless surgery.

Several months ago cases of paralysis and locomotor ataxia were solicited by the surgeon. Mr. Fairbanks, accompanied by his wife, who investigated the reported cures, commenced the treatment. His disease had been pronounced incurable by several physicians. He was unable to stand upon his feet, turn in bed or feed himself, his eyesight was nearly destroyed and in fact all of the characteristic symptoms of advanced ataxia were present. He has been cured and now walks about without a cane has none of his former symptoms, is free from pain and claims to be perfectly well. He was under treatment sixty days. He states that other cases were being cured by the same treatment. Mr. Fairbanks is a prominent man of Arlington, Oklahoma. His benefactor, Dr. Wm. H. Jones of the Adrian, Mich., Sanitarium, expects to give the formulae to the profession after making more extended observations in the disease and its cure.

Eugene DeWitt Tallman.

Eugene DeWitt Tallman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Tallman, of Adrian, died Monday night of congestion of the lungs after a few hours illness. The funeral was held in Adrian yesterday at their Adrian home and the remains were brought to Tecumseh at one o'clock and buried on the family lot in Brookside cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us during our bereavement. Especially we wish to thank the ladies of the Maccabees and the Rathbones.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McClelland.
Miss Bessie Poole.

THE NORTH & SOUTH

Electric Road that is now trying to get a

FRANCHISE

Through the Council.

John Howell and Capt. C. R. Miller are endeavoring to get a franchise through the council for an electric road which will run from Adrian to Ann Arbor through Macon. The council and railroad men have practically agreed, except that the village desires some electric lights and desires to put their power house outside the corporation. The village cannot contract for their lights for more than ten years according to state law and the railroad cannot contract for less than thirty according to their franchise. How they will arrange that matter the Herald cannot see except they strike out the light claim.

It would seem that the having of the power house and buildings in the corporation would be an advantage, as these roads are assessed locally and as they contemplate putting in $100,000 into the plant and barns here it would mean about $750 in village taxes.

Of all the roads that have asked for a franchise through Tecumseh this would be the most valuable to Tecumseh. For years our friends and customers in Macon have wanted some kind of a railroad through that township north and south. This trade belongs to us by rights and there is already some hard feelings toward Tecumseh, carried from the time the Detroit Southern was trying to get their route established and thought Tecumseh worked against them and kept it from running through Macon.

If Tecumseh needs any electric road it should have one running to the county seat. By granting this franchise Tecumseh would favor Macon and get the road to Adrian. Would it not be well to strain a point and please our Macon friends.

The route selected is not objectionable running the most of the way on Ottawa street and the Herald is told that this would please more people on that street than it would offend. This north and south road is what we have always wanted. Let it come.

Abram Hanford.

Abram Hanford was born at Hanford's Landing near Rochester, N. Y., Jan. 31, 1822, the oldest of seven children. He was married to Miss Eleanor Hiscock-Silsbee, Dec. 19, 1849. Three children were born to them, one dying in infancy, Stella, wife of A. Blackman of Georgetown, Col., died Nov. 6, 1893. Grant R. Hanford resides at Guthrie, Okla.

Mr. Hanford moved to Michigan in March, 1854 settling in Tecumseh where, Mrs. Hanford died in 1881. Later he married Mrs. Frank Parkhurst of Tecumseh. In 1886 the family moved to Pratt Kansas, where Mrs. Hanford died the following year. In 1888 he married Miss Frances Hill of Kalamazoo, Mich. In 1898 the family moved to Oklahoma.

Mr. Hanford died at Guthrie, Okla., Dec. 1, 1904, of paralysis. He is survived by his widow and son, Grant, a sister, Mrs. Emily Chittenden of Adrian, two brothers, James of Alva, Okla., and George, of this city, two grand children Roy Blackman of Georgestown, and Eleanor Hanford, of Guthrie.

Mr. Hanford was a man of strong convictions and genial nature, resolute, ambitious, strictly temperate, open and generous. He was a life long democrat; and a member of the Masonic fraternity, whose kindly hands laid to rest one who will long be remembered by the community.

Funeral of Richard VanDuser.

The funeral of Richard VanDuser was held Wednesday morning at ten o'clock at the Baptist church and was attended by a large number of friends and relatives of the deceased. The remains were escorted to their last resting place by fifty Maccabees and forty Royal Arcanum, deceased being a member of both orders.

The Royal Arcanums took charge of the services, three from that lodge and three from the Maccabees acting as bearers. They were Arthur Harding, Bert Lawrence, Orley Wood, Geo. Saxton, John Wyrill and Will Phillips. The flowers were beautiful, there being pieces from the Maccabees, Royal Arcanums, men at the car shops and the cigar makers' union.

Among those from out of town who attended the funeral were, Mr. and Mrs. Lou Priest, of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Royce, Mr. and Mrs. L. Comfort, Mrs. Ben Brown, of Jackson; Mrs. Cone and daughter, Flora, of Clinton.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to thank the friends for their kindness during our bereavement, especially those who sent flowers.

Mrs. Richard VanDuser
and Family.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

THE RESEARCH CIRCLE.

Mrs. Abner Wilson opened her home to the ladies of the Research Circle and their guests Tuesday afternoon. The weather could not have been better and a large number of ladies were present. The subject of the afternoon was, "A Day in St. Louis," the first number on the program being a paper by Mrs. Huey on the "Louisiana Purchase." As Mrs. Huey was unable to attend the meeting, her very interesting paper was read by Miss Helen Wilson.

This was followed by a table talk, "Fair visitors' impressions." As a very small number of the club ladies were fortunate enough to have attended the fair, Mrs. John Hicks had been invited to give her impressions of the fair which she did in a very delightful manner. She spoke of the extent and magnificence of the Louisiana Purchase exposition as compared with that of the world's fair at Chicago, also of the beauty of the buildings and grounds, the effect of the electric lights at night, the Philippine village and its many inhabitants and a great many things of interest to the club ladies, but the display which impressed Mrs. Hicks as most unique was that of the butter, which represented the dairying interests of our country. Immense refrigerators held the groups of figures made entirely of solid butter.

Mrs. John Freeman was then called upon. She said the first thing which impressed one upon entering the grounds of the exposition was that of its grandeur and extent and the second was the great activity and life manifested. The forces of nature were chained to do man's bidding. The amount of machinery necessary was astonishing.

Mrs. Freeman then told of her visit to the Pike and how its numerous attractions impressed her. Several questions were asked, which Mrs. Hicks and Mrs. Freeman obligingly answered. Altogether the subject was most interesting. Mrs Birdsall then rendered two very charming solos which were very much enjoyed by the ladies.

The roll was then called the ladies answering with current events or some interesting facts about the Fair. This ended a very interesting program and a pleasant social hour followed.

A supper was served in two courses, the guests being seated in the pretty dining room and the members of the club in the other rooms. The committee of which Mrs. George Tiffany was chairman consisted of Mesdames Adelbert Mills, Frank Clarkson, Andrew Wilson, Helen Bowen, Perry Hosmer, Birdsell, and the Misses Carrie Sawyer, Laura Gooding and Lina Havens.

MOCK WEDDING.

Miss Marie Wilson entertained a number of her girl friends last evening, the occasion being her birthday. A mock wedding was carried out for the amusement of all her guests, who were received by Miss Craudtwha Packard of West Unity.

The bride, Miss Wilson, was gowned in white organdie and carried white carnations and was attended by Nina McClure, maid of honor, who was also dressed in white and carried white chrysanthemums. Misses Sadie Lowry and Ethel Doke were bridesmaids and carried carnations. They were dressed in gray. The groom, Minnie Miller, was attended by Edna Gaston. Miss Metta McKinney, ring bearer, preceded the bride and groom into the parlor. She carried the ring in a white carnation. Miss Ina Blesing performed the ceremony, and Mrs. George VanAtta father of the bride, gave her away. Mrs. Louis Jinks presided at the piano during the ceremony.

The house was tastefully decorated with flowers, the parlor in pink and white and the dining room in yellow. A delightful supper was served at the close of the ceremony. Miss Wilson received many pretty presents and her guests in leaving wished her many more as happy birthdays.

DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. Robert McCoy and Miss Gertrude VanNess gave a dinner at the home of the former Tuesday at 6 o'clock. Covers were laid for 12 and the beauty of the dinner table was enhanced by a most artistic arrangement of smilax and red ribbons, the red and green colors being used throughout. The guests were served by Lester VanNess and Miss Lora Leonard. Trail was enjoyed in the evening, Miss Jennie Gillespie capturing first prize and May Lowry, the consolation. A very pleasant time was passed.

NO NAME CLUB.

The No Name club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Teachout, last Tuesday evening. After a very enjoyable evening at pedro, at which Chas. Smith won first prize and Mrs. E. C. Brown the second, refreshments were served. Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy will entertain the club next Tuesday night.

KILLS CATARRH GERMS

Breathe Hyomei and be cured of catarrh—costs nothing if it fails.

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and benefit will be seen at once. Continue this treatment for a short time and your catarrh will have been cured by Hyomei.

There is no roundabout way in Hyomei's medicinal action; it does not try to cure a disease of the head by putting medicine in the stomach. It fills the air you breathe with balsamic healing, that soothes the irritated and smarting membrane, destroys the germs of catarrh that are present in the head and throat and is the only treatment that can be relied upon to cure.

When using Hyomei the air you breathe will be like that on the mountains high above the sea level, filled with volatile, antiseptic fragrance that heals and cures the irritated mucous membrane of the air passages.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

The woman of the hour is the one who promises to be ready in a second.

An Open Letter to the Public
FROM A WELL-KNOWN DRUGGIST

To Whom It May Concern:

Of late there has been a good deal of discussion in regard to advertised medicines and their value. We want to say to every man, woman and child in this vicinity that the most valuable preparation of cod liver oil,—the best tonic reconstructor, health restorer and strength-creator we have ever sold in our store is Vinol.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; it contains no injurious drugs, and it actually does contain all of the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil, taken from fresh cods' livers, but without a drop of oil, and is delicious to the taste.

Vinol is recognized throughout the world as the greatest strength-creator for old people, weak, sickly women, children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Vinol is sold on a positive guarantee. Call and get a Vinol booklet.

GET INSIDE.

Your friends and neighbors in Tecumseh will show you how.

Rubbing the back won't cure backache.

Liniment may relieve but can't cure.

Backache comes from the inside—the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills get inside.

Cure sick kidneys

Here is proof that this is so:

Mrs. J. H Welch, who resides in the southwestern section of Tecumseh, says: "I wish to express my gratitude for the benefit derived from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. My back troubled me for a long time with a constant dull aching pain across my loins and when stooping or exerting myself it became very sharp. If I took cold it always settled in my kidneys and in the morning I was so lame and stiff that I could hardly attend to my work. I used several simple remedies but they did not bring relief. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended so highly I concluded to test their merits and got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store, they took right hold of the cause and in a short time the pain was a thing of the past. I can now straighten after bending or stooping without any inconvenience and they are certainly a wonderful remedy."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

When I pike off all these patent medicine signs in the street cars I wonder if we're a nation with bum "innards."

Bodily pain loses its terror if you've a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil in the house. Instant relief in cases of burns, cuts, sprains, accidents of any sort.

I fell off a train going forty-five miles an hour, and I believed in fatalism when I found myself in a hospital.

Eczema, scald head, hives, itchiness of the skin of any sort instantly relieved, permanently cured. Doan's Ointment. At any drug store.

When a man becomes too well known every little side-step is queered in the telling until it becomes a crime.

When you want a pleasant purgative try Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. They are easy to take and produce no nausea, griping or other disagreeable effect. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

It isn't always a woman's dress that's on the bias; sometimes its her neighbor's opinion of it.

Mothers, be careful

of the health of your children. Look out for coughs, colds, croup and whooping croup. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by C. A. Wright.

COLE'S HOT BLAST
WILL SAVE YOU $25 IN FUEL THIS WINTER

Cole's Hot Blast burns all kinds of fuel without changing the stove in any way. The slow combustion, the immense heating surface of sensitive steel, instead of mica and cast iron, the perfect base heat, the gas-burning draft all combine to give an economy of fuel and heating results never seen with any other stove.

The perfect air tight construction of Cole's Hot Blast gives control of the drafts and makes it the best stove for hard coal, soft coal, wood or cobs.

In the soft coal and lignite districts Cole's Hot Blast is without an equal, as the gas burning draft utilizes the gas half of these fuels and turns dirty soft coal or lignite into beautiful glowing coke.

Get the Original Cole's Hot Blast because every fine point, such as the smokeless feed door, absolutely air-tight construction, draft arrangement, base-heating plan and the like, is protected by patent and is found on no other stove.

GUARANTEED

1.—We guarantee a saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size.

2.—We guarantee Cole's Hot Blast to use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner with same heating surface.

3.—We guarantee that the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the hard coal or soft coal put in the stove the evening before.

4.—We guarantee that the stove will hold fire with soft coal thirty-six hours, without attention.

5.—We guarantee a uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal, lignite or slack.

6.—We guarantee every stove to remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.

7.—We guarantee the feed door to be smoke proof and dust proof.

The above guarantee is made with the understanding that the stove be operated according to directions, and set up with a good flue.

FRANCHISE

Granted by the Common Council to the

ADRIAN AND ANN ARBOR

Electric Railroad Monday Evening, Dec. 12.

Council Chamber, village of Tecumseh.

Adjourned meeting held Dec. 12, 1904.

Present, the entire council except President Marsh.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

The Adrian and Ann Arbor electric railway franchise was taken up.

Moved that the electric railway franchise be changed by striking out section 26 and substituting therefor: The company shall light the streets through which they pass in a respectable manner. Lost.

Moved that section 26 be struck out. Carried.

Moved that the following section be added to the ordinance:

Section 26. The company shall furnish respectable lights over the streets which they run for the period of ten years.

Ayes, Aylesworth, Wright, Slater, C. D. Smith, Geo. T. Smith.

Moved and supported that the following franchise be granted:

AN ORDINANCE.

The Village of Tecumseh ordains:

Section 1. That consent, permission and authority are hereby given, granted and duly vested in the Adrian & Ann Arbor Electric Railway Company its successors and assigns, grantee, forever, to locate, establish, construct and operate a single track railway upon the following streets of the said village of Tecumseh, to-wit:

Commencing at a point due south of Ottawa street at the south corporate limits of said village; running thence north on said Ottawa street to Chicago street; thence east along Chicago street to Maumee street; thence north on Maumee and Mill streets as far as practicable, thence in a north-easterly direction to the corporate limits of said village, with convenient tracks, turnouts, side-tracks, switches and "Y's" and to run and maintain thereon railway cars for the carriage of passengers, baggage, packages, express, mail and freight for the period of thirty years from and after the acceptance of this ordinance.

Section 2. The tracks of said railway shall be four (4) feet eight and one-half (8½) inches gauge and shall be laid on the middle line of said streets. Provided that the rights hereby given shall be subject to the right of private owners in the waters, water rights and dams in and about the River Raisin. And further provide that in crossing the railroad tracks now upon Cummins street in this village, the said grantee, his successors and assigns, shall forever preserve and maintain an unobstructed and safe passage for teams, vehicles and pedestrians along and upon Cummins street at its present grade where the same crosses Ottawa street. The rails of said railway shall be so laid that the tops thereof shall be flush with the surface of the street and the tracks shall at all times be kept in good repair and in safe condition for the running and operating of cars thereon. At the time of laying said rails in said streets of this village or in making repairs thereto, the said grantee, his successors and assigns shall restore said streets to the same condition as before the laying of said rails therein and shall not obstruct or fill up any ditch, tile, culvert, drain or water course and shall remove from said streets all debris caused by the laying or repair of said tracks and said tracks shall keep to and observe the established grade of all streets wherein laid. Said grantee, his successors or assigns shall whenever ordered by the common council, plank or pave the space between the rails of said track and for the space of eighteen (18) inches on each side thereof with three (3) inch planks or brick or cement at the discretion of the common council, at such street crossings or places as shall be designated by said common council and to be such a length as said common council may direct and shall keep and maintain such planking in good repair. In the event of the village paving the streets occupied by said tracks or changing the grade thereof, then said grantee, his successors and assigns shall at the same time and at their own expense pave that part of the street between the said rails and for eighteen (18) inches on each side thereof, with the same materials as used by the village in said streets and shall make like foundations therefor and said grantee, his successors and assigns shall change the grade of said tracks to correspond with the surface of the streets. If said grantee, his successors or assigns shall neglect to comply with any order of the common council of the said village made in relation thereto for fifteen (15) days after service upon said grantee, his successors or assigns, of a duly certified copy of such order, the said grantee, his successors or assigns shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) for each day's neglect to so comply with such order of said council, to be recovered by said village in an action of assumpsit before any court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 3. The location of the "Y's" and turnouts shall from time to time, upon the application of said grantee, his successors or assigns, be designated by the common council of said village. Turnouts for the meeting of cars shall be made equally distant from the middle of said streets, unless otherwise directed by the village council. Turnouts or passing tracks shall not be laid across streets at the point of their intersection with other streets. No sidetracks shall be built or laid in any public street of said village except at the station of the company and then not crossing any intersecting street. No cars shall be permitted to remain on said sidetracks longer than one hour at a time. No steam power shall ever be used on said railway within the limits of said village except for the delivery of supplies at the power house or power barn of said grantee, his successors or assigns. The cars and other equipment of said railway shall be of standard construction and sufficient for the accommodation of the public.

Section 4. The cars shall at all times be entitled to the tracks and any vehicle on the same shall turn out without delay so as to leave said tracks unobstructed. The driver of any vehicle except that of the fire department as hereinafter provided, neglecting so to do shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars ($10.00) and costs of prosecution or to imprisonment in the county jail not more than ten (10) days or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 5. No train used for construction purposes shall be allowed to obstruct any intersecting street, nor shall interfere unnecessarily with the use of said streets as public thoroughfares.

Section 6. Said grantee, his successors or assigns shall have and maintain in said village a suitable and convenient waiting room for passengers and a fixed station for the reception and storage of baggage, express, mail, frieght and packages and the same shall not be left or deposited on the streets of said village so as to obstruct the free passage along the sidewalk in front of said station.

Section 7. The said grantee, his successors or assigns shall run and operate or cause to be run and operated, cars which shall pass through said village each way enroute between the city of Adrian and the city of Ann Arbor not less than four (4) times each way per day during the time said grantee, his successors or assigns shall operate said railway under the terms of this ordinance, unavoidable accident to tracks, cars or machinery or the action of the elements excepted.

Section 8. The rate of speed of the car or cars on said railway shall not exceed ten (10) miles per hour on the streets of said village. The employes of said grantee, his successors or assigns shall be sober, careful and prudent persons, attentive to the wants of patrons of said railway and shall prevent as far as possible women, children and infirm persons from entering or leaving the cars while in motion and it shall be the duty of said employes to keep vigilant watch for all vehicles, trains and pedestrians and all other obstructions on the tracks and exercise due care to avoid collisions. Conductors may prohibit disorderly person or persons under the influence of liquor from entering any car and shall have the right to eject such persons therefrom and may call on local police officers to render such aid as may be necessary, and it shall be the duty of such officers to render such aid.

Section 9. All cars shall at all times be entitled to the use of the tracks and work trains or construction trains may be run upon said railway before the opening of the line for traffic and at such times thereafter as shall not interfere with the regular business of the line. Provided, however, that this section shall not apply to any fire apparatus, engines, trucks or cars attending or going to and from any fire, nor to be construed as to prohibit the laying of hose across the tracks of said railway. And provided further that any car shall come to a full stop and remain in such position upon the approach from any direction of any fire apparatus while proceeding to a fire or in the direction from which an alarm of fire has been given until such apparatus shall have passed such fire. If hose or lines of hose shall be laid across the tracks of said railway for use at any fire, all cars or trains on approaching such hose or lines of hose, shall come to a full stop until said hose or lines of hose shall be removed or until permission shall be granted by the chief of the fire department or person in charge thereof for such car or train to proceed.

Section 10. All cars shall come to a full stop at the intersection of any street for the reception and discharge of passengers when signaled so to do. Before any car or train shall cross at grade the tracks of any steam or street railway, the motorman or conductor in charge of such car shall bring such car to a full stop before going upon said crossing at least thirty (30) feet distance from the track of said railway and not more than sixty (60) feet therefrom, and said car shall not cross said track until said motorman or conductor has ascertained that there are no trains or cars approaching thereon. No car or trains shall stop or stand upon a steam railway track. Provided also that no car shall be allowed to stop on any cross walk or any intersecting street except to avoid collisions or to prevent damage to persons or property in the street. When the conductor or motorman in a car is required to stop at the intersection of streets to receive or leave passengers, cars shall be stopped so as to leave the rear platform slightly over the crossing.

Section 11. The cars after sunset shall be furnished with signal lights on the forward end of the forward car and on the rear end of the last car, and a gong shall be sounded at least seventy feet before reaching a street crossing at all times, and at all times and places whenever necessary to warn persons, vehicles or teams approaching the tracks of said grantee, his successors or assigns.

Section 12. All poles used within the limit of said village shall be located at such places and at such distance from each other as shall be designated by said common council, and they shall be of the same height as near as may be, and shall be kept neatly painted and in a safe condition. All wires carrying electric currents, except trolley and feed wires shall be safely and properly insulated.

Section 13.

Said grantee, his sucessors or assigns shall remove or level all ridges or banks of snow or ice that shall fall on or to be formed upon or between the rails and for two and one half (2½) feet outside the same. Such snow and ice as is removed as aforesaid shall be evenly distributed over the street in such a manner as shall least obstruct travel thereon and in case the village council shall deem it necessary to and does remove at any time a portion of the snow from any street through which said tracks are laid which said snow has been removed from said tracks, then and in that case the said grantee, his successors or assigns shall bear his or its proportion of the expense thereof, to be determined on the basis of the proportion of the width of the street occupied by said track to the width of the whole street, and if said grantee, his successors or assigns, shall neglect to obey any order which the common council shall make in relation to such affairs or any order relative to the repair of the streets, which by the provisions of this ordinance they are obliged to make, the said common council may cause the same to be made and may collect the expense thereof from said grantee, his successors or assigns. The said grantee, his successors or assigns, shall keep the space between the tracks and for two and one-half (2½) feet each side thereof within the village limits, in good repair and free from dirt, rubbish, weeds and other obstructions.

Section 14. Nothing herein contained shall be so construed as to deprive said village of the right to authorize other railway companies to cross said tracks of said grantee, his successors or assigns, upon payment to the same by such other railway companies of the actual expenses to said grantee, his successors or assigns of such crossing.

Section 15. Nothing in this ordinance shall be so construed as to prevent the common council from authorizing the laying of water or gas pipes, sewers or other conduits or the repairing of the same, in the streets where said line of railway shall run, the grantees herein shall have no claim for damages therefore against the said village provided that the work of laying such water pipes, gas pipes, sewers or conduits, or the repair thereof shall be done in such a manner as not unnecessarily to damage such railway or its use.

Section 16. Service of any order, ordinance, rule, resolution or regulation that shall be made from time to time by said common council in relation to the repair, control or operation of said railway, may be made upon said grantee, his successors or assigns, by delivering a duly certified copy thereof to any officer thereof or to any conductor or motorman in charge of any car or train being run or operated through said village.

Section 17. For each and every violation of the provisions of sections 5, 6, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of this ordinance, the person or persons, conductor or motorman, or any or either of them shall be liable to a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $50.00 and costs of prosecution or to imprisonment in the county jail for not more than sixty (60) days, or to both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Section 18. Each and every violation by said grantee, his successors or assigns of sections 3 and 12 shall be punished by a penalty not less than fifty dollars ($50.00), together with costs of prosecution before any court of competent jurisdiction. Each and every violation of said mentioned sections shall be treated as a separate offense.

Section 19. By acceptance of the permission and authority hereby granted, the said grantee, his successors or assigns, hereby agrees to indemnify and save harmless the said village of Tecumseh from any and all loss or expense to which it may be subjected for any damage or injury that may be done to or suffered by any one of his, her or its person or property by reason of the construction or operation of said railway where said village is legally liable therefor by reason of any negligence, carelessness or omission of said grantee, his successors or assigns, or any of his or its officers, agents or servants. The said grantee, his successors or assigns shall be liable to said village of Tecumseh for all costs recovered against it in consequence of any act, neglect or default of said grantee, his successors or assigns, or from a breach of his or its officers, agents or servants of any of the provisions of this ordinance.

Said company, its successors or assigns shall, before beginning construction work in said village file a sufficient bond in the sum of five thousand ($5000.00) dollars, approved by the common council and therein binding said grantee upon penalty of forfeiture to hold said village harmless and free from liability for any injury to person or property, actual or alleged that may result from the construction of said railway or from the presence of its material in any street of the village.

Section 20. The fare to be charged for the carriage of any single passenger for one continuous passage over said railway within the limits of said village, shall not exceed five (5) cents, provided that children under five (5) years of age when accompanied by its parents or guardians shall be carried free.

Section 21. The said common council hereby reserves all right to make further rules, orders, ordinances and regulations as may from time to time be deemed necessary to protect the interests, safety, welfare and accommodation of the public in relation to said railway not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, but they shall not reduce the fare herein provided for nor alter nor repeal section one of this act except by and with the consent of said grantee, his successors or assigns.

Section 22. In case any other electric railway company entering the said village of Tecumseh shall desire to use the tracks of said grantee, his successors or assigns, along the streets herein named, for the operation of any other electric railway, said village shall have the right to use such tracks upon the payment to grantee, his successors or assigns, of reasonable current and trackage charges. In case such parties cannot agree upon the rates of charge for the use of said track and current, said prices are to be fixed by three arbitrators, one of whom shall be chosen by each of said parties and the third by the common council of

How's This?

We offer one hundred dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARNIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and fel like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar's worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have nopain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Many a man would be rich if he did not try so hard to appear to be.

A pleasant pill.

No pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Amatuer gamblers soon reduce the art of losing to a science.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks go during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa, "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

the said village of Tecumseh. Provided however, that said grantee, his successors or assigns shall have the power to grant the use of said tracks through said village to be used in common with said other party to any person or company except with the permission of the common council of said village first thereto obtained. And provided further that said common council hereby reserves the right to grant the use of said streets for street railway purposes to any other person or company who may ask for and construct the same before the grantee herein named shall construct the road herein referred to. In such event the grantee herein named shall be protected by a clause in such other ordinance if granted as aforesaid, to the same effect as the first two clauses of this section.

Section 23. The terms, conditions and agreements contained in this ordinance shall constitute a valid and binding contract between said village of Tecumseh, and said grantees, his successors or assigns and this ordinance shall take effect upon its acceptance in writing by said grantee his successors or assigns, if said acceptance be filed within sixty days after the date of its passage, otherwise said ordinance shall be null and void.

Section 24. The construction of said railway shall be begun within eighteen (18) months of the acceptance of this ordinance by said grantee, his successors or assigns and said railway shall be constructed and placed in operation between the said cities of Adrian and Ann Arbor on or before the expiration of two years from the date of acceptance.

Section 25. Said grantee shall pave the space between the rails of said railway and for eighteen (18) inches outside of either rail with crushed stone or gravel as the council may direct and shall maintain such paving flush with the top of the rails on and along the streets of the village. The removal of all necessary electric light, telegraph and telephone poles and wires shall be made at the expense of said grantee and no wooden poles shall be erected along any street by said grantee without the consent of the common council, provided, that temporary poles of wood may be placed during the construction of said railway, to be removed upon order of the village council. All high tension or feed wires and transformers shall be located under the supervision of the common council of the village.

Wheat Needed More Rain.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 12.—The state crop report for December indicates that some damage has been done to wheat in this state by the recent dry weather, the condition of the crop being 93 per cent as compared to 99 per cent one month ago. Wheat made a fine growth during the fall and is in fairly good condition for the winter. The month was one of the dryest on record in this state, the precipitation being only one-tenth of an inch in the southern counties of the state, where a large proportion of the wheat is raised.

Woman to Sue For Son's Death.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 12.—In the circuit court this week Mrs. M. Nettie Myers will bring suit against the Michigan Central for $10,000 damages for the loss of her 9-year-old son, Harry Hunt who was killed by a light engine in October, 1902. Nobody saw the accident, until the boy was crawling from under the engine in a badly mangled condition.

Another Blaze at Cadillac.

Cadillac, Mich., Dec. 12.—Another Sunday morning fire in this city destroyed the general store of E. C. Snider & Co. The blaze originated in the basement, undoubtedly from the explosion of a large lamp used to prevent frost. Loss on the stock and building amounts to $8,000, with insurance of $4,700

B. E. Westfall received a dispatch from San Francisco Wednesday morning stating that the remains of his son, Frank Westfall, who died in the Philppines over a year ago, had been shipped by express from San Francisco Tuesday, Dec. 5, and that they would arrive in Hudson in about six days from that date. Deceased was a private in the signal service of the United States army in the Philppine Islands. He was a resident of Hudson when he enlisted in the government service and was one of the popular young men of the city. Funeral services will be held at the Westfall home when the remains arrive here and the interment will be in Maple Grove cemetery.—Hudson Gazette.

The professional beggar is always looking for succor,—but he doesn't spell it that way.

An emergency medicine.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries there is nothing so good as Chamberlains Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain but causes the parts to heal in about one third the time required by the usual treatment. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The more we tell our troubles the larger they seem to grow.

A costly mistake.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for dyspepsia, dizziness, headache, liver or bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

In an argument, the way to get the other fellow mad is not to let him get you mad.

Report from the reform school.

J. G. Gluck, superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's honey and tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

The cleverest girl is the one with a bump of old-fashioned horse sense.

Croup instantly relieved. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Perfectly safe. Never fails. At any drug store.

Burdock Blood Bitters gives a man a clear head, an active brain, a strong, vigorous body—makes him fit for the battle of life.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

A woman can have a good time thinking what a good time she would have if she were having it.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Revolution imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

Beware of counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

THE EDITOR'S WIFE

Letter from an Illinois newspaper man that is well worth reading.

As a usual thing editors save the good things for the columns of their own newspapers, but the following letter from S. H. Duncan, editor of the Benton, Ill., Independent, shows that there is at least one editor who wants to help others. He writes as follows:

"To the Editor of the HERALD:

I wish you would print the following and thus help me to do a kindness to your readers. My wife has been a great sufferer with stomach troubles for the past four years and the last two years practically an invalid. Nothing seemed to help her until I procured a box of Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. This gave her so much relief that she continued using the remedy until now she enjoys her meals, is relieved from all pain in her stomach and has increased in flesh.

I hope you will publish this letter, for I think there is no remedy for stomach trouble equal to Mi-o-na and the more wide spread its use become the more good will be done humanity.

S. H. DUNCAN,
Editor of Independent."

C. A. Wright has the local agency for Mi-o-na and his faith in its merits equals Editor Duncan's. He, in fact, offers to pay of Mi-o-na himself in any case where it does not give satisfaction. No stronger endorsement of the merits of the remedy can be given than this, that a local drug firm is willing to sell a medicine on his own guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure stomach troubles and increase flesh.

The Sunbeam quartette has freely responded to singing at clubs, lodges, socials and meetings of different kinds, therefore it is natural that they would be pleased to see you represented at the entertainment Thursday evening, Dec. 15, at the opera house.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dibble of Tipton, left Monday to attend the Michigan state association of farmers' clubs to be held in Lansing Dec. 13 and 14, as delegates representing the Cambridge and Franklin farmers' club of which Mr. Dibble is president and an active worker.

Several years ago this country suffered an extended flood and the local papers in making reports of the same said, "And for forty days and forty nights," it rained. Geo. Merritt keeps a diary and each day he puts down without fear or favor what the weather has been thinking that in years to come he would enjoy talking about what was the "coldest day," the "longest dry spell," etc. And from George Merritt's record the HERALD learns that up to Sunday it has been 48 days since it rained. This is no doubt the longest dry spell that has occurred since the flood. Most of the cisterns and many wells are dry and now the residents will have to turn in and melt snow.

Something Fine in Light.

"The "Best" gasoline lamps that are sold in Tecumseh are the best and no mistake. Mr. W. L. Coller having the agency for this lamp has sold a good number here and are giving good satisfaction as well as a good light at a small sum of 1 cent a night. You can see these lamps at Witherell & Sons' new carriage store.

Woman is the fairest creature on earth—also the unfairest.

Mrs. David L. Rogers.

In the early morning of Dec. 1, 1904, Mrs. David L. Rogers died at her home in Brownville. The funeral service conducted by Rev. E. Sedweek, assisted by Rev. C. Kemp, were held Sunday, Dec. 4, at 2 p. m. with interment in Brookside cemetery. The deceased is survived by two daughters, Adelaide M. and Emma L., and by two sisters, Mrs. Silas Baldwin of Hampshire, Ill., and Mrs. Orcelia Pepper of Poultney, Vt.

Mary Ann Williams was born in Granville, N. Y., April 15, 1822. When she was a year old her parents moved to Poultney, Vt. In that place her childhood and early womanhood were passed. There, at the age of 14 years she was confirmed in the Episcopal church, to which form of worship she was always attached. There, in August, 1844, she was married to David L. Rogers. There their four daughters were born and the oldest and youngest are buried. In 1865 the family came to Michigan. In 1876 they bought the farm northeast of Tecumseh, upon which they lived until the death of Mr. Rogers in 1898. Since that time Mrs. Rogers lived in her home in the village with the two daughters whose loving thought and tender care have blessed her declining years.

Though very frail for a long time and unable to take an active part in the world's affairs, yet her interest and sympathy extended far beyond the home circle and she rejoiced to hear of another's good fortune and as readily sympathized with those in trouble. Her hospitable home was ever open and as long as she was able she gave freely of her strength and substance to those less fortunate than herself.

Of a singularly bright and cheerful disposition and with a mind keen and clear to the last she won and kept friends among the young and old alike. All who knew her loved the gentle old lady whose kindly smile and helpful words will not soon be forgotten by those privileged to receive them. When it was known that this dear friend was no more expressions of sorrow were heard on every side. This was in sympathy for those who would miss her presence. Who could mourn for one, full of years, who had so surely "entered into life." For, even as her arm grew palsied and her eye dim with the mists of death, she rallied and with bright face and happy voice exclaimed, "He's come! He's come to take me home."

And so helpful in life and happy in death, she has gone to her reward and we believe she now knows and enjoys the blessings promised to those "who die in the Lord."

Claude H. VanTyne.

A "Guide to the Archives of the Government of the United States in Washington," has just been published by the Carnegie Institution of Washington. The volume was edited by Claude H. VanTyne, professor of American history at the University of Michigan, with the assistance of Waldo G. Leland. It contains 215 pages and covers all of the records of the hundred or more bureaus into which the departments, commissions and other organizations of the national government are divided. The work required the examination of all the documents preserved by the government since the organization of the Continental Congress, some of which have been stored in vaults and attics or "hidden behind piles of lumber" for many years. The volume appears as one number of a series of Papers of the Bureau of Historical Research of which Professor Andrew C. McLaughlin, formerly a member of the Faculty of the University, is editor.

A copy of this book has been sent to the Tecumseh library.

New York letter. Bond Suitings in great vogue.

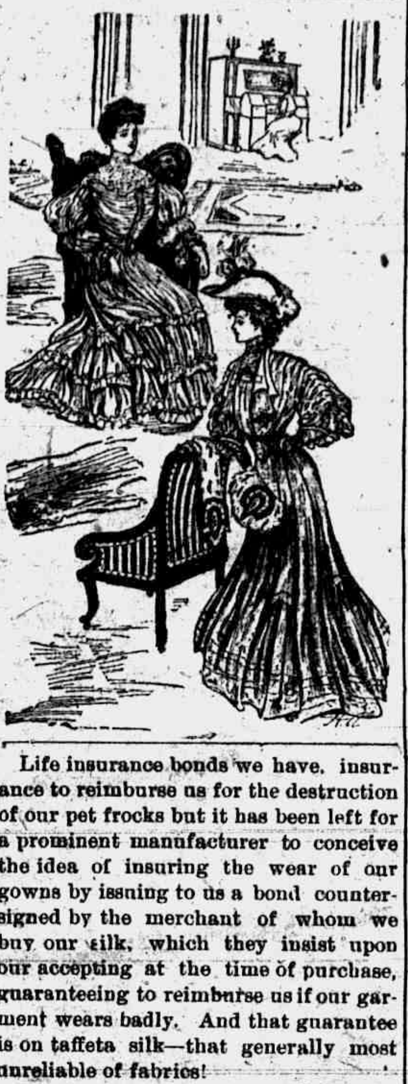
ARTISTIC ADVANCEMENT

In fabrics. Novelties in furs.

Silk is the leading material of the season for traveling, walking and for afternoon attire particularly the taffeta silk without which no woman thinks her wardrobe complete in these days.

There is no denying the beauty of taffeta and until recently its absolute unreliability made it a positive extravagance but at last it seems possible to obtain a dependable quality and that (let the Eagle scream!) one of American manufacture.

And the novelty of its introduction is truly American.



Life insurance bonds we have, insurance to reimburse us for the destruction of our pet frocks but it has been left for a prominent manufacturer to conceive the idea of insuring the wear of our gowns by issuing to us a bond countersigned by the merchant of whom we buy our silk, which they insist upon our accepting at the time of purchase, guaranteeing to reimburse us if our garment wears badly. And that guarantee is on taffeta silk—that generally most unreliable of fabrics!

This beautiful, soft, lustrous taffeta, that comes to us so highly endorsed, is called Clifton Bond suiting, adaptable to the prevailing modes for costumes for any occasion and in the one depicted here one sees an ideal gown for visiting, theatre or church wear. Prettily stitched-in-the-center tucks gracefully escaping at each side of the center from neck to elbow exemplify one of the most popular and becoming modes, and in the rich tobacco brown here shown with its simply stitched and plaited skirt and dainty bit of lace at throat and lapel, we see a gown that reaches the acme of simple elegance and taste.

With this extremely chic gown is worn a novelty in furs created by Gutlohn, for a prominent actress for horse show wear. The ermine stole and flat muff have each a cleverly inserted horse shoe of Russian sable, which is perfect in detail even to the tiny bits of dark fur representing the nails of the shoes.

My other illustration shows a dainty little gown of the exquisite raw silk now so popular with fashionable women. Rajah, which this fabric is called, is a revelation even to the woman of the 20th century, accustomed as she is to wonderful progressiveness in fabrics for her adornment. Woven with the artistic irregularity of the Asiatic hand loom silk, Rajah, which bears its name upon the selvage, is a faithful reproduction of the hand made silk and is exceptionally suited to the charming shirred model depicted, which is in color an exquisite soft shade of green.

With the advent of the tight-fitting bodice, instead of the blouse effect at the waist line, Milady is making a careful study of the corset over which her gown is fitted, but the woman of fashion is far too sensible to return to the old "squeeze-in-the-middle" models, for what is an inch or two in the waist line, at the expense of a puffed-out abdomen?—and the best models, such as the C—B a la Spirite, still show all the health-preserving and graceful lines familiar to us in the straight front corset.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her." Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

A Lansing chap called on his sweetheart and spent a delightful evening. She lived on River street, and he felt so elated, that on his return to his boarding place, he turned to the right instead of to the left when he reached the end of the street, and the first he knew he was into the Grand river up to his neck. He scrambled out, breaking through the ice on his way, and learned that to be right he should have turned to the left, which would have been right, and he wouldn't have got left by turning to the right, which was wrong. It was the first time that he ever learned that left was right, when he wished to get off River street right.—Adrian Press.

ROUND ABOUT US.

A farmer's wife near Lansing was disturbed in the act of kneading bread the other day by a tramp who demanded money. Lifting two big handfuls of dough from the pan she flourished them about her head and rammed them into the face of the intruder, filling his eyes, mouth and hair. After kneading it about his head a bit, she juggled the rolling pin, allowing it to fall upon his head a few times. Then politely inquiring if there was anything more he needed, she faced him about and led the way to the gate, where he trotted off without further notice.—Free Press.

James Rowley of Chicago, whose son was killed while playing football Nov. 5, is urging legislation which may wind up the game in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan. Incensed over the outcome of what he calls a dangerous and brutal game, Mr. Rowley is not waiting for new rules to render the pastime as pleasant and harmless as tenis. The season's fatalities number about a dozen. Many of the survivors have suffered broken legs, arms, ribs and noses, black eyes and extensive lost of cuticle. The boys like the game and classify their sufferings under the head of sport. —Ex.

KILLS CATARRH GERMS

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and benefit will be seen at once. Continue this treatment for a short time and your catarrh will have been cured by Hyomei.

There is no roundabout way in Hyomei's medicinal action; it does not try to cure a disease of the head by putting medicine in the stomach. It fills the air you breathe with balsamic healing, that soothes the irritated and smarting membrane, destroys the germs of catarrh that are present in the head and throat and is the only treatment that can be relied upon to cure.

When using Hyomei the air you breathe will be like that on the mountains high above the sea level, filled with volatile, antiseptic fragrance that heals and cures the irritated mucous membrane of the air passages.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

MOTHERS, DO YOU KNOW the many so-called birth medicines, and most remedies for women in the treatment of her delicate organs, contain more or less opium, morphine and strychnine?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not take internally any medicine for the pain accompanying pregnancy.

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is applied externally only?

Do You Know that Mother's Friend is a celebrated prescription, and that it has been in use over forty years, and that each bottle of the genuine bears the name of The Bradfield Regulator Co.?

Do you know that when you use this remedy during the period of gestation that you will be free of pain and bear healthy, hearty and clever children?

Well, these things are worth knowing They are facts. Of druggists at $1.00. Don't be persuaded to try a substitute. Our little book "Motherhood" free.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta. Ga.

There can be no economy, from a woman's point of view, without hash for breakfast once in a while.

LOCAL ENTHUSIASM.

On one subject Tecumseh people grow enthusiastic.

The increase of popular enthusiasm on the following subject is almost daily manifested by public expression and local endorsement. Read what this citizen says and discover the cause for the constant showering of praise which follows in the wake of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Henry Keyser, retired farmer and capitalist, residence in the southwest section of Tecumseh says: "I am thoroughly convinced of the superior merits of this popular remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, they deserve naught but the highest praise. Before going to C. A. Wright's drug store for a box, I had a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for some time and the secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and irregular. To say that I was surprised at the effect is putting it very mildly. In a short time the trouble disappeared. I never knew a medicine that worked so quickly and satisfactorily."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

One good turn may deserve another, but this does'nt result in perpetual motion.

Itching piles? Never mind if physicians have failed to cure you. Try Doan's Ointment. No failure there. 50 cents, at any drug store.

The rain falls alike on the just and unjust, and, furthermore, they both get stuck in the same mud.

Every family should have its household medicine chest—and the first bottle in it should be Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Nature's remedy for coughs and colds.

It's just as well not to think of trouble until you are up against it.

Foley's honey and tar positively cures all throat and lung diseases. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Freezing politeness is on a par with cold comfort.

Mothers, be careful

of the health of your children. Look out for coughs, colds, croup and whooping croup. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by C. A. Wright.

It is well to look on the bright side but it is better to look at both sides.

Don't be imposed upon by taking substitutes offered for Foley's honey and tar. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Perry's Fate In Jury's Hands.

Grand Rapids, Mich. Dec. 10.—The case against ex-Mayor George R. Perry, charged with accepting a bribe of $3,333 from ex-City Attorney Lant K. Salsbury, it being, it is alleged, his share of a fund of $10,000 from New York parties promoting a water deal, was given to the jury at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. No word has been received from the jury room and the jury was locked up at 10:30, court adjourning.

Noted Saginaw Man Dead.

Saginaw, Mich., Dec 10.—Col. Michael Jeffers is dead, aged 73 years, from senile decay. Col. Jeffers was a native of Ireland, had lived in this city for upwards of fifty years, and was not only one of its best known citizens, but was very well known throughout the state. He came here without a dollar and was easily worth over a million when he died. His accumulations of real estate were very large, and he paid more taxes than any other citizen of Saginaw. He was a bachelor and an eccentric and lived very much to himself. Throughout his active business career he absolutely refused to have anything to do with companies or partnerships.

A timely topic.

At this season of coughs and colds it is well to know that Foley's honey and tar is the greatest throat and lung remedy. It cures quickly and prevents serious results from a cold. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

SCANDAL AT CHARLOTTE.

Farmer French Finds Serious Charge Confronting Him.

Charlotte, Mich., Dec. 10.—One of the biggest sensations this city has ever known came out through the arrest of Calvin French and Mrs. Nancy Tracey, both about 50 years old, who are locked up in the jail here charged with committing a serious crime against the woman's 14-year-old daughter. French insists that he is the victim of a designing woman, but Mrs. Tracey has little to say regarding herself or the case. Both are held under heavy bonds.

The woman French refers to is Mrs. Bessie Botsford, whose home is sometimes in this city, sometimes in Detroit, and sometimes in Potterville, Mich. French says that through threats of blackmail Mrs. Botsford forced him, within a period of thirty days, to pay her $1,150. The woman disappeared as soon as it became evident that she could get nothing further out of French and the police of Charlotte and Detroit are looking for her. She was in this city last Saturday, but disappeared before it was known that she was wanted, and is said to be somewhere in Canada.

The story goes that Mrs. Botsford, realizing the conditions existing between French and little Blanche Woodruff, Mrs. Tracey's daughter, and at once began her extortions from French by telling him she would get the mother and daughter out of the way, since the public were becoming so well acquainted with the circumstances. The result was that French forked over, but the officers of the law stepped in and spoiled the woman's game. She became alarmed and fled to parts unknown and French and Mrs. Tracey were jailed.

NO PARDON FOR ASCHER.

Murderer of Valmore C. Nichols to Stay In Prison.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 10.—Edward A. Ascher's application for a pardon was denied by the state pardon board at 6 o'clock last night. The matter was taken under advisement at 5:15 and at 6 announcement was made of the denial of Ascher's application, along with several others.

Edward A. Ascher was convicted of the murder of Valmore C. Nichols, a farmer, who came to the city and became acquainted with Ascher, who posed as a spiritualist. Ascher had great influence over Nichols and prevailed upon him to draw a considerable amount of money, about $300, from the bank and carry it in a belt about his body. Ascher one night hired a rowboat at Belle Isle, overpowered Nichols, tied a weight to his body and threw him into the river. The body afterwards came to the surface. A chain of evidence was wound about Ascher, who strenuously denied the crime.

MUTILATED THEIR GLOVES.

Freakish Doings of a Monomaniac at Hillsdale College.

Albion, Mich., Dec. 10.—The monomaniac who for the past two months has been entering the rooms of lady students has been apprehended by President Dickie. Twenty-five or more rooms have been entered by this person, who searched drawers and trunks looking for gloves, which he either carried away or mutilated by cutting off the finger tips.

Dr. Dickie refuses to divulge the name of the defender, and, for the sake of the latter's family and friends, does not intend to punish him. The president would not say that the person was a student, but stated that the crimes had been committed by an irresponsible person, from whom no further trouble need be anticipated.

Big Verdict Against A. O. U. W.

Grand Haven, Mich., Dec. 10.—In the circuit court here Friday afternoon Mrs. Ellen J. Littlewood of Muskegon was awarded insurance to the amount of $2,000 and $300 interest against the state grand lodge, Ancient Order of United Workmen. Mrs. Littlewood's husband was drowned three years ago. He carried a policy in the order for $2,000, but the grand lodge refused payment claiming that Littlewood had neglected paying his dues for several months.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

Ladies Only.

It Is Women Who Need Most Relief From Little Irritating Pains and Aches.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are for women.

Woman's delicate nervous organism tingles to the least jarring influence, and some ache or pain is the result.

The remedy is at hand—
Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

They act most marvellously on woman's nervous organism, and relieve and cure the pains to which she is a martyr.

Headaches, neuralgic pains, monthly pains, and all kinds of pains disappear, as if a gentle hand had lightly soothed them away. Dizziness, Rush of Blood to the head, Toothache, Backache are all cured by these "Little Comforters."

Cured without danger of disagreeable after-effects; cured quickly; cured without unnatural action on liver, stomach, or other internal organs.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills please the women, and the children take them because they are easy to take and soothe all their sufferings.

"For years I had spells of sick headache, at times suffering untold agonies. I could not endure any excitement. Going to church, and even visiting, brought on these terrible spells. I tried numerous remedies without relief until I tried Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and they have cured me. When I feel symptoms of sick headache I take a pill and ward off the attack. When I am tired and nervous, a pill soothes me."—MRS. SARAH WATKINSON, Blairstown, Ia.

PERRY JURY DISCHARGED.

Tried For Nearly Forty-Eight Hours to Reach Agreement.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 12.—The jury in the ex-Mayor George R. Perry trial were discharged at noon Sunday, being unable to agree on a verdict. They had been out since 3:30 Friday afternoon. It is said they stood 10 to 2 for acquittal.

The indictment against the ex-mayor was the receiving of a bribe of $3,333 July 7, 1900, from ex-City Attorney Lant K. Salsbury. This amount, it is alleged, was a portion of the $10,000 said to have been received by Salsbury from New York promoters to buy a contract from the mayor and city council for a water supply from Lake Michigan for the city of Grand Rapids.

The case was begun Oct. 6, but owing to irregularity in the drawing of the jury panel, the court on Oct. 7 discharged it and an adjournment of the case was taken till Oct. 24. In the meantime the jury commission drew a new panel.

The court re-convened Oct. 24 and after two days a jury was obtained. For the past seven weeks the case has been on continuous trial before Judge Perkins in the superior court.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

Take No Chances With Your Kidneys.

Diseases of the kidneys are very, very dangerous. Being once firmly established, their work is more deadly and certain than any other malady—consumption itself not excepted. Of all kidney affections, Bright's disease easily leads in fatal effects and results. Its worst feature is that it sounds no warning to put its victims on their guard, but steals on unawares and is nearly always firmly imbedded before the patient is conscious of his danger. It is highly important to life that no time should be lost in checking its ravages at the very first indication or symptom of its presence.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is certain and sure in curing Bright's disease in its early stages and all other affections of the kidney and bladder. It is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestion, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

AT MERCY OF JAPS

Their Shells Reach All Parts of Port Arthur.

NO VESSELS AFLOAT IN HARBOR

Streets of City Deserted—Numberless Attacks Made Upon Russian Cruiser Sevastopol by Torpedo Flotilla, but Seemingly With Little Effect.

Tokio, Dec. 15.—(Noon)—It is reported that Japanese have successfully torpedoed the Russian battleship Sevastopol.

Fusan, Dec. 15.—Every part of the city and harbor of Port Arthur is visible from 203 Meter hill. The streets of the city are deserted and but few soldiers are doing patrol duty. Many buildings have been burned and others shattered. The shelters of the harbor present a strange appearance, with the turrets, masts and funnels of warships showing just above the water. There is not a vessel afloat in the harbor. The docks and buildings on the water front are torn and burned.

The Japanese shells reach every part of the city and harbor.

Tokio, Dec. 15.—A report from Vice Admiral Togo was received Tuesday night. It is in part as follows:

"Commander Kasama, commanding the torpedo flotilla, on Monday night at midnight attacked the Russian battleship Sevastopol, lying outside Port Arthur. The result of this attack has not been ascertained. Subsequently two torpedo boats under Commander Masado attempted several attacks, facing the enemy's vigorous fire. The shock of the explosions of torpedoes was felt, but the next day the Sevastopol remained in the same position. None of our vessels were damaged.

Shell Struck Torpedo Boat.

"On Tuesday at 2:30 o'clock in the morning another torpedo flotilla under Commander Arakawa attacked the Sevastopol, but the result of this attack was not learned. In this attack a shell from the enemy struck the funnel of one of our torpedo boats and another struck the engine room, disabling the vessel, and she lost her freedom of motion and was towed away by her comrades. There were no casualties.

Again at 6 o'clock in the morning of the same day a torpedo flotilla under command of Commander Seki attempted an attack but was exposed by the enemy's searchlights, and being subjected to a heavy fire was unable to accomplish this purpose.

"Simultaneously Lieut. Adachi, commanding two torpedo boats, approached the enemy's ship and discharged torpedoes, which were seen to explode, but with what effect is not known. These attackers were also exposed to a heavy fire and both were hit once and three injured."

Washington, Dec. 15.—The Japanese legation has received the following cablegram from Tokio: "Commander of naval artillery at Port Arthur reports that bombardment on the 13th was principally aimed at arsenal and torpedo depot at Tigertail and at steamboats in its vicinity. Torpedo depot ablaze one hour. Three ships were destroyed and one was sunk, beside buildings greatly damaged."

Michigan Man Extradited.

London, Dec. 15.—At the Bow street police court James Wallace of Marquette, Mich., was committed for extradition on the charge of having stolen stock certificates valued at $30,000 from Edward Breitung, a banker of Marquette. Wallace was arrested at Liverpool upon his arrival there Nov. 20 on the steamer Saxonia from Boston.

Another Serious Charge Against Him.

Houghton, Mich., Dec. 15.—In addition to having to pay a twenty-dollar fine for hunting out of season, Frank Connel has now to face the charge of having accidentally shot and killed his nephew, who was with him on the trip.

THE MASTER'S REPORT

States That Eighty New Granges Have Been Organized.

SOME IMPORTANT RESOLUTIONS

Incorporating Worthy Master's Suggestions on Primary Reform and Other Questions — Farmers' Clubs Delegates Met in Senate Chamber.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 14.—When the thirty-fifth annual session of the State Grange came to order in Masonic hall Tuesday there were very few of its 50,000 members not represented.

There's a sort of family conservatism about the grange that finds lasting charm and interest in familiar and beloved objects and persons.

George B. Horton will probably be chosen masted for the thirteenth time. For the same reason Miss Jennie Buell of Ann Arbor will probably be re-elected secretary and Perry A. Mayo of Battle Creek may continue as chaplain. There is some opposition to all three, but it seems to be weak and mostly confined to the younger granges.

Master Horton's annual address was especially well received. His suggestions on primary reform found ready appreciation and were followed by the introduction of strong resolutions in line with the Horton ideas. Resolutions were also introduced calling for vigorous regulation of automobiles, the initiative and referendum, and support of the anti-oleo Grout law against the organized attack of the oleo dealers.

Ten thousand copies of Horton's speech were ordered printed for distribution.

What Horton Said.

Mr. Horton said in large part:

"Eighty granges have been added to our list since last we met, and if all who are retained on the books of local granges are counted a full 50,000 aggregate membership may be reported. Grange meetings as now conducted are nothing short of practical schools. There is a balance in the treasury.

"A well-planned lecturer's, or program hour, as the well-settled policy of every grange, should be the watchword of the coming year.

"It should be accepted by every Pomona grange as a fixed duty to conduct one good, strong rally at some favorable point. In the absence or failure of the Pomona grange subordinate granges should assume the responsibility."

Taking up the subject of marketing the farm products, Mr. Horton vigorously advocated uniting of the farmers and the maintaining of a general clearing house where produce can be marketed.

Farmers' Clubs.

The Farmers' Clubs delegates met in the state senate chamber and about the time Worthy Master Horton was addressing the grange President Clapp of the Farmers' Clubs was making his annual address. Following him a discussion on how to instill fresh vigor into the farmers' clubs was fraught with a tone of dissatisfaction from certain members, but also with an expression of determination by all to work unceasingly for the good of the order.

M. K. Potter, a veteran farmers of Burns, Mich., enlivened proceedings with an exhortation something to this effect:

"Don't you and I remember how we petitioned year after year and year after year for a few rural mail routes? Don't you and I remember how we pleaded for years before we had any secretary of agriculture at Washington? Go after anything and you can get it. Let us have macadamized roads all over the country just like they are having down along the Panama canal strip for automobiles and horses and buggies and women. Don't talk to me about being discouraged. 'Twon't be long before we have no use for horses ourselves and jump around the farm on our own automobiles if we go at things right."

The address of the evening was delivered by Rev. William Skentelbury of Lake Odessa, who eloquently discussed "The dignity of labor."

Lone Highwayman Made Big Haul.

Hibbing, Minn., Dec. 15.—A lone highwayman held up the bank of Chisholm and secured $2,200. He forced Cashier Greiser into the vault at the muzzle of a revolver and locked the door. The robber escaped.

IMPEACH MR. SWAYNE

House of Representatives Passes Resolutions Providing For It.

SENATE WILL NEXT HEAR CASE

Charges of "High Crimes and Misdemeanors" Rest Against Him—Proceedings Are First of Their Kind to Come Before Congress Since 1876.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Sitting as a grand jury, the house of representatives Tuesday, with almost a full membership and after more than five hours in discussion, to the exclusion of all other business, adopted a resolution providing for the impeachment of Judge Charles Swayne of the northern district of Florida, for "high crimes and misdemeanors."

The case against the respondent was clearly set out by Mr. Palmer of Pennsylvania, chairman of the sub-committee of the judiciary committee which heard the evidence in the case. He carefully dissected the evidence bearing on each of the specifications and said that if it were found that Judge Swayne had done well he should be vindicated, but if he had done ill he should be sent to trial "where his excuses and apologies may or may not receive consideration."

Discussed His Case.

Mr. Palmer was followed by Messrs. Clayton of Alabama, Powers of Massachusetts, Henry of Texas and Lamar of Florida, each of whom in most vigorous terms advocated impeachment. Messrs. Gillett of California and Littlefield of Maine, in speeches, opposed their colleagues on all the specifications except the one as to the account rendered to the government by Judge Swayne for traveling expenses.

Throughout the session intense interest was shown by members. Following the adoption of the impeachment resolution, provision was made for appointment of five members to notify the senate of the impeachment and for a committee of seven to present the case to the senate.

These proceedings were the first of their kind since the impeachment in 1876 of Gen. W. W. Belknap, who was secretary of war in President Grant's cabinet.

MUST GO TO PRISON.

Appeals Court Affirms Decisions Against Postoffice Boodlers.

Washington, Dec. 14.—The District of Columbia court of appeals Tuesday affirmed the decision of the criminal court in the postal conspiracy cases of August W. Machen, George E. Lorenz, Samuel A. Groff and Diller B. Groff, who were sentenced to two years' imprisonment in the West Virginia penitentiary and to pay a fine of $10,000.

Fired Two Rural Carriers.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Postmaster-General Wynne has just removed from office Frank J. Cunningham, the South Omaha, Neb., rural carrier who is president of the National Association of Rural Carriers, and James C. Keller of Cleveland, who is at the head of the National Association of Letter Carriers. The dismissals are the result of an investigation of charges of insubordination, of being absent from duty without leave and of violation of the president's order of Jan. 31, 1902, prohibiting individual or organized attempts of government employes to influence legislation or to solicit increase of pay.

Many Not Vaccinated.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 15.—Dr. [illegible] K. Herdman, school physician, reports to the school board that he has vaccinated during the past few weeks over 400 school children. Of the 1,853 who were in attendance on the day he made his first inspection, only 551 had ever been vaccinated. He recommended that the board refuse to admit children to school until they have been vaccinated.

A costly mistake.

Blunders are sometimes very expensive. Occasionally life itself is the price of a mistake, but you'll never be wrong if you take Dr. King's New Life Pills for dyspepsia, dizziness, headache, liver or bowel troubles. They are gentle yet thorough. 25c, at C. A. Wright's drug store.

WHAT MICHIGAN DID

Official Figures of State Board of Canvassers Made Public.

ROOSEVELT'S PLURALITY, 227,715

Warner's Plurality Totaled 60,228—Republicans Cast 361,866 Votes and Democrats 134,151—Proposition to Revise Constitution Defeated.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 15.—Roosevelt's official plurality in Michigan is 227,715 and Warner's 60,228, according to the figures of the state board of canvassers, which completed its work last night. The total vote received for each candidate for president is as follows:

Republican, 361,866; democrat, 134,151; prohibition, 13,308; socialist, 8,941; social-labor, 1,012; people's, 1,159; Roosevelt's plurality, 227,715.

Governor—Warner, 283,799; Ferris, 223,571; Shackelton, prohib., 10,395; Lamb, soc., 6,170; Meyer, social-labor, 781; Warner's plurality, 60,228.

For Lieutenant-Governor.

Lieutenant - Governor — Maitland, 331,782; Hudson, 167,617; Clemo, prohib., 12,650; Merton, soc., 7,580; Louwet, social-labor, 893; Maitland's plurality, 164,165.

The following pluralities were received by the other republican state candidates: Prescott, secretary of state, 179,858; Glazier, treasurer, 178,875; Bradley, auditor-general, 182,359; Rose, land commissioner, 184,258; Bird, attorney-general, 181,308; Kelley, superintendent of public instruction, 183,454; Wright, member of board of education, 183,784. Justices of supreme court, McAlvay, 183,827; Blair, 188,186; Ostrander, 185,759.

Congressmen by districts: Denby, 8,384; Townsend, 9,923; Gardner, 14,554; Hamilton, 13,922; William Alden Smith, 18,616; Samuel W. Smith, 13,179; McMorran, 12,946; Fordney, 12,519; Bishop, 15,387; Loud, 16,709; Darragh, 21,022; Young, 28,740.

Constitutional Amendment.

The constitutional amendment repealing the provision limiting the time for the introduction of bills to the first fifty days of the legislative session was carried by a majority of 81,800 in a total vote of 278,614.

The proposition to make a general revision of the constitution was defeated, although it had a majority of 45,105 in a total vote of 285,141. The constitution provides for a majority of all the votes cast at the election. It will be noticed that nearly 250,000 electors who voted for president did not vote on this proposition at all.

For president the average vote is given. The first elector on each ticket received quite a few more votes than any of his fellow electors. This is because many voters put a cross in front of the name of the first elector, thus voting for that elector and no other candidate on the ticket. They supposed, however, that they were voting the straight ticket.

Will Reappoint Atwood.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 15.—Gov.-elect Warner has announced his intention of reappointing Railroad Commissioner Atwood, and gave out a statement in which he said: "Some newspaper and some individuals have said very uncomplementary things about Mr. Atwood, but I think it will be conceded by those who know him best that he is of unimpeachable integrity. His neighbors, among whom he has lived and done business for many years, uniformly hold him in the highest esteem, and know him to be a man of honor and ability.

Meat Trains Get Right of Way.

Brighton, Mich., Dec. 15.—Much indignation is being expressed, not only by the traveling public but by the train crews as well, on account of the delay in all kinds of traffic on the Grand Rapids division of the Pere Marquette to accommodate the meat trains. Local freights are held up for two or three hours at a time and even the through freights are compelled to sidetrack to let the meat trains pass.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and fel like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. Eor sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar s worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have nopain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks go during the s evere winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa, "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says: "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

REVOLUTIONISTS WIN.

Paraguay's President Resigns and Treaty of Peace Signed.

Buenos Ayres, Dec 14.—A treaty of peace between the government of Paraguay and the revolutionists was signed last night by President Ezcurra and Gen. Ferreira. The treaty marks the complete triumph of the revolution and is based upon the resignation of President Ezcurra and the election of Senor Gauna, a supporter of the revolution, to the presidency.

FOR PRIMARY REFORM.

Grange and Farmers' Clubs Adopt Vigorous Resolutions.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 15.—Primary reform without exceptions. That's the record the State Grange set down in black and white, demanding by overwhelming vote. Practically the same broad measure was adopted by the Farmers' Clubs in the afternoon.

A special committee of five was appointed last year to draft a primary reform bill. It is compiled from ideas promulgated in Michigan with the assistance of laws enacted in Wisconsin and Oregon and advocated in other states. It provides for the direct nomination of all state, county, congressional and legislative officers and for candidates for United States senate; separate party ballots and party challengers at primary registrations.

The report of the Farmers' Clubs committee on credentials showed 100 out of the 153 clubs represented. There are about fifty other clubs in the state not in the association. The delegates present represented 5,600 members in the order, an increase of 600.

During the election of officers the precedent of allowing votes only to those delegates present instead of giving each club two votes, whether represented by only one delegate or not, was established by a vote of 63 to 54.

C. B. Cook of Owosso was elected president for the ensuing year on the second ballot. He received 73 votes, Patrick Hankerd of Munith had 16 and L. D. Lovell of South Lyon 38.

Mrs. Jennie N. Ford of Jackson county, R. D. No. 1, was elected vice-president; Mrs. George Auten of Clyde secretary, and Mrs. Myra L. Wood of Mason treasurer, all unanimously.

Died After Burying Uncle.

Adrian, Mich., Dec. 14.—Irwin Bliss of Blissfield, nephew of A. L. Bliss, officiated as one of the pallbearers at the latter's funeral here the other day. After the funeral he made the remark: "How little we know who may go next out of this crowd." The fact that he died at his home in Blissfield at 10 o'clock that night makes the remark a rather striking one, and the circumstance of his sudden death a coincidence.

Many Hands Made Idle.

Albion, Mich., Dec. 14.—The Gale Manufacturing Co. has been compelled to close down on account of breaks in the machinery. Nearly 300 men are thrown out of employment. The plant may resume operations next week.

Pioneer Drops Dead.

Galion, Mich., Dec. 14.—Mrs. Henry McArdle, a pioneer of this county, 65 years old, dropped dead after eating breakfast at the home of her son, William Swank, near here.

A Famous Quarry.

The entire mass of the Monte Sagro, 5,000 feet high, which dominates Carrara, is solid marble. One of the most famous quarries is in the valley of the Polraccio. From this were extracted in Roman times the 1,700 tons of marble that served for the construction of Trajan's column at Rome. Here Donatello got the block which he carved into his St. George, and Michael Angelo the one for his Moses. From here also came the huge block mentioned in the memoirs of Benvenuto Cellini, which served for the colossal Neptune of Ammanati in the middle of the fountain of the Piazza della Signoria at Florence.

A Water Volcano.

One of the greatest natural curiosities in Central America is the Volcan de Aqua or water volcano, which is situated in Guatemala, about twenty-five miles southwest of the capital. Its apex is 14,450 feet above the level of the sea, and cultivated fields and forest trees extend almost to its summit. It occasionally vents forth torrents of pure cold water. On one occasion an "eruption" of this kind inundated the northern valley and destroyed a whole village situated on the side of the

Jas. Sanford, a young man 22 years of age and former resident of this vicinity was recently struck by a falling tree while at work in the woods near Boyne Falls and fatally injured. The young man has been living with his father at Charlotte and went north to work in a lumber camp near Boyne Falls. He had been in the woods but about an hour, when he failed to get from under a falling tree and was struck across the back and neck. Death resulted from his injuries two weeks later. The body was brought to Brooklyn Wednesday and interred in the Woodstock cemetery. Deceased was a brother of Miss Ethel Sanford, who makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Lon Holmes.—Brooklyn Exponent.

THE DAILY TELEGRAM

is recognized all over the county as LENAWEE'S LEADER. Over 4,000 homes receive THE TELEGRAM daily. It has nearly four times the circulation of any Lenawee daily and nearly three times the circulation of any Lenawee weekly. How could it get such a list if it were not because the best people in Lenawee county recognize it as the best county seat paper. THE TELEGRAM gives the general, telegraphic, local, court and social news complete. It is the only paper in Lenawee receiving the Buffalo stock markets by wire. It gives twice as much county news as any other paper. It is yours, with the Presidential Cook Book FREE for $2.00 a year, if paid at THE TELEGRAM office, or $2.25 if you desire the book sent by mail. But all the money must be paid to THE TELEGRAM, DIRECT AND NOT TO AGENTS.

ADDRESS,

D. W. GRANDON,
PUBLISHER,
Adrian, Mich.

P. S.—This announcement will appear but twice so you had better act quickly, as only a limited number of the books have been purchased.

Sick Blood

Feed pale girls on Scott's Emulsion.

We do not need to give all the reasons why Scott's Emulsion restores the strength and flesh and color of good health to those who suffer from sick blood.

The fact that it is the best preparation of Cod Liver Oil, rich in nutrition, full of healthy stimulation is a suggestion as to why it does what it does.

Scott's Emulsion presents Cod Liver Oil at its best, fullest in strength, least in taste.

Young women in their "teens" are permanently cured of the peculiar disease of the blood which shows itself in paleness, weakness and nervousness, by regular treatment with Scott's Emulsion.

It is a true blood food and is naturally adapted to the cure of the blood sickness from which so many young women suffer.

We will be glad to send a sample to any sufferer.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

Now is the time to plan

Your Trip TO FLORIDA

the land of summer sunshine, orange groves, pineapples and palm trees, where are excellent hotels and many boarding houses, and where out-door games and pleasures are indulged in the year 'round.

There is a way to get there which takes but a night or two; a railroad whose equipment and service has increased as steadily as the increase in Southland travel every year.

The lowest rates of the season are now in effect, so go now and avoid the rush. Don't forget your ticket should be made good via this line south of Chicago if you wish a pleasant trip

THE EDITOR'S WIFE

Letter from an Illinois newspaper man that is well worth reading.

As a usual thing editors save the good things for the columns of their own newspapers, but the following letter from S. H. Duncan, editor of the Seaton, Ill., Independent, shows that there is at least one editor who wants to help others. He writes as follows:

"To the Editor of the HERALD:

I wish you would print the following and thus help me to do a kindness to your readers. My wife has been a great sufferer with stomach troubles for the past four years and the last two years practically an invalid. Nothing seemed to help her until I procured a box of Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. This gave her so much relief that she continued using the remedy until now she enjoys her meals, is relieved from all pain in her stomach and has increased in flesh.

I hope you will publish this letter, for I think there is no remedy for stomach trouble equal to Mi-o-na and the more wide spread its use becomes, the more good will be done humanity.

S. H. DUNCAN,
Editor of Independent."

C. A. Wright has the local agency for Mi-o-na and his faith in its merits equals Editor Duncan's. He, in fact, offers to pay of Mi-o-na himself in any case where it does not give satisfaction. No stronger endorsement of the merits of the remedy can be given than this that a local drug firm is willing to sell a medicine on his own guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure stomach troubles and increase flesh.

The Epworth League musical entertainment at the New Bradley last evening was delightful in every particular. The time being so near the holidays was undoubtedly the cause of the small house. There were selections from the Sunbeam quartette. Floy Freeman, Floyd Slater, readings by Miss Mingay and piano solos by Miss Mary Mills. Each one was obliged to respond to encores.

Christmas merchandise sold at Harris & Hiteshu's at the old low price. You will save money on every purchase at Harris & Hiteshu's.

Attorney O. F. Sheldon of Adrian, received a telegram Wednesday from Tacoma, Wash., to the effect that his son, Allen, had sustained an operation for appendicitis on Tuesday last and was getting along finely. Russell Sheldon, a brother of Allen, left for Tacoma to be with and care for him. Allen is employed in the engineering corps of the Northern Pacific Railroad company and has been there for some time. Allen Sheldon is well known in Tecumseh and his many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

We are in receipt of the Morenci Leader which contained the two following items concerning our Tecumseh boys:

The members of the Kaktus Klub, Messrs. Rosacrans, Storch and Orr, entertained several of their friends Thursday evening to dinner, followed by Michigan popcorn, apples, nuts and cigars.

Albert R. Lowry and Clarence Jackson are the latest arrivals from Old Michigan. They both hail from Tecumseh, Mich., although Mr. Lowry has been connected with the wholesale grocery firm of Dow-Snell Co., of Toledo, Ohio, as traveling salesman for several years. Mr. Jackson is a newspaper man and will become connected with the Leader, where no doubt his abilities will have full scope. Mr. Lowry will probably take a position under Supt. Cleaveland in the Water Company office.

S. Y. COTTON.

Edward Clay Miller.

Edward Clay Miller was born in Lynwood, Maryland, Jan. 31, 1885, and passed away at the home of his parents in Jackson Dec. 6, 1904. Coming with his family to Toledo, Ohio, at the age of eight years they there continued to reside for nine years, where his early youth and school days were spent.

In the late summer of 1901 they removed to Jackson and still make that city their home. Being a cigar maker by trade and of a very ambitious nature he came to Tecumseh and in May entered the employ of John J. Freeman, which position he held at the time of his death. The funeral services were held last Thursday morning at 10:30, conducted by Rev. R. W. VanKirk of the First Baptist church and were largely attended.

Those who are left to mourn are a father, mother, two sisters and the one he had chosen to share his life's joys and sorrows and a host of friends who loved him dearly. Thus Edward Miller came into our lives as a beautiful bud nipped in its blooming to be transplanted in the garden of God and on the eighth day of December under a mound of beautiful flowers that he loved so well, we laid him to rest in Woodland cemetery, there to await the resurrection morn.

A Pipe Dream.

The following item appeared in the Chicago Inter Ocean Saturday and in the Detroit Journal Monday:

Siddell, Ill., Dec. 10.—James Rankin, his wife and four children are dead from eating poisoned cabbage. The entire family of six ate the cabbage at supper and died during the night.

A cabbage in the garden was examined and found to contain worms about the size of a thread and eight or ten inches long, about the color of the cabbage.

The cabbage was cut up and fed to animals and all died. Farmers are all destroying their cabbage. Three other persons in the neighborhood have recently died after eating cabbage.

Confident that the "worm" existed only in the imagination of some reporter, Abner Wilson enclosed the clipping to the postmaster at Siddle, Ill., asking if the report was true and received the following reply: "There is absolutely no truth in the report. It has been thoroughly investigated since, it came out in the Inter Ocean last Saturday but no foundation. Simply a report."

Ed Coe, the butter maker at the Macon creamery, leaves next week for his home in Jamestown, N. Y., to be gone two weeks and Geo. Winterstein will take his place. George is a graduate of the M. A. C.

A young man, who had been indulging quite freely, was found in front of L. W. Coller's barn Wednesday night and if they had not happened to have found him he would have been frozen to death. They notified the people by whom he was employed and they walked him home. Beware of the stuff that makes a man drive his wife out of doors.

CLUB NOTES.

The Research Circle met as usual on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Milburn Keyser as leader. The first paper was "Short sketches of women authors of today, American" by Mrs. Hosmer, who gave a very interesting sketch of Kate Douglas Wiggins from memory. Mrs. Andrew Wilson then read a very instructive paper on "The tendency of modern American literature" after which Mrs. Ora Finch read a selection from Carleton. Roll was then called to which the members responded with quotations from minor American poets with the discussion of each subject by the members. The meeting was very pleasant and instructive. Club then adjourned till Jan. 3, 1905.

The Wit and Wisdom club will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Slayton, Monday evening, Dec. 19 with Mr. Slayton as leader.

J. H. Bettis returned last Thursday from a two week's hunting trip with two friends in Crawford county, the trio killed three deer. Several fatalities among the hunters occurred within a few miles of their camp, in one instance a father accidentally killed his son and in another a man shot his brother. Mr. Bettis thinks that the amount of booze taken north by the hunters has not a little to do with the numerous shooting accidents. A man who has been drinking heavily will often shoot at any kind of a shape in the distance or even in the direction of a noise in the brush. If a deer is there he will be sure to miss it, but if a man he is invariably shot.—Brooklyn Exponent.

"What shall we eat?"

Every day the same old question. What shall we eat for breakfast, for luncheon, for dinner? assails with monotonous regularity the patient housewife who seeks to provide good living for the family in agreeable variety at a moderate cost. There is a daily department in The Chicago Record-Herald which is intended to answer this question satisfactorily every day in the year. It is entitled "Meals for a Day," and provides menus for the three meals every day, with necessary recipes. These menus and recipes are carefully selected by The Record-Herald's household editor, and cash prizes are awarded for and best that are received. Housewives everywhere are invited to participate in the competition. For full particulars see the "Meals for a Day" department in The Chicago Record-Herald.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

KILLS CATARRH GERMS

Breathe Hyomei and be cured of catarrh—costs nothing if it fails.

Breathe Hyomei for a few minutes four times a day, through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, and benefit will be seen at once. Continue this treatment for a short time and your catarrh will have been cured by Hyomei.

There is no roundabout way in Hyomei's medicinal action; it does not try to cure a disease of the head by putting medicine in the stomach. It fills the air you breathe with balsamic healing, that soothes the irritated and smarting membrane, destroys the germs of catarrh that are present in the head and throat and is the only treatment that can be relied upon to cure.

When using Hyomei the air you breathe will be like that on the mountains high above the sea level, filled with volatile, antiseptic fragrance that heals and cures the irritated mucous membrane of the air passages.

This treatment has been so successful, curing 99 per cent. of all who have used it, that Hyomei is now sold by C. A. Wright under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not benefit. You run no risk whatever in buying Hyomei. If it did not possess unusual powers to cure, it could not be sold upon this plan.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs $1.00 and comprises a hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for 50c.

INFORMATION

Given to the Public by our Local Druggist.

We want the public to know that the most valuable and delicious tasting cod liver oil preparation known to medicine is Vinol.

Vinol contains ALL of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but not a drop of oil.

For this reason it is recognized throughout the world as the greatest health restorer and strength creator known to medicine, and we do not believe there is a man, woman or child in this vicinity but what Vinol will benefit them.

It makes health and strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Unequalled to create an appetite, and to make those who are too thin, fat, rosy and healthy.

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

C. A. WRIGHT, Druggist.

There can be no economy, from a woman's point of view, without hash for breakfast once in a while.

LOCAL ENTHUSIASM.

On one subject Tecumseh people grow enthusiastic.

The increase of popular enthusiasm on the following subject is almost daily manifested by public expression and local endorsement. Read what this citizen says and discover the cause for the constant showering of praise which follows in the wake of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Henry Keyser, retired farmer and capitalist, residence in the southwest section of Tecumseh says: "I am thoroughly convinced of the superior merits of this popular remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills, they deserve naught but the highest praise. Before going to C. A. Wright's drug store for a box, I had a dull aching pain in my back which had annoyed me for some time and the secretions from my kidneys were unnatural and irregular. To say that I was surprised at the effect is putting it very mildly. In a short time the trouble disappeared. I never knew a medicine that worked so quickly and satisfactorily."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

One good turn may deserve another, but this does'nt result in perpetual motion.

Itching piles? Never mind if physicians have failed to cure you. Try Doan's Ointment. No failure there. 50 cents, at any drug store.

The rain falls alike on the just and unjust, and, furthermore, they both get stuck in the same mud.

Every family should have its household medicine chest—and the first bottle in it should be Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Nature's remedy for coughs and colds.

It's just as well not to think of trouble until you are up against it.

When you want a pleasant purgative try Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. They are easy to take and produce no nausea, griping or other disagreeable effect. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

It is well to look on the bright side but it is better to look at both sides.

Don't be imposed upon by taking substitutes offered for Foley's honey and tar. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Commissioners' Notice.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, county Lenawee, ss.

In the matter of the estate of JOHN R. HIALEY, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the probate court of said county, commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at law office of G. R. Gillespie in the township of Tecumseh, Lenawee county, Michigan, on the 3d day of January 1905, and on the 23rd of May, 1905, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of each of said days.

And that six months from the 22nd day of November, 1904, are allowed by said probate court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated November 22nd, 1904.

JOSEPH WARING,
RUDOLPH A. HEESEN,
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee ss. Probate court for the county of Lenawee.

At a session of the probate court for the county of Lenawee, holden at the probate office, in the city of Adrian, on the 21st day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and four.

Present, Harry L. Larwill, judge of probate.

In the matter of the estate of MARY L. PALMER, deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Arthur C. Cheever, grandson of deceased, praying that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be duly proved and admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted to E. E. Hendershot, the executor named in said instrument or to some other suitable person.

It is ordered, that Monday, the 19th day of December next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county of Lenawee, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

HARRY L. LARWILL,
(A true copy) Judge of Probate.
E. I. Larwill, probate register.

Big Project of W. C. T. U.

Ann Arbor Mich., Dec. 14.—It is reported here that the W. C. T. U. societies all over the state have been holding secret sessions during the past few weeks on the subject of banishing all saloons to a distance of five miles from the university campus, and that they are preparing to strike. The plan, it is understood, is to start simultaneously all over the state to circulate petitions to the legislature asking for the enactment of such a state law.

ANOTHER LIFER.

Detroit Colored Man Guilty of Murder In First Degree.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 15.—George Cole, the colored man who shot down his wife Nov. 21, in the street in front of their home, 232 Columbia street, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by Judge Phelan's jury Wednesday afternoon, after being out just twenty minutes. Judge Phelan sentenced the murderer at once.

Attorney Willis, who has been defending the man, made an impassioned plea that the murderer be sent to Jackson rather than to one of the other prisons, that he might be near his aged mother, so she could afford to go to see him.

In response to the petition the court sentenced the man to Jackson penitentiary for life at hard labor.

Puts Up a Novel Defense.

Bessemer, Mich., Dec. 15.—The case of the village of Wakefield against its present postmaster and former president is now on trial in the circuit court here. The charge against the village official is that he appropriated ten tons of coal belonging to the village for heating the postoffice. The defendant makes the novel claim that "Uncle Sam" should be made principal defendant, as he got the benefit of the fuel. If this is done then defense will claim lack of jurisdiction.

Buried Her Dog In Cemetery.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Dec. 15.—The burial of a pet dog in the Crystal Springs cemetery has caused much indignation among owners of lots therein. The dog belonged to a Chicago woman who was here on a visit last fall, and when her dog died she procured a child's casket and the dog was buried in the city cemetery. The superintendent claims that no permit was issued for the dog's burial.

British Mission Arrives at Kabul.

Peshawar, British India, Dec. 15.—The British mission to Afghanistan, headed by Louis Dane, foreign secretary of the Indian government, arrived safely and in good health at Kabul Dec. 12.

Boiler Exploded at Albion.

Albion, Mich., Dec. 15.—The boiler in the heating plant at the Hotel Albion exploded Wednesday. The force of the concussion blew the boiler sixty feet in the air, clearing a nearby livery stable and setting fire to the building. William Bellfus, an employe, narrowly escaped death.

Not Guilty of Forgery.

Traverse City, Mich., Dec. 15.—A jury in the circuit court case of Harry J. Donovan of Reed City, charged with making a forged entry on a deposit book of the First National bank of this city, returned a verdict of not guilty Wednesday.

CURES STOMACH TROUBLES

THE body gets its life from food properly digested. Healthy digestion means pure blood for the body, but stomach troubles arise from carelessness in eating and stomach disorders upset the entire system. Improperly masticated food sours on the stomach, causing distressing pains, belching and nausea. When over-eating is persisted in the stomach becomes weakened and worn out and dyspepsia claims the victim.

Thedford's Black-Draught cures dyspepsia. It frees the stomach and bowels of congested matter and gives the stomach new life. The stomach is quickly invigorated and the natural stimulation results in a good appetite, with the power to thoroughly digest food.

You can build up your stomach with this mild and natural remedy. Try Thedford's Black-Draught today. You can buy a package from your dealer for 25c. If he does not keep it, send the money to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed you.

A bottle always handy in the house is a blessing.

Geo. Bryant, 212 North Elm Ave., Jackson, Mich., engineer on Michigan Central Railroad, says: "I have used Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil for my family for over 20 years. We use it for all kinds of aches and pains. It will knock out a pain in the shoulder or neck in an hour or less. It will cure a stomach or bowel trouble every time. It saves doctors' bills."

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Take No Chances With Your Kidneys.

Diseases of the kidneys are very, very dangerous. Being once firmly established, their work is more deadly and certain than any other malady—consumption itself not excepted. Of all kidney affections, Bright's disease easily leads in fatal effects and results. Its worst feature is that it sounds no warning to put its victims on their guard, but steals on unawares and is nearly always firmly imbedded before the patient is conscious of his danger. It is highly important to life that no time should be lost in checking its ravages at the very first indication or symptom of its presence.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is certain and sure in curing Bright's disease in its early stages and all other affections of the kidney and bladder. It is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kindeys, congestion, brick-dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in back and kidneys, retention and incontinence of urine, bed wetting, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or money will be refunded. It is for sale at $1.00 a bottle by Indigestion Causes Catarrh of the Stomach.

For many years it has been supposed that Catarrh of the Stomach caused indigestion and dyspepsia, but the truth is exactly the opposite. Indigestion causes catarrh. Repeated attacks of indigestion inflames the mucous membranes lining the stomach and exposes the nerves of the stomach, thus causing the glands to secrete mucin instead of the juices of natural digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

relieves all inflammation of the mucous membranes lining the stomach, protects the nerves, and cures bad breath, sour risings, a sense of fullness after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia and all stomach troubles.

LET POLITICS ALONE

State President Fuller of R. F. D. Association Advises It.

OAKLAND CARRIERS ORGANIZE

Increase of Salaries Not Primary Object of Organization—Desire to See Fairbanks Bill Passed—President Fuller Makes an Address.

Pontiac, Mich., Dec. 19.—The Oakland County Free Rural Delivery association is now an organization and will shortly be admitted into the state association.

On Dec. 3 come twenty-six of the fifty-five men who are bearing the mail to the farmers throughout the county met here and elected the following officers: President, George A. Collard, Pontiac; vice-president, Miss Harriet Colton, Orchard Lake; secretary, J. B. Starker, Holly; treasurer, Frank S. Longmieur, Pontiac. At that meeting, however, the by-laws were not adopted and the application which was made to the state association for admission was refused.

So it became necessary for last Saturday night's meeting. The by-laws as they now stand are very similar to those of the various other county associations; in fact, they are copied from one of them, differing only in a few minor details. Among them is the regular meeting, which will be held on the second Saturday in June.

Could Use More Money.

While an increase in salary was the immediate object desired when these county associations were first being formed, it is not now foremost in the minds of the men who deliver the mail. However, they feel that another raise would not come amiss.

The Fairbanks bill, as is well known, is now what the national association desires to see passed by congress, and it is towards this end that efforts are being concentrated.

James B. Fuller, president of the Michigan State association, was in attendance at Saturday night's meeting and gave some good advice to the members of what bids fair to become the largest county association in the state.

"A great mistake has been made going out and hollering about politics," he said. "Vote as you please, but keep out of politics." He said that President Cunningham of the national association had been cautioned against lobbying previous to his re-election, but that he and other officers made themselves activ ein politics and got the ax. The postmaster-general is the man to petition for redress from the evils now existing in the rural free delivery system, according to Mr. Fuller, and he intimated that better results would be forthcoming when the association directed its attention in that direction.

STATE TEACHERS.

Annual Meeting of Association at Lansing Opens Dec. 27.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 19.—Arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of the State Teachers' association, to be held here Dec. 27, 28 and 29.

The first general meeting will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 27, at 2 o'clock, at which time President Laird will deliver the address and there will be talks on geography and courses of study There will also be general sessions on Tuesday evening and Wednesday and Thursday mornings.

All the general sessions will be held in the Masonic temple, with the exception of that of Wednesday evening, which will be held at Plymouth church. The meetings of the ten sections of the general association will be held Wednesday afternoon.

OVER 20,000 MEN

Japanese Sacrificed That Many in Taking Meter Hill.

AS ESTIMATED BY STOESSEL

Dispatches From Commander at Port Arthur Reach Czar—Eight Russians Reach Chefoo Through Blinding Storm—Stories of Japanese Bravery.

Chefoo, Dec. 19.—For ferocity and sustained desperation on both sides, the struggle for the possession of High hill was probably the most remarkable in the history of the siege of Port Arthur—a siege noted for slaughter. This statement is based on an interview which the correspondent of the Associated Press had with Commander Mizzeneoff, executive officer of the battleship Poltava, up to the time the vessel was disarmed and who headed a party of seven Russians who left Port Arthur in a sailboat on Dec. 15 and after extreme suffering while crossing while crossing in a driving snowstorm arrived here Dec. 16, bearing dispatches which were turned over to the Russian consul for transmission to St. Petersburg. These dispatches, it is understood, consist partly of a statistical report of the effect of Japanese bombardments and there is nothing in them to indicate that Gen. Stoessel is without hope that the fortress will be able to hold out.

Brave Standard-Bearers.

In relating the story of the capture of 203 Meter hill, Commander Mizzeneoff told an incident showing the remarkable bravery of the Japanese. He said:

"A remarkable incident occurred in the third assault as the Russians, still facing the enemy, retreated. A Japanese standard-bearer climbed the pinnacle and fell dead clutching the colors. In his tracks another arose with the colors only to fall instantly with a dozen wounds in his body. Six others followed and met the same fate. At last when the ninth man appeared a Russian officer exclaimed: 'Don't shoot that fellow with the flag; it will be planted anyhow.'"

St. Petersburg, Dec. 19.—Gen. Stoessel's latest dispatches from Port Arthus have just been published, but as given out do not carry the story of the garrison's stubborn defense beyond Dec. 10, thus leaving a gap of at least five days between the official word of the military commander and the unofficial story of Commander Mizzeneoff, which was given out at Chefoo. It is not pretended that the dispatches are published in full. They contain much that is of strategic interest and matter which it is obviously impossible to disclose to the public.

The story of the operations, as far as it has been given out, is intensely interesting and shows that there has been an almost uninterrupted assault of the most desperate character from Nov. 20 to Dec. 10, when the Japanese, after losing over 22,000 men, captured 203 Meter hill and were able from that position to shell the squadron in the Port Arthur roadstead. There the official account ends, but it is explained that the Japanese do not occupy the top of the hill, which is still exposed to a deadly fire from the Russian artillery.

A Plunging Fire.

The Japanese are using a plunging fire from very heavy guns from behind the crest of the hill, but that this fire is efficiently directed is shown by the damege suffered by the Russian squadron.

The public reception of Gen. Stoessel's dispatches, as a whole, is not bad. Every voice is loud in praise of Gen. Stoessel's defense of Port Arthur, while the authorities assert that the main line of forts has not yet been broken. The Japanese so far have used every device of engineering skill in making approaches, but with enormous sacrifices have been able to take only the outer line of defenses. It is declared the garrison probably will be able to hold out a considerable time yet.

A matter of much speculation is why the orders to take out and sink the squadron in deep water were not carried out. The only explanation offered is that the crews and guns were drafted ashore and that at the last moment it was impossible to move the ships under the heavy Japanese fire.

Adversity is the only balance to weigh friends.—Plutarch.

MAINLY FAVORABLE

Are Industrial Conditions, According to Bradstreet.

New York, Dec. 17.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says:

Trade, crop and industrial conditions are mainly favorable, and with seasonable activity in retail and holiday distribution in most sections, the year is drawing to its close with a decidedly cheerful tone pervading most lines of business effort. The area in winter wheat will not equal that planted a year ago and conditions on Dec. 1 were low.

Wheat (including flour) exports for the week ending Dec. 15 aggregate 1,444,890 bu, against 3,363,035 this week last year. Corn exports for the week aggregate 453,713 bu, against 637,857 a year ago.

ALL VISITORS EXCLUDED.

Even Mrs. Chadwick's Son and Nurse Cannot See Her.

Cleveland, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Chadwick will, from now until the time of her trial or arraignment in court, be rigidly excluded from all visitors, and even her son and nurse will be denied permission to see her except on the written order of United States Marshal Chandler.

Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock an order was received at the jail by Sheriff Barry, directing him to deny all people the privilege of seeing her, and he at once ordered that the nurse, Freda Swanstorm, who was then in the jail with Mrs. Chadwick, be ordered to leave. This action was in direct opposition to an order of United States Marshal Chandler, issued the day before, in which he directed that Emil Hoover, the son of Mrs. Chadwick, and the nurse should be admitted at any time to see Mrs. Chadwick.

WOULDN'T ACQUIT HER.

Judge Davis Orders Nan Patterson's Trial to Continue.

New York, Dec. 17.—Without hearing argument by the prosecution, which had rested its case, Justice Vernon M. Davis, in criminal branch of the supreme court, Friday denied the motion of Nan Patterson's counsel to acquit her of the charge of murdering Caesar Young and adjourned the trial until Monday at the request of the defense. The question of the admissability of evidence concerning J. Morgan Smith and his wife was again raised and Justice Davis decided to admit the evidence.

Portland's Exposition Nearly Ready.

Portland, Ore., Dec. 17.—With the completion of the agricultural palace, which is now ready for occupancy, and the completion of the entire administration group, which consists of the fire department, public shelter, public comfort and administration buildings and the Collonade entrance, the Lewis and Clark exposition stands practically finished so far as exhibit palaces are concerned, and all doubt is removed as to the sufficiency of space for housing exhibits sent here from St. Louis for storage during the winter months. The buildings probably will be turned over to the state commission at once at a special meeting called for the purpose of accepting them.

Suit Against St. Louis Exposition.

St. Louis, Dec. 17.—The Expositio Water Co. has filed suit in the S Louis circuit court against the Louisiana Purchase Exposition for $65,000 for an alleged violation of contract. The plaintiff declares that it entered into an agreement with an authorized agent of the exposition company for the exclusive right of selling water upon the world's fair grounds and alleges that the exposition company not only allowed four other companies to sell water but permitted exhibitors and concessionaires to give it away, after the plaintiff had erected an expensive filtering plant.

Six Dead From Drinking Alcohol.

Ashland, Ky., Dec. 19.—A report has reached here that Capt. Spriggs and five others of the crew of a pushboat from Prestonburg are dead at the mouth of Beaver Creek from the effects of drinking wood alcohol. Several others of the crew who drank of the alcohol are reported out of danger.

BROKE THREE FARO BANKS.

Former Detroit Man Won Thousands in Minneapolis.

St. Paul, Minn., Dec. 19.—John R. Robinson, formerly a member of the staff of a Detroit newspaper, broke three faro banks in Minneapolis Saturday night and won, it is estimated, at least $10,000.

Robinson had been employed on the Twin City papers and resigned over a week ago to try out a new system against the bank. He had good luck, according to reports, until Thursday night, when the blow fell and he arose from the table flat broke. He went out of the place, but returned within an hour with a lone $5 bill. This melted away also and he said "Good night."

The following afternoon Robinson raised another stake of $10 and started playing again. At midnight he had the check rack of Patsy Garrity's place and Saturday afternoon he made the dealer turn over the box. He then in turn backed his opinion at Lewinsohn's and Charlie Loomis' places until he had the available bank rolls. When they refused to make the limit of $250 and $500 for him he quit.

Robinson took a train for Chicago.

CONVICT CONFESSED

And Two Young Men Escape Trial For Robbery.

Standish, Mich., Dec. 19.—Charles Daugherty and Frank Reid, two promising young men, narrowly escaped trial in the circuit court as accomplices in the burglary of James Grimore's store. After a jury had been selected Patrick Murphy, who had pleaded guilty to the charge of robbing the store announced that his original statement of the theft, which implicated Daugherty and Reid, was false in every particular; that he was intoxicated at the time the crime was committed and that re remembered nothing that happened that night.

As the testimony of Murphy was the only evidence against the two young men the jury in the case was dismissed and the accused were promptly discharged.

Murphy was sentenced to Jackson prison for from two to four years.

He Stole From Mails.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 19.—Jacob Tonkin, Jr., aged 27, has been sentenced by Judge Swan to two years in the Detroit house of correction for stealing from the mails. Tonkin was formerly a Free Press messenger and is thought to have taken money aggregating $1,500 from the mails. He declared, however, that he had taken only $10 and, before sentence, asked the court to be lenient.

Smallpox at Battle Creek.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 19.—Ten cases of smallpox, traceable to one man's carelessness, have broken out in Battle Creek. Clarence Murray, a laborer, had the disease without a physician. He was not under quarantine and he mingled with the crowds. Now the health authorities lay all ten cases to him and say he will be lucky if he escapes arrest

Two Plead Guilty.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 19.—Pleading guilty to larceny of $42.95 from the bar of the Arlington hotel, Richard J. Quinn and Charles Daudlet were sentenced to six months at Ionia in the circuit court. Quinn's brother John received the money, pleaded guilty and was sent to Detroit house of correction for ninety days.

Lived 103 Years.

Brighton, Mich., Dec. 19.—Mrs. William Steaford of this city received a message from Breckenridge stating that her grandmother, Mrs. Rachel Smith, died Saturday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ida Bissel. Mrs. Smith was 103 years old and had lived in Michigan the greater part of her life, having spent eighty years in Wayne county.

Fifteen Horses Cremated.

Niles, Mich., Dec. 19.—Fire, thought to be of incendiary origin, burned Griffin & Kugler's livery barn early Sunday morning, together with fifteen horses, a dozen vehicles, harness and hay and grain. The firm carried $3,000 of insurance, which is said to practically cover the loss.

An emergency medicine.

For sprains, bruises, burns, scalds and similar injuries there is nothing so good as Chamberlains Pain Balm. It soothes the wound and not only gives instant relief from pain but causes the parts to heal in about one third the time required by the usual treatment. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

How's This?

We offer one hundred dollars reward for any case of catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARNIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price, 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

If a man likes to work very hard with nothing to show for it he is a fool not to get married.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and fel like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. Eor sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar's worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have nopain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Many a man would be rich if he did not try so hard to appear to be.

A pleasant pill.

No pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

And Wisdom sits in the market place and cries because she is wise.

Amatuer gamblers soon reduce the art of losing to a science.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some we eg e severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

A woman can have a good time thinking what a good time she would have if she were having it.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

In an argument, the way to get the other fellow mad is not to let him get you mad.

Report from the reform school.

J. G. Gluck, superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's honey and tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Drowning remorse is like killing a cat. It walks home the next day and resumes work at the old stand.

Beware of counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

HAS A COMPANION.

Mrs. Chadwick Interested in Woman Detained on Charge of Insanity.

Cleveland, Dec. 19.—The examination of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick in the bankruptcy proceedings against her is set for today before Referee Remington in bankruptcy, but it is considered certain she will not testify if present at the hearing. Her attorney, J. P. Dawley, said last night that he would request continuance, saying he has not yet had time to investigate the bankruptcy or any other phase of the case and decline to allow her to give any testimony.

Mrs. Chadwick was visited by Dr. Wall, the jail physician, Sunday. He said she was still very weak and nervous, but was improving. The only other persons summoned in the bankruptcy hearing and to give any information they may have of property owned by Mrs. Chadwick are Emil Hoover, Mrs. Chadwick's son, and her nurse, Freda Swanstorm.

Receiver Loeser says that he does not expect any more witnesses would be called for the present. He has arranged to insure for $50,000 the Chadwick property in his possession.

Mrs. Chadwick yesterday spent her first Sunday in jail. She now has as a companion in the jail a young woman, detained for examination as to her sanity. The woman seemed much interested in Mrs. Chadwick and the two conversed quite freely.

Found In Starving Condition.

Jackson, Mich., Dec. 17.—Mrs. Mary Morrissey, aged 32, her four children, from 1 to 12 years old; her mother, Mrs. Ellen Rafferty, and her four children, from 14 to 34 years old, all of Grand Rapids, were found shivering in a tumbledown shack in this city, where they have lived for the past three months, without a penny in money or a bite to eat, all thinly clad, none able to aid in earning money and totally without resources. Unable to earn support for them, Michael Morrissey, husband of the first woman, left for Detroit or Bay City a few days ago in search of work. J. R. Rockwell, secretary of the county superintendents of the poor, fed the hungry ten and they will be sent back to Grand Rapids at once.

Conger Must Stand Trial.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 17.—Editor Eugene D. Conger and the Grand Rapids Herald must stand trial for contempt of court. That is the outcome of the report of Attorney Arthur C. Denison to Judge Newnham on the alleged contempt of Mr. Conger in the publication of an editorial referring to the water scandal cases. Judge Newnham set Friday, Dec. 23, as the date for the hearing. The report of Attorney Denison says the articles published by Mr. Conger were inaccurate and had a tendency to prejudice the public as to the merits of the causes, tended to bring the court into disrepute and to impede and embarrass the proceedings.

Sorrow Ended In Death.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 17.—Cut off by blindness and broken health from the music which was his sole interest in life, E. L. Chandler, an old violin and piano instructor, who once had large classes here, is dead at Merrill, Wis. After fifteen years as musical director of Norton Scientific academy at Merrill, he was forced to give up playing, and for three years he has brooded over his loss. At times old pupils came back to play for him, and his ecstasy at the music was pathetic, but upon their departure he grew dejected and lonely. Death was hastened by constant brooding over this sorrow.

Warner's Secretary.

Ionia, Mich., Dec. 17.—Arthur P. Loomis of Ionia has accepted the position of secretary to Gov.-elect Warner. He is not without experience in the place, as he acted in the same capacity for Gov. Rich. He will draw a salary of $2,100 a year.

Stoessel Again Wounded.

London, Dec. 17.—Gen. Stoessel, the Russian military commander at Port Arthur, according to a dispatch from Chefoo to the Daily Telegraph, has again been wounded, this time by a rifle bullet. The correspondent adds that the wound is not serious.

A somewhat sad case is that of Isadore Roberts of Petersburg, a man of 74 who left home one day last week to drive to Deerfield.—Adrian Press. Now the facts in the case are, first, Isadore Roberts is in New Mexico in excellent health; second, the man who died was Isadore Shettlerce aged 72 and he walked to Deerfield; third, he did not live in Petersburg but on a farm just over the county line in Summerfield township.—Deerfield-Times Journal.

BEST EVER

After subscribing for the home paper—everybody should take his home paper first—in which this advertisement appears—those who desire to have a first class local daily—one of the best in the state—should call at the office of

The Daily Telegram

ADRIAN, MICH.

and pay $2.00 in advance for one year's subscription to that paper. Those who do so will receive a holiday present in a handsome, oilcloth bound, valuable and practical household necessity,

Absolutely Free

The Presidential Cook Book

containing over 400 pages filled full of useful information. The Presidential Cook Book contains all the recipes which made the celebrated White House Cook Book famous and it is an adaption of that work.

Greatest Offer

This is the greatest offer ever made by THE TELEGRAM, and in order to get this great premium you must pay the $2.00 direct to THE TELEGRAM. No premium is given if the money is sent through rural carriers, postmasters or agents. The publisher's retail price of the book is $1.00 postpaid. It is so expensive that we cannot furnish the book and give commissions to agents.

If Unable to Call

at THE TELEGRAM office send $2.25, and THE TELEGRAM will be sent one year and the book sent postpaid. These are the only terms on which this great premium will be sent and you should take advantage of this offer at once.

THE DAILY TELEGRAM

is recognized all over the county as LENAWEE'S LEADER. Over 4,000 homes receive THE TELEGRAM daily. It has nearly four times the circulation of any Lenawee daily and nearly three times the circulation of any Lenawee weekly. How could it get such a list if it were not because the best people in Lenawee county recognize it as the best county seat paper. THE TELEGRAM gives the general, telegraphic, local, court and social news complete. It is the only paper in Lenawee receiving the Buffalo stock markets by wire. It gives twice as much county news as any other paper. It is yours, with the Presidential Cook Book FREE for $2.00 a year, if paid at THE TELEGRAM office, or $2.25 if you desire the book sent by mail. But all the money must be paid to THE TELEGRAM, DIRECT AND NOT TO AGENTS.

ADDRESS,

P. S.—This announcement will appear but twice so you had better act quickly, as only a limited number of the books have been purchased.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial: it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls. We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MESSAGE TO FRATERNAL ORDERS

Interesting news from Cincinnati with local confirmation in Tecumseh.

The thousands of members of fraternal bodies in this state will be interested in the following message from John Theobald, a prominent Forester who lives at 1111 York street, Cincinnati.

Mr. Theobald believes in living up to the motto of his organization, "Fraternal Love and Charity" and believes that he can do no more charitable act than to tell his experience in regaining health after years of suffering.

Mr. Theobald writes, "For five years, I suffered with stomach troubles, having all the distress and misery that afflicts dyspeptics. I could not enjoy eating, thinking of the suffering that would follow. My food did not digest and although I took all kinds of medicines, I found nothing to help me until I used Mi-o-na. Thanks to this remarkable remedy, I am now a cured man and believe that it made a permanent and complete cure."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. It is in the form of small tablets and sells at 50c a box. The remedy has made so many and such remarkable cures amongst his customers, confirming Mr. Theobald's statement, that he will give their personal guarantee with every box they sell to refund the money if it does not cure.

Do not suffer longer. Here is a cure that costs you nothing unless it restores health. C. A. Wright takes all the risk and you do not have to pay a penny unless you feel that you have received much more than your money's worth.

Resolutions.

Whereas, Sir Knight Richard VanDuser of Tecumseh Tent No. 142 has been called by death, in the prime and fulness of his vigor, therefore be it,

Resolved, That we, his associates of Tecumseh Tent No. 142 do declare

First, That we sincerely mourn the death of our Sir Knight.

Second, That we desire to place on record our esteem for our beloved brother and Sir Knight.

Third, That we desire to bear record to his sense of duty and intelligent discharge of the trusts confided to him and to his sincere devotion to the details of any plan that had for its object the improvement and growth of our order.

Fourth, That for his many personal qualities which endeared him to us, his liberality and kindness to all, we desire to make loving remembrance.

Fifth, That the Record Keeper of our Tent is hereby directed to engross these resolutions on the records of our order, that the charter be draped for sixty days and that a copy be sent the bereaved family of our deceased Sir Knight and to request the Tecumseh papers to publish these resolutions.

(Signed) ORLEY C. WOOD.

Henry Lovejoy.

Henry Lovejoy, aged 88 years, a pioneer of Lenawee county, died Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Grandville Knight, in Adrian. In 1863 Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy moved to Tecumseh from Raisin township and resided here 10 years. Mrs. Lovejoy died Oct. 14, 1902 at the daughters home in Adrian.

The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. Knight this morning at 9:30.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

FIRE

The Farm Home of WEBSTER LOVE

Was entirely consumed by fire last Sunday morning about eight o'clock.

The handsome farm home of Webster Love, of north Franklin, was entirely consumed by fire Sunday morning about 8 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Edwards live in the house, while Mr. and Mrs. Love reside in Adrian. The fire started from the kitchen chimney and the west wind fanned it into a good blaze. The family were able to get their household effects out in time but none of the provisions in the cellar were saved. The house was a modern one built within the last 15 years and one of the finest residences in Franklin.

The house and contents were insured in the Farmers' Mutual for $900, which only partially covers the loss. Mr. and Mrs. Love have the sympathy of their many friends in Tipton and vicinity.

SCHOOL NOTES.

A very interesting program and debate were given Friday afternoon under the direction of Mr. Winter and Mr. Reincke. Blanche Schreder, '05, acted as chairman. A song from "The Prince of Pilsen" by the Girls' Glee club opened the program. This was followed by a recitation by Florence Keyser and an interesting essay on the "New York Subway" by Leota Allen. A selection by the boys' quartette excited much applause.

A debate on the question: Resolved that labor organizations are beneficial to the interests of the United States, followed. The affirmative side was defended by Minnie Lowry, '05, Leona Beebe, '05, and Ethel Leonard, '06, while Lelah Rogers, '07, Everett Collins, '06, and Florence Bryan, '08, gave the negative arguments. Each one presented interesting and intelligent views on the subject. At the end Hazel Miller rendered a piano solo while the judges, Mrs. B. J. Garlinghouse, Mrs. Frank Rector and Rev. Bower, were making their decision. This was given in favor of the affirmative side. The program was closed by the song "Michigan my Michigan" by the school.

Mesdames LeBaron, Bert Waring, J. R. Keeney, Ira Rogers, Milburn Keyser, J. N. Satterthwaite, Miss Elona Anderson, Helen Wilson, Margaret Ferguson, and Tillie Hough were the visitors in attendance at the debate.

Do you know Mme. Que Vive?

Probably you do for Mme. Que Vive has a national reputation as an aspiring friend of every woman with a beauty woe. Her "Woman Beautiful" department in the daily and Sunday issues of The Chicago Record-Herald is a perennial source of joyous helpfulness to womankind. Her instructions on complexion ills are interlarded here and there with snappy little epigrams as "cheerers." The weapons she suggests to beauty seekers for the complete annihilation of beauty grievances do not include artificial methods—"factory" frizzes, rogue and other horrors being barred. She gives instructions on correct breathing, what to eat, how to bathe—in brief how to become a healthy wholesome woman. No wonder she is popularly known to many thousands of women.

Mrs. Julia A. Conklin.

Julia Agusta Stearns was born in Tecumseh, Michigan, Feb. 27, 1845, and died Monday morning, Dec. 12, 1904. Her entire life was spent in Tecumseh, being married to Merritt E. Conklin November 30, 1864. Four children were born of this union, three of whom survive the deceased, one having died in infancy. Beside these three she leaves a husband and one boy that was hers for thirteen years and another that was hers for two years.

She was a life long member of the Methodist Episcopal church and lived a consistent christian life. There are not words enough in our language to express the nobleness of character, unselfish disposition and beauty of life of this Godly woman. "She rests from her labors."

"Sunset and evening star,
And one clear call for me!
And may there be no moaning at the bar
When I put out to sea."

ROUND ABOUT US.

A barn belonging to Frank Packard east of town was completely destroyed by fire at an early hour Monday morning. How it caught remains a mystery and its loss to Mr. Packard is heavy as there was only a small insurance. Its contents, two horses, a new buggy and farm implements, besides grain and hay were destroyed.—Britton News.

Frank Munton, a conductor on the Pere Marquette freight, broke his leg last week Wednesday in a very peculiar manner. He was standing by the stove in the caboose when some cars came together against the caboose with such force that the shock threw him over the stove and onto the floor. His leg struck the stove and broke the bone just below the knee.—Saline Observer.

The remains of Frank Westfall, who died in the Philippines nearly two years ago, arrived in Hudson Monday and the funeral took place from the home of deceased's parents. Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Westfall, Wednesday afternoon. The interment was in Maple Grove Cemetery. Rev. Franklin A. Stiles officiated at the funeral, and the services were of a very impressive character.—Hudson Gazette.

REDUCED RATES FOR HOLIDAYS

Over the D. T. M. Ry. and some immediate connections, on Dec. 24, 25, 26 and 31, 1904, and Jan. 1, 1905, good returning until Jan. 4 inclusive.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Hart's fortunate experience of special interest to many in Tecumseh.

The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgement that I tried Hyomei." The Doctor, in his emphatic way added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei.'

C. A. Wright is the local agent for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. He sells it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask him to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.

BEAUTY TRIUMPHS,
'Tis a Priceless Treasure.

Beauty is woman's greatest charm. The world adores beautiful women. A pretty woman dreads maternity for fear of losing this power. What can be done to perpetuate the race and keep women beautiful? There is a balm used by cultured and uncultured women in the crisis. Husbands should investigate this remedy in order to reassure their wives as to the ease with which children can be born and beauty of form and figure retained.

Mother's Friend

is the name by which this preparation is known. It diminishes the pain allied to motherhood. Used throughout pregnancy it relieves morning sickness, cures sore breasts, makes elastic all tendons called upon to hold the expanding burden. Muscles soften and relax under its influence and the patient anticipates favorably the issue, in the comfort thus bestowed.

Mother's Friend is a liniment for external application. It is gently rubbed over the parts so severely taxed, and being absorbed lubricates all the muscles.

Druggists sell it for $1 per bottle. You may have our book "Motherhood" free.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

Vacation time is when we all expect and hope to have a chance to be just a little bad after a whole year of being good.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for one thing only and Tecumseh is learning this.

Nothing can be good for everything.

One thing done well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.

They're for sick kidneys.

Cure backache, every kidney ill.

Here is Tecumseh evidence to prove it.

C. Patterson, the well known sexton residing in the southeastern section of Tecumseh, says: "For over a year I had a soreness and pain in the small of my back at times quite severe, more especially if I did a hard day's work or took cold for it always settled in my kidneys. The kidney secretions were also discolored and irregular. I had all symptoms of aggravated kidney complaint. I heard several people praising Doan's Kidney Pills so concluding to try them I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store and commenced the treatment. I found it just suited my case for it helped me right from the start. It stopped the pain in my back and regulated and cleared up the kidney secretions. I have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone having difficulty with their kidneys."

Fatal Grade Crossing Accident.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 19.—William A. Barnett, department manager for the National Biscuit Co., was instantly killed and Stuart R. Johnson, member of the Joseph M. La Rosa company, was fatally injured Sunday in a grade crossing accident. The men were driving a spirited horse across the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near the fair grounds when the vehicle was struck by a passenger train.

Scalded to Death.

Chicago, Dec 19.—Arthur Kerr of Buffalo was scalded to death and four of his fellow workmen were seriously injured here Sunday when a defective gasket on the boiler of the steamer Bethlehem blew off, allowing the steam and hot water to flood the engine room where the men were at work. Kerr, who was a fireman on the steamer, lived at 160 Ohio street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Woman Caught Stealing Goods.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 19.—Mrs. Bertha Bachelder, employed at the local store of the Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine Co., was arrested Saturday night in the Gilmore Bros.' department store charged with shoplifting. She was caught in the act of stealing a gentleman's muffler, and when taken to the basement of the store and searched a number of fine handkerchiefs and mufflers were found upon her.

Wakeful?

Sleeplessness Is a Sign of Nerve Trouble and Should Be Looked To.

There are three different manifestations of sleeplessness,

First, hardly to sleep a wink all night, second, to lie awake a long time before falling asleep; third, to fall asleep soon, waking up after several hours, and then find it hard to sleep again.

They mean that somewhere in the nerve fibres, somewhere in the brain cells, somewhere in the blood vessels that carry blood to the brain, something is radically wrong, and must be righted, or the end may be worse than death.

To right it, take Dr. Miles' Nervine.

Some other symptoms of nerve trouble are: Dizziness, Headache, Backache, Worry, Fretfulness, Irritability, Melancholy, Lack of Ambition.

They indicate diseases which may lead to Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance, Nervous Prostration, Paralysis, Insanity.

Nothing will give such quick and lasting relief as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"My husband had been sick for weeks, could not sit up to have his bed made. With all the medical help we could get he continued to grow worse. He could neither sleep or eat. Our baby girl was sent away, and all callers barred, because he could not stand a bit of talking. I read of a case of nervous prostration cured by Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. We began giving it to him, and in a few days he was able to be dressed. From that time he steadily improved. Nervine saved his life."—MRS. A. G. HASKIN, Freeville, N. Y.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street,
ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

Blood Controls the Complexion.

How to Get Rid of Pimples, Blotches and Other Disfigurements.

Nothing is more unsightly or offensive to the eye than a face covered with pimples, blotches, blackheads or sores. No matter how regular the features a bad complexion spoils it all and mars an otherwise beautiful face. On the other hand a beautiful, clear complexion will make any face attractive and charming even if the features are not possessed of perfect regularity.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures thoroughly and permanently all diseases of the skin and blood and causes the complexion to become clear and beautiful. It is guaranteed to cure and does cure scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a general tonic to upbuild and strengthen the system it is unexcelled. It cures lassitude and tired feeling, makes the old young and the weak strong, creates new, healthy blood, strengthens the stomach, aids digestion, invigorates the system, restores health and strength and imparts new life and vigor to all the functions of the body.

Atwood Desires More Power.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 19.—Having obtained the consent of the leading railroad authorities to his proposed amendment to the law, so that railroads may be punished for putting through crossings over other roads without an order from the commissioner of railroads, T. W. Atwood proposes still another change in the law. He would have the commissioner given the right to order the establishment of stations at small places where there may be no depots, or where the shelter afforded waiting passengers is not adequate.

Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove

Investigate To-day. Even Heat Day and Night. Fire Never Out.

It is the most economical stove made for hard coal, soft coal, slack or lignite coal, because it burns the gas half of the fuel wasted up the chimney with all other stoves. Cuts the fuel bill in half.

It has twice the positive radiating power of other stoves and the patented air-tight and gas-tight construction saves all the gases and that large portion of the heat lost up the chimney with your old stove. AVOID IMITATIONS.

We have told you much about Cole's Original Hot Blast. Please read the following letters telling what others think of it.

FOR SOFT COAL

COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Chicago, Ill. AGENCY, IOWA, November 24, 1903.
Gentlemen,—Your stove is very satisfactory. I used a Round Oak for a number of years and noted the quantity of coal used. I find your Hot Blast will do the same service with at least one-half the coal. One year ago I used an imitation Hot Blast which was not satisfactory, as it was not air-tight and could not be made so, hence would not hold fire over night or keep a steady fire by day. Cole's Hot Blast is tight, and has kept fire for us for two nights and a day without attention, and blazed up on opening up the drafts without a fresh supply of fuel. The heat is given off regularly as you want it, and it is possible to maintain the temperature desired in the room.
Very truly yours, C. F. GOLTRY.

COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Chicago, Ill. MONTROSE, COLO.
I think so highly of Cole's Hot Blast Stove that if I were without a heater I would not accept any other kind as a gift if a Cole's Heater could be purchased. The good points in favor of Cole's Hot Blast are first, the great economy of fuel, and second, the ease and perfection with which the heat can be regulated. J. HOLMAN.

State School of Mines, RAPID CITY, S. D.
Gentlemen,—After thoroughly testing your Hot Blast Stove for soft coal, I would first say that more than half of soft coal is volatile or gaseous, and a slight heating of the coal drives this gas up the chimney, thus wasting it for available heat. Your method of prior heating of the air to over 500 degrees and your Top Hot Blast Draft, together with the air-tight base, distills the gases from the surface of the fuel, gives surface combustion, saves the waste of other stoves, and gives a steady, controllable heat.
It is the most economical and best heating stove I have ever tested.
DR. V. T. McGILLICUDDY, President.

FOR HARD COAL

LOGANSPORT, IND., Jan. 12, 1904.
Gentlemen,—I am using four Cole's Hot Blast stoves burning hard coal in all of them, and they are cheaper, give better satisfaction, less trouble, more heat and are easier controlled than any stove I ever saw. I have tried two imitation Hot Blast stoves, but returned to Cole's and would not use any other.
J. A. DOWNEY, M. D.

COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Chicago, Ill. CLARK, S. D., Feb. 6, 1904.
Gentlemen,—I will tell you my experience with Cole's Hot Blast stoves. I first put a 24-inch stove in my store and am heating the room with half of the hard coal I was using with a base burner largest size. This set me to thinking. I then took one 18-inch stove and set it up in my house in the place of a large base burner with an 18-inch firepot. I am heating the same rooms and heating them better with half the hard coal that I was using with the base burner. I then set up the 12-inch stove in my tin shop and am getting as good results as with the others. I have adopted the plan for several years to fully test any article which is a new thing to me, before I place same in stock to sell to my customers. This is the reason I have taken the interest I have with your stoves. Truly yours, B. A. TIBBITS.

Cole's Hot Blast for Hard Coal

BELOIT, WIS., November 24, 1903.
MESSRS. ROSENBERG & WOLFE, Agents for Cole's Hot Blast.
Gentlemen,—I want to say a few words of praise for Cole's Original Hot Blast Stove purchased of you several weeks ago. I noted the broad and liberal guarantee on same by the makers for burning soft coal, and their claims that it would do better work with hard coal than any other stove manufactured. Upon that and your own recommendation I placed one in my home. I am burning hard coal, and to say the stove is satisfactory is not enough. It is simply a surprise. I am saving one-half in fuel over the stove I formerly used to heat the same space, and getting a greater amount of heat. It is the greatest stove I ever saw, and gives greater satisfaction and more heat with hard coal than a large base burner I am using in another part of the house. I cheerfully recommend Cole's Hot Blast as the most economical and best heating stove for hard coal I ever saw.
Yours truly, BURTON A. EDWARDS, 361 E. Grand Ave.

CONTEST HIS BOND

Wayne Officials Hope to Thus Bar Sheriff-Elect Hoffman.

ECHO OF THE RECENT SCANDAL

People Much Opposed to His Assuming Office—State Officials Ready to Push Removal Proceedings — He Takes Oath.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 22.—Deputy Attorney-General Chase and Deputy Auditor-General Wilkinson arrived in the city Wednesday ready for the removal proceedings against Coroner Hoffman, also sheriff-elect, and Coroner Toepel, elected for another term, which are to be conducted before Judge Durfee today. After a consultation with the county auditors, Mr. Chase said there seemed to be much doubt about the advisability of accepting the bond of Sheriff-elect John T. Hoffman. The auditors had come to no decision as to what they should do.

Now that the circuit court bench is divided on this point, it would not be surprising if it were a long time before they reached a conclusion. That Hoffman will not be allowed to qualify on his bond without a rigid examination of any defects thereof is quite apparent from the attitude of the deputy attorney-general.

Sheriff-elect Hoffman appeared at the county clerk's office Wednesday and took the oath of office.

Charles T. Joslyn, Hoffman's attorney, declares that no matter what the county auditors do with Hoffman's bond now, the latter is sheriff.

County Clerk Says No.

County Clerk McGregor, however, says Hoffman cannot become sheriff until the county clerk gives the sheriff-elect a certificate showing that his bond has been accepted and the oath filed.

This whole affair develops from the recent investigation into the official conduct and subsequent charges against Coroners Hoffman and Toepel of "obtaining money under false pretenses" and "fraudulent use of the mails;" the latter charge was made by the federal government, the former by the state and county. All these charges—and there were a number of them—came to light after Hoffman's election to the office of sheriff of Wayne county and Toepel to re-election as coroner, on Nov. 8.

It will be recalled that Gov. Bliss demanded their resignations. It now remains to be seen whether these two men can legally take possession of the offices to which they were unquestionably chosen but which the people of Wayne county would now most awfully hate to have them assume.

Mr. Chase's Opinion.

On Hoffman's qualification for sheriff Mr. Chase gave an interesting opinion, in reply to a query from a reporter. It was to this effect: "Hoffman need not embarrass the people by holding the office very long if he should be convicted or removed from office. If he assumes the sheriff's office Jan. 1 and a vacancy should occur Jan. 2 or thereafter, no doubt the under sheriff would be entitled to assume the duties of sheriff but not any longer than the people desired. An election could be held at any time to fill the vacancy. It is the constitutional right of the people to select their own officers by the ballot and no legislation can possibly contravene that right."

VESSEL SPRANG A LEAK

Rescued Seamen Struggled For Days In Face of Death.

ENCOUNTERED A HURRICANE

Crew of "Clara Goodwin" Worked For Week at Pumps—Again Driven to Sea After Temporary Shelter Was Found—Landed in New York.

New York, Dec. 22.—A story of eight days and nights of ceaseless labor under the most disheartening conditions, with death constantly staring them in the face, is told by the ten shipwrecked sailors of the crew of the Portland, Me., schooner Clara Goodwin, who were brought here Wednesday on the schooner Martha Wallace. The men were taken from the sinking Goodwin off Cape Henry last Friday. They were in a terribly exhausted condition and still showed effects of their experience when they arrived here.

The Clara Goodwin sailed from Tampa, Fla., on Dec. 1, bound for Philadelphia. On Dec. 8, while between Capes Hatteras and Lookout, the schooner ran into a northeast hurricane, which continued for many hours, and before it had spent its force the schooner sprang a leak and began to fill rapidly. The steam pumps were worked to full capacity, but still the water in the hold increased in depth and the schooner became unmanageable. With all hands at the hand pumps a slight lead on the water was gained and finally the schooner was worked into the southwest of Diamond shoals, where temporary shelter was found. The wind shifted and she was again at the mercy of the waves.

Then followed a week of unremitting toil, the conditions growing more unbearable every day, and hope had almost been abandoned when the Wallace observed the signal of distress. Before leaving the water-logged craft Capt. Osterman applied the torch and left her with every sail set and the flames mounting skyward.

SAYS HE WAS POISONED.

Author of "Frenzied Finance" Makes a Sensational Announcement.

Boston, Dec. 22.—Thomas W. Lawson, author of "Frenzied Finance," has made the sensational announcement that he had been poisoned twice during the last three weeks. His life was saved, he declares, by physicians, who pumped him out.

"I have been suddenly and mysteriously stricken down twice within the last twenty days," said Lawson. "Once the doctors worked over me for twenty-four hours before they pronounced my life out of danger. In both cases the symptoms were acute digestive pains, nausea and other signs that usually accompany poisoning."

Lawson and his friends refuse to say in what direction, if any, their suspicions point.

New York, Dec. 22.—After a long conference with Counsel Untermeyer, H. H. Rogers, Dwight Braman, Roger Foster and others decided to call off the prosecution of Thomas W. Lawson.

Chicago Lawyer a Forger.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—John R. McFee, a lawyer once in good standing in Chicago, has been sentenced to the penitentiary on one of several charges of forgery. McFee is alleged to have secured nearly $40,000 by forgery. Much of the money was squandered in extravagant indulgence and on the race tracks. Even while his trial was in progress the grand jury was hearing further charges of forgery against McFee. The heaviest loser by McFee's alleged forgeries was Mrs. Anderson, victimized to the extent of $13,500. The others were chiefly Chicago banks. McFee was captured in Louisville two weeks ago.

Banquet In Parker's Home.

New York, Dec. 22.—Alton Brooks Parker, former chief justice of the court of appeals and Democratic candidate for the presidency in the last campaign, was the guest of honor last night at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria. The dinner was given by the bench and bar of the city of New York, and republicans and democrats alike were present to honor the justice's return to the practice of law. Among the 450 who attended were many of the most prominent members of the legal profession in this city.

TWO HUNDRED APIECE

"Uncle Sam" Pays Last of Famous Pottowatomie Indian Claim.

BABIES WERE BORN "TO ORDER"

Seventy-Eight Redskins Share the Final Payment—Old and Young Were Counted—Some Put Money In Bank, Others Buy Firewater.

Battle Creek, Mich., Dec. 21.—The last of the famous government claims has been paid to the Pottowatomie Indians on the Athens reservation, and more money is now in circulation among the red-skinned weavers of baskets and pickers of berries than the Indians believed to be in existence.

Congress allowed $78,329 to the descendants of the original bunch of Pottowatomies, and many months have been consumed in reaching a legal division of the money; in fact, it is claimed that, as every heir of the original land-merchants was entitled to a claim, babies have been born "to order" since the fight began.

At any rate, it is no secret that more Injun babies have been given birth at the reservation this summer than ever before, and unusual efforts have been made to keep the old people alive, at least until the money was distributed.

Thronged Probate Office.

Week after week motley bands of Indians thronged the probate office, ranging from heavy-visaged bucks to wizened old men, from sleepy papooses to pipe-sucking old squaws. The result was the appointment of guardians in legion and seventy-eight Indians of all ages were found entitled to a share of the $78,329.

Special Indian Agent S. L. Taggart of Dubuque, Ia., had the distribution of the funds, and only three Indians were absent, these being the only ones who have not recovered from a recent epidemic of smallpox in the reservations. After "expenses had been paid" each of the Indians was given $210.98. Some have been induced to bank the new fortunes; others will continue to pay it into Battle Creek's treasury for overindulgence in firewater.

"So much is this a habit with the Athens Pottowatomies that cases are not rare when Chief of Police Farrington is made the custodian in advance of $5 to $10 with which to pay the fine for drunkenness that the Indian realizes will mark his finish of a day's sightseeing in the county metropolis.

Michigan Inventors.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 21.—Michigan patents have just been granted as follows: Earl C. Akers, Port Huron, hatch for ships; Thomas B. Aldrich and C. P. FROM AUDITOR-GENERAL

Comes Important Recommendation as to Needed Legislation.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 22.—In his final report to the governor, Auditor-General Powers makes important recommendations as to needed legislation.

He says it is usually true that those who have to do with the carrying into effect laws authorizing the expenditure of money put upon these laws the interpretation which will yield the largest results to the institutions or interests with which they are connected.

The necessity for greater definiteness as to the privileges given to and limitations placed upon these officials is apparent. The opinion is expressed that the laws relating to the accounting and auditing in state institutions should be consolidated and simplified.

The millions of money invested in the buildings and permanent improvements in this state are never taken into account in any particular by institutions when figuring the per capita cost of maintenance. This is not the method employed by business corporations, and the auditor-general suggests that the proper method of computing this cost be adopted.

In the interest of the state as a whole and the individual taxpayers, Auditor-General Powers also urges that contemplated changes in the general tax laws be prevented.

STALEY ARRESTED.

By Mother of Boy Whom He Flogged In Coldwater Schools.

Coldwater, Mich., Dec. 22.—Although whitewashed by the board of education on the charge of indirectly causing the death of 13-year-old Philip Miller by severely flogging him, Supt. Victor C. Staley has been arrested on a capias sworn out by the boy's mother.

Staley was at once released on $1,000 bonds signed by Ralph E. Clarke, a leading druggist, and T. A. Hilcom, a large clothing merchant.

The school board Wednesday announced its finding in the investigation which it has been holding into the superintendent's conduct. By a vote of four to three, it found that the superintendent had sufficient cause to warrant him in punishing the Miller boy; that the punishment was not excessive nor unreasonable, and that the conduct of the superintendent in the matter was not of a character to warrant them in canceling their contract with him.

Mrs. Miller has retained Milo Campbell and ex-Judge Pealer to look after her interests in the case and a warm contest is in prospect.

Veterans Will Be Well Fed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 22.—Commandant George H. Turner of the Soldiers' home states that this year's turkey dinner was furnished to the veterans on Thanksgiving this year, as it has always been the custom of the house to change the bill of fare for Christmas, as that is more acceptable to the old soldiers. He says the home does not desire any private contributions to provide a Christmas dinner for the veterans of the home, as the officers will see that they have a bill of fare which will compare favorably with those furnished at family gatherings throughout the state.

These Clerks Lose Their Jobs.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 22.—Auditor-General-elect Bradley has notified the following clerks that their services will be dispensed with after Jan. 1, 1905: Maurice Kirby and W. B. Carpenter, Saginaw; A. A. Grant, Macomb; George W. Freeman and H. W. Walker, Ingham; W. S. Campbell, Allegan; Miss Jennie Conger, Hillsdale; J. F. Burdick, Wayne; Thomas W. Stewart and G. L. Sumner, Kalamazoo; Mrs. Frank Kirk, Lenawee, and W. S. Rivvick.

Detective Kennedy Acquitted.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 22.—Detective Charles F. Kennedy, who was formerly a member of the sheriff's force and was for several years a private detective, has been acquitted in the superior court. Several months ago a crowd of hoodlums attacked the home of Kennedy, and he was finally driven to desperation and shot one of the boys. He was arrested and the case has been on trial several days.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa. "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

A Morenci kid of 8, who has been taught to say his prayers before retiring lately closed his evening petition with "God bless Vern Baldwin and his 15 bulls." The parents of the boy can now judge to what extent the child comprehends the nature of his devotions or the benefits of prayer. And yet the boy knows about as much concerning it as anyone.—Adrian Press.

A good joke is related on one of Blissfield's prominent young men. Last Saturday morning there was a five o'clock morning service in the Evangelical church and the bell rang. The young man, hearing the bell and not knowing of the service, opined that it was a fire alarm and hastily putting on his clothes, he ran all the way to the engine house before he discovered his mistake.—Blissfield Advance.

Melchao Zeller, a cigar maker in Coldwater, started for his work as usual last Friday morning, but stopped at the Cahill fountain saloon and called for a drink. He chatted with the bartender and then sat down, saying "Good-by Dave," and at the same time drawing a revolver, with which he blew out his brains. He leaves a wife and son. Last August a man was found dead in the same saloon.—Hudson Post.

Anna Marih Baldwin, an eight-year old school girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baldwin, lies at her home awaiting Nature's healing power to restore her to wonted activity. She was going home from school Monday afternoon with some associates and at John Kuster's yard was a sled, on which she jumped. The sled was suddenly jerked, and as a result of this juvenile sportiveness she was thrown to the ground in such a manner that her right leg was fractured between the knee and ankle.—Morenci Observer.

Jay McCrillis, of Medina, is a wealthy farmer and Ulysses Tewsley believes he has a good cause for suit for damages because of injuries he sustained by falling down a chute in the barn when he was working for McCrillis some months ago. If the former gets stuck for damages to the same time a farmer generally sticks a railroad, cause or no cause, McCrillis will have to sell his farm to meet the judgement. Tewsley asks for $10,000, he might compromise on $9,600, however.—Adrian Press.

Tuesday morning a tramp applied at the home of of Loren Barrett east of the city, for something to eat. He was given a lunch, after which he became so abusive that he was ordered from the house and then came to Hudson, where he was arrested by officer Cooper and taken to jail. He was well loaded, for on all sides of his person were arranged parcels which made him have the appearance of a pack horse. When he reached the lockup could not go through the door and it was necessary to open the doors through which the fire engine is hauled to get him in. He was kept for a time, then allowed to depart if he would leave the city, which he speedily did, taking his way toward Hillsdale, where he will no doubt be greeted with emotion by officer Jim O'Mealey because he came from here.—Hudson Post.

Coldwater Courier: The roundhouse ghost has been laid low. It turned out to be only a fake spook, after all, designed and operated by some of the boys who work about the yards and operated by means of strings attached to the rafters above the spot where it always appeared. It was intended to create a sensation and it succeeded beyond the hopes of its creators.

Albert Nelson of this place held the lucky number that drew a nice piano in a guessing contest which he recently took part in with some newspaper concern. There is a certain young lady here who declares that she will give the young man music lessons for the remainder of his natural life if he will just say the word.—Brooklyn Exponent.

All Run Down

THIS is a common expression we hear on every side. Unless there is some organic trouble, the condition can doubtless be remedied. Your doctor is the best adviser. Do not dose yourself with all kinds of advertised remedies—get his opinion. More than likely you need a concentrated fat food to enrich your blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil

is just such a food in its best form. It will build up the weakened and wasted body when all other foods fail to nourish. If you are run down or emaciated, give it a trial; it cannot hurt you. It is essentially the best possible nourishment for delicate children and pale, anaemic girls. We will send you a sample free.

Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

MESSAGE TO FRATERNAL ORDERS

Interesting news from Cincinnati with local confirmation in Tecumseh.

The thousands of members of fraternal bodies in this state will be interested in the following message from John Theobald, a prominent Forester who lives at 1111 York street, Cincinnati.

Mr. Theobald believes in living up to the motto of his organization, "Fraternal Love and Charity" and believes that he can do no more charitable act than to tell his experience in regaining health after years of suffering.

Mr. Theobald writes, "For five years I suffered with stomach troubles, having all the distress and misery that afflicts dyspeptics. I could not enjoy eating, thinking of the suffering that would follow. My food did not digest and although I took all kinds of medicines, I found nothing to help me until I used Mi-o-na. Thanks to this remarkable remedy, I am now a cured man and believe that it made a permanent and complete cure."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. It is in the form of small tablets and sells at 50c a box. The remedy has made so many and such remarkable cures amongst his customers, confirming Mr. Theobald's statement, that he will give their personal guarantee with every box they sell to refund the money if it does not cure.

Do not suffer longer. Here is a cure that costs you nothing, unless it restores health. C. A. Wright takes all the risk and you do not have to pay a penny unless you feel that you have received much more than your money's worth.

Subscriptions to Various Newspapers.

For years we have received subscriptions to various newspapers other than the HERALD in connection with this paper. This year we will adopt a different plan, receiving pay for only the Detroit Journal, 75 cents, Michigan Farmer, 60 cents and the Detroit Daily Times, $1.30. We will receive subscriptions as above without regard to whether you desire the HERALD or not. The price for each paper is just 10 cents more than the HERALD has to send for them and we take it simply as an accomodation to those of the HERALD subscribers who desire these papers.

The other part of the subscription business has been turned over to Henry McClure at the Tecumseh post office. He will receive subscriptions to any paper and compete with any agency in price. Any one who desires to pay for the HERALD and all their other papers at the same time can pay Mr. McClure for the HERALD as well as at this office.

Railroad Interests for Tecumseh.

H. W. Stevens received a letter from the attorney of the Ohio Northern Traction Co. saying that an electric road will be built. This company is securing options on grounds for station purposes and balance of right of way.

Further he says they will be in Tecumseh inside of two weeks for that purpose. "You know the line and it will go. It is all right. We will have a map of the entire line and I will show it to you when we come and you can govern yourself accordingly in your work. We are paying no attention to other projected lines spoken of from Adrian to Ann Arbor."

New Bradley Opera House, Dec. 30.

A very stout, red-faced lady appeared at the door of a theatre recently, leading her two boys, aged eight and ten, and presented one ticket. "You will have to buy tickets for those boys" said ——"No, I won't, she protested, they always go to sleep as soon as they get inside, why should I pay for them if they don't see the show? The manager could'nt get around that argument, so he passed them in. After the first act an usher come to Mr.——and handed him a quarter saying, "The fat lady told me to tell you one of the kids woke up.' Don't fail to see "Over the Niagara Falls" Dec. 30, at the New Bradley

"The Two Orphans" in Detroit.

A. M. Palmer's revival of his great success of 30 years ago, "The Two Orphans" will be presented at the Detroit opera house Dec. 29, 30, 31, matinee on Saturday.

This play is undoubtedly one of the most powerful plays ever presented on the American stage and with but very few exceptions has been more continuously and successfully played than any other outside the classic drama. Fortunes have been made from it and it has been applauded by the most refined audiences. Although when it was first read in the original French, when the manuscript was received by D'Ennery, it was regarded as a melodrama not suited to the Union Square, Mr. Palmer had faith in it and made a production of it at the Union Square, which was a wonder in its day, giving it a cast that has since been quoted in American stage history as a remarkable one but unusually talented as the original cast was, Mr. Palmer has given his revival an equally notable one. The 12 principal characters are all played by actors and actresses who are or who have been stars, James O'Neil, Louis Jameson, Lee Finney, E. Dodson, Clara Morris, Grace George, Mrs. LeMoyne, Elita Proctor, Otis and Sarah Truax. Scenically the production will be the same as the original and painted by the same artist, Richard Marston, who painted the scenery for the Union Square production and the costuming will be exactly the same. The piece will be played on similar lines of stage business and reading, Mr. Palmer's purpose being to duplicate as closely as possible the original performance and to this end he has personally supervised the rehearsals.

Tecumseh Grange.

The Tecumseh Grange met Tuesday in the Grange hall and elected their officers for the ensuing year. One would naturally think by this report that the gentlemen were not allowed, they were there but not "in it." Every lady received full vote of the house except one and her husband was too mean to vote for her—jealousy. Result of election as follows:

Master—Mrs. D. T. Hall.
Overseer—Mrs. S. C. VanDoren.
Lecturer—Mrs. C. H. Bramble.
Steward—Mrs. Leroy Matthews.
Chap.—Mrs. O. B. Finch.
Treas.—Mrs. A. VanValkenburg.
Sec.—Mrs. C. Holdridge.
Gate Keeper—Mrs. Lydia McIntyre.
Cora—Miss Anna McIntyre.
Flora—Miss Florence Huey.
Pomona—Mrs. Eva Boyce.
Lady Asst. Steward—Mrs. Ella Bowen.

An oyster dinner was served at one o'clock, business transacted and a good time in general.

Go Look to the Hen.

"Go look to the hen, thou sluggard." Secretary of Agriculture Wilson in an enthusiastic report claims for the hen of America a record of 1,666,666,666 dozens of eggs last year. From another source we learn that fully 3,000,000 dozens of these were bad but that is another matter. When the American hen laid them they were good. The hen has in this produced enough revenue to meet the interest on the national debt for twelve years. Some one is always paying off the national debt in similar ways but Secretary Wilson's figures are none the less instructive. His official "Lay of the hen" is a sermon to the American people. It is a plea for honest and indefatigible labor. It puts the idler to shame. It calls for a high standard of excellence and holds up to the laborer an ideal of a fully rounded work, contributed freely and proudly as the fruit of one life. Go look to the hen.—Detroit Tribune.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist, Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

THE CHURCHES.

There will be no prayer meeting in the Methodist church next week.

The Christian Endeavor topic for Dec. 25, "The Light of the World," Isa. 9:2-7.

The Epworth League topic for Sunday, Dec. 25, is "An offering to Christ," Mark 14:3-9. Leader, Mrs. Collins.

Holy Communion service at eight o'clock and afternoon service at four o'clock at the Episcopal church Sunday.

The topic for the weekly prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church is, "The Day Spring from on High," Luke 1:76-79.

Baptist church Sunday, Dec. 25. In the morning a Christmas service, subject, "The Prince." B. Y. P. U. at six o'clock, topic, "The Light of the World." Leader, Grace Steinhoff. Bible class Wednesday evening, subject, "The Resurrection of Christ."

At the Presbyterian church Sunday Christmas will be celebrated as follows: The pastor will preach in the morning on the theme, "The Wondrous Birth in Modern Retrospect." In the evening the combined church and Sunday school choirs will render the sacred cantata, "The Night of Glory, or the Newborn King," by Benjamin Loveland. This will be a rare musical treat and all are invited to enjoy this fine musical program.

Special Christmas exercises at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. In the morning the pastor will preach from the text, "But when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son." In the evening the subject will be "Sacred Song." The choir will have special music for both services, but special preparation is being made for the evening service. A cordial invitation is extended to the public to join in these Christmas exercises.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Hart's fortunate experience of special interest to many in Tecumseh.

The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well—have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgement that I tried Hyomei." The Doctor, in his emphatic way added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei.'

C. A. Wright is the local agent for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. He sells it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask him to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.

C. A. WRIGHT, Druggist.

Vacation time is when we all expect and hope to have a chance to be just a little bad after a whole year of being good.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because it's for one thing only and Tecumseh is learning this.

Nothing can be good for everything.
One thing done well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.
They're for sick kidneys.
Cure backache, every kidney ill.
Here is Tecumseh evidence to prove it.

C. Patterson, the well known sexton residing in the southeastern section of Tecumseh, says: "For over a year I had a soreness and pain in the small of my back at times quite severe, more especially if I did a hard day's work or took cold for it always settled in my kidneys. The kidney secretions were also discolored and irregular. I had all symptoms of aggravated kidney complaint. I heard several people praising Doan's Kidney Pills so concluding to try them I got a box at C. A. Wright's drug store and commenced the treatment. I found it just suited my case for it helped me right from the start. It stopped the pain in my back and regulated and cleared up the kidney secretions. I have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone having difficulty with their kidneys."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Many a girl who is a daisy when she graduates is transformed into a wall flower later on.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence; it is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

It's a great comfort to a father who has been a sower of wild oats to see his daughter grow up ugly.

"Itching hemorrhoids were the plague of my life. Was almost wild. Doan's Ointment cured me quickly and permanently, after doctors had failed." C. F. Cornwell, Valley Street, Saugertie, N. Y.

The man who goes to the bad seldom has a long journey.

Foley's honey and tar positively cures all throat and lung diseases. Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Most people who grant a favor expect two in return.

Mothers, be careful of the health of your children. Look out for coughs, colds, croup and whooping croup. Stop them in time—One Minute Cough Cure is the best remedy. Harmless and pleasant. Sold by C. A. Wright.

When you lose an opportunity, don't lose time in worrying about it.

Don't be imposed upon by taking substitutes offered for Foley's honey and tar. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

JOHN J. ORR.

Little Girl Burned to Death.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 22.—Martha Janowski, the 5-year-old daughter of Fred Janowski, a teamster, was burned to death. The mother died recently and an older sister has been caring for the home. While she was out of the house the little one poured oil from the kerosene can on the fire. An explosion followed, and before neighbors could extinguish the flames the little tot had been fatally burned.

Fashionable Capital Club Burned.

Washington, Dec. 22.—The Metropolitan clubhouse, the home of the most fashionable club in Washington, has been gutted by fire, involving an estimated loss of from $60,000 to $100,000, partially covered by insurance. The fire was caused by a spark from an electric wire near the elevator shaft.

Blood Controls the Complexion.

How to Get Rid of Pimples, Blotches and Other Disfigurements.

Nothing is more unsightly or offensive to the eye than a face covered with pimples, blotches, blackheads or sores. No matter how regular the features a bad complexion spoils it all and mars an otherwise beautiful face. On the other hand a beautiful, clear complexion will make any face attractive and charming even if the features are not possessed of perfect regularity.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic cures thoroughly and permanently all diseases of the skin and blood and causes the complexion to become clear and beautiful. It is guaranteed to cure and does cure scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, salt rheum, erysipelas, boils, tumors, tetter, sores, ulcers, ulceration of the stomach and bowels, female weaknesses, dyspepsia, debility, dropsy, syphilis in all its forms and all diseases arising from hereditary taint or impoverished condition of the blood.

As a general tonic to upbuild and strengthen the system it is unexcelled. It cures lassitude and tired feeling, makes the old young and the weak strong, creates new, healthy blood, strengthens the stomach, aids digestion, invigorates the system, restores health and strength and imparts new life and vigor to all the functions of the body.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Blood Purifier and Tonic is $1.00 a bottle and satisfaction is guaranteed or purchase money will be refunded by Lea[illegible] [illegible] Life.

Flint, Mich., Dec. 22.—After leading a strenuous life for the past thirty days, which included an attempt at suicide and his marriage, Emery Carter, aged 20, wound up before Justice Torrey Wednesday, charged with grand larceny. Carter tried to take his life a month ago, but a physician saved him. Two weeks ago he married Miss Jennie Lyons, whose parents live near Clio. Monday he started from Durand for Flint, but got off and paid a visit to the Grand Trunk pay car at Duffield. Here he drew the pay check of A. R. Scott for $35 and, coming to Flint, forged Scott's signature and had the check cashed. Carter was arrested and now languishes in jail.

Lonely Bachelor Kills Himself.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 22.—With a bullet in his brain and his rifle lying close beside him, the dead body of James Janes was found in his home in Trout Lake township. Friends believe it to be a case of suicide. Janes was a picturesque bachelor who lived in a lonely hut on a homestead he took up several years ago.

Bliss Commutes Butts' Sentence.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 22.—Gov. Bliss has commuted the sentence of William M. Butts, sentenced from Grand Rapids Oct. 1, 1901, to Ionia, for embezzlement. His term would have soon expired under the good behavior provision, but the commutation brings the sentence to an immediate end.

Wine of Cardui Cured Her.

213 South Prior Street,
ATLANTA, GA., March 21, 1903.

I suffered for four months with extreme nervousness and lassitude. I had a sinking feeling in my stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, and losing my appetite I became weak and lost my vitality. In three weeks I lost fourteen pounds of flesh and felt that I must find speedy relief to regain my health. Having heard Wine of Cardui praised by several of my friends, I sent for a bottle and was certainly very pleased with the results. Within three days my appetite returned and my stomach troubled me no more. I could digest my food without difficulty and the nervousness gradually diminished. Nature performed her functions without difficulty and I am once more a happy and well woman.

SMUGGLE IN CHINESE

Big Scheme Detected and Divulged to Immigration Officials.

FROM CHINA TO LIVERPOOL

Thence Through to New York Via Halifax, Entry Being Made at Rouse's Point—Provide Them With Bogus Papers.

Washington, Dec. 24.—Information has reached the immigration authorities of a scheme by which it is proposed to bring into this country Chinese who in the regular order of events might be refused admission. The proposition is to take the Chinese from China to Liverpool and then ticket them through to New York via Halifax or St. Johns and Rouse's Point. The particular design is to have the Chinese enter this country through Rouse's Point, which is on the Canadian line near the border of New York and Vermont.

At Rouse's Point no detention house of the immigration service is located, but Chinese entering the country there would not be subject to the investigation of a regular board of immigration inspectors. They would be detained, however, by United States marshals, but this proceeding would bring the cases, in due course, before United States commissioners. Each Chinaman would be provided with papers indicating that he was a resident of this country and had a right, therefore, to return to it. Such papers, the immigration officials assert, are not difficult to obtain.

The same scheme was worked successfully several years ago along the Canadian border until broken up by the establishment of detention houses, where the applicants were held pending a rigid inquiry into the nature of the evidence they submitted, and this plan will be followed at Rouse's Point if the scheme is not abandoned.

THROUGH JAPAN.

Russian Traveled Disguised as an American Correspondent.

Moscow, Dec. 24.—V. E. Brtzuesky, correspondent of the Russky Slava, has just arrived at San Francisco after a long and hazardous trip through Japan, where he traveled as an American journalist under the name of, Percy Palmer. He undertook the journey to ascertain the real situation of affairs in the enemy's country, taking the risk of discovery and execution as a spy. He had a complete American outfit and arranged to have letters forwarded from various cities in the United States. He has telegraphed to the Russky Slava from San Francisco that he visited Yokohama, Tokio, Sasebo, Osaka, Kioto, Shimonoseki, Nagasaki and Matsuma, photographed the Russian prison camp, examined the hospitals, fortress and troops, and met and entertained high Japanese.

Crazuesky is bringing home a mass of interesting material which will make many interesting disclosures. He says his most dangerous moment was when he faced 3,000 Russian prisoners. If he had been recognized by one of them he would have received short shrift.

DEATH LURKED IN GIFT

Mrs. Thomas Barnes of Detroit Killed In Her Home.

BROTHER GAVE HER CARTRIDGE

As Souvenir From U. S. Navy—Deadly Thing Exploded While She Was Holding It—No One Witnessed Accident—Found Dead by Milkman.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 23.—Probably one of the most horrible accidents, and, considering the details and circumstances under which it happened, one of the most heartrending and sorrowful that could befall a human being, occurred some time Thursday forenoon in a little cottage on the west side of this city. The victim was Mrs. Thomas Barnes, only 21 years old but the mother of two children.

Mrs. Barnes is an employe of his brother, who conducts a store where chandeliers are sold.

Mrs. Barnes has a brother in the navy. A short time ago he conceived the idea of sending his sister a unique souvenir in the way of a dynamite cartridge, such as is used in small naval guns. This was kept about the house, but Mr. and Mrs. Barnes supposed that it had previously been exploded.

No one save the two little girls, aged one and three years, witnessed the frightful accident which killed their mother, and only a surmise can be made as to how it happened.

Sometime during the forenoon Mrs. Barnes must have taken the cartridge in her hand, and while walking from one room to another accidentally struck it against the stove or a piece of furniture, with the result that the deadly thing exploded and the young mother blown to death.

Milkman First on Scene.

The accident was not discovered until toward noon, when a milkman, receiving no response to a rap, entered and found the house full of smoke and the children on the floor in the kitchen sobbing piteously for their mother. The man immediately rushed into the adjoining room and there lay the mutilated body of the mother. The explosion had set fire to fixtures. This was immediately extinguished. But the sight which then came to the beholder was sickening in the extreme. Parts of the woman's flesh and portions of the projectile clung to the walls and ceiling. The woman's arm had been literally torn from the body, and all about was broken furniture and decorations.

The little mother had been engaged in decking out a Christmas tree. The brother in the navy was expected to visit them during the holidays, and the deadly souvenir was to play an important part in the decoration of the tree.

The husband and father was almost stricken down with grief. Neighbors, knowing the condition of the body, restrained him from entering the house, but it was not until his children were brought to him that he regained self-composure.

Coroner Toepel arrived at 3 o'clock and swore in a jury, while Undertaker E. V. Holton took charge of the remains.

LAW NOT OBSERVED.

Judges Misconstrue Meaning of Indeterminate Statute.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 23.—In denying a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Mary Campbell, sent from Clinton county to the Detroit house of correction for a period "of not less than one year" for larceny, the supreme court ruled upon a much disputed question in connection with the application of the indeterminate sentence law.

A number of the judges ofth e state have, in sentencing prisoners since the enactment of the law in question, imposed a minimum and maximum sentence, regardless of whether the law providing a penalty for the crime of which the prisoner sentenced was convicted itself named a maximum and minimum term.

The court fixed no maximum term. The minimum term fixed by the court having expired, the convict demanded her release on the ground that her further detention is illegal, because the court failed to fix any maximum term.

The supreme court holds that judges cannot name any different minimum or maximum term than that named in the law governing the offense.

ILL IN THE TOMBS

Nan Patterson Breaks Down Under the Terrible Strain.

JURY WAS UNABLE TO AGREE

Her Chief Counsel Will Make Effort to Get Bail—Lack of Means Proved Great Handicap—Six of Jury Stood For Acquittal.

New York, Dec. 24.—Nan Patterson is now in the Tombs ill and perhaps on the verge of a breakdown, but with constant attendance.

The former show girl, expecting acquittal Friday at the hands of the jury which has listened to the evidence in her trial for the murder of Caesar Young last June, went into court at noon to learn that the twelve men chosen to decide as to her innocence or guilt had been unable to reach an agreement—in fact, had divided evenly over the question as to whether or not she held the revolver which ended Young's life. The jury stood six to six—half for acquittal, the other for conviction.

Although no official announcement was made further than this courthouse talk had it that of the six deciding against Miss Patterson none was for conviction of murder in the first degree, that one held out for murder in the second degree, two for manslaughter in the first degree and four for manslaughter in the second degree.

Broke Into Tears.

Immediately the announcement of the verdict was made known Miss Patterson broke into a flight of weeping.

The demonstration in the court after the announcement of the disagreement was somewhat remarkable, many pressing forward to express sympathy for the young woman.

Abraham Levy, chief counsel for Miss Patterson, called on his client in the Tombs late in the afternoon and remained with her an hour.

"The girl is in a very bad mental condition," he said, after he had left her. "I, of course, cannot tell what we will do for her yet. The counsel for the defense will have a consultation and will then do the best we can for her. If the retrial is not right away I am going to make a desperate effort to get bail for her. I will plead with Mr. Jerome to reduce the bail to $15,000, and I will be able I think to arrange for that amount, and thus let her have her freedom while again awaiting the long nerve-wrecking ordeal she will have to face."

Interest now centers in District Attorney Jerome's future action. He has not said what he will do, but it was intimated the way the jury stood may influence him as to a new trial.

Her Counsel's Statement.

Abraham Levy last night issued a statement, in the course of which he said:

"We felt confident that the trial would result in the girl's acquittal, and we are disappointed at the outcome. We are more convinced than ever that a verdict of 'guilty' never will be reached in the case. Whether or not there is to be a third trial is a matter largely resting in the official judgment of the district attorney. The defendant is wholly without means. When counsel assumed the defense of her case it was with the understanding and in the expectation that the defendant would be sufficiently equipped with means, if not to properly compensate them, at least to meet the disbursements and actual expenses which were bound to arise. This she has never been able to do."

Lunatic Walked [illegible]

Menominee, Mich., Dec. 24.—[illegible] Wajciehoki, who was sent to Newberry asylum a year ago, and who has twice escaped from that institution and walked to this city, has just turned up at Manitowoc, Wis. He has never been returned to the asylum since his last trip here. Upon hearing that the state authorities were after him, he skipped and walked all the way to Manitowoc, 150 miles. He will be returned to the asylum.

MARRIED, DIVORCED, MARRIED.

Grand Rapids Girl Went Through It All Within One Week.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 23.—With the marriage of Mrs. Jessamine Hopper to William S. Ware at Marshall Thursday morning there culminated an astonishing series of weddings, divorces and re-marriages.

Five days ago Jessamine Howland, fresh from St. Johns, met Bruce C. Hopper, manager for the Kimball Piano Co. in this city. When Bruce proposed marriage Jessamine said "Yes" with a promptitude that made his head swim.

The ceremony took place last Saturday. Sunday Hopper left his bride and later in the day telephoned that married life had palled on him and that he could no longer be a husband to her.

Jessamine sighed not, neither did she weep. But straightway she went before Judge Perkins, told her story and was speedily granted a divorce.

Almost at the same time William S Ware, Grand Rapids manager of the Voight Cereal Food Co., and a bosom friend of Hopper, was granted a divorce from his wife Bessie, and the newly divorced Jessamine and the more newly divorced William surprised courtroom habitues by grasping each other's hands and with radiant smiles leaving the building arm in arm. This all happened on Wednesday. The same evening Ware informed his close friends that he was going on a business trip to Chicago. Instead he hurried off to St. Johns, where he met Jessamine. Leaving St. Johns together, they went to Marshall, a dispatch from which point states that they were married there.

Million-Dollar Fire.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 24.—A fire which started shortly before 9 o'clock last night in the Pelletier department store had, up to 11 o'clock, destroyed property valued at more than one million dollars. The entire territory between Jackson and Pierce and Third and Fourth streets has been destroyed. Assistance was sougth from outside cities and an engine and other equipment was started from Omaha at 10 o'clock. The burned buildings include three banks, the Western Union telegraph office and several large mercantile concerns. The fire was gotten under control about 11:30, after practically two entire blocks had been burned over. One fireman was killed.

POSSIBLE IDENTIFICATION.

Woman Killed on Mountain May Be From New York.

Colorado Springs, Col., Dec. 24.—The proprietor of the Plaza hotel here believes that the body of the woman found on Cutler mountain may be that of Mrs. Lillian Homesley Bart of New York. On Nov. 29 Mrs. Bart registered at the Plaza hotel and two days later went away, leaving her valise. She was seen later on a street car but has not appeared at the hotel, although her bill was paid. The description of the body found on Cutler mountain tallies with that of the New York woman, and the police are trying to locate her.

President Will Rest.

Washington, Dec. 24.—President Roosevelt, so far as the exigencies of public business will permit, will rest thoroughly through the Christmas holidays. No arrangements will be made for next week except on matters of particular importance. The president expects to spend as little time as possible in his offices. He will devote a large part of his time to out of door recreation, and with members of his family and with personal friends will walk, drive and ride on horseback several hours of each day. Since congress convened on the 5th inst., the president has been under a very heavy strain, mentally and physically.

Fairbanks' Niece Badly Hurt.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 24.—In consequence of a remarkable accident, Miss Jennie Fairbanks of Mansfield, a niece of Vice President Fairbanks, has been brought to a hospital here. While putting on her hat, with a hatpin in one hand, a friend accidentally jostled Miss Fairbanks' arm, as a result the pin was buried in Miss Fairbanks' eye. A strong effort will be made to save her sight.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa, "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eye- and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. Report from the reform school.

J. G. Gluck, superintendent, Pruntytown, W. Va., writes: "After trying all other advertised cough medicines we have decided to use Foley's honey and tar exclusively in the West Virginia Reform school. I find it the most effective and absolutely harmless." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Revolution imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. AN INCIDENT OF WAR.

A Pig Between Jap and Russian Lines Created Much Fun.

Mukden, Dec. 22.—A letter from an Associated Press correspondent at the front, which has just been received here, gives a very vivid account of the manner in which the Russian soldiers have housed themselves for the winter. In part the correspondent says:

"The thermometer is 5 below zero. There has not been much snow yet, but it is perishing cold and fuel almost at prohibitive prices.

"We have just come in from a ride around the front. It was nearly a mile to the extreme front. We caught up with the officer of the day, visiting his outposts, and accompanied him along miles of trenches, where the ground is already frozen a foot deep and the thousands of soldiers are working rapidly extending the lines of defense.

"Towards noon we came to an extensive entrenchment and encampment, where numerous little fires were burning and big kettles swung from cross-sticks showed that the soldiers were preparing tea.

"Ahead of us, on the reverse face of the cliff, were scores of what looked like gigantic swallows' nests. They were simply holes in the cliff, each hole thatched around with a woven tunnel of kaolin stalks. Here the men live a dozen to the dugout.

"The men have plenty of tea and they are fairly fed, but fresh meat is a luxury that is not to be neglected at any juncture, and suddenly while we were talking by the fire some fresh meat made its appearance. There was a row towards the forward line of trenches that might have presaged a Japanese attack and we rushed to a knoll that commanded a view. There from a seemingly deserted Chinese hut rushed a half-grown pig, a shoat of the Manchurian razorback variety. After it went a Cossack in hot pursuit. Other Cossacks joined the chase, but the pig, threading the trenches, gained the open ground and headed for Japanese lines, less than 400 yards away.

"Regardless of death or anything else six Cossacks dashed in pursuit, with their long brown coats tucked about their waists. But the pig headed across the imaginary dividing lines and charged the Japanese position. The opposite hill slope had been to all appearances vacant and silent as the grave, but a hidden trench suddenly gave up a party of Japanese and away they went after the pig. The Cossacks stopped and the Japanese headed the pig diagonally back towards the Russian lines. They did not catch it, but a fresh relay of Russians took up the chase and the pig veered over again to the Japanese. Not a shot was fired all this time, and the Japanese and Cossacks stood within a hundred paces of each other in the open, laughing at each other's non-success and hurling mutual maledictions after the pig. The last we saw of it the pig was keeping strictly to the neutral strip between the forces and heading westward in the direction of Liao river."

Another Hunter Killed.

Menominee, Mich., Dec. 22.—While hunting rabbits near Norway, Harry Wasley was accidentally killed by the premature discharge of his gun. The entire charge of shot entered the man's abdomen

Damaging Fire In Romeo.

Romeo, Mich., Dec. 21.—Fire was discovered at 5:30 in the morning in the Opera House block, and before the department could be gotten into operation the novelty store of George Wing, where the fire originated, was gutted. The building itself was damaged to the amount of $5,000, covered by insurance. Stocks of goods in several stores which occupied the building were damaged to the extent of $12,000.

Beware of counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it, and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

WEDS AMERICAN GIRL.

Netherlands Minister Takes Miss Elizabeth Glover For a Wife.

Washington, Dec. 22.—Jonkheer Rene de Marees van Swinderen, the Netherlands minister, and Miss Elizabeth Lindsay Glover, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Glover, were married at noon Wednesday in the church of the Epiphany by the Right Rev. Henry Yates Satterlee, bishop of Washington, the rector of Epiphany, Rev., Dr. McKim, reading the betrothal. After the ceremony the wedding guests were entertained at breakfast at the palatial home of Mr. and Mrs. Glover on Farragut Square, the guests being received by Mr. and Mrs. Glover and the bride and bridegroom. Official Washington attended the wedding in full force, but the official character of the ceremony was throughout softened by a strict adherence to the Episcopal ritual. The bridal chorus from Lohengrin was sung by a vested choir of forty voices and a wedding hymn followed the betrothal.

The minister and his bride left Washington in the afternoon for a brief wedding trip.

Few diplomats in so short a time have made as many friends as the Netherlands minister, and Miss Glover is a favorite in the society of the capital.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Rejected Suitor Slays Widow, Constable and Himself.

Lockport, N. Y., Dec. 22.—Fred Jones, a clerk in a store at Newfane, shot and killed Mrs. Abbie Goodrich and Constable William C. Gray and then shot himself fatally.

Jones was a suitor of Mrs. Goodrich, who was a widow with several children and well to do. Being older than Jones she objected to his attentions. Jones, it is alleged, had threatened to kill her and burn her property, in consequence of which she obtained a warrant for his arrest, which was given to Constable Gray to serve. Gray went to the store where Jones was employed. Jones requested permission to send for Mrs. Goodrich that he might settle the matter with her. On her arrival they had some words, Jones drawing a revolver and shooting her in the head. Constable Gray sprang toward Jones when he also received a bullet in the temple. Jones then put a bullet in his own head. All three are dead.

Demands Mrs. Chadwick's Jewels.

New York, Dec. 22.—Nathan Loeser, receiver in Cleveland of the affairs of Mrs. Chadwick, made a demand last night, through his legal representative in this city, on J. P. Caddagan, the proprietor of the Hoffman house, for all the jewelry and other valuables alleged to be in his possession being held for the owner, Mrs. Chadwick. "Information has reached me that certain property, consisting partially of jewels and valuables, and belonging to Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, is now at the Hoffman house and under your control," he wrote Caddagan, "and I shall hold you responsible for a faithful accounting for same."

Earthquakes In Panama.

David, Chiriqui, Panama, Dec. 22.—There were ten slight earthquakes, followed by one strong shock, at about 12:30 o'clock Tuesday night. Numerous houses here were damaged and the people, who were thrown into a panic, are now camping in the streets. The disturbance is supposed to have been caused by the Poas volcano in Costa Rica.

Medical Use of Whisky.

Whisky, as an alternative to wine may undoubtedly be employed medicinally with advantage in certain cases, both for men and for women. But this is very different from the constant recommendation which is suggested, as if, indeed, doctors regard whisky as a sort of panacea for every disease under the sun, and take a perfect delight in urging its consumption upon their patients. As a matter of fact, there never was a time when medical men were more slow to prescribe the use of alcohol in any form than they are in the present day, nor a time when so many refrained from advising its use at all.—Hospital.

Prisons Robbed by Suicide.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Dec. 21.—Andrew Payment, under bonds awaiting sentence by Judge Steere for taking liberties with a young girl, was found dead in bed at his home with a bullet in his brain. It was evidently a case of suicide.

The Widow In India.

No institution of India has been so exaggerated as that of the widow. She really occupies a place analogous to our antique old maid, now so fast disappearing in the girl bachelor. The aged widow who has remained true to her principles is regarded as a holy being who has withstood a thousand temptations and persecutions and commands the respect of a saint from all persons. She is the mother of all the children in the neighborhood, the helpmate of all the neighbors. At evening they flock around to hear her repeat the ancient legends, the stories of Sita and Salvtri, Draupdia, or sing the songs of Mira Bai. She is in great demand when cooking is needed for a sacred feast. She teaches the little ones their first hymns and prayers. She nurses the sick, comforts the dying. She believes herself to be bound to her husband for everlasting time through all births and deaths. The momentary separation here is but one shade of her marriage, an unknowable mystery of destiny. It breaks no tie.—Everybody's Magazine.

Helping a Composer of Music.

Halevy was somewhat of a pedant in writing music. He worked very slowly and deliberately and made hundreds of changes before he was satisfied. When ideas would not come at his bidding he employed a very singular means to help his genius along. A kettle filled with water was put over a fire, and the monotonous singing of the boiling water acted as a wonderful stimulant on his imagination. While composing, his brother, Leon Halevy, was always with him, doctoring the verses of the text and adding and scratching syllables wherever it was necessary. For this reason he was called "text surgeon" among his friends. Leon Halevy was by no means a prepossessing man, and the poet Heine is responsible for the following description of him: "He looks as if his brother had composed him."

Blunders by Novelists.

Novelists, even of eminence, are prone to make blunders. Sir Walter Besant, in "For Faith and Freedom," wrote after the Eykins had settled in Providence, "Barnaby soon grew tired of this quiet life and went on board a steamer bound for England, promising that we should hear from him." This was, in 1686 or 1687, and the first steamer from America to this country did not reach Liverpool till July, 1819. Wilkie Collins also made numerous amazing blunders. In "The Duel In Herne Wood" he makes the story open with the receipt of a telegram, and the period is 1817, when twenty years had to elapse before the first telegraphic wire was laid. Three of the characters also talk of "taking the express train to London" in defiance of the fact that the first railway to London was not opened till 1838.

Nelson's Mishap.

This is an entry from the journal of the surgeon of the British warship Theseus (the dates are from July and August, 1797): "July 24 and 25—Admiral Nelson. Compound fracture of the right arm by a musket ball passing through a little above the elbow, an artery divided, the arm was immediately amputated, and the following given him: R Opi gr ij. ft. Pil. statim. s., etc. 26 July—Rested pretty well and quite easy. Tea, soup and sago. Lemonade and Tamarind Drink. 31 July—One of the ligatures came away; looks well. 1 August—Continued getting well very fast, stump looked well, no bad symptoms, sore reduced to the size of a shilling."

CHRISTMAS AND NEW YEAR HOLIDAY RATES VIA DETROIT SOUTHERN RAILROAD.

Detroit Southern agents will sell excursion tickets to all points within a distance of 150 miles of selling station at fare and one-third round trip. Tickets on sale Dec. 24th, 25th, 26th and 31st also Jan. 1st and 2nd, final return limit Jan 4, 1905.

For full particulars see Detroit Southern agents or address F. G. Gowing, Actg. G. P. A., Detroit, Mich.

A man named Frank Brown got drunk in Adrian and was disgusted when he was sentenced to only three days in jail, for the holidays were drawing nigh and he did not like the idea of celebrating in the wide world with not a place to lay his weary head. When he was released he went to Tecumseh, where the whiskey is not of the three days kind and in a short time had put himself in shape to be sentenced for thirty days. Evidently the Adrian dealers are watering their wet goods to such an extent that it is impossible to take on a respectable jag.—Hudson Post.

The pretty girl on the cover of the Designer for January will undoudtedly tempt more than one man to investigate the pages to which she acts as gatekeeper. Two articles in this number have a decidedly Western flavor: "A Chinese New Year in California," by Jessie Juliet Knox and "The Stanford University and Its Girls," by Sarah Comstock, Stanford, '98. The unfortunate music-lover who has had a Wagnerian afternoon ruined for him by chattering neighbors, will heartily appreciate "At the Matinee," a monologue by Harvey Peake, and the observing man or woman, who has watched the wonderful contortions of which the human countenance is unconsciously capable, will concur with Bertha Hasbrook, who writes on "The Making of Faces," in "The Interest of Beauty."

The contents page of the January Smart Set is the first indication of the excellence which is to mark the magazine for 1905 the Smart Set was long since conceded the title of "the magazine of cleverness" and its plans for the coming year already embrace a list of new contributors whose names stand for the very best in the fiction and verse of the day. With George Bar McCutcheon, Frances Aymar Mathews, William R. Lighton, Emery Pottle, Rupert Hughes, Edward Boltwood and Herbert D. Ward standing out from among twenty-seven other names, most of which are widely known and especially familiar to Smart Set readers, the January number promises well for the coming year.

Removes the microbes which impoverish the blood and circulation. Stops all trouble that interferes with nutrition. That's what Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do. 35 cents. Tea or tablet form. JOHN J. ORR.

The sensational "foreword" to Mr. Lawson's story in Everybody's Magazine promised strange disclosures of certain proceedings in a Delaware court room, in which two dress-suit cases filled with money changed hands under the judge's eyes. This incident forms the climax of the January instalment of "Frenzied Finance," and is the closing scene of a tremendous fight for the control of Bay State Gas and the unfortunate company is shown in the throes of a receivership from which it is rescued after an incredible struggle. The reader is introduced to three new characters and in passing, learns that the "system" spent five millions of dollars to change the votes of five doubtful states in the '96 national election. The narrative, which is full of exciting and tumultuous episodes, brings to a close the first part of Mr. Lawson's story.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

MESSAGE TO FRATERNAL ORDERS

Interesting news from Cincinnati with local confirmation in Tecumseh.

The thousands of members of fraternal bodies in this state will be interested in the following message from John Theobald, a prominent Forester who lives at 1121 York street, Cincinnati.

Mr. Theobald believes in living up to the motto of his organization, "Fraternal Love and Charity" and believes that he can do no more charitable act than to tell his experience in regaining health after years of suffering.

Mr. Theobald writes, "For five years, I suffered with stomach troubles, having all the distress and misery that afflicts dyspeptics. I could not enjoy eating, thinking of the suffering that would follow. My food did not digest and although I took all kinds of medicines, I found nothing to help me, until I used Mi-o-na. Thanks to this remarkable remedy, I am now a cured man and believe that it made a permanent and complete cure."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. It is in the form of small tablets and sells at 50c a box. The remedy has made so many and such remarkable cures amongst his customers, confirming Mr. Theobald's statement, that he will give their personal guarantee with every box they sell to refund the money if it does not cure.

Do not suffer longer. Here is a cure that costs you nothing, unless it restores health. C. A. Wright takes all the risk and you do not have to pay a penny unless you feel that you have received much more than your money's worth.

The management of "Over Niagara Falls" wish particularly to impress upon theatre goers that not one stick of house scenery is need in this production and that all the beautiful scenery carried by the company will be shown. This is a matter of no small importance and other managers could with profit to themselves pattern after the example set by Rowland & Clifford thereby keeping faith with the public and insuring a splendid reception on return engagements.

"Over Niagara Falls."

Niagara's rushing waters and the terrific roar of the falls, Lake Chautauqua, an Indian village, and Pan-American Exposition buildings are all skillfully depicted in Rowland & Clifford's gigantic melodrama, "Over Niagara Falls" which will be presented in this city December 30. It is just the play to stir an audience, and thrilling excitement runs high, especially when the heroine, encased in a barrel, is dashed over the Horseshoe Falls.

The scenic effects of this piece are grand. Those who have visited the real Niagara will appreciate the wonderful reproduction of the falls all the more, while those who have not been so fortunate as to become acquainted with the monarch of the cataracts can form an idea of its magnitude and grandeur. "Over Niagara Falls" will give but one performance at the New Bradley.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

Held in Witherell Hall Monday Evening.

FINNEY'S ORCHESTRA

Of Detroit, furnished Music.

The party given last evening at the Witherell hall was one of the most beautiful Christmas parties ever given here. The spirit of Christmas prevailed every where. In the ball room the wreaths of holly and the red and white bunting formed the decoration. A large bell of holly was suspended from the center of the hall and from this the bunting was draped to the corners of the room. The bunting was also festooned along the wall fastened with holly wreaths.

A supper was served in two courses, Hiens catering and the committee spared neither time nor expense to make this feature a success.

About 36 couple attended and stayed until the small hours of morning, the charm of the spirited music furnished by Finney's orchestra of Detroit, holding their interest until the early morning.

Among those from out of town who attended were, Misses Gertrude Schmitt, of Clinton; Meryl Munn, Toledo; Ethel Slayton, Ann Arbor; Henrietta Brown, Chicago; Gertrude Brown, Jackson; Miss Phena Palmer, Britton; Winnifred DeWolf, Detroit, and Messrs. Will Connor, Jackson; Will Schoen, Adrian; Chas. Burtless, Raynor Hauessler, Manchester, and Faron Burlingame, of Detroit.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

ROUND ABOUT - US.

Early last Friday morning burglars operated in Brooklyn, Mich., and made quite a haul. They first broke into a blacksmith shop and the electric light plant where they secured tools. Between three and four o'clock they broke into the Kake Shore office, where they blew open the safe and secured about $25. They also broke into the Farnham clothing store and Every's general store but did not realize much from either place. —Hudson Post.

A rural scribe writes: Take a silver dollar, let it drop on the table and you will notice a ring. Wear the ring yourself or give it to a friend; send the dollar to us and we will apply it on your subscription. Another nice experiment consists in waking a two dollar bill and folding it several times. Then unfold it and you will notice it increase. Use the creases for your Sunday trousers and send us the orginal bill. After you have tried these experiments, we will cheerfully put you unto another great scheme.—Ex.

Presentation of offerings. At this church numerous articles, baked goods, vegatables, canned fruit, meats, flour, and $20 in money was given. They were distributed Saturday morning.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

For the third time the members of the Presbyterian Sunday school participated in a giving Christmas exercise. The church was appropriately decorated with holly, which with the bright dresses of the children made a gay scene. At the door an admission of a potato, an apple, oranges or anything one wished to bring, was charged and baskets of all kinds of vegetables were collected in this way.

The program was very interesting, each class furnishing one or two numbers. Miss Caldwell and Miss Freeman each gave a vocal solo. Mrs. Kemp read the shepherd's scene from Ben Hur, the high school male quartette sang, Miss Conselyea read a Christmas story and the primary classes sang pretty choruses.

Each class contributed some thing for the poor. Several raised money for coal, one class brought baskets of fruit, another plates of baked goods, while another made up a purse for an old lady

The west branch school rooms were beautiful Friday afternoon with the Christmas decorations, the children of that school giving appropriate Chritmas exercises. After the exercises the scholars presented their teachers, Miss Cowen and Miss Richardson, with silver spoons. A combination of the two rooms was effected and the following program presented:

LITERARY NOTES.

N. M. W. Woodrow contributes an amuseing homely character-sketch to the January McClure's entitled "Old Man Johnson's Successor." In a little Western mining town (but we all know just such people,) a hustling, sharp, proud little woman quarrels with her hard working, steady-going husband. Indignant at his financial failure, she starts into business herself, driving a a stage as "Old Man Johnson's Successor." The author handles cleverly the resulting strained domestic situation.

The author of "Dead Selves" is not forgotten by readers who like a novel that clings close to the drama of domestic life, and they will be rewarded for "The Thousandth Woman," which Miss Julia Magruder has contributed to the January number of Lippincott's Magazine. It is a tale of a household whose has departed, but with the singular feature that the wife's cure is the tempting domestication of her rival in her own home. What happens, the reader will find his pleasure in unraveling; but he will be reassured to know that it all turns out right in the end.

The January holiday number of the Metropolitan magazine is especially strong in short fiction and contains, as well, a number of striking illustrated articles from the pens of well known writers.

One of these papers, entitled "An Artist in Bermuda," is by Charles Livingston Bull and tells of wondrously beautiful denizens of the tropic waters which encircle that favored island. Mr. Bull has spent much time peering through the clear waters of Bermuda at the funna and flora that inhabit their depths. He pictures, not only in words, but with clever drawings, the life of the Bermuda seas.

Among the more distinguished writers whose work will please the readers of the Metropolitan magazine during the new year are: Gelett Burgess, Judge Robert Grant, Clinton Scollard, George Hibbard, Justus Miles Forman, Bliss Carman, James Barnes, Carolyn Wells, Ethel Watts Mumford, Theodosia Garrison—indeed, the whole list of native authors who are making American literature today and whose names stand for what is newest and brightest and best in fiction and verse and essay. Nor will the Metropolitan print only the work of American authors. The foremost of English writers are pledged to contribute their latest efforts in letters It is a sufficient guaranty of the excellence of these British contributions to say that among them will be stories by Rudyard Kipling, Anthony Hope, Owen Oliver, Max Beerbohm, Albert Kinross, Eden Phillpots, Harrison Rhode and Seumas MacManus.

Jealousy is always looking for some thing it does not want to find.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Hart's fortunate experience of special interest to many in Tecumseh.

The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgement that I tried Hyomei." The Doctor, in his emphatic way added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei.'

C. A. Wright is the local agent for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. He sells it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask him to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.

THE THIEF OF BEAUTY

Is Captured by Bradfield's Regulator.

Thousands of young women are awaking to the fact that inherited comliness has been stolen, and instead of glowing cheeks and bright eyes, the tell-tale wrinkles of pain have taken their place.

These are the warning feelings! Weak and tired in the morning, no life to enter upon their former pleasures, irritable, cross, dull headaches, general dispirited feeling, sleepless nights, cold feet, "bearing down" pains. All these symptoms indicate deranged and weakened organs, and exhausted energies follow the weakened condition of the female organs as surely as night follows day. Save yourself from worse results by taking

BRADFIELD'S Female Regulator

The most invigorating menstrual regulator in the world. It relieves painful, profuse, obstructed or suppressed menstruation, nervousness, headaches, et cetera. Beauty of face and symmetry of form are the results of its use. Of druggists $1. Our book, "Perfect Health for Women," free.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., ATLANTA, GA.

The average man suffers more from an overloaded stomach than from the pangs of conscience.

UNCOMMON WISDOM.

Some Tecumseh people profit by neighbors' experience.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child in Tecumseh who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Ex-Postmaster J. W. Wightman, well-known to every reader of this statement says: "I have no hesitation in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. A. Wright's drug store. They have been used in my family and the most satisfactory results followed the treatment. It proved to be a remedy of merit and you can use my name to that effect if you think proper."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Silk-lined gowns interest a woman more than silver-lined clouds.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly, and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, O.

A vote cast for principle is never lost, even though it be the only one in the ballot box.

Accidents come with distressing frequency on the farm. Cuts, bruises, stings, sprains. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil relieves the pain instantly. Never safe without it.

It is easy enough to resist temptation when we are very busy and happy.

When you want a pleasant purgative try Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. They are easy to take and produce no nausea, griping or other disagreeable effect. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Did it ever occur to you that summer girls and peaches disappear simultaneously?

A timely topic.

At this season of coughs and colds it is well to know that Foley's honey and tar is the greatest throat and lung remedy. It cures quickly and prevents serious results from a cold. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

NEW CLOTHING NEEDED.

Quartermaster-General Kidd Also Wants Battery of Artillery.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 24.—The biennial report of Quartermaster-General Kidd, submitted to Gov. Bliss, shows that the revenue for the maintenance of the Michigan National Guard and for defraying the expenses of the military departments is derived annually from the following sources: Per capita tax of 5 cents under act of 1901, $121,049.10; annual apportionment from federal government, $57,665.37; total, $178,714.47.

The distribution of the fund as fixed by the state military board included: Armory rents, $16,000; company allowances, $4,000; salaries of captains, $4,000; salaries of military departments, $12,460; rifle practice, $2,000; contingencies, $5,000; encampment, $69,635.10.

A debt inherited from previous years and now paid amounted to $18,865.79.

Gen. Kidd says new clothing is needed for the entire command. It is said to be very desirable also that the companies be provided with ranges for target practice at the home stations.

Gen. Kidd recommends the plan of paying the enlisted men not to exceed 43 cents per drill of one and one-half each of the twenty-four annually required by the statute. This would increase attendance upon drills and thus increase the efficiency of the command.

Michigan has never had a battery of artillery, and as Michigan's allotment of the $2,000,000 appropriation made by congress annually is not available in cash for any purpose, it is recommended by Gen. Kidd that the commander-in-chief and military board consider the advisability of drawing from the federal government material to equip a light battery of field artillery complete This equipment will cost about $35,000.

Mother Had Son Jailed.

Bay City, Mich., Dec. 24.—William Simolski, aged 21, was arraigned in the police court on charge of stealing an overcoat. Complaint was made by his mother, who says that she cannot stand him around any longer, as he steals everything he can lay his hands on and sells it for drink. The defendant made no attempt to deny his guilt and the court said "$50 or three months."

Caught Thief by Ruse.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 24.—Garfield Rivette, a confidential man with Friedman's department store, was arrested last night by detectives for "knocking down." He was caught this time by a clever ruse. Detective Smith gave a woman a marked $5 bill to make purchases Rivette pocketed it. It develops he has stolen an average of $3 a day for nine months. He has been with the firm over a year.

Making Money Killing Wolves.

Menominee, Mich., Dec. 24.—Wolves in the upper peninsula are more plentiful than ever before and plans are being made to secure an increase of the bounty on the animals. Fred Bemus brought in the scalps of fifteen wolves and secured the bounty, which amounts in this county to $15 per head.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 24.—The hearing in the McGarry pardon case came to a close last evening with the addresses to Judge Norse of Ionia and W. A. Tateum of this city in behalf of the prisoner. The advisory pardon board will sift the statements made here and lay their findings before the governor in a few days.

Your Heart.

When Your Heart Fails to Pump Your Blood, Trouble Results.

Have you heart trouble?

You have, if you find it hard to breathe after walking up stairs, exercising, etc. If you have pain in your left side, in chest, back or shoulder. If you suffer from cold extremities, pale face, blue lips, dry cough, swollen ankles.

If you have fainting spells, breast pang, palpitation, redness of the face, discomfort in sleeping on one side.

The only scientific treatment for this whole train of troubles is Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is the prescription of a famous specialist, whose great success in treating obstinate nervous heart disease has made his name pre-eminent in the medical and scientific world.

The medicine will cure you. We know it. We want you to prove it. If first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will give you back your money.

"I have for several years suffered at times with heart trouble. I got so bad I could not sleep half the night, and had to sit up on the side of the bed lots of times to get breath. Three of my brothers have died of heart trouble, and I thought I was going the same way, but about two and a half years ago I got a pamphlet about Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and thought I would try a few bottles. After using them I recovered, and have had better health since then than before for several years. I can heartily recommend them for heart trouble."—REV. JERRY HURT, Pastor Baptist Church, Hurt, Kans.

Big Steel Mills to Start.

Chicago, Dec. 24.—Thousands of idle men in South Chicago will have employment on the day following New Years. The two largest mills of the Illinois Steel Co. will be started then, and the entire steel plant, for the first time in months, will hum with industry. The reopening will mean employment to at least 3,000 men

Ann Arbor Man Disappears.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 23.—R. H. Noyes, local freight agent for the D., Y., A. A. & J. electric road, has disappeared, and even his wife denies all knowledge of his whereabouts. He finished his work at the electric road waiting-room as usual on Tuesday night at 6 o'clock and later took the Michigan Central train going west.

Electric Car Tipped Over.

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Dec. 23.—A northbound car on the Rapid Railway jumped the track at the switch at Mummerich, half way between this point and Detroit, while running at the rate of ten miles an hour. The car was thrown over on its side and the twenty or more passengers badly shaken up.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes: "Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhoea, and stomach aches.

Thedford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 23, 1902.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. BADER.

Ask your dealer for a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send 25c. to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed to you.

THEDFORD'S BLACK DRAUGHT

STUDENTS MAY WIN OUT

And Prevent Suspension of Sophomores at Columbia.

New York, Dec. 24.—A truce has been arranged between the faculty of Columbia university and the sophomore class, which resented the suspension of four of their number for participation in the Kingdon Gould hazing affair and which had threatened to quit the university in a body.

The student board, represented by the presidents of the various classes, both college and science, met Dean Hutton Friday to discuss the suspension of the four sophomores. Their decision, which was announced, is that suspension will be left primarily in the hands of the student board.

The conditions under which this was arranged are: First. The student board will prohibit hazing in obnoxious form. Second, Freshmen will be under the surveillance of the sophomores. Third. Any case of the "freshness" of the under-classmen will be brought to the attention of the board and they will serve notice on the student that his actions have aroused the animosity of the sophomores, and they will fix a penalty which he must pay. Fourth. There will be an under-class fight and the winners will have the right to summon the officers of the defeated class to appear at their dinner.

This last is expected to do away with the capturing of freshmen by the second year men. The student board of representatives was authorized to draw up a plan embodying these provisions, which is to be submitted to the students immediately after the Christmas vacation.

When the members of the sophomore class learned of the suspension of their classmates—Alfelthinger, Cauchois, Doty and Finch—until Feb. 6, 1905, the entire student body was aroused and a preliminary mass meeting was held.

President Butler held a conference with Dean Hutton of the School of Applied Sciences early in the day, after which the suspensions were announced.

Immediately after their conference the student body held its protesting mass meeting at Earl hall. About 500 students attended and expressed their disapproval of the action of the faculty.

Shot Dead in Store.

Lockport, N. Y., Dec. 24.—On her knees praying for life, Mrs. Abbie Goodrich, wealthy widow, was shot dead in a crowded store in Newfane, near here, by Fred Jones, a clerk in the store and a rejected suitor. Jones shot W. C. Gray dead for interfering, shot Mrs. Goodrich as she knelt among the panic-stricken shoppers piteously begging for life, and then seriously shot himself. She was 44, Jones 34.

Massacre in Philippines.

Manila, Dec. 24.—The Pulajanes have ambushed and killed at Dolores, on the island of Samar, a lieutenant and thirty-seven enlisted men of the Thirty-eighth company of native scouts. Two thousand Pulajanes, it is reported, threaten the town of Dolores and the situation is said to be critical. Lieut. Abbot, in command of the scouts, has requested that aid be sent him.

Mrs. Roosevelt as Santa Claus.

Oyster Bay, L. I., Dec. 24.—By the generosity of President and Mrs. Roosevelt, every pupil in the Cove Neck public school, which was formerly attended by some of the younger children of the president, received a Christmas gift Friday. Mrs. Roosevelt sent two barrels of candy to the school house.

Made Bonfire of Slot Machines.

Paw Paw, Mich., Dec. 24.—The county officers of this county celebrated the approaching holidays with an expensive bonfire, the fuel consisting of eleven nickel-in-the-slot machines, consisting of about 420 in nickels, was covered into the treasury of the county.

Dr. Colwell's Magic Egyptian Oil costs only 50 cents per bottle. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Bad Kidneys Worse Than Bad Lungs.

Bright's Disease and Other Kidney Maladies More Dangerous and Fatal Than Consumption Itself.

A GUARANTEED AND CERTAIN CURE.

Kidney diseases have come to be regarded by the best authorities as the most dangerous and fatal that afflict the human race excepting the pestilence of cholera, yellow fever, etc. Bright's disease is, without doubt, the most certain of all in dealing death. It is insidious in its nature, stealing on unawares and frequently the sufferer is in a very dangerous state before he is conscious of being affected. At the very first indication or symptom of pain or weakness in the region of the kidneys, the patient should lose no time in employing a remedy to relieve him of this danger.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is $1.00 a bottle and it cures permanently and absolutely all forms of kidney and bladder troubles. It is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestion, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back, retention and incontinence of urine, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or its purchase price will be refunded. Is for sale by

TELLING ON HER MIND

Father of Nan Patterson Fears His Girl Is Going Insane.

DOCTOR FINDS NO INDICATIONS

May Be Given Her Liberty—Citizens of Fairmont, W. Va., Offer to Furnish Bail to Extent of $50,000—New Trial May Be Delayed.

New York, Dec. 29.—Nan Patterson's father, who has spent a great deal of time with his daughter in the Tombs, says that he fears she is going insane.

"She is broken down completely," he said. "I tell you my little girl is a physical and mental wreck. I am afraid that her mind is giving away under this dreadful strain. She is worse than she was when she collapsed after hearing of the jury's disagreement. I have sent for our family physician."

Dr. Maguire was sent for later, and after examining Miss Patterson said: "Miss Patterson is in a highly nervous and even a hysterical condition, but in my judgment there need be no fear of insanity from present indications."

A Bit of Happiness.

Despite the fact that Miss Patterson's father is of the opinion that his daughter is going insane, the young stage girl has just been given a bit of happiness by the receipt of a telegram from Fairmont, W. Va., telling her that four well-known men of that city will go her bail. This means that before many days she probably will be released. The telegram reads as follows:

"Fairmont, W. V., Dec. 23, 1904.
"Nan Patterson, Care Tombs Prison, New York City:
"We will furnish bail to the extent of $50,000 if necessary.
(Signed) P. A. Deveny, H. J. Bryce, Edward Slack, C. W. Swisher, Secretary State-elect."

Miss Patterson's counsel has conferred with Assistant District Attorney Rand and it is learned that both sides desire delay, and it seems probable that Miss Patterson will not be put on trial again for several months.

BRITISH OFFICIAL ARRESTED

For Alleged Attempting to Steal Typewriter In Chicago.

Chicago, Dec. 29.—Perry Mason, who declares that he is connected with the foreign office at London, has been arrested here charged with attempting to steal a typewriter. Mason, who the police officials say is also known as Rudolph Greer, is well educated and of good address. Mason vigorously protests his innocence and declares that a grave mistake has been made. Mason said that when the government officials at London hear of this outrage those who were responsible for his arrest would be made to smart for it.

Mason was arrested on complaint of officials of the National Commercial Travelers' association, who were holding a convention in the same hall as the Commercial Teachers' association. Mason entered the place and asked for a stenographer. When one was sent to him he asked that she accompany him to his office, taking her typewriter with her. His actions were suspicious, and, believing that it was Mason's intention to steal the machine, he was arrested.

Burning Their Cotton.

Fort Gaines, Ga., Dec. 29.—The farmers and merchants of Clay county met here and decided to burn their share of two million bales of surplus cotton. A start was made Wednesday, when a bonfire was made of cotton on the streets of Fort Gaines.

Sent Up For Kissing Woman.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 29.—James Robinson has been sent to jail for thirty days for an assault. The offense for which he was committed was kissing a young lady against her will at Bayou la Batre, this county, during a party.

BEGINS LIFE SENTENCE

Murderer George Bearss Is Now In Marquette Prison

FOR KILLING MRS. ABEL BROWN

Port Huron's Courts Acted Quickly In His Case—Committed Crime, Captured, Tried and Imprisoned Within Five Days' Time—A Moral Pervert.

Marquette, Mich., Dec. 28.—George Bearss, the self-confessed murderer of Mrs. Abel Brown, arrived here this morning in charge of Sheriff Davidson. He was taken immediately to the prison.

Bay City, Mich., Dec. 28.—Under Sheriff James Davidson of St. Clair county reached Bay City last evening enroute to Marquette with George Bearss. The prisoner was locked up in police headquarters awaiting transportation to Marquette on the 1:10 a. m. train on the Michigan Central.

Flint, Mich., Dec. 28.—Murderer Bearss arrived here over the Grand Trunk at 1.20 Tuesday afternoon in charge of Sheriff Davidson. He was taken at once to the jail. To Deputy Sheriff Pettis, who asked him what sentence he had received, he replied: "I got life; just what I deserved."

Bearss was taken to the Pere Marquette station to take the 3:38 train for Bay City. Word had spread of his arrival and he was quickly surrounded by a large crowd that included several women, who jostled him rudely and spoke threateningly. Bearss kept his head down and refused to say a word.

Port Huron, Mich., Dec. 28.—George Bearss, a self-confessed murderer of his aunt, Mrs. Abel Brown, walked from the jail Tuesday on his way to Marquette prison for life. He was handcuffed and was escorted by Deputy Sheriff Davidson and several other deputies.

Just four days have elapsed since he committed this outrageous murder.

A large crowd of people gathered while the officers were waiting with their prisoner for the approach of a tunnel car, but the crowd was drawn through curiosity, and aside from a few muttered "Soak him's" no demonstration occurred. Women vied with men in getting a peep at him.

Afraid of His Life.

Bearss was afraid that something would happen before the arrival of the car. This was evident from his actions. The street car had hardly time to come to a stop before Bearss made a rush for the car, accompanied by Deputy James Davidson, who alone will undertake to land the man at Marquette.

Before another day George Bearss, so far as the world at large is concerned, will have ceased to exist. His name will have given way to a number.

The closing scenes in the law's disposition of the brutal murderer were dramatic in the extreme. At 7 o'clock in the morning, before daylight, Bearss was hurried from the jail to the office of Justice of the Peace Benedict. He listened to the reading of the indictment against him by Prosecutor Cady. At its conclusion he mumbled in reply to the request of the justice for his plea:

"I guess I'm guilty."

The prisoner was then taken to the courtroom of Judge Law upstairs. Before he was conducted to the bar of the circuit court the judge asked that Bearss be brought into his private office, where for twenty minutes the judge, Prosecutor Cady and Bearss remained closeted together.

At the conclusion of the talk Judge Law stated that he had listened to Bearss' confession and to his explanation of the movements on the day of the murder.

At 9:30 Bearss was again brought to the circuit courtroom, and there in the presence of a great throng of people and the husband of the woman he murdered he was sentenced by Judge Law to life imprisonment at Marquette.

Now that it is over, the officers sum up the situation in this way: Bearss is a man without an education. He claims that he cannot write his own name, neither can he read. In other words, he is a moral pervert. They think that he went to the Brown house with criminal assault in mind.

History is indeed little more than the register of the crimes, follies and misfortunes of mankind.—Gibbon.

ATE 2,000 MUSKRATS

Fifteen Hundred Men Attended Monroe's Annual Feast.

MADE A TERRIBLE NOISE

Din Was So Great Program Had to Be Dispensed With—Prominent Yachtsmen Were Cheered—Acted Like Mob of College Students.

Monroe, Mich., Dec. 29.—Fifteen hundred muskrat-eating yachting cranks swooped down upon the Light Guard armory last night, bent on the making away with 2,000 or so of the rats, all the Monroe Yacht club could procure from far and near, for its second annual banquet of the kind. When they finished the muskrats were a negligible quantity.

There were 200 visitors from Detroit and 150 from Toledo, while other towns sent smaller delegations, and Monroe turned out the remainder.

The mob rounded up at the hall within an hour's time, and there was an indescribable scene. The guests acted like a crowd of rollicking college students let loose for a holiday. The tables were quickly filled, but the crowd was so dense that the waiters had much difficulty in passing the food, most of which was "swiped" by men who ate while standing.

Yachtsmen Cheered.

Cheer after cheer was given for prominent yachtsmen, and conversation was impossible. As every fresh crowd arrived the band played "The Conquering Hero Comes," adding to the general din. Ex-Lieut.-Gov. John Strong of South Rockwood was recognized and given a tremendous ovation. Joe Lazette, a grizzled French trapper, now game-keeper of the club, was roundly cheered.

Used Life Buoys.

At 1 o'clock the tables and chairs were shoved into one corner and pandemonium reigned.

Life buoys were placed about the necks of prominent yachtsmen and they were dragged away from the "wet" side of the armory to suitable moorings, where they were anchored. The speech-making program was abandoned and the crowd amused itself by seeing how much noise could be made. It was long after midnight before the second annual muskrat carnival of the Monroe Yacht club became history.

Cooking the "Rat."

Preparation for the "rat" carnival were begun weeks ago, when the club advertised for 3,000 of the animals. Commodores W. B. Sterling, H. A. Conant, Charles Greening and Edward Wilder constituted the committee in charge of the carnival, and they did themselves proud.

C. B. Southworth of the Park hotel was the caterer. Davis & Look, the bakers, did the cooking. The rats were placed in small pans and thrust into the bread ovens by the hundreds. The cooking process was begun late in the afternoon and was not finished until 8 o'clock, when the last basketful was conveyed to the armory. Here they were heated, then served.

When the banqueters had finished they mingled in the hall, and the pleasures of eating muskrat and yachting were discussed.

The hall was too small to accommodate the crowds, and it was packed to suffocation. If the Monroe Yacht club gives its third annual feed Commodore Conant believes that it will be necessary to construct a building for this purpose alone.

Surety Concerns Held Responsible.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 29.—It is stated by officers of the head camp of the Modern Woodmen of America, who recently reported a deficiency in the accounts of Kent camp here of over $5,000, that notice has been served upon the National Surety Co. and the Fidelity & Casualty Co. that they would be held responsible for the shortages in the accounts of the camp. These companies are sureties on the bond of F. N. Worley, the clerk of Kent camp.

ANOTHER FORT TAKEN.

Japs Now Occupy Entire Works on Rihlung Mountain.

Tokio, Dec. 29.—(Noon.)—The Japanese occupied the entire fort on Rihlung mountain at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday.

Future Plans of Japanese.

Tokio, Dec. 29.—It is understood that the Japanese dynamiting and paralleling against the eastern section of the main circle of forts around Port Arthur is progressing favorably. The right wing of the besiegers continues a heavy and effective shelling of the new town preparatory to operations which are nearing completion. It is probable that the next attack will be simultaneously directed against the east and west faces of the fortress in an endeavor to divide and weaken the resistance of the defenders.

More Rumors of Peace.

Berlin, Dec. 29.—It is believed here that the latest rumor regarding the willingness of Emperor Nicholas to listen to mediation proposals rests upon a fresh inquiry of France, as to what terms he is willing to accept in case of mediation. Official circles in Berlin entertains the possibility that something in this direction has been going on since it has been known that France and Great Britain were anxious to terminate the war.

Choate Will Resign After March 4.

London, Dec. 29.—While numerous semi-official statements have been published here that Ambassador Choat is about to retire from diplomatic life, it can be stated that Mr. Choate has not sent his resignation or any communication on the subject to President Roosevelt or the state department, nor has he received any inquiry either from the president or Secretary Hay concerning his future plans. It can be safely asserted, however, that it is Mr. Choate's intention to tender his resignation soon after the inauguration of President Roosevelt.

Bail For Mrs. Chadwick.

Cleveland, Dec. 29.—A syndicate for which Attorney P. D. Quigley of this city is spokesman, is said to be ready and willing to furnish bail up to the sum of $40,000 to procure the release of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick, held in jail here awaiting trial on the charge of forgery. Attorney Quigley would not give the names of the prospective bondsmen of Mrs. Chadwick, but says that they are well able to furnish any reasonable sum of money required if Mrs. Chadwick is permitted to go out on bail. The federal officials are said to be not in favor of giving Mrs. Chadwick her freedom.

Three Veterans Die of Exposure.

Columbus, O., Dec. 29.—Specials from Dayton and Sandusky, O., tell of the death of three civil war veterans from exposure during the storm. At Dayton the dead bodies of Daniel L. Stewart and James Harsa, inmates of the National Soldiers' home, were found in roadways near the home. At Sandusky the dead body of George Weber, an inmate of the Ohio Soldiers' home, was found near the home, where he had apparently fallen asleep.

Indications of Foul Play.

New York, Dec. 29.—A young woman, bearing many evidences of prosperity, was found dead last night at the foot of an airshaft in a tenement house in Delancy street. The police are undecided whether her death was the result of a crime or accident. She lay with her head bent under her body and her neck is thought to have been broken.

Kidd to Retain His Job.

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 29.—Gen. J. H. Kidd, who has been quartermaster-general of the state troops, is to receive the same appointment from Gov.-elect Warner. Gen. Kidd, whose home is in Ionia, is one of the few men in the National Guard who served in the civil war.

Dynamite Works Destroyed.

Bay City, Mich. Dec. 29.—The power plant of the Ajax dynamite works, near this city, was destroyed by fire Wednesday afternoon, entailing a loss of $10,000, with no insurance. The fire was caused by the ignition of chemicals during the process of mixing.

Head about to burst from severe bilious attack.

"I had a severe bilious attack and fel like my head was about to burst when I got hold of a free sample of Chamberlain's stomach and liver tablets. I took a dose of them after supper and the next day felt like a new man and have been feeling happy ever since," says Mr. J. W. Smith of Juliff, Texas. For biliousness, stomach troubles and constipation these tablets have no equal. Price 25 cents. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

We do not estimate a man by his clothing; but if we don't like his clothing we don't furnish an estimate.

A thousand dollar s worth of good.

A. H. Thurne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes, "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel or stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicines until I began taking Foley's kidney cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have nopain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me a $1000 worth of good." Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

Many a man would be rich if he did not try so hard to appear to be.

A pleasant pill.

No pill is as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect, while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by C. A. Wright.

Grip quickly knocked out.

"Some weeks ago during the severe winter weather both my wife and myself contracted severe colds which speedily developed into the worst kind of la grippe with all its miserable symptoms," says Mr. J. Egleston of Maple Landing, Iowa, "Knees and joints aching, muscles sore, head stopped up, eyes and nose running, with alternate spells of chills and fever. We began using Chamberlain's Cough remedy, aiding the same with a dose of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver tablets and by its liberal use soon completely knocked out the grip." These tablets promote a healthy action of the bowels, liver and kidneys, which is always beneficial when the system is congested by a cold or an attack of grip. For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

A certain cure for croup.

When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies no matter how highly they may be recommended and there is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children and can truthfully say it always gave prompt relief." For sale by all druggists in Tecumseh.

It is about as foolish to look on and criticise foolish things as it is to be a part of them.

Revolution Imminent.

A sure sign of approaching revolt and serious trouble in your system is nervousness, sleeplessness or stomach upset. Electric Bitters will quickly dismember the troublesome cause. It never fails to tone the stomach, regulate the kidneys and bowels, stimulate the liver and clarify the blood. Run down systems benefit particularly and all the usual attending aches vanish under its searching and thorough effectiveness. Electric Bitters is only 50c and that is returned if it don't give perfect satisfaction. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist.

FOR McGARRY'S PARDON.

Pardon Board Listens to Arguments For and Against.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 23.—One of the most distinguished gatherings of Grand Rapids citizens in its history including some 300 of the leaders in business and professional life in the city, crowded the big dining hall of the Morton house all day Thursday to participate in the hearing before the state advisory pardon board on the case of Thomas F. McGarry. The crowd in fact, was so great that all who desired to attend could not be accommodated.

Although it was represented that sentiment in the city was almost unanimously opposed to the granting of a pardon, the sessions developed only twelve speakers against a pardon, while thirty spoke in its favor. And so many more speakers for the pardon remain to be heard that it will require another all-day session to complete the work. The session developed several heated colloquies.

Babe Left In a Barn.

Dowagiac, Mich., Dec. 23.—The abandoning of an infant, which is something of very unusual occurrence here, has caused considerable excitement and conjecture. The baby was found on the seat of a cutter in Dr. McMaster's barn. The child is a pretty boy about a week old, with blue eyes and dark hair and will be given a home at the doctor's until the mystery of its birth is ferreted out, or some legal disposition made of the little one.

Arrested For Shoplifting.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 23.—Laura O'Brien and Elizabeth Youngs, daughters of farmers living near this city, were arrested on Ottawa street Thursday charged with shoplifting. They were taken to police headquarters, where a search of their clothing, which was found to be fitted with immense pockets, revealed a large assortment of articles which had been taken from the leading stores of the city.

Found Guilty of Murder.

Zanesville, O., Dec. 23.—Nathan Edward Spencer has been found guilty of the murder of William G. Tanner on Aug. 19. The motive for the crime was robbery. Tanner is said to have formerly lived in Newark, N. J., and was a civil war veteran. Spencer has not yet been sentenced. Spencer beat the old man over the head with a hickory club.

Tenants Overcome by Gas.

Philadelphia, Dec. 23.—Twenty-seven persons, most of them women and children, were overcome by coal gas in a crowded tenement house at 316 Monroe street, in the foreign settlement of this city, early this morning. Twelve of them were in such a serious condition that they had to be taken to a hospital, but it is believed they will recover. The lower part of the tenement was occupied by a Turkish bath establishment, and the gas escaped from a large furnace used in the baths. There were more than a hundred persons in the upper part of the building, most of whom were Russian Jews. That no lives were lost was due to two policemen who, in passing the building, detected the gas and immediately began arousing the sleeping occupants. Many of them were unconscious and had to be carried from the place.

Rode to a Sure Death.

Jacques de Chastel, bishop of Soissons, had accompanied Louis IX. (St. Louis) on the African crusade and, finding that nothing had been accomplished and that the army was about to return in disgrace to France, refused to go, took leave of his friends partook of the sacrament, mounted his horse fully equipped for battle and, in sight of the whole army, charged alone into the Saracen camp, where he was at once cut to pieces.

Some men are too busy to make friends and others are too lazy to make enemies.

A kidney or bladder trouble can always be cured by using Foley's kidney cure in time. Sold by all druggists in Tecumseh.

You don't have to tell a girl you are going to kiss her; she can tell it quicker than you.

Half the ills that man is heir to come from indigestion. Burdock Blood Bitters strengthens and tones the stomach; makes indigestion impossible.

It's the little colds that grow into big colds; the big colds that end in consumption and death. Watch the little colds, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Beware of counterfeits.

"DeWitt's is the only genuine Witch Hazel Salve" writes J. L. Tucker of Centre, Ala. "I have used it in my family for piles, cuts and burns for years and can recommend it to be the best salve on the market. Every family should keep it, as it is an invaluable household remedy and should always be kept on hand for immediate use." Mrs. Samuel Gage of North Bush, N. Y., says: "I had a fever sore on my ankle for twelve years that the doctors could not cure. All salves and blood remedies proved worthless. I could not walk for over two years. Finally I was persuaded to try DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, which has completely cured me. It is a wonderful relief." DeWitt's witch hazel salve cures without leaving a scar. Sold by C. A. Wright.

No more suffering.

If you are troubled with indigestion get a bottle of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and see how quickly it will cure you. Geo. A. Thomson of Spencer, Ia., says "Have had dyspepsia for twenty years. My case was almost hopeless. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure was recommended and I used a few bottles of it and it is the only thing that has relieved me. Would not be without it. Have doctored with local physicians and also at Chicago and even went to Norway with hopes of getting some relief, but Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the only remedy that has done me any good and I heartily recommend it. Every person suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia should use it." Sold by C. A. Wright.

A Thali Wedding.

In many parts of India Hindoo girls are wedded not with a ring, but with a necklet or thali. At the wedding of the daughter of a leading native, Moulmein, there were present among the numerous guests a Hindoo maiden and her lover, whose suit had not so far progressed to his satisfaction. While the wedding ceremony was in progress the young man suddenly went up to her and before any one suspected what his object was pulled out a thali from his pocket and quietly tied it round her neck. Of course there was a hubbub as well as parental lamentations over this dramatic episode, but so great is the veneration for the thali among Hindoos that no one dared to remove it from the neck of the astonished maiden. All concerned, therefore, repaired to the Marriamme temple, where the act was ratified, and the maid who went to the wedding of her friend fancy free left the scene as the legal wife of a bold and successful husband.—London Telegraph.

Sterling Coin.

The origin of "sterling" as applied to coined money is thus given in "A Short Treatise Touching Sheriffs' Accounts," by Sir Matthew Hale, 1683:

"Current coin of the realm is of gold or silver, with an alloy of copper, at least from the time of Henry I., and this alloy gave the denomination of Sterling to those coins.

"Spelman supposeth it to take that name from the Esterlings, who came over and reformed our coin, to that alloy—of this opinion was Camden. Possibly in those times a Peny was called a Sterling, without any other reason than the use of the times, as other names grow, for the old Act of Henry III. tells us that Denarius Anglice Sterlingus dicitur (a denarius, or penny, is called in English a Sterling), and because this was the root of the measure of silver coin; therefore all our coin of the same alloy was also called Sterling."

The Old Time Skipper.

Inmates of the wardroom on an American man-of-war often allude to the captain as the old man or the skipper. The latter is not, as many suppose, a slang term, but a sound word, of excellent etymology and valuable as carrying within itself an interesting bit of commercial history. Skipper is simply shipper, and it comes down from a time when every commander was as well part owner of vessel and cargo, or, literally, the shipper. There are still scores of local shipyards along the Atlantic coast, some of them the outgrowth of private yards where the "vessel owners" of years ago built their own ships to carry their own and their neighbors' crops to market.

The Greek Year.

The Greek year consisted of three seasons only. Prometheus enumerates them. "They had no sign," says he, "of winter, of flowery spring, of fruitful summer." In ancient Germany a similar division of the year prevailed, for Tacitus makes the caustic remark that among the Germans winter, spring and summer have a meaning and a name, but to that people the name and blessings of autumn are alike unknown. It is not likely, then, that our Saxon forefathers were acquainted with the last named season, and our very term autumn is an echo of the Roman tongue.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Velocity of Raindrops.

Of course we all know that it would be an utter impossibility for storm clouds to form and rain to fall were it not for the forty odd miles of atmosphere that rises above our heads. But, supposing it were possible for human beings to exist in an atmosphere that only rose to a level with their mouths, and that storm clouds could form in the region outside such a low grade atmosphere, then every raindrop would prove as fatal to earthly creatures as if it were a steel bullet fired from a dynamite gun.—London Nature.

Comfort For the Sheep Stealer.

The prisoner sensibly observed, "I have only this to say, my lord—that it seems rather hard that I should lose my life merely for stealing a sheep."

"Prisoner at the bar," replied the judge, "pray understand. You are not going to be hung for stealing a sheep. You are to be hung in order that others may be deterred from stealing sheep."—A. C. Plowden's "Autobiography of a Police Magistrate."

Japanese Applause.

The Japanese show their appreciation of an actor's playing in a more substantial manner than by merely applauding. They throw various portions of their dress on the stage, and at the end of the performance the favored person claims the money that the doners repurchase them with, the prices for the various articles being fixed rates.

All Things Fitting.

"No," said the lumber dealer, "we don't sell all woods here—only the parts cut directly from the trunk."

"And what," asked the customer, "do you do with the limbs?"

"Oh!" replied the cheerful dealer, "we send them all to the branch office."—Baltimore News.

She Knew the Reason.

At the dinner table one evening some one remarked that a certain lady had a thin, falsetto voice. Little Maisie was acquainted with the person referred to, and she cried out abruptly: "Oh, I know why! Because she's got a false set of teeth!"

Wise.

"Did Jerrold get anything out of his rich uncle's estate?" "Well, rather; he married the daughter of the attorney for the estate."—Puck.

The Way He Put It.

At a school examination at Newcastle-under-Lyme, England, a boy was told to write an essay on the pleasures of reading. He wrote: "People read for many reasons. Sometimes they read for humor, and then they read such books as 'Don Quixote.' At other times they read for amusement, and then they read the Bible."

Took It Mildly.

"Yes, old Bizzlboy gave a reception out to his place on the hills and then turned the hose on the first detachment to arrive."

"He did! What did they say to that?"

"They called it unconventional hospitality. You know, he's too rich to quarrel with."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

His Malady.

Tess—She's a professional nurse, I believe. Jess—Not at all. What gave you that idea? Tess—She remarked that she sat up last night with a sick man. Jess—Lovesick; that was all. It was that fiance of hers.—Philadelphia Press.

Queer Nest of the Tontobane.

The oddest of all birds' nests is the one built by the tontobane, a South African songster. It is built of cotton and always upon the tree producing the material. In constructing the domicile the female works inside and the male outside, where he builds a sentinel box for his own special use. He sits in the box and keeps watch or sings nearly all the time, and when danger comes in the form of a hawk or a snake he warns the family, but never enters the main nest.

Why, Indeed?

He—Why does a woman always think she ought to wear a smaller shoe than she can? She—Why does a man always think he ought to wear a larger hat than he can?—Yonkers Statesman.

Seriously Injured.

Benjamin F. Morse, a Detroit Southern engineer, was seriously injured while on duty last Tuesday morning. He left Tecumseh early Tuesday morning on the north bound local and they stopped on the bridge at River Raisin, just below Dundee and Mr. Morse was cleaning up the engine. He slipped and fell striking the bridge and then bounded on to the ice 25 feet below.

He was brought to Tecumseh Tuesday at noon on the south bound passenger and taken to his residence on south Pearl street. Examinations have been made and he is found to have no broken bones but is bruised severely and it is feared that he received internal injuries. He has a wife and child.

Charles Osborn.

Charles Osborn died yesterday morning at five o'clock at the home of his mother, Mrs. Katherine Osborn, of bright's disease. Deceased was a farmer and 47 years of age. He had been sick but a few hours, having been around the house as usual the day before. Besides his mother he leaves two sisters, one in Adrian, Mrs. Geo. Mead, and one in Coldwater. The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Scarlett of Macon will officiate. Burial at south Macon.

LITERARY NOTES.

"Samuel Gompers, Representative of American Labor," is the subject of an interesting sketch in the January Review of Reviews by Dr. E. Weyl. The recent reelection of Mr. Gompers to the presidency of the American Federation of Labor, in connection with the strongly organized opposition to the Federation and to unionism in general on the part of the employers' associations, gives special point to Dr. Weyl's article.

Articles of unique and valuable interest, it is announced, are under way for early publication in The Century, describing fully and with Mr. Burbank's authority the miracles being wrought by Luther Burbank in fruit and flower breeding. Mr. Burbank's recent work has given to science edible cacti, the white blackberry, the plumcot (a cross between a plum and an apricot), an appletree bearing four hundred varieties, new seedless fruits, and many other wonders.

SEED TIME

The experienced farmer has learned that some grains require far different soil than others; some crops need different handling than others. He knows that a great deal depends upon right planting at the right time, and that the soil must be kept enriched. No use of complaining in summer about a mistake made in the spring. Decide before the seed is planted.

The best time to remedy wasting conditions in the human body is before the evil is too deep rooted. At the first evidence of loss of flesh should be taken immediately. There is nothing that will repair wasted tissue more quickly or replace lost flesh more abundantly than Scott's Emulsion. It nourishes and builds up the body when ordinary foods absolutely fail.

We will send you a sample free.

MESSAGE TO FRATERNAL ORDERS

Interesting news from Cincinnati with local confirmation in Tecumseh.

The thousands of members of fraternal bodies in this state will be interested in the following message from John Theobald, a prominent Forester who lives at 1111 York street, Cincinnati.

Mr. Theobald believes in living up to the motto of his organization, "Fraternal Love and Charity," and believes that he can do no more charitable act than to tell his experience in regaining health after years of suffering.

Mr. Theobald writes, "For five years, I suffered with stomach troubles, having all the distress and misery that afflicts dyspeptics. I could not enjoy eating, thinking of the suffering that would follow. My food did not digest and although I took all kinds of medicines, I found nothing to help me until I used Mi-o-na. Thanks to this remarkable remedy, I am now a cured man and believe that it made a permanent and complete cure."

C. A. Wright is local agent for Mi-o-na, nature's cure for dyspepsia. It is in the form of small tablets and sells at 50c a box. The remedy has made so many and such remarkable cures amongst his customers, confirming Mr. Theobald's statement, that he will give their personal guarantee with every box they sell to refund the money if it does not cure.

Do not suffer longer. Here is a cure that costs you nothing, unless it restores health. C. A. Wright takes all the risk and you do not have to pay a penny unless you feel that you have received much more than your money's worth.

Subscriptions to Various Newspapers.

For years we have received subscriptions to various newspapers other than the HERALD in connection with this paper. This year we will adopt a different plan, receiving pay for only the Detroit Journal, 75 cents, Michigan Farmer, 60 cents and the Detroit Daily Times, $1.30. We will receive subscriptions as above without regard to whether you desire the HERALD or not. The price for each paper is just 10 cents more than the HERALD has to send for them and we take it simply as an accomodation to those of the HERALD subscribers who desire these papers.

The other part of the subscription business has been turned over to Henry McClure at the Tecumseh post office. He will receive subscriptions to any paper and complete with any agency in prices. Any one who desires to pay for the HERALD and all their other papers at the same time can pay Mr. McClure for the HERALD as well as at his office.

A NEW YEAR TO ALL

Comes almost every January and with each year every one feels happy according as the last year has been prosperous. January first 1905 the HERALD feels especially good natured and on many accounts.

January 1, 1904, it was resolved to increase the circulation during the coming year in every possible way, so no stone was left unturned to accomplish this result. To commence with encouragement has been given to all the numerous correspondents located in Britton, Ridgeway, Macon, Clinton, Holloway and Tipton to send in all the news possible. They have done so till now the HERALD prints more news from the neighboring towns than any other paper in the county.

The HERALD has never spared any pains or expense to secure the latest and best local news, at all times buying and paying for its own news and with the contingent from the county each week the HERALD is so well liked that from a circulation of 1180 in 1904 it now enjoys a circulation of 1425 in January 1905. Every week new names are handed in and very few of the old ones stop. The HERALD strives at all times to keep good natured and desires at this time to thank all its patrons for their liberal support during the past year, promising to print at all times the local news and keep as good natured as possible.

"The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" Co. at the Detroit Opera House, Detroit, Mich.

Numerous spectacular productions have been attempted by American theatrical managers, but not one from the days of Adam and Eve up to yesterday has ever been able to place before the world, anything like, in scenic magnitude and gorgeous splendor the equal to the ponderous Drury Lane Theatre, Christmas pantomine, "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," which will make its first appearance when it will be presented at the Detroit opera house for the entire week of Jan. 9 with matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

The entire production is transported throughout the country by a special train consisting of two day coaches, three Pullman sleepers and four baggage cars; the company is composed of two hundred performers, one hundred working men, wardrobe women, etc. and the daily expenses would pay for ten ordinary companies. Every stick of scenery, every piece of property, no matter how trivial, the entire wardrobe comprising of hats, shoes, tights, spangles, dresses, stockings, etc., were imported to this country for the production. Every man, woman and child has at some time during their career heard or read of the legend of "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast," and in London at the Drury Lane, the largest theatre in the world, this same production was presented as their Christmas pantomime and scored one of the biggest hits of the century. This in itself speaks volumes. The management this season have assumed at an enormous expense and great responsibility the entire European production and will tour America in all the larger cities and a few of the medium size, having a stage capacity where a production of this magnitude can be properly presented and it will give playgoers the one chance of a lifetime to witness a real, big, city show. Among the two hundred performers are the cleverest comedians, singers and dancers and a host of chic and pretty girls, who make a gay ensemble behind the footlights.

THE CHURCHES.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting has been postponed one week.

Rev. Jas. Hagaman will occupy the pulpit of the Friends church Sunday morning.

Christian Endeavor topic for Sunday evening, Jan. 1, is "Our Goals for 1905." Miss Alice Cutting leader.

Baptist church, Sunday morning subject, "Another Opportunity" Evening subject, "First Things." B. Y. P. U. at 6 o'clock, "Our Goals for 1905." Leader, Vernor Finch. Bible class Tuesday evening, subject, "Repentance."

At the Presbyterian church Sunday morning the Communion of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. This will be the first service of the New Year, let as many as possible be present. In the evening Rev. Hagerman of Oxford, Mich., will preach.

The week of prayer will be observed in the churches next week by union services. Monday evening in the Presbyterian church led by Rev. L. Bower, Tuesday in the Baptist church led by Rev. W. F. Jones, Wednesday in the Methodist church led by Rev. L. Bower, Thursday in the Methodist church led by Rev. W. F. Jones, Friday in the Presbyterian church led by Rev. E. Sedweek. Let all plan to attend each of these services.

Not in years has the congregation of the Presbyterian church enjoyed a finer musical treat than last Sunday evening when the church choir, reinforced by a large chorus, rendered the Christmas cantata, "The Night of Glory or the Birth of Christ," by Benjamin Loveland The chorus had been trained by Mrs. J. Q. Look and sang with vigor and expression. The church quartette, consisting of Mrs. Bidwell, Miss Caldwell and Messrs. Dickinson and Slater, sang several fine selections. The duet by the Misses McKenna and Caldwell was greatly enjoyed. Fine solos were sung by the Misses McKenna and Caldwell and by Messrs. Slater and Slayton. The large congregation present were surprised and delighted to know that so many fine voices could be gotten together for the rendition of such high grade music. It is expected that the chorus choir will sing every Sunday evening hereafter.

HAPPY MAN AND DAUGHTER.

Mr. Ransom M. Richards left Wallace's sanitarium this morning with his daughter, Edith, she having undergone an operation in Grace hospital at Detroit seven months ago, and was taken home from there. She caught cold and other complications set in. Aside from severe bloating she suffered from what her physicians called inflammatory rheumatism. The physicians gave her hypodermic injections until her heart grew so weak they could not give her any more. They gave her up and said she could not live. Her brother being one of the foremen in the Clough & Warren piano factory in this city, had her brought to the Wallace Sanitarium eight weeks ago in a helpless condition both limbs drawn half way back to her body backwards. This young lady, who is about 19 years of age, has been relieved of all the suffering and can walk as well as she ever did, with the exception of weakness. Prof. Wallace has many times carried her, by her own request over to the Salvation army. The army has since been very much surprised to see her come walking in alone. The conductor and brakeman, who helped take her off the train eight weeks ago could hardly believe she was the same young lady, when they saw her walk up to the train. She has gained about 21 pounds.

Among the fifteen or twenty, who left Prof. Wallace's sanitarium within the last month, all are at home and doing well with the exception of one young man. Prof. Wallace looked upon him as a doubtful case and took him to Dr. Williams, who on X-ray examination, decided he would possibly lose his limb and would be lucky to save his life. On the advice of other physicians, Prof. Wallace sent him to the hospital in Toledo for an operation.—Adrian Times of the 23rd.

Fight will be bitter.

Those who will persist in closing their ears against the continual recommendation of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, will have a long and bitter fight with their troubles, if not ended earlier by fatal termination. Read what T. R. Beall of Beall, Miss. has to say: "Last fall my wife had every symptom of consumption. She took Dr. King's New Discovery after everything else had failed. Improvement came at once and four bottles entirely cured her. Guaranteed by C. A. Wright, druggist. Price 50, and $1.00. Trial bottles free.

"Lalla Rookh."

"Lalla Rookh," as presented under the auspices of the B. P. O. Elks at the Croswell Tuesday evening, proved a great drawing card, a large audience being present to witness the initial performance of the opera and from the first curtain until the grand finale, it was a series of attractive stage pictures, catchy music and bright dialogue. Every detail had been looked after and it was difficult to imagine that the entertainment was given by amateurs, as it was the equal of the most finished professional performance. Palmer Kellogg has cause for congratulation for the able manner in which he drilled those taking part.

PHYSICIAN'S GOOD LUCK

Dr. Hart's fortunate experience of special interest to many in Tecumseh.

The happiest man in New England today and one who is receiving congratulations from his friends, is Dr. Philip Z. Hart of Laconia, N. H.

Probably no physician is better known in all parts of the United States than Dr. Hart, as he has been a great traveler and knows the best people wherever he has been. For years he has suffered with catarrh in its worst form.

Although he resorted to the latest scientific treatment and consulted many of his brother physicians, Dr. Hart finally said, "I might just as well have thrown my money in the river for I grew worse and worse. It is really due to my wife's good judgement that I tried Hyomei." The Doctor, in his emphatic way added "Thank God that I did, for Hyomei cured me completely. My wife and I will swear that Hyomei cured me of the worst case of catarrh that ever existed. I used to cough constantly at night and had a dropping in the throat, which kept me awake a great deal. I raised thick phlegm and was in a horrible condition. However, I am entirely cured, solely through the use of Hyomei."

C. A. Wright is the local agent for Hyomei, the famous treatment which cures catarrh without stomach dosing. A complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles, 50c. He sells it under guarantee to refund the money if it does not give quick relief. Ask him to show you the strong guarantee under which it is sold.

REASONS

Why our Vinol is the Greatest Health Restorer and Strength Creator Known to Medicine.

Because Vinol contains in a concentrated form ALL of the medicinal curative elements found in cod liver oil, but without a drop of oil to nauseate and upset the stomach; therefore, wherever old-fashioned cod liver oil or emulsions will do good, Vinol will do far more good.

Because we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol to restore health and create strength for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers, and after a severe sickness.

Vinol cures hacking coughs, chronic colds, bronchitis, and all throat and lung troubles.

A prominent physician writes: "Vinol is the most palatable and valuable preparation of cod liver oil ever compounded. I now use it entirely in all cases where I formerly depended upon old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions."

Try Vinol on our guarantee to return your money if you are not satisfied.

UNCOMMON WISDOM.

Some Tecumseh people profit by neighbors' experience.

It's a wise man who profits by the experience of his friends and neighbors. Here is a chance to do it and every man, woman or child in Tecumseh who knows the misery of a bad back, the nervousness and restlessness caused by kidney complaint or the annoyance of urinary disorders, will show uncommon wisdom to profit by this citizen's advice.

Ex-Postmaster J. W. Wightman, well-known to every reader of this statement says: "I have no hesitation in endorsing Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. A. Wright's drug store. They have been used in my family and the most satisfactory results followed the treatment. It proved to be a remedy of merit and you can use my name to that effect if you think proper."

For sale by all dealers: Price 50 cents per box, Foster-Milburn company, Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Silk-lined gowns interest a woman more than silver-lined clouds.

"I had a running, itching sore on my leg. Suffered tortures. Doan's Ointment took away the burning and itching instantly, and quickly effected permanent cure." C. W. Lenhart, Bowling Green, O.

A vote cast for principle is never lost, even though it be the only one in the ballot box.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Thedford's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhoea, and stomach aches.

Thedford's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is as good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 23, 1902.

Thedford's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we want no other. When any of us feel badly we take a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have spent lots of money for doctor bills, but get along just as well with Black-Draught. IRA H. BADER.

Ask your dealer for a package of Thedford's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send 25c. to The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn., and a package will be mailed to you.

Bad Kidneys Worse Than Bad Lungs.

A GUARANTEED AND CERTAIN CURE.

Kidney diseases have come to be regarded by the best authorities as the most dangerous and fatal that afflict the human race excepting the pestilence of cholera, yellow fever, etc. Bright's disease is, without doubt, the most certain of all in dealing death. It is insidious in its nature, stealing on unawares and frequently the sufferer is in a very dangerous state before he is conscious of being affected. At the very first indication or symptom of pain or weakness in the region of the kidneys, the patient should lose no time in employing a remedy to relieve him of this danger.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is $1.00 a bottle and it cures permanently and absolutely all forms of kidney and bladder troubles. It is guaranteed to cure inflammation of the kidneys, congestion, Bright's disease in its early stages, brick dust deposits, cloudy urine, pains in the back, retention and incontinence of urine, diseases of the bladder and urinary tract, sexual weakness in both men and women, restoring to health and imparting to the genito-urinary organs renewed vitality and vigor.

Dr. Colwell's Egyptian Kidney and Bladder Cure is guaranteed to give satisfaction or its purchase price will be refunded. Is for sale by
